A 101st message to the friends and customers of Radio Yesteryear®:

Dear Friends:

Quite a few of you entered our "Cover Quiz" from our last catalogue, and my thanks to you all. The performers pictured are Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, the radio in the photo was a Philco Model 90. The sponsor's slogan was "What Mr. Chase didn't know about coffee, Mr. Sanborn did!" We'll have another quiz in the near future.

Right now, we're offering lots of "new" discoveries in old time radio. My favorites in "The Best Of Old Time Radio" series are "The Cases Of Mr. Ace" (#1570), "The Casebook Of Gregory Hood" (#1504) and "The Mercury Theatre" I also want to point out our "Radio Yesteryule series, being offered again at this special time of year. Please note that the super-low price of these Christmas cassettes make them ideal gifts and stocking stuffers.

Finally, just a brief word about the delightful subjects of our "Celebrity Scrapbook." These four yummy young sisters (the photo was taken in 1942) were featured on "California Melodies," "Adventures In Rhythm," "The Feeling Is Mutual" and many other Mutual network shows during the war, "Sue" was kind enough to give us recordings of hundreds of their broadcasts (some with super-star Andy Williams) which I would like to make available to you! Just ask for our special "The Lyttle Sisters" Research Report®, it's free with any order.

Thanks for listening...until next time.

Sincerely,

Michael Rophone

Michael Rophone

P.S. Don't Miss "Uncle Dave's" stack of "Shep Fields and His Rippling Rhythm" 78's (stack #35). You'll see why his ideal "Sweet band" sound was stolen by Lawrence Welk!

Our 122 Best "The Haunting Hour/Weird Circle"

"The Haunting Hour" and "The Weird Circle" were both produced by NBC for syndication about 1945. Both were excellent examples of the radio horror show. Commercials were added locally. The Haunting Hour shows were scripts by radio writers. The Weird Circle leaned more on the classic horror tales of Poe, Wilkie Collins, Balzac, Dickens, and de Maupassant. Performances were by a fine repertory of NBC regulars; no stars, but FRANK LOVEJOY can be heard on some of the shows. The Haunting Hour plots were satisfyingly cliché ridden. The announcer opened with "No! No, stay where you are. Do not break the stillness of the moment! For this is a time of mystery, a time where imagination is free and moves forward swiftly. This is 'THE HAUNTING HOUR!'"

Because the commercials were added live by local stations for both series, these programs run between 25 and 28 minutes each, all are otherwise complete and in very good condition or better.

Our REGULAR Price

is $12.00 per hour and you can BUY 3 HOURS & GET 1 HOUR FREE! See order form on page 20 for details. Add $2.00 per hour for 7 1/2 ips reel-to-reel. Although we usually ship much faster, we ask you to please allow up to 6 weeks for delivery.

- All the 78's have been run through Old Uncle Dave's "geezzer filter" to clean up the sound to today's standards. There's still enough surface noise and scratch to satisfy the purists.
- These records come from Old Uncle Dave's basement, which hasn't been cleared out since Truman beat Dewey, and contains some really wonderful stuff.
- A full list of songs, artists and dates comes with each "stack of 78's" audio cassette (so you won't twist your neck as the label spins around at 78 rpm!).

Other Stacks Still Available:

- NO. 1. "1930 WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR"
Favorite toe-tappers from 1930 with Miff Mole, Red Nichols, Paul Whiteman, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, many more.
- NO. 2. "HOT TUNES FROM SWEET BANDS"
All the sweet "hotel" bands noted for their "Potted Palm" music, really blowing hot! Orchestras like Lombardo, Garber, Busse, Lopez, Weems, Welk, and many others playing like they've never been heard before.
- NO. 3. "SORROWFUL SONGS"
Famous tear-jerkers, recorded between 1923 and 1942. Plane crashes, sinking ships, fires, floods, and letters edged in black. Have a good cry with the problems of another era. Songs with sincere sentimentalities.
- NO. 4. "PRESENTING THE CLICQUOT CLUB ESKIMOS"
Harry Reser with his novelty, up-tempo arrangements. His band and his banjo typify the nuttiness of the 1920's
- NO. 5. "BRING BACK THE HAPPINESS BOYS"
Billy Jones and Ernie Hare, also known on radio as the "Interwoven Pair," and The Taystee Loafers, were recording stars long before radio. The name "Happiness Boys" was taken from their first radio sponsor, The Happiness Candy Company.
- NO. 6. "LOUIS ARMSTRONG BLOWIN' HOT"
Louis at the very beginning of his career; his very first records. Number 1 through 15 are with Louis, Johnny Dodds, Kid Ory, Lil Armstrong, and Johnny St. Cyr. Number 16 through 19 are with Louis, Fred Robinson, Jimmy Strong, Earl Hines, Mancy Cara, and Zutty Singleton.
- NO. 7. "NAMES YOU'LL REMEMBER"
Musicians you know, melodies that will live forever. Includes: Jimmy Durante, Martha Raye, The Mills Brothers, Fanny Brice, Desi Arnaz and more!
- NO. 8. "THEME SONGS 'R US"
Big bands and small, swing and sweet, playing the tunes they made their own.
- NO. 9. "OLD UNCLE DAVE SHAKES A TOOTSIE!"
All instrumentals. Up-tempo toe-tappers that will put rhythm in your step and a smile in your soul.
- NO. 10. "V-DISCS VOLUME 1: BENNY GOODMAN"
Produced by the government during the war and strictly not for sale, V-Discs have quickly become rarities, not only because all were supposed to have been destroyed by the Army, but because many were issued during Petrillo's recording ban, and contain sessions unavailable elsewhere. Benny Goodman's are most highly prized - for obvious reasons - listen!
- NO. 11. "JUG BANDS BLOW IT OUT"
A delightfully joyous, informal type of traditional jazz, noted for the use of a large earthenware jug as a rhythm instrument (replacing the string bass or tuba). A jug band plays music like no other (except maybe a washboard band, but that's next time!). If you've never heard a jug blower pull off a hot riff, you've missed one of music's barefoot treats. Highly recommended.
- NO. 12. "A CHEERFUL LITTLE EARFUL: AT A BARGAIN PRICE"
The "major" labels like Columbia and Victor sold for a premium price ($1.50) and led to the birth of the "minor" record labels (Which sold for as little as 35 cents!). The same fine music, same high quality pressings (most of the time), and only the band names were changed to protect the high priced labels.
- NO. 13. "SMOOTH-AS-SILK ISHAM JONES"
Isham Jones, the #1 band in the Chicago area during the Twenties, wasn't really a jazz band, but it came close. (Woody Herman played an unappreciated clarinet in the later recordings.) Eventually polishing his ultra-smooth technique, the Isham Jones sound caught on nationwide and faded with the Depression in 1938, when the band was last recorded.
- NO. 14. "THE MOON COMES OVER KATE SMITH"
The Songbird of the South first became well known in 1926 as a supporting player in a Broadway show, and went on to stardom in films, radio, and of course, records. "When The Moon Comes Over The Mountain" has been her theme song since 1931, and she practically owns "God Bless America!"
- NO. 15. "BROTHERLY LOVE: THE DORSEY WAY"
Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey - two of the most famous names of the Big Band era - could seldom work together in harmony. These sides were cut during those peaceful periods when they made beautiful music together.
- NO. 16. "UNCLE JOSH AND CORNBALL COUNTRY COMEDIANS"
Cal Stewart's early records and cylinders made his "Uncle Josh" character the first "rube on records." This "Down Home" style of humor has kept its appeal even today. Most of these records were recorded before the first World War, the cylinders far earlier than that. "A Few Short Stories" contains what is probably the first recording of the "nobody here but us chickens" joke.

The Clicquot Club Eskimos

Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey

A full list of songs, artists and dates comes with each "stack of 78's" audio cassette (so you won't twist your neck as the label spins around at 78 rpm!).

Other Stacks Still Available:

NO. 17. "1926 AND THE TWENTIES ROARED"

Phono records were socially accepted and selling at all time high levels by 1926. These are the records that were considered most in touch with the tastes of the music industry. They were the "big time" and you had to be really good to cut the wax. These tunes and artists were 'hot' in the mid '20's.

NO. 18. "WASHBOARD RHYTHM KINGS"

A Negro rhythm group put together in April of 1931. Their usually up-tempo, always swinging and joyous tunes were released until the end of November, 1935, when the Depression's slowdown of sales forced all labels to record only sure winners. The make-up of the group changed from time to time, the washboard sound instead of the drums, and the happy-go-lucky lyrics (don't miss the unbelievable lyrics on selection #11) made their records a delight to which to tap a toe.

NO. 19. "DICK POWELL"

THE Pretty Boy of the Depression. He didn't make many records, devoting most of his early career to the screen. Those few sides he did record were usually arrangements of the tunes he sang in his films, and were recorded during one day marathon sessions. Still, they sound fine today. Listen carefully and you can hear his toothy smile, curly hair, and a Busby Berkeley chorus line spinning kaleidoscopically behind him as he serenades a 1930's dreamboat.

NO. 20. "LIONEL HAMPTON & FLETCHER HENDERSON"

Lionel Hampton - an all-time jazz great; his small combo recordings are considered the best of their kind. He made the vibes a respected instrument, but he was equally at home on piano or drums. Fletcher Henderson was the finest "big band" swing arranger, and was one of the secrets behind Benny Goodman's success. Noted for having superb jazz musicians in his band, and for never achieving the fame he deserved. The Henderson sound was swing itself.

NO. 21. "UNCLE DAVE'S CHOICE 1"

My favorites. Those 78's I love to replay again and again while planning the next batch of 10 shellacs to stack up. Some sweet, some hot, some famous names and a few you've never heard. All candidates to be your "Choice" as well as mine.

NO. 22. "JOE VENUTI-THE ULTIMATE HOT FIDDLE"

The all-time great jazz violinist starred in the early 20's and is still active in the late 70's. Beautiful tone, superb technique. Joe Venuti was the first and finest of the swing fiddlers. Eddie Lang's unamplified guitar on many of Venuti's early records for a fine rhythm accompaniment.

NO. 23. "RUTH ETTING/ALICE FAYE"

Ruth Etting started in Chicago nightclubs in the early 20's and got her big break in the Ziegfeld Follies of 1927. Well-remembered for her sentimental ballads and natural rhythm.

Alice Faye was a Blonde Bombshell of the mid 30's. She started in New York nightclubs, got her big break with Rudy Vallee in "George White's Scandals" (1934). She specialized in recorded sex appeal-zowie!

NO. 24. "NOVELTY TUNES"

Music to make you smile, from before 1920 to after the War. Don't miss the singing chicken in "Mickey's Grand Opera."

NO. 25. "1927-1928 AND THE TWENTIES ROAR"

The Twenties are roaring, the "Flappers" are flapping. The successful formula was easy - give the people what they want to hear.

NO. 26. "SING, BING, SING!"

Of all Bing's hundreds of records, these carefully selected few try to paint a sound picture of his style at the start of his fame. No one ever sounded just like Crosby, and these tunes trace the evolution of his special magic.

NO. 27. "MORAN & MACK - THE TWO BLACK CROWS"

Starting as a Vaudeville team in 1926 as black face comedians, their first records proved runaway bestsellers. The "lazy negro" humor typical of the bygone era - the jokes and puns, surprisingly new and fresh. This collection contains every record they ever released (and one made not to be sold, but to promote a book.)

NO. 28. "THE GOLDEN AGE OF BARBERSHOP QUARTETS"

While only the Shannon Four sang without accompaniment, the Peerless Quartet and the American Quartet shared with the Shannon Four the majority of record sales and were most representative. Delightful four part harmonies, blended with sincerity.

NO. 29. "BEN BERNIE AND HIS HOTEL ROOSEVELT ORCHESTRA"

Remembered for his famous radio variety show during the depression and his phoney feud with Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie had a smooth 1920's orchestra, with Oscar Levant and Dick Stabile among other well-known sidemen. A sweet band with class.

NO. 30. "DEPRESSION BEST SELLERS"

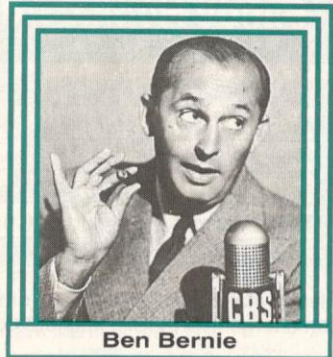

The Big Hits of the 1930's featuring some very well-known names from films, stage, and radio.

NO. 31. "RED NICHOLS AND HIS FIVE PENNIES"

Red Nichols with Manny Klein, Miff Mole, Eddie Lang, Jimmy Dorsey, Jack Teagarden, Glenn Miller, Pee Wee Russell, Wingy Manone, Gene Krupa, Will Bradley, Tommy Dorsey, and Joe Venuti. All-time jazz greats playing sophisticated and danceable melodies.

NO. 32. "THE OLD PIANO ROLL BLUES" Volume I

Player piano rolls from the collection of Les Zeiger, recorded October 20, 1962, by J. David Goldin on a manually pumped piano. Transcribed at the correct tempos as indicated on the rolls.

The Greatest Mystery-Adventure Radio Serial of the 1930's!

40 Consecutive Episodes, 10 Solid Hours of Radio Thrills and Chills. A superb example of the magic of radio drama!

THE SHADOW OF FU MANCHU!

London at midnight, a great city wrapped in a heavy shroud of dense yellow fog...street lights weird as elfin lamps glow mistily like something fashioned in a dream. The murmur of creeping traffic low, hushed, mysterious.

Behind an ancient wall, a vast gloomy old mansion crouches like an evil beast of prey, a wall concealed in heavy tapestries, magnificently figured in golden dragons...the floor carpeted with rich deep-piled Chinese rugs.

At a huge dragon-leg table covered with scintillating globes, tubes and instruments unknown to Western science, sits that master scientist, that Prince of Evil...Dr. Fu Manchu.

"GOLDIN'S CHOICE #4" is the latest in a series of special offerings to customers and friends of Radio Yesteryear. They are personally selected in the tradition of our founder, J. David Goldin, and are being offered at a special low price.

FU MANCHU, DR. (Creator: Sax Rohmer). The ultimate villain, a Chinese master criminal of untold wealth, intellect and occult powers whose goal is world conquest.

The Boxer Rebellion at the turn of the century had aroused fears of a "Yellow Peril," and Rohmer recognized that popular literature was ready for an Oriental archcriminal. His research for an article on Limehouse had divulged the existence of a "Mr. King," an actual figure of immense power in the Chinese district of London. His enormous wealth derived from gambling, drug smuggling, and the organization of many other criminal activities. The apparent head of powerful tongs and their many unsavory members, Mr. King was never charged with a crime, and his very existence was in question. One foggy night, Rohmer saw him – or someone who might have been him – from a distance; his face was the embodiment of Satan. This was Fu Manchu, the Devil Doctor.

GOLDIN'S CHOICE #4

THE SHADOW OF FU MANCHU!

Fu Manchu made his radio debut in 1929, and produced murder and mayhem on the air off and on until September of 1940. The last, and most exciting series of broadcasts began in September 1939 as a 3 times a week serial. It was syndicated by Radio Attractions and boasted Gale Gordon and Hanley Stafford. The plot was based almost word for word on "The Insidious Dr. Fu Manchu" by Sax Rohmer, published in 1913. It remains one of the best novels of Oriental evil run rampant ever written, and this series of broadcasts more than does it justice! Each program unless otherwise noted runs 15 minutes, contains music fills for local commercial inserts, is in very good to excellent condition, and is complete.
