Our 100 Best Bergen & McCarthy

Edgar Bergen first appeared on Radio on December 17, 1936 on Rudy Vallee's Royal Gelatin Hour. It was a radio first: whoever thought a ventriloquist would go over unseen on radio? Bergen made such a hit, he starred on his own Chase and Sanborn series starting the following May. His lovable dummy, Charlie McCarthy, was soon joined by country-bumpkin dummy Mortimer Snerd and later, in 1944, by "bachelor girl" dummy Effie Clinker. Ray Noble was the long time band leader when the show was shortened to 1/2 hour and renamed the Edgar Bergen - Charlie McCarthy Show. In 1949 along with many other stars, Bergen moved to CBS Radio where he stayed until 1956. He achieved the dubious distinction of being the last major comedian on network radio (Jack Benny and Bob Hope re-runs continued until 1958). All of the following shows contain the original commercials (except the AFRS shows), and unless otherwise noted, run 1/2 hour, are in very good to excellent condition or better, and are complete.

Do We Have It?

Ask a RESEARCH REPORT™!

What's a Research Report? It's a list of the radio shows that we have in our archives OR it's a list of the shows on which a particular performer appears. We call them "show reports" or "people reports" for short. A few listings are sent for research purposes only and are not for sale by Radio Yesteryear. We CANNOT research programs by the titles of songs, or any other way. Just "name of program" or "name of person."

List below the research reports (either "show reports" or "people reports") you'd like and the type of report you'd like for each. Be sure to include the correct amount.

Type #3: Program Listings Long Form. These are expanded descriptions of each program, showing the source, plot description, cast members and all other information known. Type #3 reports are available for $2 each.

---

Type #4: People Listings Short Form. These are listings of the availability of a person (or a group) such as actors, writers, announcers, musicians, orchestras, etc. It shows the catalogue number, broadcast date, name of the program, audio condition and duration. Type #4 reports are available for $1 each.

---

Type #5: People Listings Long Form. These are expanded descriptions similar to Type #3 above, but researched for performers, writers, announcers, etc. Type #5 reports are available for $2 each.

Christmas Cassettes

How often do we wish each other an "Old Fashioned Christmas?" That phrase means different things to different people, but one thing's for sure...they don't make Christmas like they used to, do they? Whatever an Old Fashioned Christmas means to you, we're presenting a special collection of radio programs from the past, a guaranteed way to briefly recapture the memories and sounds of bygone holiday seasons.

Each of these 1/2 hour audio cassettes contains one complete broadcast, from as early as 1934 to as late as 1956, plus 7 shows that we feel are timeless. Now we can travel in time over 50 years and hear that the real meaning of this glorious holiday remains untouched through the years. The perfect gift for anyone who's ever thought, "They don't make 'em like they used to!"

SPECIAL GIFT OFFER!

Buster Keaton

Keaton

Buster conducts, plays, moves scenery, but flops as an electrician!

TWO HOUSES OF KEATON

(1921-1922-USA)

1. THE PLAYHOUSE (1921-USA). With BUSTER KEATON. Directed and scripted by Keaton and EDDIE CLINE. Here is a really special Buster Keaton two-reel comedy classic. Buster enters Keaton's Opera House and discovers the dream show of any Keaton fan. The conductor is Buster Keaton. Every member of the orchestra is Buster Keaton. The stagehand is Buster Keaton. Onstage are Buster Keaton's Minstrels, an interlocutor and eight end men who are all Buster Keaton. What makes this extraordinary sequence even more amazing is the fact that Buster did not rely on laboratory tricks to create this Keaton extravaganza. Instead, he and FRED GABOURIE, his special effects designer, taped off portions of the camera lens and re-used the film until his multiple image dream was complete.

2. THE ELECTRIC HOUSE (1922-USA). With BUSTER KEATON. Directed and scripted by Keaton and EDDIE CLINE. Due to a switch in diplomas on graduation day at the State University, Buster, a Doctor of Botanical and Allied Sciences, is mistaken for an electrical engineer. He's invited to install electricity in the home of the Dean. While the Dean and his family are on holiday, Buster follows directions in a textbook on electricity and succeeds in introducing a slick and imaginative system of automation into the house. The place becomes a modern-day wonder, with moving stairs; a lever that drains the pool and refills it in seconds; a bathtub on tracks; an automated roll-away bed; an electrical snooker game; and an automated dining arrangement. The family is thrilled to return to a home that Rube Goldberg would be proud to claim. However, when the genuine electrical engineer arrives to sabotage Buster's efforts, comedy chaos results.

Serial

Evil, underground empire threatens the world!

THE LOST CITY (1935-USA)

12 episode Krellberg serial with WILLIAM "STAGE" BOYD, KANE RICHMOND, CLAUDIA DELL, GEORGE "GABBY" HAYES, EDDIE FETHERSTONE. A series of floods and earth shocks have been causing havoc across the world. Via his magnetic detector, young electrical wizard Bruce Gordon has determined the source of these phenomena. He heads up an expedition to find and destroy it, before it can destroy the world, and quickly learns that the source's exact location is what has come to be known as Magic Mountain. The engineer locates the mountain, but what he doesn't know is that deep within it is a strange, futuristic lost city. This metropolis is ruled by Zolok, an insane dictator who is a member of a nearly extinct race. Zolok comes complete with a pair of slave assistants. He's kidnapped Natcha, a damsel who's to find herself in constant distress, and her inventor father Manyus. Among Manyus' discoveries are a cosmic condenser and a destroying ray, both of which he hopes will be used to benefit mankind. Instead, they are being employed by Zolok, who's bent on ruling the world. This despot will prove to be a formidable foe for the engineer, if only because he controls an army of living dead-men: "Giants. Black giants. The biggest, most terrible creatures you ever saw." 240 minutes.

Documentary

Famous director films deadly bombing mission into Germany

THE MEMPHIS BELLE

(1944-USA). COLOR

Directed, produced, scripted and co-photographed by WILLIAM WYLER. During the Second World War, a number of Hollywood's top filmmakers, including William Wyler, Frank Capra, John Ford, George Stevens and John Huston, served with various branches of the United States Armed Forces and filmed documentaries chronicling the war's progress. Upon America's entry into the conflict, Academy Award winner Wyler joined the U.S. Eighth Air Force, where he made this chilling, revealing, emotionally explosive record of a typical England-to-Germany bombing mission. It depicts the painstaking accuracy with which mechanics first prepare the plane and, later, "sweat out the mission"; the roaring engine sound of the bomber as it sets out on its deadly mission from the quiet, friendly English Countryside; and what happens on that mission, over the industrial heartland of Germany. All aerial combat footage was shot during actual air battles over enemy territory, and all the crew of the Memphis Belle are real GIs, from big cities and small towns across America, risking their lives in service to their country. 40 minutes.

Fatty Arbuckle "Silent" Comedies

Top Bananas of the "Silents"

"FATTY" AND HIS FUNNY FRIENDS (1913-1923-USA)

1. HOW FATTY MADE GOOD (1923-USA). With HUGHEY MACK. Despite its title, the star of this cute comedy is not the great Fatty Arbuckle but Hughey Mack, a rotund young mirthmaker who has the ability to tickle the audiences' funny bone. Hughey's cast as an overgrown little boy, who attempts to climb a tree and pick an apple for a girl. She makes fun of him, goes to the theatre with a much thinner beau, and then proceeds to fall for the handsome leading man.

2. MISS FATTY'S SEASIDE LOVERS (1915-USA). With FATTY ARBUCKLE. Directed by FATTY ARBUCKLE. Produced by MACK SENNETT. Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle appears in drag, as the daughter of the millionaire Finnegan, a mothball magnate. The family arrives for a vacation at a seaside resort; buxom Fatty barely manages to exit from a carriage, stand in the hotel lobby or go for a swim without wreaking havoc.

3. MIKE & MEYER (1915-USA). With WEBER and FIELDS. Joe Weber and Lew Fields were a popular burlesque and vaudeville team who appeared together in a number of films. Their characters are called Mike and Meyer, a pair of bozos who operate a general store. They go through muck and mire as they comically assault their customers: when their wives go to war, they're in danger of ending their partnership, and their friendship. No wonder Vaudeville died!

4. SKYLARKING (1923-USA). With HARRY GRIBBON. Produced by MACK SENNETT. Gribbon, a Sennett veteran, stars as a hapless inventor of a self-raising balloon car. Despite his alleged mechanical prowess, he cannot get the cussed car to work. He comically tangles with his neighbor, an auto lover who also happens to be a cop.

THE FINAL TEST

JAIMIE GILLIS, VANESSA DEL RIO, RED STARR
