RADIO WESTERWEAR

RADIO YESTERYEAR

Second Edition

A listing of part of a collection of authentic radio broadcasts from the early years of radio.

Rating the condition of old recordings is highly subjective. My method is as follows:

High Fidelity...Excellent condition with a full frequency range.

Excellent.....Perfect audio with no audible defects.

Very Good.....Contains only a minor defect (such as surface scratch or slight distortion). Hardly noticeable, but not perfect audio quality.

Good.....Contains one or more noticeable faults, but not serious enough to make listening to the show a chore.

Fair or Listenable...Contains serious defects and is not recommended to any but a diehard enthusiast of a particular show.

Broadcast dates listed are based on available information, if any, and are subject to correction.

The time (length) of the programs are understood to be approximate and may vary several minutes.

The term "Complete" usually means just that, nothing missing. It is also used for a small number of programs with parts of the opening, closing, or some of the commercials missing. If the story is intact and the amount missing is not excessive, the word "complete" is used. Note that when programs are syndicated (sold to individual radio stations), they will not normally contain commercials. Nor will shows marked "Sustaining". These are shows that were not meant to be sponsored.

When requesting any material from this catalogue, the number to the left of the description MUST be included as part of the request.

AFRS as used in this catalogue is short for Armed Forces Radio Service. This part of the Army rebroadcast popular stateside radio shows to troops overseas. An AFRS show is exactly as heard in America except that any commercials have been deleted. Some AFRS programs were not rebroadcasts, but original performances and contained no commercials to begin with.

ROAMER AUTO

Easy To Install—Does Not Deface Car Radio As You Drive—It's Great Fun!

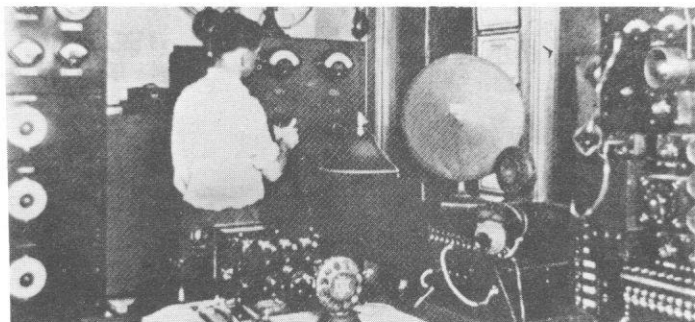

ENJOY your radio in your automobile with a complete selection of programs just the same as you have at home. The most up-to-date cars are radio equipped. A radio will make those long drives on the open road really enjoyable. It puts pep into any outing. No need to miss your favorite program while you drive.

Concealed Installation—Remote Control Tuning
The ingeniously designed auto radio receiver tucks away out of sight and is operated by a remote control tuning device clamped to the instrument panel. No defacing of the instrument panel is necessary. The car radio can be removed for installation in another car and without interfering the trade-in value of the first car. The points on most cars enter under the hood or immediately behind, concealed by the instrument panel. Antenna clamps to points of cars. Calluses for "E" and "C" batteries. Includes speaker horn.

ADVENTURES BY MORSE

"If you like high adventure, come with me. If you like the stealth of intrigue, come with me. If you like blood and thunder, come with me." Thus opens each program written and produced by Carlton E. Morse (of "I LOVE A MYSTERY" fame) This show is a syndicated, once weekly version of I Love A Mystery. The characters are continuous from show to show, the names of the stories change as each adventure is completed and the heroes go on to another assignment. All programs are $\frac{1}{2}$ hour, very good condition, complete.

YEARS IN REVIEW

Year end summaries of the major news events of the past 12 months are almost as old as broadcasting. They fall into two categories: Analysis programs where staff pundits review the events of the past year and predict events of the coming year, and rebroadcasts of the events themselves as they were recorded during the year. In the early days, dramatic recreations were used liberally. The practise generally was abandoned as portable broadcast and recording equipment became more widely used.

79. The Tweleve Biggest News Stories of 1935. December 1935. Mutual net. Selected and narrated by Seymor Birkson of the Universal News Service. 15 minutes, excellent condition, complete.
