Friends of Old-Time Radio Script Contest

The 11th annual script writing contest is now open. This year your half-hour script must be based on the CBS program "You Are There" (1948-50). It assumes that radio was present during great historical moments of the past and CBS reporters are there to witness it and interview participants. (Examples: Columbus sails to the New World, Julius Caesar assassinated, Betsy Ross sews first American flag, Gold discovered at Sutter's Mill, etc.) There's an intro from the studio, then we go to the scene. No commercials as it was a sustaining show.

This can be either drama or comedy, whatever your bent. But please, no spoofs with Jack Benny, Abbott and Costello. That didn't work last time. The script must be ready to produce - type double spaced, large enough for actors to read, all sound cues included (probably no music in this one). Try to keep cast to ten or less, although some actors can double in smaller parts. Obviously, some historical research will be necessary. For further guide re "You Are There" see John Dunning's "On the Air - The Encyclopedia of Old Time Radio".

First prize in the contest is $200, and the script will be performed live at our 2004 convention. Second prize winner, which will not be performed, is $100.

Scripts must be submitted by August 31, 2003 to Dave Zwengler, 319 Plymouth Road, North

Brunswick NJ 08902 (732 - 0940 - 7639). Three experienced judges will pick the winning scripts and detailed suggestions for improvements will be sent to non-winners. If you want a primer on preferred page format, send SASE to Mr. Zwengler.

This year's winner, "Maitland at Large" by Jim Cort, will be performed at our October convention.

Miriam Hipp and others are exploring the possibility of holding an OTR convention in the Atlanta or Birmingham area, maybe in the spring of 2004. Let her know of your interest as an attendee or a dealer. Contact her at Box 550241, Birmingham, AL 35255 or <radthea@hotmail.com>

OLD FRIENDS: My brother Joe Hickerson is seeking two items from the old-time radio corpus. The first is a Fred Allen routine concerning a request to his insurance company for recompense for an accident involving transferring a load of bricks from an upper floor of a building to the ground, with numerous injuries in the process. Does anyone know what program this was one, and does anyone have a recording thereof?

Joe's other request is for a performance of "Kum Ba Yah" by a gospel group on Don McNeil's "Breakfast Club," perhaps in the late 1940s or early 1950s. Again, when did this occur, and does anyone have a recording?

Joe will be happy to reciprocate with any song search you would like to pose. INVITATION TO LEARNING by Martin Grams, Jr.

INVITATION TO LEARNING was a popular intellectual radio program featuring such guests as Norman Corwin, John Houseman, John Carradine, Hans Conried, Clifton Fadiman, Lillian Gish, and many other Hollywood and Broadway celebrities. From 1941 to 1964 this long-running Sunday afternoon program ranked among the top of radio education. This 280 page book documents the history of the series, including a highly-detailed episode guide by author Martin Grams. Unlike any other books written by Martin Grams, this one is limited and hand-numbered specially on the title page. Only 500 copies printed, sold first come, first serve. Indexed. $15.95

THE SOUND OF DETECTION: Ellery Queen's Adventures in Radio by Francis M. Nevins and Martin Grams, Jr.

This detailed reference work and critical study of the popular radio mystery/quiz program invited listeners to a weekly mystery of murder and theft, stopping long enough at the end of the program to give the listeners (and the guest armchair detective) the opportunity to solve the mystery themselves. From 1938 to 1948 this series stayed on the top of the charts, leaving mystery fans begging for more. Award winning authors Francis M. Nevins and Martin Grams, Jr. combined forces to put together this superb book, featuring a history and behind-the-scenes look at the making of The Adventures of Ellery Queen. Photos and fully indexed. $29.95
