THE TAPE DECK: Write Al Vesik, 733 San Lucas Ave, Stockton, Cal 95207 if you have purchased a Cartrivision Color Video Tape Deck from Olson Electronics in Akron, Ohio and ^{can't} get hooked up so it will work. Also, if you want the unit for $175 send Al a SASE for information... Carol Witte is selling tape again: Scotch 176, 1200' $24.00 a dozen; 1800' $30.00 per dozen. Write 194 Wyndcliff Rd, Scarsdale, NY 10583. ..John Olsen Jr, Box 321, Baker, Ore 97814 still selling Oregon Magnetics tape, 1800' $66.00 for 50 reels...The August issue of High Fidelity has an excellent article on tape editing...Bernie Fettelberg brings up the following points about fair and equitable trading. 1. Know what brands of tape will be used 2. Know the quality of programs you are receiving 3. Know whether you are trading reels or individual shows. It is not fair to send out shows on expensive tape and get cheap tape in return. It also takes much longer to tape individual shows than reels. Make sure you spell out your procedures in front of your catalog so there is no misunderstanding...

MAILING: 4th-class mail for tapes and books is now 19¢ for the first pound and 9¢ for each additional pound.

LET THE BUYER BEWARE: The July 18th issue of "Buyers Guide for Comic Fandom" has a full-page ad from Radio Nostalgia, Box 23, Vauxhall, NJ 07088. Radio Nostalgia was run by Virgil James who many people lost money to. Although much of the material is the same, Barry Brooks informs me that a Thomas Riggs is now in charge of the magazine. Riggs was a 2-year subscriber to Virgil's magazine and never got what he was supposed to either. Let me know of any more details.

The show will retain the exact format of the radio series...The FCC recently admonished WPRO in Providence for broadcasting an updated version of the WAR OF THE WORLDS. The FCC said that the station did not adequately warn its listeners that the program was a hoax and it seriously frightened many listeners.

NOTES ON SPEED CONTROL by Ray Stanich...Accurate speed control of tape recorders is apparently seldom adhered to by most collectors. I've been taping for 10 years and only recently have I given it much thought. Necessity was the mother of investigation. One of my recorders suddenly developed a bad speed problem. Most speed problems develop slowly so every collector should periodically (at least twice a year) check the speeds of all their machines at all speeds...Fortunately there exists reasonably priced tools to do this testing easily. ROB-BINS sells a British reel-to-reel "Test Strobe" #R 39295 which retails for about $2.50. Until 1975 Lafayette Radio also sold it. It is a hand-held device calibrated for 50 Hertz on one side and 60 Hertz on the other. For phonographs Robbins sells a metal plate Strobe Disc #PSD-4 which sells for about $2.00. Both should be in every audiophiles possession

In addition one needs a 60 Hertz strobe lamp to check both units. The easiest method is to either use a fluorescent lamp or a neon lamp. If a neon is chosen, use one with enough brightness, such as a NE 45 or a NE 48 lamp. One has a built-in resistor, while the other requires an external resistor. I built one with a NE 48 lamp, a cable socket, 30K resistor and an AC line cord...The object is to see if the bars on the strobe units stand stationary. If they move in one direction, the recorder is fast. If they move in the opposite direction the speed is slow...Unless one sends his machines into the repair shop for all problems, the following actions can be done by anyone with a little bit of mechanical ability--most of which involves getting the top cover off.

Most recorders use either rubber idler (intermediate) wheels or rubber belt pulleys to drive the capstan flywheel. A few drive the flywheel directly. Rubber wears. This wear usually causes a recorder to be slow. Sometimes the motor hub, which drive the idler of pulley, is made of brass and it too wears. Sometimes this hub and idler/pulley both wear evenly and the speed remained fairly constant. Even steel hubs can wear. If you use the recorder on one speed, the hub will not wear on the other unused speeds. Frequently the speed problem is not the hub or idler, but the reels take-up assembly binding due to lack of lubrication or worn cotton felt pads. This can show up as wow & flutter in the sound, usually at random intervals.

For those mechanically inclined most minor speed variations can be corrected easily. A suspected worn idler can be replaced. Most parts dealers, however, don't stock motor hubs. An easy way to correct slow speed is to add a layer of reinforced, or electricians, tape around the portion of the motor hub causing the speed variation, being careful not to overlap the ends. More than 1 layer may be needed... As a rule of thumb, if all speeds are fast replace idler or pulley. If all speeds are slow, first check the take-up reel mechanism. If it appears to be dry, oil the felts and clean the rims with alcohol so that the rubber idlers don't slip. If the felts are worn badly they may require a visit to the repairman as it is difficult for a layman to disassemble/reassemble these devices. Should the mechanism appear in good order, then either replace the motor hub or add tape to its rims... Remember a 2% variation will cause a 30 minute program to be off-speed by 36 seconds. Playing it back on another recorder with the opposite variation of 2% causes the program to be 72 seconds off (4%) and so on.

LATE MAIL AND TIDBITS: I had the pleasure of meeting Larry Keith recently. Larry plays Nick Davis on ALL MY CHILDREN... Dave Siegel, 351 Amherst A, Ticonderoga, NY 12883 has 120 hours of SHERLOCK HOLMES including his 4 novels and 52 of Doyle's 56 short stories. Dave is looking for the other four: The Yellow Face... The Gloria Scott... The Adventure of the Three students... The Adventure of the Creeping Man... Dave's latest supplements update following: 10 reels of GOON shows; 10 reels of GUNSMOKE: J's; 26 reels of LUM AND ABNER: 230 LUX..... Steve Lewis, 62 Chestnut Rd, Newington, Ct 06111 is looking for the show FIND THAT CLUE in which author Ken Crossen was the moderator. Ken remembers the show was on the west coast for about 6 months only. Ken also did some SUSPENSE and wrote the GREEN LAMA series as Richard Foster. Write either to Steve or Ken Crossen, 1995 Elmcrest Dr, Reno, Nev 89503. Steve's expertise is mysteries and is in touch with many mystery writers... Morgan Tiel, 71 McKinley Ave, Dumont, NJ 07628.

QUESTION: If blank tape has been lying around for a while, either for a couple of months or a couple of years, should it record all right, assuming it was all right to begin with?

[Faint, mostly illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

That's all for this month. Write if you get work... Hang by your thumbs.
