Dear Radiofolk:

A warm welcome to all our new friends and customers who are seeing our Radiola and Sandy Hook catalogue for the first time, and a "hello again" to all the old-timers, some of you still with us after 24 years! I'm introducing a new format for our Radiola and Sandy Hook products, one that not only follows the new postal regulations (in size and shape), but one that should make it easier to find those recordings you're looking for.

For the newcomers: RADIOLA products are taken mostly from radio programs of the past, SANDY HOOK records, cassettes and compact discs are mostly musical, taken from radio, film sound tracks, and 78 rpm records.

I've got some new releases for radio geezers and Sandy Hook beginners alike, in addition to a complete list of all the Radiola and Sandy Hooks available. Radiola #1170 "Themes Like Old Times" is actually our "Sampler," and contains the program openings of 90 of the most popular shows of all time. Available on and off since 1968, "Themes" actually rose to #23 on the charts! "One Night Stand with Harry James and His Orchestra" is actually a two hour "crate" of four complete band remotes. "One Night Stand with Benny Goodman and His Orchestra" is also a two hour "crate" of cassettes with four complete band remotes dating back to 1937. The sound is good too! Our last new "crate" has four hours of laughs with Amos 'N' Andy, 8 complete broadcasts at The Mystic Knights of the Sea!

The new Sandy Hooks are just as exciting. A "crate" of Sherlock Holmes (with Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce of course) with four solid hours of deduction. There's lots of music - a single cassette from Tommy Dorsey and His Orchestra and Harry James and His Orchestra, both of which feature vocals by the young, skinny and talented Frank Sinatra. Two more single cassettes feature Nat King Cole (piano solos as well as The King Cole Trio) and the one and only "Rosie the Riveter." Actually, she doesn't say a word, Rosie was just a symbol of the era (like Kilroy!) and these zany novelty tunes will help you remember Pearl Harbor (no fair listening on a Sony or driving in a Datsun while this tape is playing!).

These darn small pages don't allow me more space unless we shrink the type beyond the ability of my specs to focus. So, so long until our next supplement! Thanks for listening...until next time.

Sincerely,

Michael Rophone

Michael Rophone

P.S. Our new "crate" format allows us to give you more memories for your money. Let me know what you think of them.

"Try again, Kemosabe. This time ease out clutch slowly."

Big Bands

They became popular just before the stock market crash and were our favorite kind of music until Rock and Roll came along! They swung, they were syncopated, rehearsed, polished,

Sounds of the '30 to the '50s arranged and toe-tapping tuneful as all get out. They were the big bands, and we don't have to remind you of their names. They'll live forever...listen to their pulse!

Charlie Barnet and His Orchestra

Old Time Radio On Compact Disc!

Compact discs were the first digital sound medium made available to the home listener. While not perfect, compact discs offer the highest fidelity available today. Here at Radiola/Sandy Hook, we issue our Compact Discs with all the many advanced studio techniques now available. We try to remove all the defects without changing the basic character of the sound. These compact discs were issued because we want to keep the restored sound as pure as possible and not add to any possible defects, and because it's a convenient, economical, and durable sound medium. Now...let's listen to the radio and the good old days!
