Canadian Broadcasting Hit New Peak in Operation During 1957

By T. J. ALLARD
Executive
Vice President
CARTB

NINETEEN-FIFTY-SEVEN was a boom year for Canada. More babies were born—475,000 of them—than in any previous year in our history. More immigrants arrived—282,164 of them—than in any post-war year. There were more marriages—136,000—than in any year since 1946, when thousands of postponed weddings took place between second world war veterans and their brides.

Not only was Canada's population up, so was our gross national product; our consumer spending; consumer price index, wage index and real income. And the Canadian broadcasting business expanded along with population and production.

Canada's 177 non-government radio stations now provide service for all but a handful of the Dominion's 17,000,000 people, and about 90 per cent of the population is also served by one of the 49 TV stations, 41 of which are non-government. What makes the Canadian television industry different from the U.S. industry, however, is that there are only two networks, one English-language network and one serving the 30 per cent of Canada's population who are French speaking.

But while both networks are owned and operated by the government-owned Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, most of the network shows reach their audience through private stations. Only eight TV stations in six Canadian cities are owned by the CBC. The rest of the stations (41) in the network are privately-owned stations who are required to make a minimum of 10-12 hours per week available for CBC programming.

Another unique feature of the Canadian industry is that one out of two Canadian TV areas are captive markets, serviced by only one station. U.S. residents can visualize the Canadian picture if they imagine Dallas or Kansas City or San Diego serviced by only one TV station. Moreover, perhaps because Canadians are a home-staying race or because they were prepared for TV by the U.S. experience, set saturation has been reached remarkably quickly. Canadian TV stations range in age from four years to six months but many areas (London, Ontario, for example or Regina, Saskatchewan) have already achieved set saturation of over 80 per cent, and set saturation in other areas, e.g. Quebec City and Sydney, N.S. is over 90 per cent.

The radio picture is also a bright one. While TV has been backing up into daytime (a process especially encouraged by the fact that "network option time" falls in the Class "A," 8 to 11 p.m., time slot), nighttime radio has been firming up. Whereas advertisers last year were prime time happy with 7:00 to 9:00 a.m.; 12:00 to 1:30 (a good many Canadians still go home for lunch) and 4:30 to 7:00 p.m., virtually sold out on every station.

Now advertisers—national and local—are going into nighttime, sometimes reluctantly—because there isn't enough daytime to buy and sometimes with the feeling that nighttime can deliver a good general audience—at less than daytime rates.

On the political front, the Canadian radio news of 1957 was the report of the Fowler Commission.

The two major policy recommendations of the Commission—the creation of a new broadcast governing body, and licensing of competitive television stations—were welcomed by Canada's private broadcasters since both had been major points in the CARTB brief to the Commission. Due to the unsettled political situation in Canada, however, (Canadian voters go to the polls at the end of March, 1958, for the second time within nine months to elect a new federal parliament) no action has been taken on the Fowler Commission Report.

All Canadian radio and television conventions—regional and national—had their best attendance records in their history last year.

Canada's Buyers Are Tryers!

Canadian buyers are eager—and easy to reach with a sales message. With a total of 4,055,000 households, Canada has over 7 million radio sets and 2,860,000 TV sets. Experienced broadcasting salesmen carry the story of your product's benefits to the farthest reaches of the Dominion.

And the rapid expansion of the Canadian market make it well worth considering:

- In 1956 Canada received 164,857 immigrants—one every three minutes.
- Total postwar immigration stands at more than 1.5 million.
- Annual retail sales have advanced from $4,573,126,000 in 1945 to $14,297,557,000 in 1956.
- Construction in Canada reached a record level in 1957—$6.9 billion.

CBC Extending Its Network TV Links To Span Across The Entire Dominion

By A. D. DUNTON
Chairman
Canadian Broadcasting Corp.

THE Canadian Broadcasting Corporation expects to be operating the world's longest television microwave network by the end of this year.

It will stretch some 4,200 miles from St. John's, Newfoundland, in the east to Victoria, B.C., in the west. The microwave system, since the completion on February 2nd this year of the length between Quebec City and the Maritimes, now reaches from Sydney, Nova Scotia, in the east to Calgary, in Alberta, in the west.

Forty-eight television stations are now in operation across the country. Eight are owned and operated by the CBC, six English-language network stations at Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, and two French-language network stations at Montreal and Ottawa. In addition, two stations licensed to and managed by the CBC are located at Goose Bay, Labrador, and Harmon Field, Newfoundland. These outlets, using U.S. facilities, serve Canadian and American military personnel and civilians in the two areas.

The country's forty privately-owned television stations include thirty-four English-language outlets and six French-language. Five satellite stations are also operated by private interests.

The growth of Canadian television, which started little more than five and one-half years ago, has been at the fastest rate of any country in the world. Television service is now available to about 87 per cent of the population.

Canadians, during the past five and a half years, have spent more than $1.2 billion on the purchase and maintenance of TV receivers, or more per capita than anybody else in the world. An estimated 2.9 million sets are now in use.

Possibly the most distinctive achievement of Canadian television has been the development of two separate program services, each complete in itself, one in French and one in English. The CBC's French-language production constitutes the world's major French television service. In hours per day, the combined program output in English and French of all CBC production centres, is greater than that of any other television organization in the world.

Last year more than 11,000 television programs were seen in Canadian homes.

In terms of live television production Canada ranks next to the United States and Britain, while the CBC production centers at Montreal and Toronto rank next to New York and Hollywood as North America's leading TV centers.

All Canadian television stations, public and private, are part of the national system. The privately-owned stations serve as outlets for a good share of the national network programs produced by or provided through the CBC. When television first began in Canada, the CBC agreed to provide not less than ten and a half hours of network programming a week to the private stations—actually, in the past year, the affiliated stations have been carrying on the average about forty hours a week of such network programming, or some fifty-five per cent of their schedule.

The privately-owned and CBC stations, working together within the national broadcasting system as established by act of Parliament, co-operate to mutual benefit and to a degree greater than is generally thought. The CBC provides the national program service free to the private stations and they, in turn, give it free distribution, while at the same time earning revenue for themselves in the case of sponsored programs on the national service.

We look forward with unbounded confidence and optimism in the future of Canadian television. Specific steps, however, on such things as color TV, extension of TV broadcast hours, and broadening of coverage to areas not now served must await Parliamentary action on the recommendations of the Fowler Royal Commission, which, after an exhaustive public investigation of national broadcasting, submitted its report last spring. One of the main conclusions of the report was that the present system—the uniquely Canadian system of private and public co-operation—be continued.

New Factors Loom To Strengthen All Foreign Language Broadcasting

By RALPH N. WEIL
General Manager
WOV

FOREIGN language radio has new reasons each year to forge ahead and intensify service. The reasons? The steady number of emigres from non-English speaking lands to the United States. When you add steady immigration, year by year, to an already definable segment of population you certainly have something worthy of note, and in many cases really BIG.

It is an odd corollary, however, that except for the newer groups (which often are not the largest) the growth goes on relatively unheralded. In fact it's apt to take a splashing of ice cold statistics and facts to make otherwise informed business minds aware of the value of some foreign language markets.

I'd like to be able to table here figures on some of the major foreign language groups across the nation, but current figures on this scale are not presently available. So I can't do that. But I can give an excellent example, with current figures, of the language situation I know best, having dealt happily with it for years; that is Italian in New York City and its environs.

If you were asked to guess how many people from Italy have settled in New York in the past 10 years would you come close? Well, the 10 year figure is 118,330 with 47,600 of them arriving during the last two years!

Very few would have pegged it. Perhaps it is because it is a characteristic of recent and current Italian immigration that it requires no new social adjustments for the overall community. Italians arriving to become new Americans routinely become part of the largest single foreign language group in the country's largest city. They are not pioneering. They are expanding a community segment that has long numbered over 2,000,000 and has long enjoyed relative prosperity. These figures were revealed by a Pulse study released this winter. It also showed the New York City Italian population gain to be definitely net, with the immigration rate outweighing the death rate.

What does this steady immigration mean to radio? To the economic life of the community?

Well, metaphorically speaking, one of the first things the new arrival does is turn on the radio. When he finds the station that speaks his language and speaks it properly he settles his dial right there. Literally he then stays tuned to "his" station the rest of his life! He'll work at learning the language of the land, and good for him, I say. But . . . he continues to need your language broadcasting. The economic health of the community needs your language broadcasting.

Well handled foreign language radio broadcasting is vital to a region where recent and future immigration is part of the population pattern. This is a case where service offered is service utilized . . . and appreciated. Properly coordinated language broadcasting becomes the voice of ultimate authority as far as its listeners are concerned.

One old rule for successful language operation holds perpetually true. Don't translate, transpose.

An obvious example of where mere translation would fall far short of doing the whole job is news. Your language audience has the normal hunger for news. The listener craves the usual domestic news, world affairs. But he has an additional yearning, word of the original homeland. Now, I'm sure we all agree that the stress of keeping up with the content of this era's news is tough enough in itself. Your recent newcomer would be sunk if he had to try to cope with it in the language of the land. Even your long resident, foreign-born listener is grateful daily to "his" station for eliminating the extra strain he'd experience trying to cope with the import of the news and the nuances of idiom in his newer language.

Day by day service to groups that grow year by year, through the use of the mother tongue that hit the ears and mind of the language listener as emotionally right—that is foreign language radio's strength. That is how it does its job of serving and entertaining effectively. And that too is how it peps up the economic health of the community.

Today's Community Service Radio Uses Creative Transcription Aids

By
DICK LAWRENCE
General Manager
World Broadcasting System

RADIO, today, has been through a major creative crisis, and has won its battle. Now, the emphasis has shifted from a sort of detached, "national" approach to high-rated radio programming to one that has its roots in the community, and its emphasis on "community service."

The radio outlets which have been coming to the fore today are those which have been building a unique identity for themselves, both in the way they serve their listeners and their advertisers of all types.

Basically, of course, the shift has been in the direction of the music-and-news format. This would be the simple answer—provided there was only one station in each market. But, a glance through this Annual will show you this is far from the case.

Consequently, stations come to us with a problem which we have now heard repeated many, many times. "What can we do," they ask, "to create something different, something that will give us a style of our own that will attract our share of the audience? And what can we do to help our growing number of local advertisers?"

Since we have been in the radio business for many years now, we saw the trend to localized programming developing, even before it became the dominant factor in national radio advertising.

Our first major step was in the direction of the service which we of World Broadcasting furnish to our station affiliates.

From the ground up, we completely re-designed our "music library" thinking, gradually building it into a creative programming and sales tool. The emphasis then, as it is now, was on selling and production services.

One good example of this is our growing list of open-end jingles, designed to give local advertisers and stations top-quality musical commercials — the kind of unique jingles usually associated only with giant national advertisers who have the full resources of composing, vocal, arranging and lyric talent to draw upon.

These jingles, with sponsor or product names inserted by the local announcer in the jingle lyrics, make for effective, hard-hitting radio selling. And, we have jingles for literally hundreds of products and classifications of advertisers which can be transformed into revenue producers for our station affiliates.

Then there is the realm of "program aids," and other production tools with which a station can add the touch of "big production" to locally produced radio programs. We have developed, and continue to develop, special musical signatures and program lead-ins which deliver production values of the highest calibre. In short, there is not a type of local show you can name — news, weather, sports, music, farm information—for which we cannot deliver a custom-designed series of recorded aids — materials to give a station a special "personality" and identity in its community.

We have created service-type features, ranging from weather jingles to tune-in builders. We have packaged special programs for the seasonal (and sales) highlights of the year, featuring top-name personalities.

And, we've launched — with tremendous response—such sparkling merchandising innovations as our "Sound-O" game, based on radio sound effects and their identification by listeners to win prizes supplied by local merchants.

On top of all this, we continue to provide top-flight musical artists in outstanding transcriptions for local use, including such names as Peggy Lee, Doris Day, David Rose, Harry James, the Sauter-Finegan and Victor Young Orchestras, and scores of others. Here, again, we are not just delivering "records." We are building production values to add to stations' prestige and personality, providing stations with the tools with which they can build audiences, and attract more and more advertisers.

A Lift for Daytime Televiewing Spear-Headed by Strip Schedules

STRONG assists toward revamping and strengthening local daytime programming will be made this year, by new uses of syndicated film programs.

Good quality mystery strips, until now used only in the evening times, will furnish a strip of tangy seasoning between the conventional strips of daytime personality shows, panels, giveaways, and soap operas.

Conversations with key people at networks, agencies, advertising departments, and local stations have fortified our belief that the time is ripe for daytime stripping of good mysteries (preferably with an attractive male star).

MCA TV is backing this belief by making available 82 half-hour films starring Ralph Bellamy in a series called "Follow That Man" (originally titled "Man Against Crime") in its network run.

WCBS-TV in New York will strip "Follow That Man" at 5:00 p.m. daily. Stations in the Storer group will also strip the show in the daytime. These spearheading arrangements have just been set during the first days the show has been offered. The stations, of course, are free to play the show in evening periods as well.

MCA TV has had some enlightening experiences during the past year with mystery strips in early evening times. In the 6:00-7:00 p.m. times (almost always reserved for kid-shows), we assisted in replacing long-standing kid shows in a great many markets with good mystery shows. Ratings were unbelievably good, and in every instance well balanced family audiences, consisting of more than 60 per cent adults, were achieved. The notorious shortage of sponsors for kid products was not a factor here, for there was no shortage of sponsors of adult type products for the early evening mysteries.

Why are mystery shows attractive to viewers in the daytime hours? Because daytime viewers, largely women, are surely surfeited by now with the same monotonous fare of television standbys. They have given dramatic evidence of their desire for programs with more excitement, more suspense. The good mystery show provides just the change of pace they seem to appreciate. We need not go into the psychological backgrounds of this preference; the universal appeal of mystery-suspense-adventure stories is well known in every field of story-telling—in popular novels, on the screen, on the radio, the stage and of course on television.

The importance of the daytime hours in the rating picture is also not to be overlooked. During this time of day the TV advertiser can reach a selective audience—the woman of the household who traditionally controls the family purse-strings. Too, in many TV homes, the female viewer who turns on her television set for a brief respite from her chores is being exposed to the advertiser's message at a more propitious time, from a marketing point of view. She is very likely to complete her viewing, turn off the set, and go out to the stores. Thus the sponsor's message is fresher in her mind than during evening viewing.

Strong adult audience acceptance of mystery strips in early evening times, concurrence of opinion amongst key people, and immediate action to strip "Follow That Man" in the daytime by WCBS-TV (New York) and Storer stations, convince us that mystery strips will provide a much needed lift in daytime fare. We will do what we can to furnish what is needed.

Wide Variety Of Advertisers Find Film Adaptable To Needs

ONE of the most dramatic developments in the growth of the TV film industry has been the extension of film sponsorship ranks to include every conceivable type of advertiser, representing every category of business enterprise and every size of organization.

At Ziv, we have seen such giants as Bristol-Myers, Procter & Gamble and Reynolds Tobacco, steadily increase their purchases of film series. At the same time, our regional and local clients have been continually expanding their use of film. Each year, we see new advertisers turning to half-hour films. We find advertisers enlarging their TV activities from the use of between-program announcements to alternate sponsorship and then to full, weekly identification with a program series.

As part of this impressive growth of sponsorship, there has been a phenomenon that has developed so naturally that I think many of us have failed to note its significance. We have found that a potent program with universal audience appeal can work equally well for advertisers with vastly different products and problems. The program that seems ideally suited to a baker in the south can be just as effective for an oil company on the West Coast. Our roster of "Sea Hunt" sponsors, for example, includes such widely different advertisers as such major national corporations as Bristol-Myers, Anheuser-Bnsch, R. J. Reynolds and Schlitz Brewing. It includes large regional companies with such diverse products as those of Heileman Brewing, Standard Oil of California and Dixie Club Coffee. Local advertisers are represented too—P. C. Food Markets in Syracuse; the Louis Shanks Furniture Co. in Austin, Texas; the San Antonio Savings and Loan Association, and so forth. As dissimilar as these companies are, they have one goal in common—to reach the largest number of viewers possible, in the most favorable possible context. And so they seek association with an outstanding program with great rating potential.

To broadcasters, this broad advertiser appeal has meant that the station can move swiftly to guarantee for itself the acquisition of a hot new property, with the assurance that many potential clients will be interested in it.

To advertisers, this has meant in effect a broader choice of quality programming. And for those clients who are interested in alternate sponsorship or the selection of a group of markets for their advertising campaign, this phenomenon of versatility has been of immeasurable benefit. As a result of the Ziv field organization's close contact with national, regional and local advertisers and their agencies, as well as with station programmers throughout the country, we have often been able to arrange a "marriage" between two compatible clients in the sponsorship of a Ziv teleseries. Last year alone, we "wedded" something like 1,200 clients of all types and budget sizes who came to us seeking a top-flight show for alternate-week sponsorship or for multi-market spreads.

In short, the show is the thing. If it has genuine audience appeal, and carefully wrought merchandising support, it will sell effectively for anybody, anyplace. Perhaps the best proof that this thesis works successfully is the tremendously high rate of renewals scored by our advertiser and station clients. We have had renewal rates as high as the 97 per cent earned by "Highway Patrol." We have had individual sponsors staying with a series for as long as seven years. Of all Ziv shows which have been in syndication for more than one season, 68 per cent have had the same sponsor through at least two years.

How can we profile the "typical" film sponsor? He might be someone with a nationally distributed product or he might be a hometown merchant; he might have a multi-million dollar budget or one that is a few thousand a year. The one thing he is sure to have in common with his fellow film users is a desire to reach a great number of people with the power and impact of association with an outstanding program.

New Emphasis Is Now Given Showmanship In Broadcasting

By ELLIOTT W. HENRY, JR.
President
Broadcasters'
Promotion Assn.
Director — Press
Information and Promotion, ABC,
Central Div.,
Chicago

IT can be heard or seen in Canton, Cairo or Chicago, but it is going to have a much more difficult time getting off the ground unless it is given a shot of showmanship.

We're talking about that favorite radio or television program which your management knows can succeed yet must have that extra bit of window dressing in order to gain its due audience.

The management turns to the Promotion Department (and this operation can and usually does enclose a lot of territory such as publicity, exploitation, merchandising, advertising, purchase of travel, theatre and track tickets, etc., etc.) and expects it—and rightfully so—to set forth some concrete ideas as to what can be done to secure additional viewers or listeners.

Let's take a quick glance at three basic principles that this department—whether it consists of one person or several individuals—can offer to spell out SHOW MAN SHIP in broadcasting.

Advertise the Show. As Ollie Treyz, ABC-TV President, has so aptly stated, "Today you have to advertise your advertising."

— Where do you advertise? In magazines, newspapers, trade journals, company house organs, on billboards, theatres, street cars, buses, subways, elevated railroads, in the sky, delivery trucks, commuter trains, window displays, and via direct mail. Naturally, any one or more of these outlets cost money. Your budget may be small. Most are. Think. Think of your best medium as it pertains to your program. Among these are one or more that you can use at a cost you can afford. Use it sensibly. Let all concerned know what you are doing. It won't be long before you will have injected the "SHOW" into SHOW MAN SHIP.

Promote the Show. A good Promotion Manager knows there is nothing like his own medium to promote his own product. — Where do you promote? On every dog-goned show that you have on your air. You have a ready-made audience. It's there ready to receive your message.

Here the budget is not a major factor such as it might be in advertising, but you still must think. You must think of the right type of on-the-air promotions. If you are doing the spot announcement type, you must make darn sure that your copy lends itself to the program you are trying to promote. Solid, sock, hard-hitting copy that will catch, interest and hold the listener. Coordinate all your on-the-air promotion ideas, and, as you did with your advertising, know in which direction you are going. You will soon find that you have gained the "MAN" in SHOW MAN SHIP.

Publicize the Show. Be it the program, the personality or the policy you are attempting to publicize, don't irritate the people with whom you are attempting to gain favor.

— Where do you publicize? In every blessed medium that you honestly and sincerely feel that you have a chance to tell your story. Newspapers, magazines, wire services, syndicates, trade journals, house organs, and once again, your own medium through its news and program departments. Remember that you must always observe the rules of being a good publicist (this is another chapter), and chances are you will wind up in "SHIP" shape and you will be the proud master of proving not only to yourself but to your management and your client that SHOW MAN SHIP can be an important and well recognized facet of your organization's operation.

And your SHOW MAN SHIP techniques may be a darn important argument in your behalf the next time you hit the management for a raise!

Now in one single volume—the actual experiences of successful TV broadcasters as presented during the five BMI TV Clinics held last year in New York, Chicago, Fort Worth, Atlanta and San Francisco. Includes the question and answer periods following each TV talk as well as the Bull Sessions covering a variety of TV operations. The Governors of five states join the proceedings with pertinent remarks.

"Covering such subjects as the use of color, children's programs, local service programming, station promotion and management and many others, the book provides a report on television's day-to-day problems and also points up some answers to those of tomorrow.

Television Has Made America The World's Largest Living Room

By
OLIVER E. TREYZ
President
ABC Television
Network

TELEVISION has assumed the role of adviser, shopping guide and court-jester to King Consumer. The King is a man of many parts. He demands a varied, imaginative diet to sustain him. And each day his palate becomes more educated.

He makes his will known to us through ratings, but even the most carefully compounded statistics can be deceptive. Necessary and useful tools though they are, ratings at best are partial guides to a total picture. If ratings take on a life of their own and parade as the whole truth when actually they are only clues to the mystery of success or failure, then there is chaos and confusion.

As IQ scores tell us relatively little about the personal dynamics of an individual, so ratings leave much to be said about the dynamics of a particular television property as an effective agent to stimulate King Consumer to go out and buy a particular item. In a recent article in Variety, Walter Guild (of Guild, Bascom and Bonfigli) reminds us that circulation and sales effectiveness are sometimes separate entities. He points to medium-rated shows like Bold Journey (for Ralston-Purina, in its third year) and You Asked For it (for Skippy Peanut Butter, celebrating its 7th year) that have boosted sales figures consistently throughout their network lives. Judged by performance, in dollars and cents, Bold Journey and You Asked For It are winners.

We feel that understanding King Consumer's needs is the rule at ABC-TV. We insist on translating audience statistics into human terms, realizing that there is meaning behind numbers just as, in this Mardi-Gras business of ours, we must not forget to look behind the mask.

Ratings do not give us the final insight into King Consumer—so we must take a closer look at the television universe. At the start of 1958 there are 42,400,000 television homes in the United States. The figure is increasing by over 7,000 sets each day! We must realize that we are dealing with the most complex, heterogeneous group of human beings ever to assemble for one purpose—to be entertained and informed.

The audience that confronts us breaks down into innumerable gradations of tastes, preferences, prejudices and taboos. Not only must we appeal to the family unit in the world's largest living room, but we provide specialized shows like Wednesday Night Fights for the sports-minded and the Voice of Firestone for the music-minded.

Television is an old hand at working miracles. Not the least of these has been TV's ability to reconcile mass with class. TV can move soap and cigarettes from retail store counters, and cars off showroom floors—and more importantly, move the minds of men. Research shows us that the higher-income families, and the younger, buying families are television's greatest fans. Examine these daily television viewing figures:

The average home spent 5:39

The highest income homes spent 7:04

The lowest income homes spent 4:09

The youngest family units spent 6:50

The older family units spent 4:56

Here we have a set of numbers that unveil some useful truths. Where there is more money, there is more leisure, and more leisure means more time spent with television. Where there are young families, families in their acquisitive years (when baby needs new shoes and mom a new washing machine) there is more televising in the family circle. These are some of the reasons why TV is so effective a salesman: TV reaches everybody, the mass—but it reaches the higher-income and large-family groups more often.

ABC-TV has always taken the time to look behind the ratings at the human beings who make the numbers live. That an ever-expanding national audience has accepted us, and made us welcome, seems to endorse our formula for keeping King Consumer from calling his fiddlers three. He's chosen television for his Number 1 performer!

TV: Ten Years Old — And Still The Most Powerful Mass Medium

AFTER ten years of explosive growth, television today is solidly entrenched as the nation's most popular and most powerful medium of mass communications.

This simple fact ought to lay to rest forever the predictions of those "doubting Thomases" who for years have etched a deep groove with their warning, "Wait until the novelty of television wears off, then see how popular the medium will be!"

After ten years, the novelty of television has worn off, and today the medium stands as the favorite dispenser of entertainment and information in 41,800,000 American homes and the focus of the average family's attention for a record-breaking five hours and 27 minutes a day. In fact, last year the total volume of nighttime network viewing increased more than it had in any of the past five years.

These are not the sudden-growth statistics of a product newly introduced on the market. These are the statistics of a communications medium settled in its tenth year of operation. And because television continues to hold this unparalleled fascination for the American people, each of the three nation-wide television networks today delivers larger average nighttime audiences than any of them ever did before. The network which delivers the largest of these audiences is CBS Television, which currently reaches an average of almost 10 million homes per average minute and which in 1957 broadcast the two most popular programs in television history: "Cinderella," seen by 75 million people; and the premiere of "The Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz Show," watched by 60 million.

As the nation's foremost medium of communications, television has also taken over within the space of one decade, the primary responsibility to provide the clearest, most complete picture of the news developments throughout the world which so profoundly affect the well-being of every American today. At a time when the struggle between free and communist nations has grown so dangerous and so pervasive that it enters into every aspect of daily life, the need for a well-informed, interested and enlightened public opinion is more acute than ever before in history.

One small measure of how well television is discharging its responsibility in this area can be seen from the fact that last year CBS Television's weekday "Douglas Edwards With The News" program became the world's single most popular news vehicle—attaining a circulation larger than that of any newspaper, magazine or other news broadcast, daily or weekly.

Last year too, CBS News not only anticipated this unparalleled need for public enlightenment but it also responded to that need through the presentation of such notable television series as "Face The Nation," "See It Now," "Air Power," "Twentieth Century," "Conquest," and its many outstanding special news programs.

In the coming months, CBS Television's news and public affairs broadcasts will play an increasingly important role in the network's overall program schedule.

Also sparking the network's schedule this year are a generous number of special "one-time" entertainment programs of unusual diversity, interest and quality.

Basic to the success of all these special programs, of course, is the overwhelming popularity of CBS Television's regularly scheduled entertainment series which week in and week out continue to command a most loyal following in television. In the last analysis, it has been the outstanding appeal of television's programs, both regular and special, which accounts for the medium's continually increasing popularity as it enters its second decade. People are finding more to watch on their home screens. They are watching more network programs than ever before, and most of all, they are watching the programs on CBS Television.

The Question in TV Programming Is — Where Do We Go From Here?

By
ROBERT F. LEWINE
Vice President
Television Network Programs, National Broadcasting Co.

IN the area of television programming, two facts stand out today: First, though there has always been a seller's market in top talent, there is a greater shortage of big name talent now than ever before. Second, the entertainment business has failed to develop box office names fast enough to meet this challenge.

As a result of this situation, we are faced with the serious problem: Where do we go from here?

Several factors are responsible for today's shortage of talent. One is the increased competition on television today. The networks are now finding that they must compete not only with each other but with individual stations whose programming is now bolstered by TV films and Hollywood features of steadily improving quality. With such a wide choice of entertainment the viewing public has become more selective, choosing programs and personalities with greater care than ever before. This has helped kill off many a marquee name.

Then there is the plight of those show-business names not primarily associated with TV but who appear as extra-special guest attractions. Even these entertainers, except for a few of the very top stage and screen stars, have found that after making their highly publicized television debuts and after continued guest appearances, that honeymoons don't last forever.

This growing shortage of talent has had a definite effect on our over-all program operation. The top performers of today usually insist on controlling their own shows, either by owning the package or by having the fullest say in what type of program they appear in. As a result, the network and the packagers have to come up with shows that will keep the stars happy.

The need for building special vehicles for top stars has given greater emphasis to the big talent agencies. To satisfy the particular needs of the talent they represent, they have developed strong programming operations of their own to produce these packages, geared precisely to the capabilities and the preferences of their talent.

I would like to add at this time that the programming these agencies produce is a reliable and saleable product, for these agencies have acquired a high degree of know-how in this field. Moreover, if the show gets into trouble, they move in quickly to put things right. Also, let's not overlook the important sales effort these agencies put behind their packages. They often come to the network with a program and a client all ready to sign for it.

Finally, the shortage of big names increases the fees those few can pick up for guest appearances. As a result, many of these artists refuse to undertake a regular series with all the confinement and risk this means when they can earn handsome fees with just a few guest appearances on big-budget shows. Therefore, we find fewer top names than usual associated with regular series while you find an increase in the number of regularly scheduled variety shows whose formats offer a ready market for guest shots.

Television has not stood idly by in the face of this challenge. It has met the problem head on and has attempted to build its own fresh, big-name entertainers. We haven't done too badly either, considering the great obstacles to developing home-grown talent, including the reluctance of advertisers to risk large outlays on new performers.

Today we are helping to meet the talent shortage by developing programs that depend more on format than on top talent. We also keep in mind talent development needs in casting shows. And we try to develop new performers by exposing them as much as possible on our programs.

The challenges that face our industry today do not discourage me. Rather, they put new emphasis on creativity and originality and this will help make new stars and improved programs.

NTA Film Network Is Indication That Growth Is Keyword to Future

IT is difficult to go into the past history of something with which you have been intimately associated without finding yourself falling into "and then I wrote—" sort of format. Nevertheless, the NTA Film Network, which a relatively short time ago was somewhat of a revolutionary idea is now a recognized broadcasting entity with not only a future but what is probably more important, both a past and a present, since the Network has progressed from theoretical into actual status.

We did not pretend that the film network, as such, was an original thought. Film networking had been discussed, some brief attempts to get one off the ground had come a resounding cropper, but the fact remained that no such thing as an operating film network had ever been achieved.

We felt that there was a two-fold need for the NTA Film Network, a need on the part of broadcasters and advertisers. We do not quarrel with the principles of wired network operation and, indeed, are exploring coaxial cable facilities ourselves. We did, however, feel that there was a need for a method of networking which provided for a change in either the method or the amount of station compensation, and an abolition of the "must buy" premise which forced network minded TV advertisers to buy markets that they did not necessarily need, accompanied by the financial lost motion of servicing those markets.

When we contemplated the station field, we knew that the time scarcity problem would be our number one obstacle. To put together enough television coverage to interest a national advertiser was a complex problem, since in a great many markets there were too few stations to service the then existing networks without getting into the clearance problems of another. We saw, however, two distinct opportunities: one would involve upgrading the time of the independent station, which had been denied the strength of group programming of its wired network competitors, and in hyping audiences tuned to marginal time periods on wired network outlets. We saw in this two-fold opportunity a first step towards filling the broadcaster-advertiser need. Even the strongest stations had weak time periods that could be upgraded, and we reasoned that, to the advertiser, audience would be audience regardless of station or time; that if we could deliver sufficient viewer tonnage at a reasonable cost we could more than adequately serve him.

Which brings us to the matter of history. By dint of thousands of miles of travel and extended consultations with stations, we were able to come up with a network that offered both flexibility and potential. To the advertiser who wanted to take advantage of the network's full lineup of 134 stations, we were able to offer potential coverage to over 95 per cent of the country's TV homes. To the advertiser who wanted less, we could tailor-make a station lineup that would directly serve his sales problems and be restricted purely and simply to the areas he wished to reach.

In market after market, the Network's Premiere Performance program has consistently received excellent ratings, showing dominance over such network shows as Jackie Gleason, Laurence Welk, Disneyland, Steve Allen, Your Hit Parade, Playhouse '90 and others.

And so our brief past has been, we believe, a significant one, not only to ourselves and the stations we serve but to America's advertisers, for whom we have created what is to all intents and purposes a new advertising medium, or at the very least a valuable extension of a relatively circumspect one already in existence. Our first year has been a challenging one, and to us a very rewarding one.

We believe that our future is bright. The NTA Film Network, which was once a train in the blue-print stage, now is definitely on the track. We believe that it has a long and prosperous journey ahead. Based on a busy past and rushed present, we believe that we can expect an accelerated future.

Who said satellite?

Where else can you find a universe like this—a big, rich central market with so many important satellite trading centers?

—where satellite markets total 33% richer and 50% bigger than the metropolitan trading zone itself?

—where such a widespread market can be covered from one central point by television . . . with no overlapping penetration by basic affiliates of the same network?

Only here—in Indianapolis on WFBM-TV—can you buy more honest market penetration, consumer influence, for fewer dollars expended than anywhere else. It will pay you well to use us everytime!

The Nation's 14th Television Market

. . . with the only basic NBC coverage of 740,000 TV set owning families.

Indianapolis

Major retail area for 17 richer than average counties. A million population - 339,100 families with 90% television ownership!

12 Satellites

Each a recognized marketing area—with audited WFBM-TV audience of 412,800 more television sets!

in Baltimore

dominates

A fast picture of the big change in Baltimore TV shows that WJZ-TV, under Westinghouse Broadcasting Company ownership, has moved from 3rd to a dominant 1st place in less than four months!

Like November, the December ARB report on quarter hours shows that WJZ-TV is first in more quarter hours than the other two Baltimore stations COMBINED!

WJZ-TV	(ABC)	233 firsts
Station C	(NBC)	75 "

WJZ-TV DOMINATES IN SHARE OF SETS-IN-USE TOO!

Confirming WJZ-TV's dominance in the Baltimore TV picture, the December ARB figures for share of sets-in-use are:

WJZ-TV	(ABC)	39.0
Station B	(CBS)	33.1
Station C	(NBC)	26.8

Now . . . in Baltimore, WJZ-TV dominates. In Baltimore, more and more, no selling campaign is complete without the WBC station. Your Blair-TV man is ready to talk business, and so is Joe Dougherty, WJZ-TV Sales Manager (MOhawk 4-7600, Baltimore).

This brochure includes market facts of the 14 Western New York and four Northwestern Pennsylvania counties served by WBEN-TV. It also contains a graphic coverage map that pin points your total sales area where 3½ billions are spent annually at the retail level. In all, it presents a clear and concise picture of all you need to know to stimulate sales thinking and sales effort.

And to help you reach and penetrate this huge market the most effective way, you'll find this brochure brimming with facts on facilities and service that have proven to TV advertisers since 1948 that "TV dollars count for more on Channel 4"

We'll be happy to send you a copy of this fact-packed brochure. Just write our Sales Department or HARRINGTON, RIGHTER & PARSONS, Inc.

The most LOOKED AT tv station in Dallas!

METROPOLITAN DALLAS TELEPULSE — OCT., 1957

KRLD-TV, telecasting with maximum power from atop Texas' tallest tower, is the television service of The Dallas Times Herald, owners and operators of KRLD Radio, the only full-time 50,000-watt station in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

It seems there's a new champ born with almost every rating book in Dallas/Fort Worth. Only one fact is constant . . . It's the tightest four-station market in America! Right now we're first with 27.7 per cent* share of audience. (Sign on to sign off Sunday through Saturday.) The fourth station trails by a mere 3.4 per cent . . . So who wants to argue?

High-rated nighttime minutes now available delivering a top family audience of 2.84 (average) viewers per set — 12 per cent more than nearest competitor!

Television Stations and Sets Overseas

At the end of 1957 a total of 47 countries had television, excluding the U.S., its territories, and Canada. During the year the number of overseas TV stations (including experimental and satellite stations) increased from 260 to 447. Some five million new receivers were bought, compared with 3.5 million in 1956, to bring the total in 1957 to 16.4 million sets. Estimates indicate there will be over 600 overseas TV stations by the end of 1958.

The U.S. Information Agency, which released the following statistics, cautions that they are subject to the reliability of the various sources involved. Official data are used whenever possible. TV set figures include estimates of unlicensed or "black" sets in some cases. Statistics for Communist Bloc countries are to be viewed with caution, and allowances made for over-enthusiasm in some countries' TV development figures.

Multiple Run Programming of TV Film Has Demonstrated Its Value

By
PIERRE WEIS
General Manager
Economee, Division of Ziv Television
Programs, Inc.

MULTIPLE run programming is exhibiting a new vitality as stations find new ways to harness their audience-building power. The cross-the-board strip program has been widely employed as a daytime vehicle.

Increasingly, stations are discovering that strips provide an effective and economical means of programming on a profitable basis, such periods as early morning, late afternoon and "fringe" evening time.

Indeed, examining the record scored by our various Ziv-Economee shows, it would be hard to find a time period in which the film strip has not done an outstanding job.

In Charleston, W. Va., WCHS-TV has had exceptional success with cross-the-board showings of Boston Blackie at 7:30 in the morning. It has out-rated the Today show opposing it by as much as three to one. In Chicago, on WGN-TV, Blackie has proved invincible as a 1 p.m. entry. In Miami on WTVJ, Mr. District Attorney has been a kingpin entry at 4 p.m. The same show on WFAA-TV in Dallas-Ft. Worth has built up that station's 11:30 a.m. audience to a far stronger position than any of the three programs which it had previously aired in the slot.

So widespread has the use of the strip technique become that we might tend to overlook the power of reruns as weekly entries. The most dramatic example of successful once-a-week showcasing that comes to mind is that of Mr. District Attorney in Washington where it has consistently ranked as the highest-rated of all syndicated shows, out-rating first-run vehicles.

The moral for the station programmer is simply that outstanding star-name programs which demonstrate audience appeal on their first airings can be shown over and over again with undiminished vitality. Their audience-building power means in turn that these offer strong vehicles for spot advertising. With proven track records to guide advertisers' choices, the multiple run program is an outstanding revenue-builder for stations.

The multiple run program is to be found on every type of station, large or small, network or independent. For example, recent purchases of I Led Three Lives have been made by the CBS Television Network flagship station, WCBS-TV in New York, as well as by one of the country's most film-conscious independents, KTTV in Los Angeles. In such giant markets as San Francisco, Houston and Baltimore, I Led Three Lives has been acquired by KPIX-TV, KCUL-TV and WBAL-TV, respectively. The same program has also been bought by stations in moderate-sized markets, such as KELP-TV in El Paso, Texas and WSFA-TV in Montgomery, Alabama. The same is true for other Economee programs—Mr. District Attorney, Corliss Archer, Science Fiction Theatre, Boston Blackie, Favorite Story and Dr. Christian.

If I were asked to offer counsel to station men contemplating purchase of multiple run series, I think the points I would stress would be these: Look for a program that has inherent values—exciting backgrounds, impact themes, star names, fine production. Judge rerun prices and properties with the same care and attention that you give to the selection of a just-produced series. Pick a time period that the film has not previously been aired in. Lastly and perhaps most important, promote your show as fully as possible. Audience promotion, merchandising support, tune-in ads—the full range of exploitation techniques should be employed to get the maximum value from your investment.

Repeat showings have demonstrated their value. All the skill and know-how which you bring to bear on their use will pay off in increased ratings and revenues.

SALES SONG...TRIO STYLE or HOW TO BEST AIR-EXPRESS YOURSELF

This threesome—Radio Hucksters & Airlifts and Jim Ameche—will contribute mightily toward making 1958 a banner year for the Lang-Worth Station.

“Mr. Huckster” holds the secret to polished, integrated, studio quality commercials for every type of local business, product or service. It’s a massive library . . . all new since ’55 . . . added to by Lang-Worth at more than 250 per year. “Miss Airlift,” on your right, is the L-W twin service of intros, promos, I.D.’s, sound effects and general station production aids.

Mr. Ameche, in turn, brings a dynamic new concept in a dynamic year of broadcasting—THE JIM AMECHE SHOW. Here in top-quality tape is up to 18 hours of programming per week . . . disc jockey chatter by one of the very best, all the music, commercials for your local sponsors . . . all yours, all Ameche at amazingly low cost for a new star on your staff. It’s the most saleable and flexible syndicated show in radio! Why not write for facts and demonstration discs. Learn about it—listen to it. You’ll buy it.

*I*N 1776, fifty-six Americans risked the gallows by signing a declaration that was printed and dispatched throughout the nation they had created with their penstrokes. When a man sets his signature to a document, it is his personal bond. When an advertiser sets his name to a printed message he stands directly behind it. That is why people have confidence in printed advertising. It is also the reason why an advertiser carefully selects the publication media he desires to reflect the integrity of his name and his product.

"Let me know when the show is over.
I want to catch their commercial again!"

It is possible to create commercials that add to the "entertainment" of a program. Commercials that become conversation pieces can sell a lot of product too. Our designs for the animation sequence in "Around the World in 80 Days" have been hailed by critics* as the best part of a great show. The same talent can make your next commercial a standout.

Country Music Rocks the Country, And Rolls Up Station Incomes

By
CHARLES BERNARD
President
Charles Bernard Co.
and Founder of
"CAWMBA"

TWO of the greatest success stories in all of radio's history are centered on Country Music programs which have helped to pioneer this unique showmanship into the better than $100 million-a-year business it is today. Almost 35 years ago, when "National Barn Dance" and "Grand Ole Opry" were infants, back in Chicago and Nashville, respectively, no one would have dared predict this phenomenal success over a third of a century later.

Let's look at the record. "The National Barn Dance" was sponsored by Alka Seltzer for 15 years, Keystone Steel & Wire for 25 years, and Phillips Petroleum Co. for 15 years. The "Grand Ole Opry" has expanded to the point where sponsors are on a waiting list to advertise, and many of their advertisers have been pounding away for over a decade. Easily a quarter of a million people see and enjoy their Opry yearly, with similar jamborees springing up all over the country.

"The Ozark Jubilee," or as it is better known, "Red Foley's Country Music Show," emanating from Springfield, Missouri is another lavish network presentation. Others include "The Jimmy Dean Show" out of Washington, D. C., "The Old Dominion Barn Dance" in Richmond, "The Cowtown Hoedown" in Fort Worth, "The Louisiana Hayride" and many more. However, the big switch has been in independent radio throughout the country, where more and more radio stations are switching their programming formats from pop to Country and Western Music.

Practically every major market has a station featuring this specialized programming, and one of the most successful independent pioneers is WARL, which covers the Washington market with solid Country Music, and has, for the past 10 years. In addition to Dow Chemical, which sponsors "The Red Foley Show" on NBC Radio, other national advertisers include Bristol-Myers, Phillips Petroleum, R. J. Reynolds, R. C. Cola, Philip Morris, General Motors, Miles Laboratories, The Ford Motor Co., Life Magazine, Beech-nut Gum and Lydia Pinkham.

This year more than 50 million country music records will be sold, which is 40 per cent of the total sales of all single popular music records. Eddie Arnold alone has sold over 30 million records in 10 years. Many of the performers of top Country Music shows are in demand to make spot commercials. One artist, Arthur Smith, M-G-M recording star whose "Guitar Boogie" sold more than three million records, has done TV commercials for Bristol-Myers' Sal Hepatica, Lever Brothers, Groce Laboratories, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Company, and many others.

One of the reasons why sponsors like to spot their commercials in Country Music shows is that the music has appeal for all age groups. Grandpas and grade schoolers often tune in the same program. The music is down-to-earth, and is written and performed with sincere emotion. The people who listen to Country Music are much more faithful, and buy something because they believe. The main reason a sponsor gets sales results from Country Music stations is that the listeners are geared to hearing words, not background music. Almost every Country Music song ever written is a story set to music, and when the listeners are trained to hear these musical stories, there is no resentment when a folksy announcer comes in to sell the sponsor's product. They're used to listening to words; consequently, they hear the commercials, and respond.

Country Music is not only sweeping the U. S., but is hungrily consumed throughout the world. When Guy Mitchell's "country" rendition of "Singing the Blues" sold three million copies, it was also big in Canada, Great Britain, Australia, Japan and South Africa. Because Country and Western Music has become so popular, and has had such a tremendous influence on the buying habits of our nation's shoppers, radio stations in major market areas like Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis and Kansas City have converted their programming to C/W, which led to the formation of "CAWMBA"—The Country and Western Music Broadcasters Assn., which is rapidly becoming a network vehicle for national advertising.

PETER DE ROSE MEMORIAL WEEK

April 23 to 30

Tin Pan Alley Pays Tribute to PETER DE ROSE

Fifth Commemorative Anniversary

The music of the composer of "Deep Purple," "Wagon Wheels," "When Your Hair Has Turned To Silver," "Have You Ever Been Lonely," and many other popular song hits will be featured on memorial programs during this week. In addition to the many accomplishments of his career as a broadcast pioneer and the rich heritage of song which he has left his Fellow Americans, he will always be remembered as a beloved figure in his own time.

In a tribute to Peter De Rose, his close friend Otto Harbach, known as the "Dean of American Lyric Writers," said:

"Once in awhile you meet someone so gentle, unselfish, kind and just, that you regain your faith in human nature."

Several Cardinal Principles Apply In Developing Jingles

PERHAPS our beginning in radio as a singing duo (Ginger & Lanny — Two voices and a pianny) has produced one of our cardinal principles in creating an effective musical commercial — a jingle should be ENTERTAINING.

We therefore try to begin each jingle as though it is a pleasing, popular song. Once the entertaining element has been established, we then try to integrate the name of the product in a subtle but pleasant or amusing manner so that the listener does not tire of the musical message, no matter how often he hears it.

We think it should have a melodic strain or theme and the sponsor's name should fit the theme like the title of the average hit tune. Too many jingles are written like a few "hot licks" containing musical passages, but not in a memorable style so that the music and the message are soon forgotten.

We think, contrary to some, that JINGLES SHOULD NOT JANGLE. True, the irritating style causes a great deal of comment and undoubtedly is very successful for a short run. We still cling, however, to the theory that an old friend wears well, and if a jingle is pleasant and friendly, it may serve its master well for many years just as "Stardust" is always welcome. This reduces the need to start over each year with a new melody or idea. Contrarily, the same tune can go on year after year, building more and new friends but still keeping the old, without costly re-recording fees and the loss of the original good-will already built at considerable expense. In other words, if a client has a good jingle, we don't think it should be changed every year, any more than he should change his trade-mark or product name. But to last, and wear well, it cannot be irritating.

Jingles should be SHORT AND SIMPLE. The most popular standard songs are the ones with few notes and words—easily sung, easily remembered. Who doesn't know the words to "Let Me Call You Sweetheart?" Therefore we feel one or two salient points in 15 seconds or less will sell much better than a whole minute of boring details that

By LANNY and GINGER GREY
Writers, Producers, Singers of "Jingles that don't Jangle"

obviously is designed to be high pressure selling (with negative results) instead of sincere entertainment with a slight suggestion or tie-in with the product's name which few can resent.

Finally, the PRESENTATION is important. If the jingle is not produced properly, the melody or message may never reach its goal.

The musical background should never overshadow the voices, and in our opinion, except where a choral or group effect is essential to the mood that is being created, the fewer voices, the better.

We sincerely feel that in most cases when you employ more than two voices, the clarity of the message begins to diminish. One voice is very clear—two add more interest because the basis of all life is the couple—boy-girl, husband and wife. These are the two most important people you can reach.

Let us give credit, however, to a few very outstanding cigarette commercials that have proved the exception and are excellent. Still look how simple, successful, and popular boy-girl jingles have been, like: I GO FOR A MAN WHO WEARS AN ADAM HAT, YOU'LL WONDER WHERE THE YELLOW WENT, and the PAPER-MATE PEN jingles. These are further proof that the most effective and least costly, are the boy-girl commercials. Most of the Nation's most popular jingles have few voices. One of the earliest and most successful of all, the PEPSI-COLA JINGLE, started and gained nation-wide popularity with just one male voice.

In conclusion, we feel that the trend is toward the better commercials and we are glad to see that. It is not unusual to hear people say: "The jingle was the best part of that program, last night." Like a picture is worth a thousand words, we feel a jingle is worth a thousand words of commercial copy.

BROADCAST MUSIC, INC.

By CARL HAVERLIN
President

BECAUSE it expresses our philosophy in 1958 just as emphatically as it did in 1957, we are repeating below our statement in last year's RADIO ANNUAL AND TELEVISION YEARBOOK:

During each day of the eighteen years of its existence Broadcast Music, Inc., has adhered steadfastly to one basic principle—competition is healthy and necessary. Because of this credo, BMI operates as a competitive force in the field of performing rights. Because it believes in competition, BMI operates in a manner intended to benefit all composers, all writers, all music publishers, all users of music.

The result has been to establish an open door and an open market place for all creators of music and for all publishers of music. Benefits of the BMI policy continue to flow not only to well established publishers and writers, but to the newcomers who have come into the field since the creation of BMI.

In order to maintain a constantly growing source of music and to provide a steady challenge to the progressive composer, writer, and publisher, BMI has devoted its attention to all types of music. As a result, national, indeed world-wide, interest has been focused on fields of music once considered geographically limited or intellectually esoteric. The resultant democratization of musical elements has developed a truly American music, one which is made up of many forces, popular, country and western rhythm and blues, concert. Because of this, the creators and the developers of these musical forces have found new opportunities.

Today, BMI is proud of the fact that so many publishers, composers and writers have found inspiration and remuneration in the open market place.

BMI begins its nineteenth year of existence as it did its first . . . dedicated to the one basic principle—competition in music is as healthy and necessary as in any other field of American endeavor.

THIS past year it occurred to a group of us at SESAC that the time was ripe for a musical renaissance. That there was a great need on the part of most music users—radio and television stations included—for good music in quality performance was as certain as is our being in the midst of an atomic age. SESAC knows it has fulfilled much of the need by sending gratis to the broadcasting industry great quantities of recorded albums, all composed of the SESAC copyrighted repertory. Over 75,000 albums, featuring the finest in popular, jazz, classical, country and western, religious, mood, polka, and band selections, have been released to the radio and television stations of this country and Canada. Each selection in these albums has been chosen with care and discrimination. That the effort was and is successful is a matter of record—over 10,000 comment cards have been received from the broadcasting industry proclaiming the high caliber of these recordings, and telling us that they play an important part in the stations' all-round musical programming. So, by the simple science of numbers and based upon reports from the broadcasting industry itself, SESAC performances for 1957 again spiralled to great heights.

Not only are we at SESAC hopping to keep abreast of daily requests, but, also, as a result of this spotlighting of the SESAC repertory are the record companies, performing artists, orchestral societies, choral groups, dance orchestras and the producers of the country's leading radio and television shows all bolstering their programs with what remains the best music in America—the SESAC repertory.

SESAC is proud and happy to start 1958 with the United Nations as its most recent Transcribed Library subscriber. To be sure, this is not just another account nor is it merely the act of a producer supplying a user with a much-needed item; rather is it concrete proof that music remains the international language. Good music knows no barriers, no tonal curtains; and if they be works of value, will continue to live and inspire spiritual, mental and cultural growth.

It is our hope that in some way the care, taste, talent, and repertory that have gone into the production of the SESAC Transcribed Library will not only bring happiness and entertainment to all races and creeds the world over, but, also, will serve as an instrument of peace through which the peoples of the world will come to know and understand each other better. If our music and efforts are instrumental in such an achievement, then the past years have been worth every day of their living and the future holds no challenge that we cannot meet.

Good luck and best wishes for your health and happiness in the year ahead.

INCREASE YOUR AUDIENCE WITH SIGALERT NEW PUBLIC WARNING SYSTEM!

Sigalert is an instantaneous warning device that brings you confirmed bulletins from a responsible source (normally the Police Department) within minutes of an emergency. The Police radio dispatcher presses a special button at his control panel, which triggers your Sigalert receiver... automatically setting off alarms and recording the message on tape. Any existing police transmitter can be modified to transmit Sigalert bulletins. Your Police Department knows, or soon will know, how simple it is to reach you in a hurry with Sigalert... and through you a grateful listening audience. Write for complete details today. Give PICON (public interest, convenience or necessity) its true voice in your city.

Sigalert receivers are available in desk or rack mounting models (above) or console models (left) with built-in tape recorder.

True Evaluation Of FM Radio Is Gradually Coming To Light

By RAY STONE
Broadcast Supervisor
Maxon, Inc.

BUYING radio time from seven to nine o'clock in the morning is not unusual these days. It now appears that the advantages of early morning radio were concealed for many years. It is probable the present advantages of FM radio are also concealed by various broadcasting industry problems which result in the practical evasion of FM radio by most national advertisers.

It is true much FM radio is duplicated AM radio but it is inconceivable that the average FM set would be purchased either at double or many times the cost of the usual AM set just to obtain the technical benefit of the elimination of interference or static. The considerable additional expenditure appears to be made by persons who expect to hear radio programs not conveniently available or absent from regular AM radio fare and who ultimately realize this expectation through FM. Without this realization, FM receivers would not continue to be sold in increasing quantities.

Contrary to many opinions, FM listeners are not, basically, AM listeners. The competition for audience between the two aural mediums is no greater than that which exists within all advertising media. This belief is substantiated by the fact that not many FM homes are to be found in any area where AM-FM duplication only has occurred. FM homes in any area are in direct proportion to the quantity and quality of the unduplicated FM effort. The FM programs tend to be on the more serious side. The FM audience tends to have more adult characteristics and more disposable income.

Sooner or later, FM stations will be more effectively programmed, researched and promoted on a group basis. Who will get what from such organization? It seems:

1. The public would get a more extensive, different and generally higher level of radio programming with better listening qualities.

2. The station could offer better community service and obtain greatly increased income from clients not now placing business.

3. The advertiser and agency will have a new advertising medium that can deliver a desirable audience at low cost.

4. The manufacturer of sets, transmitters and related products will gain increased demand.

5. Distributors and retailers of sets and related equipment can sell a higher cost product with proportionate higher profit.

6. Service shops will benefit from increased repairs required to maintain performance of FM sets.

7. Record companies and tape manufacturers will acquire greater demand for their products through increased consumer interest brought about by the unique and different FM programs.

These few enumerated advantages of stronger FM organization in the future are only a question of size and not of kind, for they are within FM radio now.

The more direct advantages that FM can presently offer the national advertiser are:

1. An unduplicated, adult audience noticeably free of teenagers and children.

2. An adult listener who has higher income, higher occupational status and more education than the average AM listener or TV viewer.

3. A large, influential and prosperous segment of most major markets. Those people who buy the specialized and more expensive products along with more of most everything else.

4. Constant geographical coverage. No difference in day or night reception such as exists in AM radio. This coverage is also extensive—as extensive as many TV stations.

5. Better reception that is high in quality and free of interference or static.

6. A sizable audience delivered at attractive cost—equal or lower than any other advertising medium.

FM radio offers advantages today. FM tomorrow will offer the then accepted same advantages.

FM radio does exist and can not continue to be ignored by national advertisers. FM already has made its place and has its part to play. Inevitably, the time of complete recognition has to come.

HOW TO APPLY FOR AN FCC LICENSE

Official FCC Procedure for AM, FM and TV Licenses

ANY qualified citizen, firm, or group may apply to the Federal Communications Commission for authority to construct a commercial standard (AM), frequency modulation (FM), or television (TV) broadcast station.

Licensing of these facilities is prescribed by the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which sets up certain basic requirements. In general, applicants must satisfy the Commission that they are legally, technically and financially qualified, and that operation of the proposed station would serve the public convenience, interest or necessity. The Communications Act also recognizes broadcasting as a competitive industry and invests the Commission with the responsibility of allocating facilities so as to provide a fair, efficient, and equitable distribution of radio service.

The licensing procedure is detailed in Part 1 of the Commission's "Rules Relating to Practice and Procedure," while station operation is covered by Part 3, "Rules Governing Radio Broadcast Services," and "Standards of Good Engineering Practice" for AM stations.

Following is a summary of the consecutive steps required in applying for authorization to build and operate a commercial broadcast station. The application procedure is substantially the same whether the facility sought is for AM, FM, or TV broadcast.

Selecting a Frequency

Standard (AM) broadcast stations operate on "local," "regional," or "clear" channels. Local stations are of 100 to 250 watts power and serve smaller communities; stations of 500 watts to 5 kilowatts power cover larger centers of population and surrounding areas; stations of 10 to 50 kilowatt maximum power are for large area coverage, particularly at night. There is no separate classification for AM operation by educational stations.

To determine whether an AM frequency is available for assignment in a particular area, it is necessary for the applicant to have a frequency search made by a competent engineer. The Commission's engineering personnel cannot undertake to make such studies for prospective applicants.

An applicant for a commercial FM station must specify a frequency available to the area to be served. The Commission has tentatively allocated geographic blocks of frequencies to accommodate Class A stations (community) and Class B stations (metropolitan and rural) throughout the United States. The demand for FM stations has not yet exceeded the supply of available frequencies. (The Noncommercial Educational FM Broadcast Service is a separate category with its own rules.)

An applicant for a new television station must request a channel assigned in the Table of Assignments to the community involved. However, a channel assigned to any community listed in the table can be requested for operation in any unlisted community within 15 miles of the listed community. Commercial TV stations are authorized for unlimited hours of operation and are of a single class with minimum power determined by the size of the principal city and maximum power dependent on antenna height and allocation zone. Channels are reserved for noncommercial educational TV operation.

Applying for a Construction Permit

Once a prospective licensee has decided upon the type of station he wishes to apply for, the next step is to make application for a construction permit. This application must be in writing on a form supplied by the Commission (Form 301, "Application for Authority to Construct a New Broadcast Station or Make Changes in an Existing Broadcast Station," which covers AM, FM, and TV broadcast). This form requires information about the citizenship and character of the applicant, as well as his financial, technical, and other qualifications to construct and operate a station, plus details about the transmitting apparatus to be used, and the proposed new service. Triplicate copies are required, one of which must be executed under oath or affirmation.

Application Processing

Applications for new broadcast stations are twice reported by the Commission—when first tendered, and, again, when accepted for filing. Such an application is not acted upon until at least 30 days after public notice is given of its acceptance.

Applications are reviewed in their engineering, legal, and financial aspects by the Broadcast Bureau, which makes recommendations to the Commission.

Applications are, in general, processed in the order in which accepted for filing. There is a Temporary Processing Procedure for TV applications.

If, upon examination of an application, the Commission determines that there are no engineering conflicts, that the applicant is qualified, and that all other requirements are met, the application is granted without hearing and a construction permit is issued.

Any grant made by the Commission without a hearing is subject to protest within a period of 30 days, during which the protesting party may request a hearing. Within 15 days thereafter the Commission must determine whether the objection merits a hearing.

The law requires that, in general, final decision on noncontested applications be rendered within three months from the date of the original filing, and within six months from the conclusion of a hearing in those cases which go through a hearing.

Hearings

Where it appears that an application violates provisions of the Commission's rules and regulations; that interference would be caused to another AM or FM broadcast station; or that the minimum separation requirements for TV stations are not met; or if other serious questions of a technical, legal, or financial character are involved, a hearing usually is required before a final decision on the application can be made. Often a hearing is necessary because two or more applicants seek to use the same frequency or immediately adjacent frequencies with such a proximity of stations that excessive interference would result. In such instances, the Commission is compelled by law to accord a hearing to the competing applicants and to make a comparative judgment as to which, if either, should be granted.

If unable to grant an application, the Commission is required to notify the applicant and other known parties of interest as to the reason. The applicant usually is given 30 days in which to reply. After that, if the Commission is still unable to make a grant, a hearing is ordered.

In designating an application for hearing, the Commission gives public notice of the issues for the information of the applicant and other parties who may be concerned. The hearing notice generally allows the applicant a period of 60 days or more in which to prepare. Even after being designated for hearing, an applicant may sometimes find it possible to satisfy the issues by amending his application, especially if the apparent deficiencies are of an engineering nature.

Competing applications for the same facility are not considered if filed more than 10 days after public notice designating the prior application or applications for hearing.

Hearings are customarily conducted by an examiner. The hearing examiner has authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and rule upon the admission of evidence.

Pre-hearing conferences are held both prior to and after an exchange of exhibits by the parties. The latter takes place at least 20 days in advance of the hearing date, the second pre-hearing conference is held at least 10 days before the hearing commences.

Within 20 days after the close of a record by the hearing examiner, each party and the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau of the Commission has the privilege of filing proposed findings of fact and conclusions in support of their contentions. After review of the evidence and statements, the hearing examiner issues an initial decision.

In the event he wishes to contest the initial decision, the applicant or any other interested party has 20 days from the date on which the initial decision was announced to file exceptions and to request oral argument before the Commission. In all cases heard by an examiner, the Commission will hear oral argument on request of either party. After oral argument, the Commission may adopt, modify, or reverse the hearing examiner's initial decision. Within 30 days thereafter, any party involved may petition for rehearing.

If no exceptions are filed, and the Commission does not initiate a review of the hearing examiner's initial decision, the latter becomes effective 40 days after the issuance of the initial decision, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission. Court appeals can be taken within 30 days following announcement of the commission decision.

Construction Permit

When and if an application meets statutory and other requirements, it is granted and a construction permit is issued. A maximum of 60 days from date of grant is provided in which construction shall begin, and a maximum of 6 months thereafter as the time for completion (or 8 months in all). Application to modify a broadcast construction authorization, or to make changes in an existing station, or to modify a license, is made on the same form (301) used in seeking initial construction authorization. If the permittee is unable to build his station within the time specified, he can apply for extension of time on Form 701 ("Application for Additional Time to Construct a Radio Station"), giving the reasons. Upon completion of construction the permittee can engage in equipment tests.

License

The final step is to apply for the actual license. All applicants for broadcast license are required to fill out Form 302 ("Application for New Broadcast Station License"). Applicants must show compliance with all terms, conditions, and obligations set forth in the original application and the construction permit. After applying for a license and receiving authority from the Commission, the holder of a construction permit can conduct program tests. A station license is then issued if no new cause or circumstance has come to the attention of the Commission that would make operation of the station contrary to public interest.

AM, FM and TV broadcast stations are licensed for the statutory limit of three years. Applications for renewal of license are made on Form 303, which is "Application for Renewal of Broadcast Station License."

If the holder of a construction permit or license desires to assign the same to someone else, he makes application on form 314 ("Application for Consent to Assignment of Radio Broadcast Station Construction Permit or License").

Should the permittee or the licensee wish to transfer corporate control, he applies on Form 315 ("Application for Consent to Transfer Control of Corporation Holding Radio Broadcast Station Construction Permit or License").

In certain cases a permittee or licensee can apply for a transfer of corporate control or an assignment of license by using form 316 ("Application for Assignment or Transfer—Short Form"). This form may only be used when the transfer or assignment is pro forma or technical in nature; i.e., where no substantial changes in interest occur.
