MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE
APPLAUDS:

Motion Picture
Relief Fund
Association

THE Motion Picture Relief Fund Association Sunday, September 21, broke ground at Woodland Hills for its home for aged, ailing and indigent actors and employees of the movie industry. The home will cost $225,000, will require a total endowment fund of two million dollars to make it self-perpetuating.

Of the money raised to date—$800,000—$780,000 has come from the radio sponsor (Gulf Oil) of the CBS Gulf Stream Guild Theater, which pays $10,000 weekly to MPRF for a show provided by MPRF, the Screen Guild and associated movie guilds—upon which the guest stars donate their services.

The radio series has raised this three-quarters of a million dollars during its three years on the air. It is now starting its fourth year and if (and there is little question that it will continue to be sponsored by Gulf Oil or some other high-minded sponsor) it stays on the air another four years after this, its fourth season, the dreams of the MPRF executives will be realized.

For their foresight and unselfish donation of their time and services to this great enterprise of taking care of their own people, MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE applauds Jean Hersholt, Ralph Morgan, Edward Arnold and the many other guild executives and the screen stars who have donated their talents to aid in this project.

It is notable, particularly at this time, to observe that while certain Senators are wasting the taxpayers' moneys in a non-directional investigation of the movie industry, the movie industry itself raises its own moneys to care for its people—and is first to contribute to every worth-while charity for the relief of others.

The Editors' Note:

VICTOR McLAGLEN AND EDMUND LOWE are at it again, both on the air (NBC) and in the movies. They are the team of hard-boiled marines they made famous seventeen years ago in "What Price Glory." Cover picture of McLaglen was taken by cameraman Bruce Bailey. For more on McLaglen and Lowe see Page 36

AMOS 'N' ANDY recently twisted a portion of their perennial broadcast series into a sermon which, according to the National Safety Council, already has had a noticeable good effect on automobile driving.

This broadcast was so touching that we want to repeat excerpts for the benefit of those who may not have tuned in. The Kingfish was bragging about how he had weaved and sped to Amos 'n' Andy's office, when Van Porter scolded him, telling him that every year in this country one out of every hundred people is either killed or injured in motor-car accidents. Whereupon Amos produced and read a clipping of a letter from a Mr. Riser of Dallas, Texas. He had written:

"Dear Friends: Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school... As she left home, her cocker spaniel sat on the front porch and whined his belief in the folly of education as my little daughter waved goodbye, and started off to the halls of learning.

"Tonight we, she and I, talked about school—she told me about the girl who sits in front of her, and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces... and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things, tremendously vital, unimportant things; we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic. Then to bed.

"She's back there now in her nursery, with Princess Elizabeth (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You see—this girl is very dear to me because I am her daddy.

"When her doll is broken, or if she cuts her finger, or if she bumps her head, I can fix it. But when she walks across the street she's in YOUR hands. She's a nice little girl, she can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk; she likes dogs, horses, likes to swim, and on Sundays she takes a hike with me.

"But I can't be with her all the time—I have to work and pay for her clothes and education.

"So that's why I'm writing to you. I'm writing you this letter to ask that while you're driving your car, please remember that my little girl may be crossing the street, or obeying the impulse of a child to run for a ball, or she may not be as alert for oncoming cars as I would be.

"So please be careful when you're driving, and don't kill my little girl. Thank you."

NEXT WEEK: Correspondent Hartrich, whose "Berlin Headquarters" map and story last week proved a scoop thousands of readers have applauded, will tell "Where Japan Will Attack" (and what will happen to the little brown men). Movie-Radio Guide also will ask you to vote for whom you'd like to play the immortal Lou Gehrig on the screen. Don't pass up this opportunity to have your say. —The Editors.

JOHN [PROFILE] BARRYMORE
[COME UP SOMETIME] WEST

—Jack Albin

WEEK

IT HAPPENED at the opening of John Murray Anderson's Silver Screen Cafe. It had to happen sometime, but it happened that night. John (The Great Profile) Barrymore, bad boy of the royal acting family, and Mae (Come On Up Sometime) West, bad girl of the celluloid (above), found one another and greeted one another affectionately. Miss West (right) was escorted to the premiere of Hollywood's newest night-club by her business manager of long standing, James Timony. It was the same Timony who was named the day previous by Mae's "forgotten" husband as correspondent in a separate-maintenance suit filed at San Bernardino, California.

West ex-hubby Frank Wallace filed suit in an endeavor to collect a thousand dollars a month separate maintenance from the buxom Mae. Judge Charles L. Allison, who questioned the plaintiff's good faith in bringing the action, dismissed it. Said Mae, "It's the same old routine. Every time he wants a new job he uses me for publicity to get it." Hollywood nodded wisely, realizing that there are coincidental rumors afoot, too, that Mae West is about to start work on a new picture and could use some publicity herself.

HOW Radio WILL DEFEND AMERICA

By MAJOR CURTIS MITCHELL
U. S. ARMY

Curtis Mitchell, former editor of MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE now serving in the nation's armed forces, is an acknowledged authority on radio. These theories of how radio may serve this country in time of war are naturally his own, but they are based on a wide knowledge of peace-time radio and the problems which this country would face in the event of war.—The Editors.

THE bombers will come first. Make no mistake about it. Modern bombers can fly to the United States, lay their eggs on defenseless cities, and return to their own airports. They will do it, too, unless radio prevents them. Radio is one of America's first-line defenses.

Suppose the bombers do come. Already our shores are ringed with listening-stations and observers. Some of them are on distant islands, some on vessels at sea, some ride in blimps above the ocean. One of these stations will see them coming and radio will carry the message to military commanders whose duty is the defense of our shores.

Swiftly, naval and military air forces will converge on the approaching enemy. In daylight, their chores will be the simple destruction of the enemy. But what if the approach is made at night, as it almost certainly will be? Then radio again comes to the rescue. For radio is a part of the important equipment of the night fighter. German pilots have already learned the fury of the British night fighter, and because of radio waves which direct the shells from winged cannon, the air raids on London have almost ceased.

When our own cities are threatened, newly trained young Americans will be in the night sky searching for the enemy. Their eyes will be sharpened by days of training in darkened chambers, but not even their sight can penetrate the clouds that are piled high. Yet they will fly with a vision that is startlingly clear, for they fly by radio, with invisible waves guiding them. Not much can be told of the complex equipment that is man's improvement on his own sight, but it is known that electrical impulses are flung into the air, thrusting and vanishing like rubber balls, disappearing in the distance because they find nothing solid against which to strike.

Those waves, when they do strike, rebound swiftly to the night fighter's instrument. Panel meters give readings—distance, angle, speed. So the oncoming bombers, even though they skulk through midnight darkness, are watched through radio eyes.

The bombers may start but not many will arrive.

But suppose the bombers get through to their objectives, and the parachute troops do effect a landing, and the transport planes come down with the tanks and field-guns. What then?

Radio must do for America what it failed to do for France; it must tell Americans where to go and by what routes. When areas need to be evacuated, radio must instruct automobilists and truck-drivers to use certain roads and highways. The Army has first claim on the others. Indeed, it may be a part of one's preparedness to keep his radio continuously tuned in. No other means can tell the public so quickly of threatened danger.

SO WHILE radio is moving a horde of women and children into safety aisles across an entire state, it is also bringing up the tank-killers. Suppose that, somehow, Germany has landed a typical panzer division. It will advance with motorcycles and scout cars first, feeling for enemy guns or tanks. Behind these cycles and cars will be more tanks, light ones first and then the heavies. Whenever scouts locate batteries or other tanks, the attack pauses just long enough to determine whether or not to strike or to pass around. If the enemy is weak, inter-tank radios crackle and the panzers concentrate on him. If he is strong, radio summons the dive-bombers. In minutes, they roar up, blasting aside all opposition. Such team-work crushes everything.

The other day I saw America's answer to the panzer blitz. It was an experimental tank-destroyer battalion, and it was unveiled for the first time late in August, when radio commentators were among those who were invited to watch it work.

We stood on a hill at the side of a long valley. Enemy tanks were attacking from the west. The tank destroyers sent out motorcycles and "jeeps" to find the enemy. Contact was made and a radio signal roused the "destroyers." We watched them roll into the valley from the east. First, a score of baby "jeeps"—those little cars which look like hard-boiled baby Austins and run like mountain goats, hurtled across the valley's floor. Each carried a 37-mm. antitank gun sticking beyond its radiator. Close behind were big half-track trucks moving on caterpillar treads as surely as any tank can move and half again as fast, each mounting 75-mm. cannon pointing forward. With incredible speed, without pausing for ditches or obstacles, they spread out fanwise until each had found a favorable place for receiving the tanks.

The tanks roared down from the west and the battle was on. A 75-mm. cannon will destroy almost anything it hits. A driver aims it roughly by turning the truck that forms the gun mount. The jeeps fired and ran, fired and ran again. Their 37-mm. shells will penetrate two and one-half inches of armor plate at 800 yards.

FIRST-LINE DEFENDERS in case America is invaded will be these Air Corps radio operators. A few months ago many of them were "hams" you heard on short waves. Today they're learning everything from signal codes to radio night-fighting technique

TWO-WAY POLICE RADIO, U. S. peacetime accomplishment, in wartime becomes vital communications link between officers and men, between scouts, planes, tanks and infantry. Above, student officers from Ft. Riley, Kans., inspect Kansas City police department's elaborate system

FOR PRIVATES, peacetime portable radios have been concentrated to pack size, making split-second teamwork possible down to the last man in our armed forces

WORKING ALONE, these clumsy machines would be lost, but equipped with radio they become a highly destructive team. Intertank radio gets reports on enemy strength from scouts, calls in air support, keeps huge formation working as a unit

FOR STAFF OFFICERS in the field, radio is vital, too. Above, Capt. R. S. Nourse receives orders from headquarters over portable radio-telephone during maneuvers at Plattsburg, N. Y. There will be messengers and pigeon carriers, of old-fashioned war, but radio is quicker, surer

RADIO WILL TELL U. S. civilians what to do. Alert signal, inspected by RCA's David Sarnoff, Mayor La Guardia, rings bell on signal from local station, calls listener

Photographs by Acme

No German tank ever ran up against antitank artillery that hit and ran to a new position. If they had, German tanks would have found themselves just as helpless as the tanks I watched attempting to escape from the ambush of our American destroyer battalion. That battalion went after those tanks like a football team; each player had a job to do and did it. Not a tank escaped.

Radio did that, too. Without radio there would have been no communication, and without communication there would have been no teamwork.

Radio will fight in still another way. It is America's crystal ball.

Would you think, for example, that by listening to what Germans are telling Americans, both in North and South America, you could learn what Germany may do next? Well, you can. Even now German short-wave stations are talking to us at all hours. Each twenty-four hours they are sending us thirty thousand words of trickery and deceit. By following it for month after month we have learned that it assumes a pattern that is visible to experts. Our own Federal Communications Commission hires such experts and many others besides to listen to all foreign-language broadcasts. Stations in Oregon, Texas, Maryland and Puerto Rico hear all broadcasts directed to this country and to South America. They make recordings of these broadcasts, turn them over to translators, then to analysts, then to psychologists. Result: The American government was warned ahead of time that Japan was going to occupy Indo-China. Germany's attack on Russia was predicted within a few days.

Those same far-flung listening-posts may tell us some day that Hitler will soon make an attack on Bolivia or on Newfoundland or on us. Whatever he contemplates, almost certainly we will be forewarned, for the cleverness of Goebbels' propaganda is like that of the forger whose imitation is perfection itself and thereby reveals itself. So does controlled propaganda reveal many a Nazi secret to the ear of a clever analyst.

Will there still be news on the air? Radio will defend America by telling every citizen just what his Army is doing at the front, just what his Navy is doing on the sea. Plans under consideration now provide for an Army spokesman who will keep the public informed.

HOW else will broadcasting help to defend America? Have you heard your radio station urging people to take civil-service examinations? Seven hundred stations did. Hundreds of spot announcements have summoned an army of workers to aid the Army and Navy. Not many months ago, the National Association of Broadcasters was told, "We need five hundred thousand workers. Can you get them?"

Radio got them.

The Air Force told the NAB, "We need one hundred and twenty thousand men for our ground crews, ninety thousand flying sergeants, and fifty thousand flying cadets."

Radio is getting them.

The Navy told broadcasters, "In 1942, we will want one hundred and eighty thousand new men in naval aviation and other services."

Radio will get them.

In fifty-two different cities, boom-time production on war orders has brought thousands of workers who cannot find proper homes. Radio stations have been organized in each city to discover and advertise every apartment or residential vacancy.

Day in and day out, radio newscasts serve America. This implies a sobering responsibility. One radio station in the East received a call from a listener who asked its news editor if he knew about an epidemic at a certain camp. The listener insisted that one hundred soldiers were already dead in the camp morgue.

That was big news if true. The station began to check the story. Other listeners called to make the same report. The rumor began to assume ugly proportions. But the Army camp insisted that there were no dead soldiers and there was no epidemic. Reporters were invited to visit the camp. When they arrived, they were taken to the morgue first of all. Once it had been a morgue but now it was used by a local women's knitting circle. The hospital was empty. Obviously, somebody had attempted a dangerous hoax.

THE fifth column that attempts to operate in America today will be stronger and more dangerous than ever tomorrow. Not long ago a mysterious fire broke out in the short-wave transmitter owned by Station WLW and real damage was done. The short-wave station had been sending news to South America, holding out a great and friendly hand to our neighbors. Someone wanted those friendly messages stopped.

Today, invisible radio fingers clasp all the Americas together. Today, bands of electric energy bind into one cooperative defensive unit all the elements of the U. S. Navy and Army; battleships and bombers and tank killers and night fighters united in impregnable array.

In peace, Americans have used radio better than any other nation. We have more stations, more receivers, more artists, more technicians, more listeners. In war, if it comes, we shall also use radio best—there can be no doubt of that—and employ its multitude of services in order that a complete and glorious victory may quickly be ours.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT:

IN "SKYLARK," a sparkling farce on domestic affairs, not only does Claudette have a hectic time trying to make a pot of coffee in the tiny galley of a pitching boat but she has other troubles which add up to hilarious entertainment. (1) Claudette has to wrestle with Ray Milland, trip him and toss him over a chair. (2) In a New York City subway jam, she has her feet trampled on, and (3) just to give Miss Colbert a rest, here's a picture of someone else receiving a roughing-up when Ray Milland becomes enraged, takes a poke at Brian Aherne!

HER TOUGHEST PICTURE ASSIGNMENT IS "SKYLARK"

CLAUDETTE COLBERT, now rounding out eight years of stardom in twenty-five pictures, has met and conquered her toughest role, that of the wife of Ray Milland in Paramount's "Skylark." And it was tough going physically. She fell, bumped and was slammed about a tiny, rolling cabin cruiser for nine hours in one day, wound up counting twenty-seven black-and-blue marks on her body!

That was only one of the tough scenes in "Skylark," which called for slapstick from the glamorous lady. In a second, she had to wrestle with Milland and toss him over the back of a chair. In a third, she had to be jammed about in a subway station and then have her toes stepped on in the subway. But the power-boat scene was the lulu.

It shows her descending by short ladder to the cabin to brew coffee for herself and "the other man" (Brian Aherne), who is at the wheel riding out a storm. First Miss Colbert did a tummy slide from the top of the cabin ladder to the floor. She came up groping and hit a wall. Then she found the coffee-pot, which forthwith fell apart.

Trying to get water from the galley pump, she broke it and had to repair it while holding on like a tenderfoot to the saddle-horn. The gasoline-stove blew fire ceiling high when she lit it, the lid stuck to the coffee-can, and when it came off the can was upside down! She wallowed about in the spilled grounds, was thrown on her back into the bunk, then was pitched head first into the sink.

Her crowning, or clowning, glory was to pour a cup of coffee in all the boat-pitching and start up the ladder to the after-deck with it for Aherne. Twice she missed and came hurtling down those steps, hot coffee and all.

When director Mark Sandrich yelled "Cut!" Miss Colbert marched proudly off the set, sore and stiff, bruised and a mess, but not dizzy. "I've never been seasick in my life," she declared. "You see, I got my sea legs from a couple of experiences worse than this. The first was on a freighter. We ran into a typhoon in the China Sea, and the boat carried a cargo of onions—and you know onions!

"Not long ago I chartered a small power boat and took some friends off to San Clemente. I also took my Italian cook. It was the time of year when the channel kicks up quite a bit and I was rather doubtful about the cook. I warned him, but he reassured me with, 'Me? I'm Christopho Columbo!'

"Well, we hadn't been out an hour before 'Columbus' was scuttled. I had to cook for eight people. Nobody else would so much as poke his nose below. So I fixed 'em. I fried fish!"

The picture "Skylark" is Claudette's dressiest for some time. She has fifteen costume-changes, and except for the oilskins she wears in the power boat, they are very glamorous indeed. "Skylark" will provide quite a contrasting Colbert to the actress' part as a schoolmarm of the year 1914 which she is now enacting for 20th Century-Fox in "Remember the Day." In that screen play, Miss Colbert's entire wardrobe cost but $300.

"But," Miss Colbert concluded, "I don't have to make coffee in a pitching boat!" —E. P.

CLAUDETTE GOES BELOW

ONE OF THE TRULY glamorous screen stars of all time, Claudette Colbert really takes a beating in Paramount's "Skylark" as the story unfolds at a zestful pace, accentuating its comic episodes to a high degree. The cooking-scene on the boat may well be the funniest Miss Colbert has ever done. Hardest (for Miss Colbert) part of the assignment is revealed in these candid pictures. While the boat is pitching and rolling, Claudette makes her unorthodox entry into its tiny galley by (1) missing the first rung of ladder, (2) landing with a dignity-losing bump, but still firmly set (3) on making a cup of coffee or dying in the attempt

TO GET A CUP OF COFFEE

IN THE GALLEY, her feet regained (if not her dignity), Claudette begins the preparation of the world's most elusive cup of coffee. Among the things which shouldn't happen to a dog, but do happen to Claudette, are wrestling with a coffee-pot which falls to pieces, opening a can of coffee upside down, lighting a stove which practically explodes in her face—and all this while the rock and roll of the ship makes the boat's galley more like a seat on a drunken roller-coaster than a place in which a beautiful woman should be. Finally the coffee is done (1) and Claudette (still fighting) Colbert pours a cup which she attempts to carry to the deck, (2) only to meet the final ignominious fate (3) of being tossed for a loss again, spilling the stuff all over herself. (4) But even the most harrowing experiences must end and (5) Brian Aherne comes to her rescue. A nice rescue, but imagine Claudette's feelings when she finds out he didn't want any coffee after all!

JACK OAKIE TELLS — "How to Be a Football Star Forever"

FOURTEEN years ago, when I first hit the Hollywood line, I played every position on the team in Paramount's college-story cycle — and that ain't gray—but where did it get me? Well, for one thing, it always got me down—get it?—when I was tanked, ish, huh! I had to make a three-thousand-mile run to Europe to escape from those Joe College gridiron roles. When I returned they thought I had been graduated. (Who, me?) Not knowing how else to use me, film work became so scarce that I'd been glad of any kind of a role, even one with my coffee!

Finally, I matriculated again in college for Darryl Zanuck in 20th-Fox "Rise and Shine." I made the team because my name is BOLENCIEWCZ. So they give me a number instead of my name—number 78. Remember?? Bad Giranga's number. And 88 belonged to Tommy Harmon. So they give me 78 hoping I'd be half as good as either of them guys, just as if I wasn't better! Haven't I been playing college football for fourteen years?

The professors here are a bit worried that I'll pass my exams. Imagine Oakie graduating from college! Him? He couldn't, wouldn't, he's got a system of his own.

Twelve years ago they made a picture called "Touchdown," when Uncle John Oakie was but a headless boy. They threw me out because I looked too old to be a college boy and made me a coach instead! So I started growing young. How do you grow young? By unlearning. I looked like I knew something so they threw me out. So I unlearned.

First I unlearned six glamour girls' phone numbers. My face got full again—full and empty—perfect college material. Then I began unlearning how pictures are made. Finally I got so dumb Fox gave me this part. But I nearly lost it because I looked so young.

I figure I've got maybe ten more years playing sophomores. I keep on unlearning more and more and living cleaner and cleaner. By that time I'll have unlearned so much they'll be leading me on and off sets by the hand, billing me as "Oakie, the greatest Jackie since Coogan."

Of course by that time it will be illegal to make a college film without Cap-and-Gown Oakie, the Sheswakin, Pizkin Kid, so they'll find me a new career.

"I'll play the fullback's son!"

BELIEVE IT OR NOT this is Oakie's impression of the proper, sneering posture of a critical coach. Says Oakie: "Before I unlearned enough and became younger, they cast me as a coach."

OAKIE EXPLAINS: "In 'Rise and Shine' I have a great deal of trouble keeping awake. I'm tired, tired of playing football heroes. And this gives you an idea of what goes on during a huddle."

LOOK OUT, YOU FUNKS! Here is the all-sneering Oakie-Bolenciewicz countenance that frightens all American grid heroes into submission and defeat. Says Oakie, "I'd like to try it on Hitler!"

LINDA DARNELL, cheerleader, is another reason Oakie [above] doesn't mind playing football again—as long as he gets his sleep. Above, right: Even this array of feminine palch/uda posing as cheerleaders doesn't prevent me from getting some shut-eyes," says Oakie. "Sleeping Beauty, that's me"

CRUCIAL MOMENT in the big game. [1] Grid Star No. 78, Bolenciewicz (Oakie), gets the ball, takes it down the field almost to the goal line. [2] But the run exhausts him. Sleep begins to overtake him. He's falling ... But [3] as he falls asleep, Oakie topples over the goal to score the winning touchdown! [4] Sleep on, Bolenciewicz—Murphy gets the grid.

EXCITING MOMENT in "Rise and Shine." Jack almost becomes indelible when the professor asks him to name a form of transportation. He is saved when Linda Darnell whispers, "What do you do during football season?" and Jack answers, "Train!" Which gives you an idea of how much a man can unlearn!

A BIT of unusual casting is reported by M-G-M where in "H. M. Pulham, Esq." Helene Costello and her dad, Maurice Costello, for years top leading man of silent pictures, will appear in the same picture! Above (l. to r.): Robert Young, the Costellos and director King Vidor

YOU'D NEVER GUESS IT, but that's Mickey Rooney hiding behind the mustache and putty nose. When this picture was taken at M-G-M Mickey was busy making tests for a scene in "Babes on Broadway." The huge sign in front of Mickey indicates it's a Rooney test for director

PICTURES IN THE MAKING

ALMOST as fascinating as the finished pictures which play the length and breadth of the land are the constant changes going on in Hollywood while pictures are in the making. Large sets, small sets, modern dress, period dress—all these things are a part of every-day picture-making, but they are things the public never sees. To give its readers a greater insight into workaday Hollywood, to bring them the romance and glamour of actual filming, MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE herewith presents highlights of current pictures—in the making!

LEFT: Barbara Stanwyck was snapped resting on Sam Goldwyn's "Ball of Fire" set. She plays a strip-tease girl who inadvertently gets involved with a group of reclusive professors, scholars (among them Gary Cooper) who are writing a new encyclopedia

HAZARDS OF the La Conga dance were demonstrated at Sam Goldwyn's studio when players performed the dance. Richard Haydn, 35, suffered a sprained ankle. 77-year-old Tully Marshall didn't even get a Charley-horse

Today in Hollywood

Oakie Steals Flynn Spotlight

Jack Oakie Takes Count

Learning, probably from the example of Errol Flynn, that the proper place to get publicity is in a night-club, Jack Oakie became rambunctious last fortnight at Charlie Foy's Supper Club and, after persistent insistence that "I'm a funnier comedian than you are," proved it by taking a pitcher of ice-water in the face from master of ceremonies Jerry Lester, and then a fall on the stage of the cafe during the blackout which the proprietors hurriedly arranged. The fall was unexplained, as no one hit anybody. This differs from the Flynn-Jimmie Fidler fisticuffs at the Mocambo, where it seems that everyone was hitting everybody. Chapter last of the Flynn bout came, too, last fortnight when Errol, the penitent, but not too much so, appeared before Judge Cecil D. Holland and after telling his side of the story was admonished for "brawling" by the judge and given a release. Whereupon Fidler next day issued a corrective press statement to the effect that all, or most, of Flynn's statements at the hearing and at the fray were lies. Thus ends their mutual publicity break. (See pictures above.)

Hedy Lamarr Inventor

Hedy Lamarr, the dream of brunette-lovers, proved last week that she had an inventive mind yet was unable to solve the problem of keeping a husband at home alone with her. The invention which came from her pretty brain is held secret by the Government and is considered of great potential importance in the national defense program. But two days later, Gene Markey, now in the Navy, appeared in court and was given the final decree for the divorce which Hedy filed a year ago against him; charges, that he paid scant attention to her during the fifteen months of their marriage and that he always insisted upon having a houseful of company; that during the fifteen months she recalled of spending but about four evenings alone with him! . . . News also broke last week that Hedy and Robert Taylor would co-star in the Alexander Hamilton story, "The Gentleman from the West Indies."

Then Calleia was riding one of a team of horses drawing a load of hay when it caught fire, the horses bolted and the wagon overturned, showering extras with the burning mass. Quick action prevented any burns or injuries.

Suspension List

Ida Lupino is the latest actress to join the Warner Bros. special disciplinary and suspension list, all because she has refused to accept the lead in "The Juke Girl" (which WB intended anyway for Ann Sheridan). Also off the brothers Warner pay-roll is Priscilla Lane because she thought another assigned screen play a puerile and feeble effort. Observers note that more actors and actresses get the suspension treatment at the Warner than any other lot. But does it help their later performances?

Capra Goes to Work

Frank Capra, who ended "Meet

John Doe" without letting John hop off the city hall, has gone to work again, this time on "Arsenic and Old Lace," with Cary Grant and Raymond Massey in the leading roles (Massey will play Jonathan Brewster, which Boris Karloff has been doing in the stage version). Grant will be the newspaper critic. Meantime, Grant has asked the U. S. Treasury Department for their okay for him to do another "free time" picture during 1942 and donate his entire salary for it to war-time charities. To be able to do this philanthropic deed, he must prove it will be done during time he would otherwise vacation. At Columbia, Grant's next film will be "Mr. Twilight."

Memphis in Dither

Memphis, Tenn., is all a-dither over the coming of October 31 when Paramount Pictures will premiere Bing Crosby's "Birth of the Blues" at the Mississippi River city. Stars to be on hand are Brian Donlevy, Dorothy Lamour, little Carolyn Lee, Richard Arlen, Ellen Drew, Preston Foster, Fred MacMurray, Martha O'Driscoll (who will model as queen of the Cotton Festival), Phil Regan, Bill Holden, Bill Boyd and Betty Jane Rhodes. Attempts are being made to get Crosby back from South America in time to appear at the premiere.

Snore for the Record

Gary Cooper, waiting for a take, stretched out on a bed on the set of Sam Goldwyn's "Ball of Fire" and went to sleep. Just about that time, director Howard Hawks was ready to shoot, discovered his snoozing star, and said, "Wait! Don't awaken him. We need a good snore sound-effect. Stick the microphone over here near his mouth and record a few minutes before we wake him up." They did. So, ladies, that will be Gary Cooper's snore you'll be hearing in future Goldwyn pictures!

LIFE STATISTICS

Stork Department

Mary Martin, according to latest bulletins from old Dr. Stork, expects to be a mother come Hallowe'en—the very date her last Bing Crosby picture, "Birth of the Blues," is to be premiered at Memphis, Tenn. On the same lot September 28, actress Constance Moore reported a seven-pound-three-ounce daughter, Mary Constance. Other mothers-to-be include Constance (Mrs. Gilbert Roland) Bennett and Martha (Mrs. Carlton Alsp) Scott.

Weddings

Dorothea Kent, currently seen in Deanna Durbin's "It Started With Eve," wed bandleader Ken Baker September 28 at Oswego Lake, Ore.; Charlotte Brockway, society girl, and stage and film producer Howard Young were wed the same day at Las Vegas, Nev., following an elopement.

To Be or Not to Be

Ethel Merman was divorced October 1 at Santa Monica, Calif., by William J. Smith, actor's agent; charges, she wouldn't come to California and make a home with him . . . Ann Sheridan was quoted by the daily press as saying her solitaire on the proper finger is "just a gift (from George Brent). It fits that finger, so

REVIEW of the WEEK

"WEEK-END IN HAVANA"

Cast: Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, John Payne, Cesar Romero, Cobina Wright, Jr., George Barbier. Directed by Walter Lang; produced by William LeBaron. Original screen play by Karl Tunberg and Darrell Ware. A Twentieth Century-Fox production in Technicolor.

Type of Picture: Here's a musical romance that will perk up any movie-goer. The picture is filmed in exquisite Technicolor; the romance touch is faint pink; the plot is not so much, but the music is in variegated moods of Cuban red that starts out at the boiling-point, keeps getting hotter until Havanized music and gaiety spills all over the place.

This is the Story: Plots in musicals are usually thin. That this one has been on a prolonged diet is true but of little difference. Alice Faye, a Macy's department store girl who has saved her money for years, takes a boat for Havana, where she is determined to crowd a lifetime of thrills and fun and romance into two short weeks. The boat hits a reef, and John Payne, a steamship official, flies to the boat to refund the passengers their money and get waivers from them, absolving the steamship company from damages and future lawsuits. Miss Faye becomes a recalcitrant militant, refuses to sign the waiver. Result: She gets to fly to Havana, spend two weeks there at the company's expense, after which she will sign the waiver. John Payne, in a pedantic role, goes along with her to see that she has a good time. This lust for life in Havana brings Cesar Romero and Carmen Miranda into the vortex and a Cuban holocaust flares up. Alice gets her romance and rumbas. She even gets John Payne.

Verdict: This is Alice Faye's au revoir to pictures for a year (she will be a mother in April), and it will leave her fans with a pleasant taste in their mouths. But it is Carmen Miranda who lifts this musical out of the rut marked "ordinary."

BRIEF PICTURE GUIDE

Outstanding Pictures

LADIES IN RETIREMENT: Ida Lupino is excellent in this thriller-chiller, as the woman who makes her life's work the care of her two demented sisters. (Adults.)

THE LITTLE FOXES: Realistic drama of a heartless, designing woman—Bette Davis' bid for another Academy Award. (Adults.)

LYDIA: Story of a woman and her four loves, brilliantly directed by French producer Julien Duviour. A Merle Oberon triumph. (Adults.)

SERGEANT YORK: An honest fictionalized story of what really happened to a soldier. (A family must!)

Other Offerings

HERE COMES MR. JORDAN: Story of a spirit removed from a body fifty years before its time—good comedy, with Robert Montgomery, Claude Rains, James Gleason. (Adults.)

HOLD BACK THE DAWN: Giulio Charles Boyer contrives to marry school-teacher Olivia de Havilland—then falls in love with her. (Adults.)

HURRICANE SMITH: Ray Middleton and Jane Wyatt. A rodeo champ founds a town on faith and romance. (Family.)

LADY BE GOOD: Easy to look at, and listen to, this musical has Ann Sothern, Eleanor Powell, Robert Young—and hilarious comedy by radio recruit Red Skelton. (Family.)

THE PITTSBURGH KID: Billy

Conn and Jean Parker. A boxing drama starring the ring's own Billy Conn. (Family.)

SPOKS RUN WILD: With horror-man Bela Lugosi, this one is spine-chilling enough to please the most avid mystery fan. (Family.)

WILD GESE CALLING: Henry Fonda and Joan Bennett wander all around the Klondike to get hitched and have a baby. (Adults.)

Comedy

FATHER TAKES A WIFE: Gloria Swanson comes back in story of an actress who finds marriage retirement more hectic than acting. (Adults.)

HENRY ALDRICH FOR PRESIDENT: Henry's platform was wobbly but he straightened it out. A "sure-fire" hit in a new American institutional series. (A family must.)

IT STARTED WITH EVE: Clever, romantic comedy. Deanna Durbin's tenth hit, her first since becoming Mrs. Vaughn Paul. (Family.)

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH: Bob Hope extracts plenty of belly-laughs from a slightly threadbare yarn. (Family.)

Western

BAD MAN OF DEADWOOD: Roy Rogers and Gabby Hayes. Roy proves the right of justice in the wild West. (Family.)

DOWN MEXICO WAY: Gene Autry. Gene upsets a scheme by fake movie promoters to dupe Mexican executives. (Family.)

HOW NAZI SUICIDE TROOPS CRACK RED FORTIFICATIONS

Five specialists of destruction are the members of the Nazi DEMOLITION SQUAD pictured below. A squad is usually led by a sergeant, armed with a sub-machine gun and charges of dynamite. The second man is armed with a rifle, hand grenades and loaded down with several light planks, which provide "bridges" over mine fields and patches of barbed wire. The third and fourth members carry flame-throwers and rifles. They spray the face of a blockhouse with their "flammenwerfer," which have a range up to two hundred feet. They blind the enemy inside the fort and make continued resistance unbearable because of the great heat. The fifth man carries a sub-machine gun and the "fishing pole." With this long pole he can lay a charge of high explosive under the gun muzzles of the blockhouse while crouching in a near-by crater. He detonates the charge and spikes the fort's guns. The most hazardous operation for the squad is to maneuver from one crater to another—which they make for themselves with hand grenades if necessary—through the field of fire until they are under the gun muzzles. From there on it is easy to force capitulation of the blockhouse by destroying its firing power, blasting open its rear exits and killing or capturing its occupants. THESE MEN ARE BACKED UP BY

The accurate Stuka dive bomber. Offensive against fortified points is usually opened by bombing. If they cannot silence a blockhouse with a hit, their resulting bomb craters provide "cover" for a demolition squad.

Howitzers support an attack. A demolition squad advances under a barrage, advances final 200 yards when fire ceases. A direct hit may jar gun mechanism, tilt a fort.

Nazis send fast, mobile 105-mm. field guns mounted on armored chassis with tank treads into point-blank range if possible. Their armor-piercing shells can penetrate all but heaviest blockhouse walls.

AT CLOSE RANGE, FLAME-THROWERS COVER ADVANCE OF MAN WHO DISABLES FORT'S GUNS WITH HIGH EXPLOSIVE.

What Makes a German Soldier Tick

The common men of Hitler's armies—what are they fighting for?

By EDWIN HARTRICH

In the August 31, 1939, issue of "Der Wehrmacht," official illustrated weekly magazine of the German War Ministry, an eight-page story, complete with pictures, lifted the curtain to reveal to the tradition-laden war ministries of Europe that the era of mass fortifications was finished. The magazine was issued just as the Nazi blitzkrieg armies rolled into Poland. The feature showed how, after six years of patient study and practise, the Nazis had developed a new technique to break through so-called impregnable fortified zones such as the Maginot, Metaxas, Mannerheim and Stalin Lines. It told how, in quiet corners of Germany, the Nazi Reichswehr had constructed full-scale replicas, accurate in all essential details, of the major fortification systems of all Europe! Here they practised demolition until their technique was perfected. Out of this scientific study of fort destruction, they discovered the basic unit, the five-man demolition squad. Above, the operation of the squad is explained; below, we give you the story of Sergeant Hans Schmidt, leader of one of those squads and an above-average German soldier. By studying him, we can better understand why the Reichswehr has proved such a formidable army.—The Editors.

SERGEANT Hans Schmidt enjoyed a brief rest by the roadside before moving up into the Leningrad fortified zone. Grouped about him were four tired and dusty technicians of destruction, members of his fortress-cracking squad. In a few hours they would be creeping over a death-strewn field with planks, flame-throwers, dynamite charges and sub-machine guns to the guns of a Red concrete-and-steel blockhouse. What was Schmidt thinking?

Like all soldiers, Hans has tried to sidetrack his fear of death or mutilation. He has crowded his mind with more pleasant pictures of his Annie and his parents in their little home in Dortmund. Annie is blond and fair and said she would wait for Hans to marry him when Germany won peace through victory. Papa and Mama Schmidt are middle-class Germans, tired and nervous from the war and worried about Hans. Hans could tell that in their letters. Papa ventured to criticize the Luftwaffe (German Air Corps) because the R. A. F. raids into the Rhineland continued.

Hans has too much to live for to be a martyr for Der Fuehrer und Vaterland. He wants to return to Dortmund with his officer's commission. You see, he is ambitious to rise from the ranks into the officer class, for he can do that in Hitler's new army, where ability and merit count for more than wealth, education or family background. Even now, Hans can eat in the same restaurants and go to the same cafes frequented by the officers (which his father and grandfathers couldn't do!). Hans is a good soldier because he can see a good future in the army.

Because he is a valuable, efficient piece of hard-hitting war machinery, Hans is well housed, clothed and fed with the best that there is available in Germany or the occupied countries. He enjoys higher living standards than Annie or Papa and Mama Schmidt.

The Reichswehr does not meddle with Hans' personal relations with the Deity. But, other than that, every (Continued on Page 13)

WAR QUESTION BOX

QUESTION:

Do the Nazi communiques tell the truth?

ANSWER:

The most reliable reports are issued by the Reichswehr. However, when Hitler personally edits the daily communique he is likely to dream up a few extra "victories" which his more conscientious generals find hard to deliver. The German navy seldom is mentioned, but in their communiques the admirals make up for lost time by considerable padding of their figures of British shipping losses. The Luftwaffe (air force) competes with Propaganda Minister Goebbels for the title of "Biggest Nazi Liar."

"I Hear America Singing" will present an unusual feature this week. The Junger Maennerchor of Philadelphia will sing old German freedom songs and folk-airs in native tongue and also American patriotic anthems. The Junger Maennerchor is a prize-winning and pioneer singing society, presented its first program on Washington's birthday in 1852 (MBS) . . . "Sari," with Marion Claire and baritone Igor Gorin singing lead roles, is the operetta to be heard on Mutual's "Chicago Theater of the Air" . . . Madge Evans, beautiful actress who grew from child star to woman star on the screen, will be guest on "Theater of Today" (CBS) . . . The excuse for celebration will be a salute to the great new transmitter of Columbia's key station, WABC. But to listeners the salute program should be highlight entertainment. Numerous CBS personalities will be paraded by the network in an elaborate show marking the transmitter's opening Saturday night . . . An actor turned soldier will be a soldier turned actor this Saturday night. Private Don Gallagher, who before induction into the Army was a prominent actor in such Chicago network shows as "Mary Marlin" and "Ma Perkins," and now on leave from Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri, will be heard as a thug named Pete in "Cupid and the Corpse" on "Knickerbocker Playhouse" (NBC).

Sunday, October 19

The "American Radio Warblers," a choral group of ten canaries that put on their own musical show to the accompaniment of an organ, returns to MBS this Sunday, bringing good news to home canaries that listen and sing along with these vocal coaches of the bird world . . . The noted religious program, "Lutheran Hour," returns to MBS, featuring sermons by Dr. Walter A. Maier, Concordia Seminary theologian. The program will be heard at two separate times on Sunday . . . Aspiring operatic and concert singers will again have a chance to sing their way to fame with the return for another season of the "Metropolitan Auditions of the Air" (NBC) . . . A real dramatic highlight for this week will be a "Screen Guild Theater" presentation of "Nothing Sacred," with one of Hollywood's most popular married couples, Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor, starring in the screamingly funny comedy . . . "Walt Disney's Song Parade" is a new show on Mutual which speaks for itself in the title and which should provide quality musical entertainment . . . Renowned pianist-conductor Jose Iturbi will direct the orchestra on "Ford Sunday Evening Hour" and pianist Josef Hofmann will be guest performer (CBS).

Monday, October 20

During this week the "National Farm and Home Hour" broadcasts will feature highlights of the Future Farmers of America Annual Convention and American Royal Livestock and Horse Show in Kansas City, Mo. (NBC) . . . "Cavalcade of America" (NBC) originates in Hollywood this Monday in order to present Walter Huston, Edward Arnold, Simone Simon, James Craig, Jane Darwell and Anne Shirley in "All That Money Can Buy," from a story by Vincent Benet . . . Frazier Hunt, newsman pal of the Duke of Windsor, is now on the air with a Monday-through-Friday five-minute news program on CBS . . . "Stories America Loves" is a nostalgic new dramatic program, now in its third week, bringing to life on the air novels and plays which America has taken to its heart in the past

(CBS) . . . "Contented Program" now features "Portraits in Music," throwing the spotlight on famous personalities through their favorite tunes or music of their day (NBC).

Wednesday, October 22

"American Melody Hour" is the title of a new commercial program to be launched on NBC this Wednesday night. Beyond the title and the fact that it is to be a musical show, nothing is known of the format or cast of the program at this writing.

Thursday, October 23

After spending part of his vacation in Argentina, Bing Crosby takes up again his duties as singing, gabbing host of "Kraft Music Hall" on NBC . . . Veteran comedian Frank Fay joins the fall parade of new shows this Thursday. On the variety show will be, besides star Fay, Bob Hannon, tenor, the Continentals quartet and Harry Salter's orchestra (NBC).

Friday, October 24

The distinctive dramatic show, "Grand Central Station," is being heard again this season in a series which began two weeks ago on NBC. It adheres to its policy of presenting top-name stars in original radio plays written chiefly by established authors.

phase of Schmidt's existence and his thinking is carefully and scientifically supervised. (The Reichswehr even protects the girl friends and wives of soldiers at the front, punishing with heavy fines and stiff prison sentences any men trying to alienate their affections.)

Since he joined the Hitler Youth in 1933 as a lad of sixteen, Hans has been trained to the belief that he is part of a great crusade to make a better and brighter world, albeit a Germanic world. To rid Europe of "Jews, the bloodthirsty Kultur Bolschvismus, and the decadent, corrupt capitalistic democracies" is, he thinks, a task worthy of a good German. The world outside really looks like this to Hans.

In 1935, Hans was spiritually converted to Nazism when he joined the Labor Corps. For two years he lived in open-air camps in the Black Forest, digging ditches, building bridges and learning simple military tactics. The stout, lusty comradeship of the Labor Service appealed to Hans. As he sat around the campfires at night, participating in the artfully staged propaganda shows, he was excited by promises of the glorious future of the Third Reich, which he was helping to build by his unquestioning "obedience and faith" in Hitler and his representatives. The credo of Nazism was something mystical, half-understood by him but to be venerated like the Holy Bible.

He was called into the army after his labor service, and with regret abandoned his hopes of going to a university. (Hans has spent so much of his young life serving the Fuehrer that he has acquired only a high-school education.)

JOINING the army was a rude awakening to him. Army sergeants, like their kind the world over, are not given to poetical rhetoric about Hitler's "New Order in Europe" but are concerned only with pounding the fundamentals of drill and tactics into the heads of dunkopf rookies.

Hans became one of 300,000 soldiers trained as a specialist in assaulting and cracking fortifications.

In this new army of specialists, Hans has learned that personal initiative outweighed the rule books when the battle starts. He was told that he must depend not on a succession of orders but on his own personal judgment in the thick of any engagement.

Late in June, Hans had his first taste of blitz warfare in a frontal assault of the Maginot Line below Saaralben. It was not a real test of the "fortress crackers," because some of the forts were emptied of their defenders; others surrendered with only a taste of the flame-throwers, and only a few of the French positions really challenged the skill of Hans and his comrades. Hans didn't know that Hitler had ordered a "prestige offensive" against a crippled and surrounded Maginot Line just to humiliate the French further. But Hans was rewarded with promotion to sergeant and a trip to Paris. He sent his Annie cosmetics and her first pair of silk stockings from Paris.

All last winter and through the spring, Hans was in Poland, training to assault the Russian types of pill-boxes and blockhouses later to be encountered in the Stalin Line. And, as he thinks of his work in the next few hours, he is comforted by his working knowledge of the enemy's positions and its weak points.

Hans has a secret complaint against those "desk warriors" in Berlin who have led him to believe that the war would be short and easy to win. He still has complete faith in his field officers and in Field Marshal Ritter von Leeb and Col. General Busch, who are directing the siege of Leningrad. And, isn't it true, he asks himself, that one German soldier is the equal of five of any other army? But Hans has been surprised to find that the "Red beasts" can also fight like men and, dying, still feebly press the triggers of their guns. They can kill, too, he has seen.

But now, as he picks up his equipment, Hans is more concerned with the every-day problems of a soldier's life, such as getting a winter coat, cigarettes, or a letter from Dortmund. These are vital distractions, necessary to men who face the perils of blitz warfare. Achtung, vorwart!

Here is a guide to great music on the air, planned to increase your listening pleasure

MUSIC NOTES: The conductors who will lead the NBC Symphony Orchestra this season represent a background as international as the music they direct. For example, Dimitri Mitropoulos, who opened the season, is a Greek who studied in Germany; Erenon Kurtz was born in Russia; Juan Jose Castro is a product of Argentine, who studied in Paris and New York; Sir Ernest MacMillan is one of our Canadian cousins; George Szell is a Czechoslovakian; Leopold Stokowski was born in London; Fritz Reiner names Hungary as his birthplace; Dean Dixon is a product of Harlem, New York; Alfred Wallenstein is a Chicagoan, and Saul Caston is a real New Yorker... On the Ford Sunday Evening Hour Sunday night, Josef Hofmann, pianist, will be the solo guest. Conducting will be another pianist, Jose Iturbi... The Philadelphia Orchestra is inviting listeners to become a member of its radio club. Each person who contributes $3.00 or more will receive, in advance of the broadcasts, a special edition of the regular program notes written by R. L. F. McCombs. The sums thus derived will go to the purchase of tickets for soldiers and sailors who would like to attend the concerts but are not financially able. Should you wish to become a member of the radio club, write the Philadelphia Orchestra, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE REMAINDER OF THIS WEEK'S PROGRAMS FOLLOWS ON PAGE 24

—NBC Hollywood

SINGER Martha Tilton, a little eyeful in her specially styled honorary-private uniform, was recently signed to sing on the Fibber McGee program

Voluntary Gag

NEW YORK.—The "Town Meeting" program has laid down for itself one new policy for this season. Instead of permitting wide-open discussion of all controversial issues, the institution will ban arguments over issues which have already been made a definite policy of the Government. For instance, the producers of the program feel that, in the interest of national unity, debate over the new official naval policy of the United States may well be omitted.

Kids Vote

CHICAGO.—America's children were recently asked about their favorite radio programs by the Reed Poll, conducted from Chicago. General results showed a preference for humor. Asked to name their favorite program from among a list of eight, the youngsters named "Quiz Kids" as their favorite, "Lone Ranger" as second choice, "Jack Armstrong" as third. These results were close to those of the 1941 Movie-Radio Guide Star of Stars Poll, which had "Quiz Kids," "Let's Pretend" and "Lone Ranger" running one-two-three in the Best Children's Program classification, with "Jack Armstrong" placing eighth.

Correspondents Shift

NEW YORK.—There has been some wholesale moving among CBS foreign correspondents lately. Harry Flannery returned to the United States from Berlin for a vacation, with Howard Smith carrying on in Germany. Betty Sargent, lately of Geneva and Berne, Switzerland, arrived in New York on September 15 with word that the Spanish people, even Franco's old friends, are near revolt. Leigh White is back in this country from the Near East recovering from leg wounds received when the train on which he was riding in Greece was attacked by German Messerschmitt planes. Bob Trout is relieving Edward Murrow, home for a vacation, in London, and Larry Lesueur is now assigned to Moscow.

HONORS

Dodgers' Announcer Wins

NEW YORK.—The coveted trophy awarded each year by the Sporting News for excellence in play-by-play baseball announcing this year went to Walter Lanier "Red" Barber for his work in describing the games of the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field. Red has now won the award twice. Last year it went to his World Series colleague, Bob Elson, of WGN, Chicago.

Organist Honored

CARROLLTON, ILL.—What was intended to be a quiet visit to the home of her aunt and uncle in her old hometown turned out to be a civic celebration recently when Sybil Chism, organist of "Lum and Abner," returned to the town of her birth for the first time in eighteen years. The day after she slipped into town about three-fourths of the town's population of two thousand had visited her uncle's house to greet her. She played an organ recital at the lodge, and then spent two hours answering questions about Lum and Abner.

"Big Town" Patriot

HOLLYWOOD.—Edward G. Robinson has been invited to head the Americanism activities of the American Academy of Public Affairs, the organization from which he received a scroll last spring for his efforts in behalf of Americanism.

SIDELIGHTS

Flagg and Quirt—Prophets

HOLLYWOOD.—After their initial broadcast of "Capt. Flagg and Sergt. Quirt," Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, reminiscing, recalled a bit of dialog from a scene in the picture "What Price Glory" that seems now to have been a flash of prophecy. In the scene Flagg said: "Well, Quirt, this ought to be the last war in the world." And Quirt replied: "You're wrong, Flagg. See those airplanes over there? Some day there'll be thousands of them filling the skies. And when there are there will come the worst war the world has ever known." (See page 36.)

Some Cookies!

DURHAM, N. C.—A couple of remarks by Donald Pickup, of Fall River, Mass., during the "Vox Pop" broadcast at Duke University here September 15, has given the local postmen plenty of extra work. Donald, a freshman at the university, told Parks Johnson and Wally Butterworth that he missed his mother's cookies. He also observed that the southern girls were the most beautiful he had ever seen. In exactly a week's time Donald has received more than three hundred packages of cookies from forty of the forty-eight states and Canada, plus scores of letters from girls in northern states.

Private Makes Public Hit

HOLLYWOOD.—An Army private from Camp Roberts panicked the studio audience at the KNX "All

Serial Has Real Peril

NEW YORK.—Things looked bad for the "Goldbergs" sketch—and it wasn't because of the tribulations of the characters. The program was due to go on the air in a few moments, and the announcer of the usually smooth-running show was without the all-important commercial copy to read. But a panting guide saved the day, dashing into the studio with the lost lines just as the announcer was bracing himself to ad-lib for dear old sponsor.

They Are It!

NEW YORK.—The "Theater of the Air" program was conducting intensive and protracted auditions for the regular role of a Quaker girl just before it went on the air recently. When the auditions were over, it developed that a real Quaker, Elizabeth Reller, had won the part.

Gracious Ladies

HOLLYWOOD.—The girl who might have been excused for muffing her lines on a recent broadcast of Frances Scully's "Speaking of Glamour" on the NBC-Pacific network was Frances Scully, for it was the first commercial broadcast for the fashion reporter. But the only mistake was made by a real veteran, Irene Rich. She called Gracie Allen "Grace." She apologized to Gracie, who replied, "Think nothing of it, Renie. Grace is what my mother christened me."

PERSONALS

Dinah Might—

NEW YORK.—If arrangements can be worked out satisfactorily with Eddie Cantor, Dinah Shore will appear on a new fifteen-minute commercial program on NBC Sunday nights. Cantor likes Dinah's singing so well he has her under exclusive contract, last season won a fight to prevent the songstress leaving his show to go on another big commercial program.

Gale Page, Guest

CHICAGO.—Gale Page, who first gained radio fame in Chicago as both

—Maurice Seymour

MARION MANN, formerly vocalist with Bob Crosby, will succeed Evelyn Lynne on NBC's "Breakfast Club" and "Club Matinee" shows singer and actress before going on to screen success and who has now retired from the screen after a short but brilliant movie career, returned "home" for an appearance as co-star of "Thunder Mountain," a play heard October 11 on "Knickerbocker Playhouse."

Kyser—Harold Lloyd II

HOLLYWOOD.—Kay Kyser, whom Harold Lloyd thinks best portrays the same type of whimsically crazy roles that Lloyd himself made famous, will make a comedy picture, "My Favorite Spy," for the veteran former comedian, now an RKO producer.

He's a Boogie-Biggie

CHICAGO.—A recent guest of "Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street" was Sharon Pease of Chicago, who is one of the real authorities on Boogie-Woogie. Pease is a teacher of modern piano and piano editor of the musical journal Down Beat. And if you're one of those who still don't know exactly what Boogie-Woogie is, you might read Pease's big-selling book, "Boogie-Woogie Piano Styles."

Funny Family

HOLLYWOOD.—Even though their marriage is serious, it's one gag after another to Red Skelton and his wife, Edna. The pretty young wife of the red-haired young comedian has been signed to write comedy material for the new Tuesday night show on which Red is starred. Before their marriage Edna was a theater usherette. She first wrote gags for Skelton when he was in vaudeville a few years ago.

PROGRAMS

Sponsor for "The Bartons"

CHICAGO.—"The Bartons," very popular sketch about the human and humorous doings of young Bud Barton and his family and chums, has finally been rewarded with a sponsor. Harlan Ware's story will retain the same cast when it goes commercial.

Olmsted Challenges Bands

CHICAGO.—Nelson Olmsted's pioneering "Story Dramas" are blazing new trails. The young teller of the world's great stories has moved into the midst of the late-night avalanche of dance music with his distinctive narratives. The "Story Dramas" are now heard Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights on the NBC-Red network.

YOU MAY or may not guess who this serious-faced gent is. Anyway, it's Jack Benny as he looked while in naval training in 1918

GINNY SIMMS received many verbal and floral congratulations from well-wishers when she made debut on her own radio program September 19. She appreciated especially the good wishes of former boss Kay Kyser

Benny Does Double Feature

HOLLYWOOD.—West Coast listeners have a chance to hear the Jack Benny show twice on Sunday evenings. They can hear the original broadcast at 4:00 p.m. PST, and at 8:30 a recording of the show is heard over a number of NBC-Blue stations.

A Laughingstock Market

CHICAGO.—The audience attending "Uncle Walter's Dog House" got an extra treat recently. After the broadcast they were entertained—and hilariously—with a sample of a new comedy idea which appears destined for the networks. The personality who did the hit skit is Fred Kress, who with Paul Larmer is originator of the idea, which is based solidly on the premise that America has the greatest sense of humor, good times or bad, of any nation in the world—even when the laugh is on our individual selves. The program, for which agencies are bidding, is to be called "Grin and Share It," with listeners contributing laugh situations in which they were the goat, and receiving in return prizes and shares of "laughingstock" in "Grin and Share It." Kress, a well-known comedy writer, will be comedian-emcee under the name Fred Brady.

Serial to Return

HOLLYWOOD.—"Hilltop House," popular serial which went off the air last fall, seems set to return to the air with a new sponsor, and perhaps with Anne Seymour playing the lead role which Bess Johnson played when the show was on previously.

SHORTS

Movie comedienne Una Merkel will become a regular member of the "Johnny Presents" cast; she is scheduled to appear in a serial sketch called "Nancy Bacon Reporting" . . . Gabriel Heatter is discontinuing his Saturday night broadcasts because of overwork . . . Max Wyllie's "Best Broadcasts of 1941" will include William March's short story "The Little Wife" in honor of Nelson Olmsted's radio narration of the story on his "Story Dramas" program . . . Charles Laughton is one radio star who takes his secretary to rehearsals; one of her chief jobs is to make notes and corrections on his script, because Laughton has trouble reading his own writing . . . Elenor Yorke, twenty-two-year-old poetess who has contributed material to "Tony Wons' Scrapbook" and other radio programs, has had a book of poems, "Anthills of Joy," published by the National Radio Artists' Directory, and has made several radio guest appearances in Chicago recently . . . The Hoosier Hot Shots have been doing some heavy touring of the East this summer and fall—and have found a surprisingly enthusiastic following for their so-called corny novelty music in that traditionally sophisticated section . . . CBS actress Eleanor Engle and radio producer Dick Lawrence were married last month . . . Madeline Gray, conductor of the "Bright Idea Club," will publish a series of books called "Bright Idea Books," based on children she has used on her program . . . Tom Slater has been made an honorary major in the 44th Infantry Division at Fort Dix in honor of his work in producing Mutual's "This Is Fort Dix" series.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MAN-AGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912,
AND MARCH 3, 1933.

Of Movie-Radio Guide published weekly at Chicago,
Illinois for October 1, 1941.
State of Illinois, County of Cook, as:
Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Ed Zoty, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of the Movie-Radio Guide and that the following is the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:
1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are:
Publisher, Triangle Publications, Inc., 731 Plymouth
Court, Chicago, Illinois.
Editor, Martin Lewis, 721 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Illinois.
Managing Editor, Gordon Swarthout, 731 Plymouth
Court, Chicago, Illinois.
Business Managers, Ed Zoty, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Illinois.
2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent. or more of total amount of stock.
If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)
Triangle Publications, Inc., 408 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Stockholders: W. H. Annen-
berg, W. H. Annenberg, Trustee, 409 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Trustees: W. H. Annenberg; E. A. Simon; P. A. Levee; J. A. Nesfky; E. A.
Haupt; L. A. Hazen; E. A. Friede; and H. A. Ames.
3. That the known owners, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding one per cent. or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are:
(If there are none, so state.)
United States of America.
4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.
5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the twelve months preceding the date shown above is:
(If there is no information required from daily publications only.)
(Signed) EDWIN E. ZOTY, Business Manager.
Sworn to and before me this 29th day of September, 1941. BERTHA SHULMAN.
(My commission expires January 4, 1944.)

Next Week's Cover

Memo to Deanna Durbin Fans: Don't miss next week's MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE. On the cover—a glorious color portrait of Deanna. Inside—the story of what marriage has done for Deanna's acting, illustrated with new, exclusive photographs.

Among other interesting items in next week's issue will be a picture visit to the Wheeling Steelmakers broadcast, a startling new Hart-which war map, and more of those amazingly accurate predictions by football experts. Get your copy today!

PULLING ANCHOR for a new round of brawls, romantics, adventure, Capt. Flagg and Sergt. Quirt again are portrayed by Victor McLaglen (l.), Edmund Lowe—on NBC

THIS IS HOW they looked seventeen years ago in "What Price Glory," the film which made them famous. Then, as now, their difficulty always seems to be a scarcity of girls

★ CAPT. FLAGG and SERGT. QUIRT ARE AT IT AGAIN! ★

THOSE red-blooded, hard-boiled, bragging, blustering, gal-chasing Marines—Capt. Flagg and Sergt. Quirt—are indeed at it again. Seventeen years have slipped by since Victor McLaglen as Capt. Flagg and Edmund Lowe as Sergt. Quirt appeared in the 1924 film, "What Price Glory." Written by Maxwell Anderson and Laurence Stallings, "What Price Glory" was also a best-selling novel, a hit on Broadway, with Jack Roseleigh and Jack Carlyle as the Marine team, but the Capt. Flagg and Sergt. Quirt Mr. and Mrs. Average American have always remembered are McLaglen and Lowe. Now they've returned—in a radio series heard every Sunday over NBC. Once again they're pushing and punching each other around, the same old Flagg and Quirt, always after the same lady. Once again they're hurling sizzling colorful epithets back and forth. Once again they fight, bicker, insult one another, only to shake hands and join forces when confronted by a mutual enemy. Timed to the present martial mood, adapted by writer John P. Medbury to catch up with the leathernecks of 1941, played by McLaglen and Lowe, "Capt. Flagg and Sergt. Quirt" of radio is top-notch, headline entertainment.

—J. C.

"SEZ WHO?" yelled Victor McLaglen's blustering Capt. Flagg of the movies—and all America mimicked him. In the radio version, slang, gag-lines will be model 1941

"SEZ ME!" replies Edmund Lowe's suave Sergt. Quirt, completing the prize gag-routine of the '20's. Sergt. Quirt is as slick and smart as the captain is brusque and braggadocio

SEVENTEEN YEARS after "What Price Glory," Edmund Lowe is the same old heart-breaker—the same Sergt. Quirt

IN HOLLYWOOD, just prior to radio series, McLaglen and Lowe completed another Marine movie, RKO's "Call Out the Marines," inspiration for Movie-Radio Guide's cover this week

VICTOR MCLAGLEN'S picture, "The Informer," won Academy Award. His radio role may open new phase of career

Movie-Radio Guide
VISITS:

WALTER COMPTON, who long ago earned the tag "Presidential Announcer," has a different role on "Double or Nothing," heard Sunday over 115 Mutual stations.

Here he runs a give-away show with popular music by Nat Brusiloff as the come-on and silver dollars as bait. As master of ceremonies, Compton asks questions, hands out five dollars if the contestant answers correctly, and asks him to talk on the subject for one minute. Each time an informative statement is forthcoming, Compton awards from one to ten dollars. When the minute is up he challenges the contestant—"Double or Nothing!" This brings on the most exciting phase of the quiz. Members of the studio audience frantically kibitz, shouting "Don't do it!" or "Yes, go ahead," and a dramatic moment of quiet falls as the victim makes his decision.

If he gambles and loses he has the consolation of donating the original sum to any legitimate charity. Thus, winners feel richer; losers feel like philanthropists. And everybody is happy. That's "Double or Nothing!"

"Double or Nothing"

MUTUAL'S PRIZE quiz show, "Double or Nothing," moved recently from the Mutual Playhouse on 42nd Street to auditorium of Barbizon Plaza Hotel (above, right). Out in front is Walter Compton, who flies from announcing duties in Washington each Sunday to emcee the show. Behind him are Nat Brusiloff's music-makers and contestants

STACKS OF SILVER dollars are the lure on this show. At right, assistant Jane Bishir drops coins in miniature strong-box as contestant answers correctly, and Compton, behind her, is ready with another question if she tries to double winnings. Cheering, laughing, the audience yells advice to contestant; producer Ken Fickett (right) times show

RARE IN QUIZ SHOWS are "Double or Nothing" musical interludes with Frank Forest as soloist. Forest is a tenor, has sung with Rome, Chicago opera, also on radio shows, in films

VETERAN NAT BRUSILOFF, who gained a reputation as clowning conductor in radio's pioneer days, has ample opportunity to cut capers on "Double or Nothing." Russian-born, he made Carnegie Hall debut as violinist at age of six

ANOTHER OLD-TIMER is announcer Alois Havrilla. In all his years on the air, listeners haven't gotten his hard-to-pronounce name

"THIS IS LONDON"

Edward R. Murrow, CBS correspondent, becomes a new kind of reporter for a new kind of war

WHEN the Nazi mechanized legions smashed into Poland, the act ushered in World War II. It also ushered in a new kind of war reporting to match the new kind of war. In this total war private citizens—ununiformed, unarmed, virtually unprotected—were to suffer, more than many of the organized armies of the past had suffered. And war correspondents, along with everybody else, were to run the ever present risks of war violence as never before.

One of the foremost of these new-style reporters is Edward R. Murrow. Since the war began radio listeners in America and elsewhere have learned to listen intently for his calm salutation, "This is London," confident they would hear meaningful news and sidelight accounts, graphically but straightforwardly reported. It is hard, however, for Americans sitting peacefully by their radios to grasp the full fearsome picture behind those simple words. It isn't easy to comprehend clearly that "This is London" means "This is a plane-battered city. This is a city standing between world slavery and peaceful freedom. This is humanity fighting with its back to the wall."

The news accounts and word-pictures that go with Ed Murrow's commonplace greeting have come as near as is possible to giving listeners a true idea of the war scene abroad, for Murrow himself has not only wit-

ABOVE: To look at tall, slender, personable Edward R. Murrow you might think he's a school-teacher or a lawyer or a salesman. But actually he's a radio war-correspondent who has been through the worst the Nazis could heap upon London from the air, and who has won distinction for his careful but colorful reporting of war news and British views from the war-torn capital

RIGHT: Intently studying hastily written broadcast script, Murrow dashes out of CBS offices at 49 Hallam St., W-1, London, five blocks from the British broadcasting system's headquarters. A former building housing CBS offices was bombed three times, twice very severely. CBS, however, has had no correspondents seriously injured, as was NBC's correspondent Fred Bate

RIGHT: Script in hand, Murrow heads for the British Broadcasting House (round building in background), nerve center of Britain's radio system. The correspondent lives in an apartment some distance away, in one of the London districts that has been most heavily bombed by the Nazis. Yet he finds that most of the time throughout the war he has been able to get the morning paper and milk at his door, light, heat and most of the other necessities nessed the scene. He has been a part of it. Three times his headquarters was severely bombed. Still he continued his practice of going up on a roof to watch the action or driving around town to see the results during an air raid.

DESPITE his frequent brushes with death, Murrow has given listeners many vivid stories of the nature and effects of an air raid. He explained how freakish as well as horrible the explosion of a bomb can be. He told how a bomb can explode at an intersection and send a destructive blast down two streets, shattering windows for a considerable distance, but often leaving the big windows within a few yards of the bomb crater intact. He could explain this phenomenon, because he had seen it happen. He could tell listeners from first-hand observation that glass generally falls out into the street, rather than being blown inwards—just as a boxer usually falls forward when hit with a knockout blow. He was able to note that when bombs fall near one, it is automatic to assume very undignified positions, because he had quite frequently caught himself doing just that! Personal experience enabled him to reveal the peculiar fact that the sense of danger, death and disaster comes most forcefully when the familiar incidents occur—the things one has associated with tragedy since childhood. In one of his broadcasts he reported that the sight of a half-dozen ambulances weighted down with an unseen cargo of human wreckage affected him more deeply than all the battle fury from the skies.

Yet it wasn't for bravery that Murrow was awarded the prize of a type-writer with an engraved inscription by the Overseas Press Club. It was for consistently excellent foreign news reporting. This despite the fact that Murrow is not a trained reporter in the traditional sense. He never went to a school of journalism and never worked for a newspaper.

Edward R. Murrow was born in Greensboro, N. C., thirty-seven years ago, moving with his parents to the state of Washington in 1920. He attended Stanford, the University of Washington and Washington State College, majoring in political science, speech and international relations, and earning his master's degree with honors.

Immediately following his graduation from Washington State in 1930, Murrow became president of the National Student Federation, in which capacity he visited hundreds of American campuses and traveled extensively in Europe. He joined the Institute of International Education as assistant director in 1932. He was in charge of foreign offices in five foreign capitals, gained more valuable information and experience in European affairs. He joined CBS as Director of Talks in 1935. In this position he learned the three essentials he considers necessary in order for a person to do an effective job at a microphone. The first essential is for the speaker to be able to talk well. Second, the speaker must be intimately acquainted with the subject he intends to discuss. Third, the speaker must know the United States so that he may know his audience. Murrow not only demonstrates in his own broadcasting that he is well grounded in all three essentials but he has also presented regularly guest speakers and interviewees who measured up to those standards.

In 1937 he went to London to become head of CBS' European Bureau. He distinguished himself in 1938 by chartering a twenty-three-passenger plane and flying to Vienna as sole passenger in time to describe the Anschluss.

Murrow became most successful in developing the new kind of reporting for a war that brought everybody into the front line. During the days when the blitz was at its zenith, he spent every available moment talking to the people of England—clerks, shop-girls, air-raid wardens, dockyard workers, housewives. He knew that for these people death was closer much of the time than to the men actually under arms. It was the experiences of these people facing the constant danger of death that Murrow wanted to get, because he knew that through their reactions American listeners could learn the truest picture of this monstrous modern war. To get their experiences and views he, as they, often risked his own life.

MMURROW'S recently published book, "This Is London," is a collection of his most important broadcasts to this country, telling the news story and the human story of the war in Britain. There are many other stories which he can undoubtedly tell now that he could not broadcast before, for Murrow and his wife of a few months have just returned to the United States for a heroically earned vacation.

Coming home will be sweet relief to Ed Murrow. Life here probably will appear almost strange without the nightly blackout, the cataclysmic air raid, the pathetic sights in the wake of war. But he'll undoubtedly be ready and willing when the time comes to go back and continue his great job of seeing history through the eyes of the millions of proud private citizens who are real soldiers in World War II.

—D. M.

ABOVE: Murrow pauses for a traffic light while on his way to view the effects of last night's bombing raid. On such expeditions he invariably has found soldiers still searching ruins for signs of imprisoned inhabitants. If he returned at night, he usually found them still doggedly at the task, even though more bombs might be exploding all around them. Such tenacity aroused his admiration for the British

MURROW (r.) and Bill Henry, formerly reporter with British forces in France, study map. Henry, now in America, substituted this summer for vacationing Hedda Hopper with program called "Bill Henry Calling"

MURROW DICTATES his script to his secretary. Two broadcasts a day, one in the afternoon, the other at midnight, plus news-gathering expeditions and raid-inspection tours make his days busy and exciting

WAITING for the cue from CBS in the United States to go on the air. Alert but poised, as he usually is even after the hectic experiences he has been through, Murrow takes a last glance over his script while waiting for the signal to begin another broadcast with his familiar greeting, "This is London." In spite of opinions he must have formed, Murrow does little editorializing, believes listeners should use own judgment

MURROW (center), William L. Shirer (front) and Thomas Grandin (rear), all CBS foreign correspondents, step out of the plane which brought them back from the historic Munich conference. Before the outbreak of the war stopped most non-military travel, Murrow traveled widely over Europe as head of CBS' Foreign Bureau. As late as 1938 he chartered a giant plane and flew to Vienna in time to describe the Austrian Anschluss

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT'S Pictorial Life Story

Part 3 — CAREER WOMAN

MOST controversial—and most interesting—phase of Eleanor Roosevelt's life as First Lady has been her professional work. Besides raising five children and being Franklin Roosevelt's wife—with all that implies—Eleanor Roosevelt has found time not only for one career but for many. Among them: Author, newspaper columnist, editor, lecturer, school-teacher, furniture manufacturer, politician, defense official. It hardly need be added that, unlike the proverbial Jack, Mrs. Roosevelt has mastered all of her trades.

In pre-Washington days it was the interesting business of making fine furniture and teaching at Todhunter School for Girls. Americans didn't know much about Mrs. Roosevelt then, and didn't care. Before she was well settled at the White House, however, they were shocked to see mild Mrs. Hoover's successor making headlines as a lecturer, magazine writer and columnist. Soon she was earning twice as much as her husband. But the money went to charity and accusations against a profiteering First Lady—except from die-hard political enemies—have long since died down. Here, as in her personal life, Eleanor Roosevelt has overcome prejudice with friendship, jealousy with generosity. And such are the qualities of greatness which draw millions of American listeners to Eleanor Roosevelt for her Sunday series over NBC.—J. C.

LEFT: Eleanor Roosevelt's newest job is as assistant director of Civilian Defense in charge of women's work under Fiorello La Guardia, Civilian Defense Chief. Here assistant and chief explain citizens' share in the civilian defense program. La Guardia calls her "America's No. 1 Volunteer"

WHAT MRS. ROOSEVELT THINKS is news. In 1940, Americans read 350 of her magazine articles, listened to nearly a hundred lectures, heard countless broadcasts, followed her daily newspaper column, "My Day." In addition, they wrote her more than 90,000 letters—and received replies

A MONTH after F. D. R.'s election in 1932, Mrs. Roosevelt launched career as radio commentator with sponsored NBC series. Now she's working for third sponsor. All earnings go to charity

FROM THE FIRST LADY'S typewriter has come a steady stream of books, articles, columns, all written in characteristic, easy, rambling style. Her column has a circulation of 4,000,000

BANDSTAND NOTES

By Maurice Granger

NOT long ago we read a newspaper story in which the person interviewed stated that dancing was going to get rougher and rougher as time went on. Looking back upon some of the gymnastics performed by the jitterbugs at the height of the jitterbug craze, it would appear to us that this is a statement that is open to question. Frankly, we can't see how a dancing couple can get any higher off the floor than they did when jitterbugging was going great guns. But Nick Castle, a gentleman who is one of Hollywood's more prominent dance directors, says that it can and will be done. "In fact," says Castle, "jitterbugging will be 'horse 'n' buggy' stuff. The popular dance of the near future," he avers, "will be a combination of rug-cutting and the primitive jungle dances."

Bandata

The music of Benny Goodman and Blue Barron may be as far apart as the poles, but they have one thing in common: Their sisters play an important role in taking care of their professional affairs. Ethel Goodman has been as helpful to Benny's career as Clarissa Barron is to Blue . . . As a result of listener demand, D'Artega has restored his band's string section. D'Artega's symphonic swing music has always been popular with his fans . . . Teddy Powell, still at Rustic Cabin, N. J., has formed a small combination within his band. The group is called "The Teddy Bears" . . . Bunny Berigan's band crew, which recently quit him en masse, is looking for a leader to front the organization.

Purely Personal

Raymond Scott's vocalovely, Roberta, and Artie Dunn, of the Three Suns, are long-distancing each other . . . Woody Herman is a proud father. His wife gave birth to a girl recently at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Hollywood . . . Harriet Clark, in her divorce suit against husband Charlie Barnet, has asked for $750 a week for separate maintenance . . . Bandleader Terry Shand and Louanne Hogan, formerly vocalist for Carl Hoff, will be married sometime this month . . . Billie Holiday, sultry singing vocalist with Lionel Hampton's orchestra, eloped to Elkton, Md., August 25, where she was married to Jimmy Monroe.

Vocalists

Dean Hudson has hired Frances Colwell to do the band's singing chores. Frances at one time sang with Dean's Miami University band, but stayed and completed her college course. She replaces Ruthie Vale.

RECORD MENDED

DECCA: Bing Crosby's "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi"; Tony Martin's "Tonight We Love"; Frances Langford's "In Waikiki"; Jimmy Dorsey's "Moonlight Masquerade." VICTOR: "Hot Piano" album, featuring Earl Hines, "Fats" Waller, Duke Ellington and Jelly Roll Morton; Tommy Dorsey's "Pale Moon." BLUE-BIRD: Bea Wain's "Birth of the Blues"; Charlie Barnet's "The Heart You Stole From Me." COLUMBIA: Benny Goodman's "I See a Million People."

"My Husband fell out of Love"

HOW A WIFE OVERCAME THE "ONE NEGLECT" THAT OFTEN WRECKS ROMANCE

1. I couldn't understand it when Paul's love began to cool. We'd been so gloriously happy at first. Then, he began treating me as if . . . as if there were a physical barrier between us.

2. Finally I went to our family doctor and explained the whole situation frankly. "Your marriage problem is quite a common one," he told me. "Psychiatrists say the cause is often the wife's neglect—or ignorance—of feminine hygiene. That's one fault a husband may find it hard to mention—or forgive."

3. "In cases like yours," the doctor went on, "I recommend Lysol for intimate personal care. Lysol solution does more than cleanse and deodorize. It kills millions of germs on instant contact, without harm to sensitive tissue. Lysol spreads easily into crevices, so virtually searches out germs."

4. You can bet I bought a bottle of Lysol right away. I find it gentle and soothing, easy to use. Economical, too. No wonder so many modern wives use Lysol for feminine hygiene. And . . . as for Paul and me . . . we're closer than ever before.

Check this with your Doctor

Lysol is NON-CAUSTIC—gentle and efficient in proper dilution. Contains no free alkali. It is not carbolic acid. EFFECTIVE—a powerful germicide, active in presence of organic matter (such as mucus, serum, etc.). SPREADING—Lysol solutions spread and virtually search out germs in deep crevices. ECONOMICAL—small bottle makes almost 4 gallons of solution for feminine hygiene. CLEANLY ODOR—disappears after use. LASTING—Lysol keeps full strength indefinitely no matter how often it is uncorked.

 Be Both Busy and Beautiful

By ALBERTA NORTH

LATEST ADDICT of the new short-hair style is Frances Farmer, Paramount star. Above: Right profile

FOR EVENING wear, Miss Farmer suggests the wearing of two jeweled pansy clips. Above: Front view

THERE'S a new trend of thought going about these days concerning our fads and fashions. It's all tied up with the state of the world today. Fashion designers, hair stylists and beauticians all know that American women are "doing their part." Almost every woman is a busy woman these days. Up early and off to a local committee meeting, attending chapter meetings of the Red Cross, sewing, knitting, organizing, so goes the day of Mrs. Average American.

So, for daytime, fashions are simple and neat. Efficient-looking clothes, I'd call them. Even hair styles are seeking to make care of the hair an easy task to save your time for more important duties. Shorter bobs, fewer curls, lasting waves are all planned for your heads so that you can dash about always looking ready for your next appointment.

But, comes evening you're expected to emerge from your role of patriotic citizen and keep the home fires burning with lovely feminine glamour. Your coiffure must be adaptable to this dual role. That "tailored" look must be quickly combed away into a soft, feminine, "sweetheart" look. This you can do by brushing curls up into bunches high on your head, pinning in a braid that matches your hair, or by just fluffing it soft upon your neck and away from your brow.

To be sure that your hair is in condition for such quick changes you have to care for it religiously. You can't let an extra month slip by before you renew the curls via a good permanent. You have to keep your hair clean and well brushed. When you're out making a public appearance almost every day, you can't afford to feel that you slipped up on one of your grooming rites. You won't want to be nervously aware of straggling ends when you need all your poise to gracefully accept more responsibility for your committee.

If your hair is inclined to be oily, you'll be wise if you make a point of shampooing it at least once a week. It really doesn't take more than ten minutes to wash your hair thoroughly if you use a good shampoo. Halo will produce a marvelous lather so quickly that you can give your head two good soapings, massage to a tingle, and thoroughly rinse away every trace of suds in not much more time than it ordinarily takes you to dampen your hair and get it ready to put up in curls. If you'll do this regularly you'll find yourself always ready for any unexpected date that might turn up.

If you can also spare a few extra minutes to make your hair especially lovely, you'll do well to give it a special rinse to add color and lights. Prepared rinses are very inexpensive and completely safe. Clairol is one that is particularly fine and so easy to use! Buy the shade that most nearly matches the color of your hair and then notice how much life and glow will shine in and about your tresses.

Even though the days may not seem long enough to accomplish all that you want to do, you must take care, too, that you never neglect the rituals that insure your daintiness. First, you'll find your daily bath or shower not only a vital help to daintiness but a great restorer of energy and pep. Baths are a wonderful beauty help, too, especially if you make them Linit baths. Your all-over skin feels all smooth and soft, refreshed as well as clean.

THEN there's the ever important matter of using a deodorant. Never, never neglect this. Whether you prefer to use one that prevents perspiration odor, such as that very effective cream Mum, or decide in favor of the type that halts perspiration and odor too, as does the justly popular Odorono, never relax in your campaign against under-arm unpleasantness.

An important accessory for milady's toilet is her perfume. To keep an aura of loveliness about you all through the busy days, it's a good idea to carry some perfume in your purse wherever you go. For this purpose, perfume in a solid form is most convenient, for you need have no fear of leakage or breakage, or the loss of fragrance through evaporation. The Charm Perfume Stick will do the trick to perfection, for it comes in an attractive container for your purse and only requires a sparing touch to wrists, behind the ears or on a handkerchief to create a delicate scent that will mark you a well-groomed woman.

The "V" Campaign

Dear Sirs:
 As a matter of current interest I should like to bring to your notice the following:

On Monday, July 15, 1940—over a year ago—the dots and dashes of the Morse code caught the ear of radio listeners as they spelled out over the air the word "Victory." A voice then asked, "Could you translate that code message? It said, 'Victory, victory!' as it said yesterday and will say tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow—until it becomes fact in history and the triumphant foundation of all our tomorrows." The next day there followed, "You have heard again that coded word 'Victory,' as one day a million wires will carry it and a million wireless sets receive it, and the whole world shall echo to it."

"Victory" was the key word of "Thought Barrage," a fifteen-minute radio program filled with inspiring comments, sponsored by the Marconi Co. and emanating from station CFCF and short-wave station CFCX in Montreal.

The idea was to stimulate the morale of the civilian population of Canada and provide a focal point for massed thinking during a period when news of the progress of the war was at its most discouraging stage.

James Shaw, manager of station CFCF, conceived the program and was the narrator. He collaborated with Leslie Crombie, who wrote the scripts daily for six months, bringing to listeners in beautiful language messages of high hope, courage and faith.

Letters from England and Canada expressed appreciation of the importance and merit of the broadcasts.

In reflection the thought occurs to me that, perhaps, here lay the nucleus from which grew the present worldwide "V for Victory" campaign of the British against the Nazis.

Mrs. J. B. Waddell,
 Montreal, Quebec, Can.

Bulls & Boners

Bulls and boners are a part of broadcasting. No matter how experienced the performer or how famous the star, chances are that he will make an occasional slip or a statement with twisted meaning which is extremely funny. See how good your ears are. Try to catch broadcasters in some error—the funnier the better—and send your entry to MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago. The most humorous entries will be printed in this column. Watch for your contribution!

Upton Close, commentator: "This has been a bitter pillow for Japan to swallow."—Elmer Simpson, 487 W. Oxford St., Alliance, Ohio. (Sept. 21 over Station WTAM.)

Tom Lattimore, announcer: "It is said that Abraham Lincoln wrote his famous Gettysburg address while traveling from Washington to Gettysburg on the back of an envelope."—Mrs. Marion H. Adams, Box 1942, Raleigh, N. C. (Sept. 15 over Station WRAL.)

Earns $1,200 by Writing in Sparetime

"Employed as correspondent for the Savannah News, one of the largest daily papers in this section. I have received a check each month for approximately $25, for 4 years. Being married and having home responsibilities, I do not make writing news my business, only a sparetime hobby. It's an easy way to make spare money and to get the things I most desire for my home as well as myself. I suggest all those desirous of learning to write take the N.I.A. Course."—Mrs. E. B. Bennett, Sylvania, Ga.

"How do I get my Start as a Writer?"

.....Here's the Answer.....

First, don't stop believing you can write; there is no reason to think you can't write until you have tried. Don't be discouraged if your first attempts are rejected. That happens to the best authors, even to those who have "arrived." Remember, too, there is no age limit in the writing profession. Conspicuous success has come to both young and old writers.

Where to begin, then? There is no surer way than to get busy and write.

Gain experience, the "know how." Understand how to use words. Then you can construct the word-buildings that now are vague, misty shapes in your mind.

O. Henry, Mark Twain, Kipling, Ring Lardner, just to mention a few, all first learned to use words at a newspaper copy desk. And the Newspaper Institute Copy Desk Method is today helping men and women of all ages to develop their writing talent . . . helping them gain their first little checks of $25, $50, $100.

Learn to Write by WRITING

The Newspaper Institute of America is a home training school for writers. Your talent grows under the supervision of seasoned writers and critics. Emphasis is placed on teaching you by experience. We don't tell you to read this author and that author or to study his style. We don't give you rules and theories to absorb. The N.I.A. aims to teach you to express yourself in your own natural style. You work in your own home, on your own time.

Each week you receive actual newspaper-type assignments as though you worked on a large metropolitan daily. Your stories are then returned to us and we put them under the microscope, so to speak. Faults are pointed out. Suggestions are made. Soon you discover you are getting the "feel" of it, that professional touch. You acquire a natural, easy approach. You can see where you are going.

When a magazine returns a story, one seldom knows the real reasons for the rejection; they have no time to waste giving constructive criticism.

The N.I.A. tells you where you are wrong and why, and shows you what to do about it.

A Chance to Test Yourself

Our unique Writing Aptitude Test tells whether you possess the fundamental qualities necessary to successful writing—acute observation, dramatic instinct, imagination, etc. You'll enjoy taking this test. It's free. Just mail the coupon below and see what our Editors think about you. Newspaper Institute of America, One Park Avenue, New York. (Founded 1925)

NOTICE—Men of Draft Age

"VALIANT LADY"

PART I

AN INTERESTING psychological problem of the Jekyll-Hyde variety is posed in the NBC serial, "Valiant Lady." Tubby Scott is a brilliant young surgeon who is dreadfully poor because he gives his services away to poor people. One night, while out on a case in the Bowery, Tubby is slugged by a gangster, suffers a blood-clot on his brain. Result: Tubby's character undergoes a sudden reversal. He becomes reckless, unscrupulous, cares only for money. In his rush to get rich quick he throws professional ethics to the winds, joins Jack Eastman, a gambler, who uses Tubby's social prestige in the town of Riverdale to further his schemes.

Enter the Valiant Lady, in the person of Joan, Tubby's wife. Joan was the happiest person in the world before Tubby's accident. Living in a ramshackle old house, neither she nor Tubby had minded being poor so long as it was a matter of ideals. Now Joan's courage meets an infinitely greater test. Not only is Tubby's whole professional future in peril—and, even more serious, his personal integrity—but an unscrupulous woman is taking advantage of his condition to entice him into a shady romance. Joan is determined to stand by him, shield him from these dangers and help him regain his real ideals.

This week MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE begins a pictorial story of "Valiant Lady," suggests that you tune in Mon. through Fri., NBC, with your MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE opened to this page.

JOAN SCOTT is having husband trouble—but not the ordinary sort. Dr. "Tubby" Scott, the husband (above), is a promising young surgeon whose greatest fault is generosity until a brain wound works a complete reversal of character—for the worse

RIGHT: Joan's father, Jim Barrett (left), and his crony, Mike Hagen, live with the Scotts, are a comfort to Joan. It takes all of her considerable store of courage to stick by Tubby as he forgets ideals in a wild grab for money and power

THE CAST

Character	Player
Joan Scott	Joan Blaine
Dr. Truman "Tubby" Scott	Charles Carroll
Jim Barrett	Bill Adams
Mike Hagen	Parker Fennelly
Ivy Lane	Joan Vitez
Dr. Malcolm Donaldson	Julian Noa

IVY LANE, an idle, spoiled society woman, no longer young, tries to attract Dr. Scott with fading glamour, an offer of funds for a plastic surgery clinic in the Bowery. In his present condition, Tubby falls for her

DR. MALCOLM DONALDSON, head of Riverdale Hospital, had predicted great things for Dr. Scott. Unaware of the real reason for Tubby's peculiar behavior of late, he will have little to do with him now, decides he's a bad egg

DWIGHT WEIST, announcer for "Valiant Lady," has been a radio announcer since shortly after graduation from Ohio Wesleyan University. He is an aviation enthusiast, pilots his own plane into New York City every day

KINGS ROW

674 Thrilling Pages.
A Coast-to-Coast Best-Seller.
Regular retail price, $2.75!

The great best-selling novel which strips the masks from an American town!

EVERY adult in Kings Row knew that a human face can become a "mask"—hiding secret love, hate, ambition. But fourteen-year-old PARRIS MITCHELL took people at face value! He liked affectionate Renee. They went swimming, at first in Adam and Eve innocence. He loved his girl-crazy pal, Drake McHugh. He trusted Jamie Wakefield, who wrote poems, and whom people secretly called "too pretty for a boy."

Cassie Tower, the town's prettiest girl, he thought "strange." She was always kept at home by her father, a physician who lived mysteriously well without patients. But PARRIS feared cold-faced Dr. Gordon, whose patients' hearts were so often found "too weak for chloroform." Once Parris heard (and never forgot) the frightful screams from a farmhouse, when Dr. Gordon's buggy was there!

"A Powerful and Passionate Book"

Through his sensitive reaction to people, PARRIS developed the intuition of a born doctor. He discovered that each person faced the town of Kings Row through a protective mask—hiding a sickness of mind or soul, a gnawing fear, a paralyzing inferiority complex, or a cherished vice. And later, as DOCTOR Parris Mitchell (equipped as a psychiatrist by 5 years study in Vienna) he helped them take off their masks!

How their masks were removed, and how tangled lives met in thrilling conflict, is an extraordinary story—gripping in intensity, exciting in action, fascinating in suspense, compelling in power. Here is a truly great American novel—packed with an American town's charm, zest, ambition, passions, loves, hates, hypocrisies, tragedies, comedies and, sometimes, nameless horrors! The N. Y. Times called Kings Row "a grand yarn, full of the sap of life. Eventful, swift." The N. Y. Herald Tribune said, "Rich in sentiment, emotional, powerfully felt—a moving, passionate book."

and BEST KNOWN WORKS of ZOLA Including "NANA" COMPLETE!

This second great volume contains (together with other Zola masterpieces) the famous novel which even Parisians bought secretly, and carried home under their cloaks—the scarlet story of the harlot Zola took from the streets of Paris and made into the immortal NANA!

Zola dared to reveal both the beauty and sordidness of life. He stands supreme in world literature for his frankness! The recent moving picture of his life (starring Paul Muni) dramatically showed millions how he fearlessly championed freedom in life and literature—no matter what sensitive souls were shocked and scandalized!

512 Daring Pages

Now read NANA complete—PLUS the finest work of this great French realist: 3 full-length novelettes, all complete, translated from original French. Includes also A Love Episode; Mysteries of Marseilles; The Miller's Daughter (one of the most exciting short stories ever written), and many more.
