Chicago Radio Show to Dazzle Town Next Week

News Commentator

'Radio It' Contest, Television Projection to Be Featured

When the 10th annual Chicago Radio-Electrical show comes to town January 18th, the Chicago Coliseum will become a wonderland of 20th century magic.

Visitors will see on display the latest wonders in radio, television, and electrical appliances and further will feast their eyes on two reigning belles: "Miss Radio," and "Miss Television" who will add their feminine charms to the proceedings.

"Miss Radio" is to be selected from a group of radio aspirants from half a dozen states, and will represent the embodiment of "Radio It." Only artists are eligible to compete in the contest who have not appeared on more than five network programs during 1931. The aspirants will be judged solely on the personality they are able to project into their performances, physical beauty having no place in a search for the "it" girl.

"Miss Television" will be selected locally on the sole basis of televisable beauty, the show management announced.

While the displays of the most modern styles, refinements and innovations in radio will be dazzling in themselves, the "ace" demonstration of the show will be the production of giant size television pictures. Ulysses A. Sanabria, Chicago's youthful television engineer and leader in the theatrical television field, will direct and supervise the presentation of a giant television screen weighing, with apparatus, 12,000 lbs., and reaching the astounding size of 25 ft. There is some doubt whether a suitable trans lux screen of that size can be furnished in time for the show.

Carveth Wells, famous African explorer, wit, author, and raconteur of thrilling adventures, will act as master of ceremonies.

In the field of household electrical appliances, many new products will make their debut. A device known as Lowell Thomas, war correspondent, cow puncher, reporter, editor, gold miner, college professor, special plenipotentiary to Europe during the World War, and famous broadcaster, has seen more of life in a month than most people have in a life time. Thomas has traveled more than a million miles and spoken before more than 6,000,000 people. He has written dozens of magazine articles and seventeen books, the best known of which are "With Lawrence in Arabia," "Beyond Khyber Pass," "Raiders of the Deep," "Count von Luckner."

The "Mounties" Dramatized in New NBC Series

Canada's Mounted and Canada Dry Take to the Ether Waves

The real story of the Canadian Royal Mounted Police, written by the official historian of the group that always gets its man, will be dramatized in a new series of programs to begin over an NBC network this Monday at 9:00 p. m.

T. Morris Longstreth, who claims the distinction of being the only man outside the organization ever to have been granted access to complete records, will write the continuity for the program, to be known as "With Canada's Mounted." Official permission for use of the facts contained in each manuscript was necessary before the series could be started, according to the program sponsor, the Canada Dry Ginger Ale Company.

Each broadcast will be a complete story in itself, dealing with the inside history of some famous Canadian crime or criminal. The initial show tells how a famous forger was run to earth. The title is "The Case of Ernest Cashell."

Longstreth, author of "The Son of the Mounted Police" and "The Silent Force," has spent years delving into the files of the organization about which he writes.

Boswell Sisters to Be Heard on Pompeian

The Boswell Sisters—Connie, Vet, and Martha—whose inimitable vocal harmonies have long been a popular Columbia feature, are heard three times weekly; each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6:30 to 6:45 p. m., on the Pompeian Make-Up Box program.

Jeannette de Cordet will be retained on the program as Mistress of Ceremonies, but other features of the old "Make-Up Box" will be discontinued.

Hugh Aspinwall Is Author of Series Heard on WBBM

"The Mystic Cathedral" Features Many Dramatic Stars

New in theme and method of presentation is "The Mystic Cathedral," a recently introduced weekly sustaining series on WBBM each Sunday at 8:45 to 9:00 p. m.

A charming story concerning a group of characters, who, for various reasons are forced to live somewhat imaginative lives, presents a complete episode in each broadcast.

The dramas are enacted in front of a constant background of organ music. J. Wilson Doty, WBBM organist, has made his own arrangements of appropriate accompanying scores.

Hugh Aspinwall, announcer, actor and director, has prepared these scripts. Among those taking dramatic roles are: Irene Wicker, Bess K. Johnson, Vinton Haworth, Val Sherman and John Daly.

OLD PALS

Leonard Hayton always plays the piano accompaniment for Bing Crosby on his nightly Cremo programs. He replaces the regular pianist during the vocal numbers. His association with Bing dates back to the time when the latter was one of the Rhythm Boys and Hayton was pianist and one of the arrangers for Paul Whiteman.

The boys are well known for their work with Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, as singers of close and scintillating harmony. Local outlet WBBM.

S. A. Baritone in New NBC Series

Tito Coral, South American baritone, who recently was engaged for Ziegfeld's forthcoming show, is featured as a soloist over an NBC network at 10:30 p. m. each Monday, and Wednesday.

Coral presents numbers from many popular Spanish operettas which are little known in this country, and also sings romantic English songs. This marks his first appearance in a radio series.

Coral was a choir boy in a Venezuelan church when a producer offered him his first role in opera. He abandoned his studies for the priesthood and embarked on a musical career. He has made concert tours of South America and Spain, as well as appearing in musical productions in the United States. He was heard in New York in "A Night in Spain" and "Pleasure Bound."

Bob Becker Relates Fish Stories Every Sunday over WGN

Giant black bass, swaying palms under a hot sun, bait casting from the running board of an automobile—who doesn't want to go to Florida this winter and have some fun? Bob Becker will give sportsmen a taste of bass fishing in Florida, Sunday night at 7:30 over WGN, when he and his friend Bill get together for a fanning bee on southern angling with the black bass playing the hero role. One of the amusing stories which Mr. Becker, author of "Memo! Go Fishing" a new book on fishing, and an experienced southern fisherman, tells concerns a certain canal in southern Florida where you can actually catch fish from your automobile. Tips on how to use a lure that does a "Cuban rumba," rod and lines for southern bass fishing, and even where to go to get the 15 pounders is included in this chatty 15 minute outdoor session.

Columbia Stars Greet Europe in Hour Broadcast

Downey, Wons, Smith, Seidel and Mills Brothers to be Heard

The second of a series of typical American programs, entitled "Hello, Europe!," which the Columbia Broadcasting System is transmitting to Great Britain and the Continental countries will also be simultaneously heard over the Columbia chain this Monday from 3:15 to 4:15 p. m. Performances by several of radio's best known entertainers will contribute to the international program, which will be opened by Freddie Rich and his Columbians Orchestra playing a symphonic jazz arrangement of "Way Down South in Heaven." The Camel Quarter Hour combination, Morton Downey, Tony Wons and Jacques Renard's Orchestra, will follow with several selected favorites. Others of the array of talent to be introduced to Europe include Toscha Seidel, the Mills Brothers, the Street Singer, the Boswell Sisters, Kate Smith, and Howard Barlow conducting the Columbia Symphony Orchestra—all to be heard in their characteristic offerings.

Gilchrest to Speak on "DX" Clubs on CBS

A talk on "DX," as distance radio reception is known, will be given by Charles Gilchrest, radio editor of the Chicago Daily News, when he faces Columbia microphones from 4:45 to 5:00 p. m. this Tuesday during "Bill Schudt's Going to Press."

Identified with radio writing and organization for more than eight years, Gilchrest created the first "National DX Club" in this country, which still exists. He will speak from the Columbia studios in Chicago.

Ad-Verse Criticism

GEORGE M. COHAN IS SUBJECT OF GEORGE M. COHAN

After an absence of two weeks, Gerardine will return to the Columbia network this Tuesday at 7:45 p. m. with an entirely new program to be known as Broadway's Greatest Thrills, featuring Ed Sullivan, widely-read Broadway columnist, and guest stars.

George M. Cohan will appear before the microphone as guest on the first of the new series. The program will open with "Give My Regards to Broadway," one of the most popular numbers ever written by Cohan, and will continue with dance selections by the Gerardine Orchestra and a dramatization of the most thrilling episode in Cohan's life.

The incident Cohan recalls most vividly as the most thrilling and which will be dramatized, took place during the World War when he, Gus Edwards and other Broadway stars journeyed to Fort Myers, Va., to give A. E. F. members a send-off during the time when all roads were guarded for the capture of a pseudo-assassin who had threatened the life of a prominent political figure.

"HOOSIER EDITOR" HEARD TWICE EACH WEEK ON WBBM

Frederick Landis, former Congressman and widely known as "The Hoosier Editor," will inaugurate a new two-a-week sustaining series over WBBM at 8:15 p. m. each Monday and Saturday.

He is the brother of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball. He is the author of the novel dramatized as "The Copperhead" in which Lionel Barrymore starred. Under his pen-name of "The Hoosier Editor," his pithy, humorous comments on the news of the day have been widely quoted and printed in newspaper syndicates.

MEET the ARTIST

AMOS 'N' ANDY

Two men and two women were seated around a bridge table discussing Amos and Andy. Fifteen minutes ago, they had interrupted the most exciting bridge hand of the evening to tune in on the two black-faced comedians, and now as the haunting strains of "Perfect Song" died away, a puzzled moment of silence came over the group.

Then someone started to talk. WHAT made people listen to Amos and Andy? Quickly they put down on paper the high points of interest in the broadcast they had just heard. Nothing much was noted—a few chuckles—a few smiles—a few humorous mispronunciations—and the two voices had faded from the ether.

And yet—and yet there was something. The women said they awakened the maternal instinct in them. The men that they were human, and that people had gotten the "Amos and Andy habit." They were all right, and yet they were incomplete.

Let us go back eleven years and see if we can ferret out the secret of the two men who have, for the past two and one half years, presented an act that enjoys the largest number of ears ever lent a radio act in the history of broadcasting.

About eleven years ago, a man named Joe Bren, producer of home talent shows, was telegraphed by one of his managers that he had discovered an amateur performer in Davenport, Iowa, who could play a piano and had a way of capturing his audiences that was down right professional. Did Joe want to use him as manager of his home talent shows? Joe did. His name was Charles J. Correll and from the first, he proved the cleverest and most dependable manager on Joe Bren's force. That is—almost the cleverest. Joe had a lot of respect and admiration for a chap whom he had picked up in Richmond, Virginia, and put on his payroll as manager of home talent shows in the south. He had also been an amateur—and his name, ladies and gentlemen, was Freeman F. Gosden.

For the next five years Charles and Freeman worked separately and together "doing the road." Circuses—minstrel shows—comedies—the two boys would go into a small town and organize home talent for a show. Maybe they would sell the idea to the Elks for a benefit performance, and then would follow rehearsals with any of the townspeople who had the ability and inclination to come into the cast. The two were a great success. They have directed senators, school-teachers, mayors, stage-struck 16 yr. olds, spoiled children, and women with "expression" complexes. And all have liked them. They have a knack with people.

Out of this came a splendid opportunity to study human nature, and to assimilate all the possible humorous, pathetic, and dramatic situations of the theatre. And perhaps the most valuable thing they learned in their intimate contact with all ages and types of people was that clean humor enjoys the greatest market. Amos and Andy have never been identified with an off-color joke. They are as wholesome as a freshly-baked loaf of bread.

In Joliet, Illinois, where they were playing a show, a director of a small radio station asked them to appear on one of the studio programs. Freeman and Gosden were obliging. They played—and out of it came a ghost of an idea. Why not try radio? WHY NOT RADIO?

WGN said "why not," too, when

HOLD STILL PLEASE

James Melton, tenor with the Revelers Quartet, has a Japanese butler in his Riverside Drive pent house who causes much amusement among NBC artists who call their fellow broadcaster by telephone. Instead of asking callers to "Hold the phone," the butler always tells them to "Sit still please, thank you very much."

Studio Gossip

One of radio's strangest coincidences occurred recently when an S. O. S. required WABC to go off the air just as Count von Luckner was describing a thrilling moment which took place during his daring running of the British blockade.

CBS engineers picked up the signal of the naval radio station at Norfolk, Va., advising that a Mexican freighter was disabled in the vicinity of the Panama Canal. Thus was Count von Luckner's tale of an exciting maritime incident brought to an abrupt conclusion.

Radio artists seldom stay in the studios in order to watch the rehearsal of a fellow performer, but such was the case recently when Roy Smeck, known as the "wizard of the strings," was going through his paces prior to being on the air. Smeck demonstrated his ability to make a single guitar sound like a full string ensemble. In order to do this he picks the instrument with four fingers, while most players use but one.

A petrified human head graces that New York apartment of F. A. Mitchell-Hedges, explorer who broadcasts over an NBC network on "The Land of Wonder and Fear." He obtained it from natives in the jungles of Central America.

The Burke Sisters, heard from WCFL on afternoon and early evening programs and featured with Texas Guinan's show at the Planet Mars, are not show-girls by preference! A few years back when their brother Charles decided to give up his ambition to become a priest because his financial aid was needed at home, the girls offered to shoulder the responsibility in his place. Being unusually beautiful (it's a fact) the girls soon found a job in a nightclub, singing and dancing. Their success was immediate so it was only natural that they should one day find themselves with the Queen of the nightclubs, Mrs. Guinan's daughter, Texas. The girls, Jeanie, Rita and Peggy, are slated to do big things via the ether.

The Boswell sisters have received a letter from a woman's college informing them that a "Boswell Club" is being formed in their honor. In order to become a member of the new organization college girls don't necessarily have to be able to sing harmonies in what has been termed "that Boswell manner," but they do wear the characteristic Boswell curl in the middle of the forehead.

Pat Barnes is back on the air after his first vacation since the early days of radio (back in 1920), at 11:15 a. m. on WENR. He will again introduce each of the twenty characters of Jimtown, featured in his Jim-

Ed Shapiro and Bert Shefter, who make up the two-piano team which accompanies Vaughn de Leath on Columbia, were once rival music teachers in Philadelphia. Each began taking the other's pupils, and in order to avoid unnecessary competition they combined. This worked so well that they also decided on a two-piano partnership. They wanted to specialize in classical renditions, but found a greater audience in interpretations of popular music and so concentrated on that field, came to New York and were featured in the musical comedy "Rio Rita."

Miss Georgia Graves, NBC contralto, substituted in the role of Ortrud in Wagner's "Lohengrin," as presented recently under the direction of Walter Damrosch, just ten minutes before broadcast time. She was notified that Miss Alma Kitchell, contralto, scheduled for the role, was ill, and she studied the scores as she rushed to the New York studio in a cab.

John O'Hara, veteran WCFL sports announcer, is now doing studio mike duty afternoons in addition to his sports review at 5:00 p. m. He has also been signed to do 13 commercial records for national distribution, presenting outstanding sports events of the past.

Peter Dixon's Raising Junior is among the few NBC programs without any music.

"Your daily Raising Junior broadcast is a blessing," a woman recently wrote to NBC. "My husband hasn't helped me with any house work for fifteen years. After listening to the domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lee in the Raising Junior program tonight, he came into the kitchen and washed the dishes." Peter Dixon, author of the scripts, also wrote the song, "Washing Dishes With My Sweetie."

Among the Christmas presents received by Kate Smith was a huge crate of scallops, clams and oysters sent to her by a Maine fisherman.

Colonel Stoopnagle has come out with a timely solution of how the busy man can evade the problem of writing numberless greeting cards to his many friends. Stoopnagle and his partner, Budd, made use of the new scheme this season. They hired a "sandwich man" to carry a sign about, announcing to all who saw it that the two comedians extended their best wishes to all.

The Blue Ridge Boys, who sing hill-billy tunes on Uncle Olie's children's programs, spent their first Christmas in a city. Leo Chippers, one of the group, experienced a near-disaster while doing his shopping. He went into a large department store to buy a bathrobe to send back to his mountaineer folks. After he had been shown the proper counter, the sales-girl left to attend to another customer. After Leo had found the garment which he wanted, he put it over his arm and started to look for the cashier so that he could pay. The store's detective saw him and it took half an hour for the mountaineer to explain his way out of the predicament.

It was 11:02 o'clock—Lucky Strike had just come off the air. Walter Winchell rushed out of the studio to the reception room and put in a call to Florida, where his wife and daughter are wintering. The wisecracking columnist, his face wreathed in smiles, talked for many minutes to his little Gloria.

Tito Coral, new NBC star, studied for the priesthood until a South American producer discovered his baritone voice in a church choir and gave him an opera role. Coral is to be featured as a singing torch-singer in Ziegfeld's forthcoming show.

George Beuchler recently got into the spotlight without knowing he was doing so. While attending a performance in one of New York's movie-vaudeville houses recently George recognized an old-time friend playing in the orchestra. He went up to talk to him and soon was deeply engrossed in conversation. As he was conversing the orchestra platform was slowly rising and he found himself taking bows when the spotlight was thrown on the musicians.

Myrt, of "Myrt and Marge" has received from a west-coast admirer a memento of ten years ago.

The fan, after hearing Myrt during her five-a-week series over the Columbia network, mailed in a vaudeville program of 1921 from a San Francisco theatre then featuring Jack Lait's "The Sixth Reel." The feminine lead was listed as Myrtle Vail, the same Myrtle Vail who now writes and plays the lead in "Myrt and Marge."

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth has received letters from three veteran radio listeners, each of whom said he never had written a "fan" communication until the Tune Detective began over an NBC network. One of the men has been turning the dials for twelve years and another for eight.

Feminine Foibles

ANN DE HAAN

There seems to be some squabbling going on between the children radio listeners and their elders, and this is how it all started. A gentleman voiced his opinion in the Radio Guide's "Voice of the Listener" that there were too many children's programs on the air between the hours of five and seven; when a hard working man came home from the office he didn't care to hear about Ducky Lucky or Flexies Pixies. Well, the children, being of this modern generation, came right back at the gentleman. Seven of them wrote one letter to say that they and all their friends liked the children's programs and the hours between five and seven were the only ones they had to listen, and if Mr. Adult didn't like their programs, he could just tune in on something else.

Of course this bit of squabbling won't do a bit of good as far as changing the programs is concerned, but it would be interesting to note which side has the most sympathizers. When Daddy comes home from the office does he make the kids tune off Harold Teen so he can hear Cab Calloway's Orchestra? Does it help mother any to know that the kids will come running home at 5:30 to sit quietly listening to the tales of the Lone Wolf Tribe?

Remember the time when we were told that "children should be seen and not heard? Try and tell your children that now, and you'll get the merry Haw Haw, or some retort that would be sure to shock grandma. We're even afraid to tell them such a thing for fear of giving them an inferiority complex or some other complex.

One twelve year old girl, the Princess Tatiana Wiasemsky of London, has, with the help of some of her school friends, edited and published a monthly journal called the "Will o' the Wisp." These children wrote the contents, made arrangements with printers, obtained advertisements, and expect to make the magazine pay.

Now we'd better watch our steps or Johnny might up and write a book about us. And what some of these modern kids could tell!

Why, oh why, will Hawaiian guitarists insist on playing Sweet Georgia Brown? This is not at all the type of music that should be played on this most plaintive of all melody makers, the Hawaiian guitar. Hawaiian or dreamy music, like Rock Me In a Cradle of Kalua, as played by Jim and Bob over WIBO, makes you think of Full moons, swaying palms, and soft breezes. Jim and Bob are veterans of the air, and we're glad to have them back at WIBO.

You may also ask Mrs. Snowden about any household problem you may have and she'll be glad to solve it for you. It's your Laundrymen entertaining and trying to help you, on WBBM at 11:30 a. m.

Listening to Aunt Jemina sing southern and popular songs for you, don't you picture her as a big husky colored woman? I don't know if she really is big or husky or even colored, but her deep voice sounds like it, and Aunt Jemina, of course, should be colored. She sounds a little like Kate Smith, another Swanee songster, but her voice is huskier and deeper. WBBM at 1:00 p. m.

Does Minnie hold her nose when she speaks, or does she use a clothes-pin. Sounds like it, doesn't it? The Dan and Sylvia sketch seems to be a very popular one with the listeners. And what a sharp tongue Minnie has, and those wisecracks would shrivel an oak.

One of the pioneers of radio is Fred L. Jeske, whose pleasant crooning voice is pleasing so many listeners. Fred sings a very pretty song called "Consolation," which he says is so new he had to pose as "The

ORCHESTRAL DOINGS

Phil Levant, "the blushing batoneer" . . . now playing an engagement at the Club Madrid, Milwaukee . . . broadcasting daily over WTMJ . . . wore a Lord Fauntleroy suit and called his mother "dearest" when he was a boy . . . at eleven he decided that he would not become a concert violinist as his family wanted . . . but would organize his own band and go into vaudeville . . . started out at 19 with his own orchestra known as "The Northern Collegians" . . . then Looks as if Jacques Renard's title of "heavyweight dance orchestra leader" is in jeopardy, as Henry Busse, the rotund maestro, through his manager, claims recognition on the basis of poundage. Henry, who opened an engagement at the Netherland-Plaza Hotel on January 1 with broadcasts over WLW, once was first trumpeter and assistant director for Whiteman. Many times he was taken for the "King of Jazz" because of his little mustache and his avoirdupois.

Bernie Cummins, the dapper young Music Corporation maestro, who, with his New Yorkers, played for three years at the Biltmore Hotel in New York City, has a mailing list of 3,500 names representing friends he has made throughout the country during the years he has been an orchestra leader. The list, card indexed, is kept up to date by his brother, Walter, a member of the band. Bernie often sends post cards to the entire mailing list from the city in which he is playing. Right now cards are going forward from Milwaukee, where he is playing an engagement at the Hotel Schroeder with broadcasts over WTMJ.

Lloyd Huntley, director of the Isle o' Blues orchestra, is a licensed aviation pilot and once flew a plane on a commercial line in Canada.

Wayne King's library of waltz music contains 486 orchestrations. The famous waltz maestro never throws away a waltz number. He has, however, discarded many fox trot tunes.

Charles Agnew and his orchestra, has replaced Paul Whiteman at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago and is heard over an NBC network.

Ted Weems, popular radio orchestra leader, opines that "Time on My Hands"

Shown" to get out of the publishers' office with it. He's heard over WGN at 1:15 p. m.

Brooks and Ross, those two Kentucky boys who do some pleasant harmonizing over WBBM at 12:15 are mad at their announcer because he said, right out loud where we could all hear them, that they may have been bred in Kentucky, but they're only crumbs up here. He's on old meanie, yes?

It's never too late to learn, so if you've always planned to build a castle in Spain, better tune in WMAQ at 4:30, and learn some Elementary Spanish. Sabe Espanol?

Songs that leave you humming: "Leven pounds of Heaven" and "How long will it last."

organized "The Royal Revelers" and played engagements all over the country . . . is 28 . . . friendly . . . and unspoiled . . . dislikes talking pictures . . . "Bend Down Sister" is his favorite tune . . . and Sophie Tucker his favorite songstress . . . Phil fears only two people—Al Capone and Walter Winchell . . . "The blushing batoneer" has outgrown his Lord Fauntleroy suit and artists tie . . . he's a full grown orchestra leader with an infectious smile, baton, and everything.

is the theme song of the watch makers' union. The MCA p. a. still thinks it's a sequel to "The Prisoner's Song."

When Ben Bernie, "the ole maestro," announced the other night that his orchestra would play "Good Night Sweetheart" for "the first time over any radio station," two tubes blew out in the radio receiving set of the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial Hospital at Maywood, Ill.

Husk O'Hare, popular Music Corporation of America orchestra leader, who is playing an engagement in Cleveland, with broadcasts over WTAM, is using black bordered stationery these days. Husk is mourning the loss of his chow dog, "Band," who could play a special cornet and even received fan mail. "Band" was the father of "Jazz," and the "Jazz-Band" combination of canines attracted a lot of attention everywhere they went.

The new Maytag orchestra program, which goes on the air January 11 over the NBC Blue Network from KYW, was produced by Paul Kapp of the radio department of Music Corporation of America, and will feature Clarence Wheeler, chief arranger and musical director of the Public-Balaban & Katz theatres in Chicago. Mr. Wheeler will direct an orchestra of twenty musicians in a popular program each Monday night from 8 to 8:30 p. m.

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians are great aviation fans. Whenever they make a road trip, the orchestra uses planes when practical. Recently they flew from Chicago to New York in a tri-motor plane. The band instruments were packed away in the plane's baggage compartment.

The driver of a double-deck bus passing Lawrence Avenue and Sheridan Road on Chicago's north side used his "low bridge" megaphone to call out "Aragon Ballroom—Home of Wayne King." Women passengers sighed, and one fair maid asked the driver to stop the bus. James Caine, bus driver, is credited with the tale and declares he made the announcement as a joke.

New Year's resolutions among famous radio orchestra leaders include: Ben Bernie—Will stop smoking cigars. Paul Whiteman—No more dieting. Wayne King—Will play fox trots exclusively.

Ted Weems—Will save all laugh getting gags for traffic cops. Herbie Kay—Will quit playing the banjo. Guy Lombardo—Will refuse all commercial programs unless agents smoke Robert Burns Panatelas. Orchestra Leaders—To be courteous and considerate to all music publishers.

OUT OF THE EVERYWHERE

to Margot Dee

A column dedicated to RADIO GUIDE readers. You and your friends are invited to write in for information concerning radio, radio stars, and your own favorite broadcasts. If the information is forthcoming, we will get it for you. If you desire a personal answer, a self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring it to you.

It breaks our young heart to say that we have received another letter about Lawrence Salerno. Not because we aren't fond of Lawrence—he's a charming person—but because we have almost run out of facts concerning him. We've discussed his hair—his voice—his age—his eyes—and now comes a letter from Frances Allyn asking how tall he is.

We will have to stroke our chin on that one. It seems to us, that he must be about 5 foot 8 inches tall—no more, no less. As to Frank Parker, Miss Allyn, we can only tell you what you already know—that he is youngish, tenorish, and is pleasing the fans. The young man lives in New York.

You won't believe it when we tell you that we received a letter today addressed to Margot Dee, conductor. (It has come to that!) Also a young man informs us that we are the only columnist he has ever written. Another sends along a proposal of marriage. "My dears, my dears, this must cease," she said weakly, "henceforth I will be just a sister to you!"

Betty Olivette of Lansing, Michigan, asks for a description of her favorite radio artist, Russ Columbo.

Russ is just 23 years old—has brown eyes and black hair—is about 6 foot tall—and is not married.

Mrs. Miller of Beloit, Wisconsin, writes to find out the name of the Beloit girl who was married to Al Cameron of the Al and Pete sketches, a few weeks ago.

NBC Artist Service informs us that the famous Al is not, to their knowledge, married. So you see, Mrs. Miller, you have really stuck your finger in the pie. It would be great fun if it were true—but are you sure of your information?

The Smith Family are the subject of a frantic search by one of their admirers, Billy Gundel of Chicago, Illinois.

Stop worrying, Billy, and tune in on WLS on Sunday at 2:00 p. m. The Smiths await you.

"How old are Ben Bernie, Wayne King, Cab Calloway, and Ted Weems? 2. How many orchestras are there in the United States and which do you think the best? 3. Where can one send for pictures of orchestras and radio stars? 4. Which is the highest paid orchestra: Cab Calloway, Wayne King, or Ben Bernie? 5. What is the approximate salary of the average orchestra performer?" writes Leonard Jaroszewski, of South Bend, Indiana.

1. An orchestra leader is as touchy about his age as a not-so-young prima donna. Wayne is 31 years old, for sure. Bernie is over thirty. The rest are less than that. Which is the best we can do for you. 2. There is no way of determining how many orchestras there are in the United States, must be thousands of them—and which is the best is something that we wouldn't dare venture an opinion on, in print. 3. Music Corporation of America, for orchestras, or direct to the artist in care of his station connection. We are not promising you results. 4. Unofficially, Ben Bernie first, Wayne King, a close second, and Cab Calloway, third. 5. Orchestra performers in any major orchestra are paid all the way from 80 to 300 dollars a week—featured performers may get more.

Which ends the spasm for this week—soo you seen!

Meet the Artist

they submitted their idea of a radio comic strip called "Sam an' Henry." The act prospered and from it came the Amos and Andy sketches which were later sold to the National Broadcasting Company and WMAQ.

We all know the rest of the story—and that the two comedians have already written continuity that would fill over four average-length novels. And that, further, the radio audience's motto, as far as Amos and Andy are concerned, is "More and more and more broadcasts."

Which still has not answered the why of their success. Our guess is this: Amos and Andy are funny—at no ones expense. They do not offend a single class of people. It is a notable thing that altho the sketches are written around two ignorant and laughable negroes, they have never given offense to the negro race. People laugh with them, and not at them.

They are clean. Their broadcasts are as safe for the children as for the ultra-sophisticates.

Grace Wilson

Grace Wilson's deep contralto voice is heard on many programs presented from the WCFL studios. You are sure to hear her each Wednesday from 9:30 to 10:15 p. m., when she broadcasts a special concert with Eddy Hanson at the organ. The same team are presented on Monday and Friday from 12:00 to 1:00 p. m. Grace is the pioneer artist who made "Bringing Home The Bacon" famous.

Thompkins Corners and the "Real Folks" Move to Columbia

What happens when two radio-minded youths in Thompkins Corners, U. S. A., start experimenting with home-made broadcasting apparatus, will be shown when Matt Thompkins and his "Real Folks" inaugurate their series of rural dramatic sketches over the Columbia network this Sunday at 4:00 p. m.

Although new to Columbia audiences, the "Real Folks" series has been one of the most popular script acts on the air for the past three and one half years. George Frame Brown, author and actor in the sketches, is well known as the writer of the first script act written especially for radio, as well as the "Main Street" series. He is also a stock actor of wide experience. The supporting cast, which has portrayed these roles for nearly four years over NBC networks, will remain virtually intact to bring Columbia listeners the familiar characters of the village.

MARCH OF THE HOURS

The Ear to the Ground . . .

Jill and Judy have just been dotted and lined by NBC for another year . . . Ted Weems is still negotiating, but the sponsor hasn't decided on a network, yet . . . ho! hum! this Chicago-columnist-go-radioing only seems to make interesting conversation . . . O. G. they seem to be on the verge of making the ether one hundred per cent nicotine . . . Mike Porter, our eastern radio ed is said to be writing a play satirizing the radio biz just as the Kaufman "Once in a Lifetime" opus razzed the Hollywooders . . . There are going to be squeals (not static) in the Fisdale household near February eight or thereabouts. Tolya, incidentally, is clicking off a nice photo-placement percentage for the NBC-eems-time-for-a-picture-people . . . Pine-apples are going to make mighty fine listening although nothing definite has been decided as yet . . . Mary Jane isn't the only name that the Whiteman-signed Jane Vance is interested in. She's been practicing at writing S-t-a-b-i-l-e . . . Interesting to know that Quin Ryan used to do a bit of ghosting for J. P. McEvoy . . . There's an aspiring young songster who still has his fingers crossed hoping that a certain food company likes his yodeling well enough to chain him with a green-backed contract . . . Was rather pleased to learn that those coffee blenders agreed with me about Tom, Dick and Harry, and put them under a thirteen week contract. And that's not all. The trio, with Carl Hoefle, are New-York bound for some picture tests. If they smile pretty, they're very like to get a contract for some eight-minute-shorts. The first picture planned, thus far, is to be built around a native setting with the "Song of the Bayou" as the theme . . . A. H. is not engaged, he informs me. Which doesn't mean he won't be . . . Mid-January is going to find a very well known musician in N'Yawk unencumbered and without previously rumored conflicting contracts. A certain gentleman initialed "W" will understand . . . And so, they want Eddie South for broadcast purposes. If he should be etherized, his would be the smallest (six pieces) band pick-up in the city . . . The Don Bernards are beaming proudly over that eight-pound boy who learned to say "Mama, dear" and "Papa, dear" within a week . . . It'll be oil right if that petroleum company can find what it's looking for . . . Those that might, won't confirm the rumor about B. A. Rolfe going back as one of the Lucky orchestrateers . . . Leonard C. L. Cox, the writer of those "Main Street Sketches" is rated as a millionaire. His quill driving is a mere hobby . . . New York now seems to be taking credit for discoverng Mildred (R.) Bailey, the Whiteman warbler . . . Now, Franz Lehar seems to be the musical vogue.

I Nominate For the Headlines . . .

Ben Bernie, whose bienseance helps distinguish him as America's greatest m. c. (microphone commentator) . . . Droll Charley Lyons, WENR's night watcher, whose facetious presentation of Earl Hines makes that nightly feature sparkle . . . Hank Richards for his excellent WAAF-woofing . . . Pierre Andre whose presence complements, and is a compliment to his every program.

CHICAGO RADIO SHOW TO DAZZLE TOWN NEXT WEEK

the "electrical housemaid," said to be adaptable to every conceivable chore about the ordinary house from polishing floors to getting baby a drink at 2:00 a. m., is the mystery element in this phase of the show and is expected to amaze thousands of visitors to the exhibition.

Headquarters for the trade representatives attending the show will be at the Congress hotel, which will also be the scene of the National Radio Rally and Mass Meeting of the service men's convention. The convention, opening January 18th, will run concurrently with the show for three days.

'ROUND THE TOWN

Theatres

Balieff's "Chauve-Souris"—This noted Russian impressario again as Master of Ceremonies brings a new revue of sixteen numbers with "The Queen of Spades" as the feature. (Selwyn: second week).

Broken Dishes—A well staged, well acted comedy. Lots of fun for the whole family. (Adelphi: fourth week).

Elizabeth the Queen—Elizabeth Risdon in the second Chicago engagement of this delightful historical drama. (Studebaker: third week).

Grand Hotel—Eugenie Leontovich, ably assisted by Sam Jaffe and Siegfried Rummann in one of the season's smash hits. A clever portrayal of life in a hotel, each person a distinct character in weaving the web of circumstances. (Grand Opera House: sixth week).

Marching By—Schubert's merry musical romance featuring Natalie Hall, Guy Robertson and Solly Ward. (Great Northern: seventh week).

Rhapsody in Black—Symphonic notes, blue rhythm, songs, dances, comedy and pathos. All in this all-colored show of Lew Leslie, starring Ethel Waters. (Garrick: third week).

The House Beautiful—Channing Pollock again scores. A clever play, ingeniously staged, that carries a powerful kick. (Harris: third week).

The Wonder Bar—Al Jolson no longer singing "Mammy." He has now translated and finds his old friend "Ma Mere." But after all, there's only one Jolson. (Apollo: fourth week).

Three's A Crowd—Clifton Webb, Fred Allen and Libby Holman in a bright, snappy comedy just full of tunes. (Erianger: fourth week).

Movies

Chicago Theatre—Barbara Stanwyck, one of the finest emotional actresses on the screen, in "Forbidden." Assisting Miss Stanwyck are Adolphe Menjou and Ralph Bellamy. The stage show is "Stage Doors," a glimpse of life backstage with Bob Hall, The Briants, Webster and Marino, and others.

Oriental Theatre—"Manhattan Parade," a story of two producers trying to put on a sensational show—sparing no expense. A lunatic is hired to direct. Plenty of laughs with Winnie Lightner, Charles Butterworth and Smith and Dale. On the stage—more laughs—Roscoe Ates in person. Walter O'Keefe is held over for a second week to team up with Ates.

McVickers Theatre—The second week of the dual personality of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," with Frederic Marsch of the beloved Dr. Jekyll and the hideous, evil Mr. Hyde.

Roosevelt Theatre—Jackie Cooper and Robert Coogan still drawing the crowds to see "Sooky." A great movie for kids, both grown up and otherwise.

United Artists Theatre—The glamorous Gloria Swanson in her latest production "Tonight or Never" is as entrancing and beautiful as ever. Melvyn Douglas, the young hero, is a new figure on the screen, but does credit to the role. He played the same role in the New York production of the play.

Cinema Theatre—Dostoyevsky's "The Brothers Karamazov," an all-German dialogue feature starring Fritz Kostner.

Opera

Sunday (2:00 p.m.) "Parsifal." Leider, Malson, Nissen, Kipnis, Habick, Baromeo, Cond. Pollack.

Monday (8:00 p.m.) "Mignon." Salvi, Glade, Schipa, Vanni-Marcoux, Arnstein, Cond. Cooper.

Tuesday (8:00 p.m.) "Cavalleria Rusticana." Raisa, Bernhardt, Claessens, Cortis, Defrere, Cond. Van Grove. "Pagliacci." Muzio, Marshall, Formichi, Defere, Cavadori, Cond. St. Legere.

Wednesday (8:00 p.m.) "Lohengrin." Lehmann, Olszewska, Maison, Nissen, Kipnis, Cond. Pollack.

Thursday (8:00 p.m.) "La Boheme." Pampolini, Salvi, Hackett, Damiani, Lazzari, Baccaloni, Cond. Moranzoni.

Friday (8:00 p.m., popular prices) "Aida." Muzio, Van Gordon, Marshall, Beuf, Lazzari, Baromeo, Ballet, Cond. Moranzoni.

Saturday (2:00 p.m.) "La Gioconda." Raisa, Van Gordon, Cortis, Formichi, Ballet, ("Dance of the Hours") Cond. Cooper.

Saturday (8:00 p.m., popular prices) "The Barber of Seville." Salvi, Schipa, Damiani, Vanni-Marcoux, Baccaloni, Cond. Moranzoni.

Bright Spots

Planet Mars—(188 W Randolph St., State 7778). Texas Guinan and her gang are raising Cain here. The "suckers" are still flocking to see her floor show and hear her chatter. Music by Irving Sewitt and his orchestra.

Drake Hotel—(Lake Shore Drive and Michigan, Superior 2200). Carl Moore and his band with new tunes and new arrangements for the old ones.

Colosimos—(2126 S. Wabash, Victory 0032). Mike Fritzall's place is still going as strong as ever. Jimmy Meo and his band for dancing, and a floor show consisting of Herbie Vogel, Mary Stone, Chickie Stanley and the chorus especially trained by Helen Kurniker. (By the way, Helen is now associated with Billy Rankin).

Congress Hotel—(Michigan Ave. at Congress, Harrison 3800). Paul Specht and his famous International Orchestra are breaking records at the Congress. Paul has a great organization, and can give you music that you like. His floor show this week is also very good. Ann Carter (who, I'm told, is a beautiful blonde), Anne Belle, and Curry and De Sylva.

College Inn—(Hotel Sherman, Clark and Randolph Sts., Franklin 2100). Ben Bernie "The Old Maestro" and his gang are blocking traffic on Randolph St. A real blues chaser. Always something going on. Thursday night is celebrity night. Stars from all theatres attend, and a good time is had by all.

Edgewater Beach—(5349 Sheridan Road, Long Beach 6000). Charley Agnew and his orchestra replacing Paul Whiteman and doing a great job of it. People haven't missed Paul, strange to say. Charley is featuring a fine floor show with Jimmy O'Keefe as M.C. Others are Irene Taylor, Jane Vance, Stanley Jacobsen and Dusty Roades. Friday night is College Night at this popular place.

Frolics Cafe—(18 E. 22nd St., Victory 7011). Ted Cook and his boys are furnishing the music. Jack Walner is the M.C. I guess he's a permanent fixture there now in that capacity, judging from his reception. Doris Lenaban, Myrtle Gordon and Lafayette and La Verne fill out the floor show.

Many "It" Voices Developed During 1931

The Year Just Past Has Brought Radio Fame to Personality Singers, Crooners and Blues Singers

Something interesting and sensational has come out of the 1931 radio season: the development of a new type of radio entertainer. Personality is the thing that counts, so it seems.

boys who have the ladies in the palms of their lily-white hands.

Look at Morton Downey. Exactly twelve months ago the Irish tenor made his inconspicuous debut on the

Columbia's Big Four—Morton Downey, Kate Smith, Bing Crosby and Arthur Jarrett

A survey of the radio artists who are not only commanding the frenzied applause of the radio audience but getting payed plenty for it, reveals two traits in common. They are all singers—they are all striking personalities.

Sally Jones may shiver at the mere thought of wearing a dress or hat that

Mildred Bailey

"they" are not wearing—but the fact remains—she adores the one who is not afraid to be different. And when it comes to the entertainment field, the crooning ballad singers who are not afraid to intone "I love you" with proper and love-sick emphasis are the Columbia network. In two weeks his high-tone tenor voice had the fans writing, telegraphing, cabling, telephoning, screaming for more. Why? The boy was different—with a large D. He had personality.

It was his success that started the craze for "personality singers" and "crooning tenors." In quick succession came the husky-voiced Bing Crosby and sensuous Russ Columbo who sounds like Rudolph Valentino looked. All were hysterically applauded.

And the smart ladies of the ether began to think too. Why not "crooning contraltos" and "blues singers?" They were right—why not?

Result: one Mildred Bailey—enormously proportioned and enormously different. Her throaty and warm interpretation of Paul Whiteman's music brought down the country.

After her came Kate Smith of the expansive smile and the low contralto voice. The men liked her because her voice sent thrills down their helpless spines and the women because she was fat and fat and fat, yet refused to diet. Here was something phenomenal—a fat lady who would do nothing about it. A fat lady plus a whale of a good voice. She went over.

Personality singers sprang up everywhere. Along came the Street Singer,

Thriller by Edgar Wallace on The Eno Crime Club Program

A radio adaptation of "Red Aces," the second Edgar Wallace thriller selected for presentation in the new Eno Crime Club series, will be heard during the Crime Club's two broadcasts on Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., and the complete story on Wednesday, over the Columbia network. As usual, during the new schedule, the mystery play will be presented in two installments, with the solution coming in the Wednesday broadcast.

NOVEL CHILDREN'S TALKS PRESENTED OVER WCFL

A unique program is promised children over WCFL at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, when Jeanne de Lee (pronounced Jan de Lay) will present a special program for the kiddies. Miss de Lee has a new idea about what a six-year-old child wants to hear over the radio—and it is NOT fairy stories, says she. Her mental and educational appeal to her diminutive audience has met with marked success.

Singin' Sam, Connie Boswell, Jack Miller, Art Jarrett, and other lesser luminaries, and all of them have something that establishes them as an individual to the fans. They have their following—they know what it is to be popular—and our guess is that they deserve it.

Of course this is only a phase of the eternal thirst that the great body of the public has for the novel, the strange, the unusual. The crooning singers have had a tremendous appeal because they satisfied that craving in their own unique way.

But what new personalities will 1932 bring into the radio entertainment field? Will it be "depression" singers—or high and sweet sopranos—will it be a Peggy Hopkins Joyce—or a naive Aimee McPherson? Your guess, dear reader, is as good as ours.

Old Singing Master On Barbasol Program

The Old Singing Master will resume his lessons over an NBC network each Sunday night at 9:15 p. m. His vocalists and orchestra will be heard in folk songs and hymns.

The Old Singing Master is Harry Frankel, who acts as master of ceremonies in the new Barbasol program. The vocalists include Helen Janke, Mary Tibbett, Helen Young, Willard Amison, John Quine, Fred Vettel and Emerson Williams. The orchestra is directed by William Stickels.

The program will be heard each Sunday night, with the chief character directing the remainder of the group through his "singing lessons."

The Old Singing Master is sponsored by the Barbasol Company.

Local outlet WMAQ.

WGN Minstrels, Legal Talks and Easy Aces Change Time

The New Year brings changes in schedule for three of WGN's popular programs. The first, the WGN Miniature Minstrels, featuring Hal Gilles and Hank Moeller, Tom, Dick and Harry, and Jack Spencer, will be heard at 9:15 o'clock Monday nights instead of 9:00 o'clock.

Another Monday night program to be affected by the change will be the "Legal Information for the Layman" program heard each Monday night at 9:30. Hereafter this program will be presented at 4:00 p. m. on Saturdays.

The popular bridge sketch "Easy Aces" will move from 7:00 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights to a 9:00 o'clock period on these same nights.

WAY BACK WHEN

Vaughn de Leath's debut as a Columbia artist brought back to mind the singer's premiere over the ether waves almost twelve years ago. Hers was the first woman's voice ever heard over the radio and she recalled the studio which was smaller than the present-day control room. In the absence of a microphone, which was then unheard-of, she sang into an inverted gramophone horn. The audience of those days consisted of the amateurs who had receivers, and ships' operators. Her first song at the Columbia studios was "Happy Landing Everybody," which she wrote and in which she will now be heard as her official signature.

BROTHERLY LOVE

Morton Downey's brother, Edward, who is vacationing from military school, was recently mistaken for a page boy because of his uniform. He was asked to guide a visitor to his brother's program, and did so without giving his identity away.

ONLY A SUPERSTITION

Ted Husing always wears the same slouch hat and polo coat when he is on his way to cover a sports event for the Columbia network.

Music in the Air

By CARLETON SMITH

Chamber Music Broadcasts

Frequenters of that purest and most serene and contemplative temple in music's many mansions, Chamber Music, are happy that the air contains at last a program worthy of the name. Their patron saint, Elisabeth Sprague Coolidge, through her foundation at the Library of Congress, began last Monday afternoon a series of eleven weekly concerts. This series will feature the groups which Mrs. Coolidge has used at her various vestivals in Europe, at her home in the Berkshires, at the Library of Congress, and in Chicago. In the event that there is any musician who has not heard them, it is sufficient to say that they are not equalled by any other festivals in the music world. Their donor will be written into the histories as the most liberal and influential patroness of music in her generation.

For years she has withheld her festivals from the broadcasting networks, it is supposed because she felt they would not be accurately reproduced, and, also, because the public is not supposed to understand or wish to understand these less sensational musical forms. They require the utmost of concentration on the part of the listener. Their effects are dependent upon remotest nuances of color and shading, and never, upon large and massive sounds. It has seemed to me that for that very reason this music, intended originally for performance in a small room, was ideally suited for the radio. The orchestra and the opera are too large for the home. They belong in the theatre.

Into the intimacy and quiet of one's home (presuming, of course, that such a home is to be found in the twentieth century) come the rarest and purest thoughts that any musician has penned. And I am sure there will be many a listener who will be grateful to Mrs. Coolidge for the chance to meditate, to find relief from everyday cares and depressions, and to understand the ideals and feelings of an earlier and less hectic age.

The broadcast programs are to be arranged, as are her festival programs, with a modern work juxtaposed upon a classic. Students of composition recognize this as their opportunity to make comparison. Tomorrow afternoon Georges Barrere, magician of the flute and for years the highest paid orchestral musician in America, will present his wind ensemble of flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, and horn in a quaint Mozart Serenade and three new pieces by Ibzert. Thru the Columbia network on succeeding Monday afternoons will be heard the Salzedo Harp ensemble, the Jacques Gordon String Quartet, and the Compinsky Trio. Then for 45 minutes on six Sundays beginning February 7th, NBC will broadcast the following groups and soloists: Musical Art Quartet, Elschuco Trio, Kroll String Quartet, Nina Koshetz, and Jacques Gordon and Lee Pattison in a violin and piano sonata recital.

Voice of Firestone

Lawrence Tibbett, happily settled on his marital career, was also established last Monday as the Voice of Firestone, when his voice was heard around the world. Between radio engagements, he will fulfill the rehearsal and performance duties imposed upon the Metropolitan Opera's most popular baritone. Fellow-singers who are wondering how he expects to arrange the imperial Gatti's mind so that there will be no performances for him on Mondays will have their minds relieved when they learn that neither the radio company's nor his managers attempted such a feat. If Tibbett is scheduled at the Met, a substitute mutually agreed upon will take his place on the air, and Mr. Tibbett's time will be extended so that he will broadcast a minimum of thirteen programs. Even now, the Metropolitan Opera retains precedence over broadcasting contracts.

Philadelphia Opera and the Radio

Rumor has it that the Philadelphia Opera may go to Radio City, that is, if the Metropolitan remains adamant and sticks to its old stand. The always adroit and clever Roxy has let it be known that a dinner held at his home recently was attended by the general-manager of the Philadelphia company, Maria Jeritza, whom it is said is promised many new roles if she joins the Quaker City company, and others who might presumably be interested in the materialization of a merger. Leopold Stokowski is mentioned as the musical director of the possible radio opera company.

Some sense in this, a thinly veiled threat to the older house, though Roxy says, "We are making every effort to have the Metropolitan Opera come to Radio City. We want the Metropolitan and we want it badly." He also added that his interest, as yet, did not extend to the field of opera, but "perhaps in several years I will have charge of opera."

The Met feels that it has prestige to lose by a radio merger, and that the glamor and artistry which now surround it would be lost if it were only an appendage to a broadcasting company. It is dependent upon lavish gifts, and cannot support its present level of performance on any closely budgeted operation.

The combination between Radio City and the Philadelphia company might prove beneficial from several points of view. Any organization usually benefits from competition. Leopold Stokowski recently put on "Wozzeck" with the Philadelphia organization in a way that made the New York public and critics aware that there audiences would be assured of a good "show" so long as the artistic direction was left in the hands of such a master-showman as Mr. Stokowski, and the broadcasting controls in the hands of the radio engineers. Individual voices the equal of those at the Met might not be forthcoming for some time, but the novelty and spice of the fare offered by adequate voices would suffice.

The Metropolitan would be left its prestige and would continue to attract the socially elite. No city has ever been large enough to support two opera houses as social centers. There are never two pinnacles of social leadership maintained at an equal level for long. One must rule.

Radio listeners are interested in hearing the greatest in opera. We are constantly accustomed with the best, and loath to accept anything less. The Met is probably best equipped to give great performances and with new blood and a free reign given to a capable impressario, are should be well served and the country the beneficiary.

The Civic Concert programs are always interesting. Mario Chamlee is singing on the ninth . . . and a gala program is promised for next Saturday, featuring as many of that organization's artists as can be crowded into a half-hour. And coming just in the middle of that half-hour is Leopold Stokowski's all-Wagner program lasting one hour and three quarters and featuring Paul Althouse and Elsa Alsen as soloists. Wagner evenings are becoming more and more popular at the symphony, and it is a safe guess that all Wagnerites, perfect or imperfect, will be tuned in when Mr. Stokowski begins.

General Electric in its Twilight Hour of "songs that are known and sung through out the country" brings us Lily Pons, who made her sensational American debut during New Year's week last year and her radio debut on last Easter Sunday. Twenty-seven years old, the petite French girl is the center of all eyes at the Met, where two operas are being revived for her this season. Discovered by the Zenatello, she is gifted of a voice of uncommon freshness and range and she fills an important role in the season's affairs if she does not, as yet, claim a place in that royal line of coloratura song-birds that have tread the Metropolitan boards. She has a good background as a musician, a winning personality, and a voice

To Announce N. U. - Mich. Game

Joe Gries, veteran sports announcer, who will give the basketball fans a thrilling play-by-play description of the fastest sport known to man when Northwestern meets Michigan this Saturday at 8:00 p. m. for one of the toughest games of the season. The game will be played at Patten Gymnasium and broadcast over WIBO. Gries, prominent member of the Manz Printing Corporation, is a sports announcer merely as a hobby and has been broadcasting basketball and football events over WIBO for the past three years.

Allison and Fields Regulars at WBBM

Widely known to theatergoers, Allison and Fields are now heard regularly from WBBM.

In real life Mr. and Mrs. Fields, they broadcast in a piano and singing act from this station daily at 1:15 p. m., except Saturday. On Sundays their programs run for thirty minutes, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

FIRST FOOTBALL YARN OF 1932 MADE AT WBBM

Here's the first radio-football story for 1932.

WBBM will broadcast the leading games of the midwest next year, and it will be Pat Flanagan at the microphone.

The business staff of this station believe they have hung up some sort of a record in signing a client for a program series to start ten months hence. On December 28, 1931, they had the signed, sealed and accepted contract completed with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana for the football broadcasts.

"Bits of Life"

Left, Bill Baar, character actor of the air, as he appears in the role of "Grandpaw Burton" during the program "Bits of Life" presented over WAAF on Wednesdays, Fridays, and Sundays at 9:45 a. m. Center, Bill as he really looks. Right, "Dynamite," the dog, and "Bobby Burton" also impersonated by the versatile Mr. Baar during the "Bits of Life" broadcast.

NEWEST WBBM RECRUIT IS FLYING ANNOUNCER

Richard C. (Dick) Wells, ace announcer, is the latest addition to the WBBM staff.

Mr. Wells was formerly heard on the air as chief announcer at WOC and, more recently, identified as general manager of the Iowa Broadcasting Company.

PROPER COLORING

Alice Joy, NBC contralto and "Prince Albert Dream Girl," dressed appropriately in green during a recent all-Irish musical program broadcast from New York.

WCFL BOASTS ONLY ALL-IRISH PROGRAM ON AIR

The Irish Hour, heard each Sunday from 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. over WCFL, presents two singers born on the old sod, in the persons of Maizie Eileen Waite, mezzo soprano, and Patrick O'Finn. They will sing typical Irish songs. Maurice Lynch, the announcer and director of the programs, was also born in Ireland. The program is billed as the only "all Irish" program on the air today.

CHICAGO ART PLAYERS

Above from left to right, Kathryn Montgomery, John Van Osch, Gertrude Sadler and Mel Pierre, who appear regularly as featured players in the Chicago Art Theatre productions, presented each Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. over WCFL. The young artists have all studied dramatic art under Madame and Ivan Lazareff, founders and directors of the Chicago Art Theatre, and all are native Chicagoans. Although the Players are now giving performances from 410 South Michigan Avenue, there is a possibility of their moving to the Goodman Memorial Theatre for the winter season.

Tin-Pan ALBUM

by Dorothy Deere

Draw up your chairs folks, put your feet near the fire . . . and we'll open up the Album. My, my, if here isn't a picture of Frankie Magine, "The Prince of Melody!" If you tune in WJJD, Chicago, very often, you'll most likely recognize that title. Frankie is a regular "rags to riches" hero. No expensive musical education forms a part of his biography . . . just a dirty-faced little gamin that found rhythm in the trolley cars' rumble, he sang his first songs to the jingle of pennies tossed on the sidewalks of New York. His first published song was "Way Down East" . . . written when that old melodrama was popular. Frankie and Al Beilin, both in knee-pants, went from one publisher's office to another, singing the tune 'till it was accepted. He has followed that first hit with a long string of other successes . . . "Venetian Moon," "That Dreamy Melody," "Oh How I Miss You," and "Truly, I Love You," are examples picked at random. His current melody is, "I'll See You Later In Slumberland." Has dark eyes and hair, a sweet tooth and the same kind of disposition . . . likes to dance . . . and has recently gone radio.

My little Tin-Pan-ear catches a persistent rumor of strange goings-on at the Hotel Sherman, these Monday nites after two o'clock. That's the witching hour when Bernie rehearses his band and most of our well-known batoneers, grease-painters, etc., have formed the habit of dropping down just for laffs. I also hear it rumored that its been dubbed "The School for Maestros" because a lot of them go away with ideas on their cuffs.

Don't put me off the floor, Mr. Bouncer . . . when my shoulders shake like that I'm only laughing, clown, laughing. Sorry about the sarcasm, but I get that way whenever I see "Harley Parham and His Harlem Knights" booked into one of Chicago's flashiest nite-clubs and recall that he's the same "Tiny" Parham that hung around town for years without getting a break. It's not even funny when you think how many Chicago artists have had to run off and get New York's okay before we'd accept them. "Tiny" had the color-line to climb over in the first place, but now that New York has put her cachet on Ellington, Calloway and others, we're willing to give our own dusky entertainers a hand. Whether "Tiny" was born "Harley," achieved "Harley," or had it thrust upon him, I don't know . . . I do know that he hasn't got a thing now that he didn't have before, except a different name and a Harlem label.

"Head Hunter's Dream," "Jungle Crawl," "Lucky 3-6-9," "Skag-a-lag" and other Parham tunes that give you happy feet when Tiny makes his piano stand up on its hind legs and howl, aren't new . . . they were recorded years ago for Victor's race record catalogue and sold mostly down South. "Skag-a-lag" had an amusing origin . . . one nite the band was playing at a south-side party and one of the guests who had been too near the Gin when it was Fizzing, asked him to play shump'n speshly f'rim. Tiny started to improvise and one by one, the band fell in. There weren't any lyrics handy, so they just "Skag-a-lag-lag"-ed all the way thru' . . . slots fun, try it the next time you forget the words to the Star Spangled Banner.

If you don't know who Matt Malneck is, it's because you haven't been leaning on any music counters lately . . . and if you still don't know who he is, it's because you're skipping this paragraph. Pick up a copy of "Leven Pounds of Heaven," "I Don't Suppose," "Old Playmate," or "My Goodbye to You," and you'll see "Music by Matt Malneck" on every one. Matt is the oldest member of Whiteman's band, and I'm not saying a word about his age. Mr. Whiteman senior, taught him to play the violin and he's been playing around with Mr. Whiteman's big boy Paul, ever since the band was organized.

Grand Slam Dept.

Al Beilin, Tin-Pan-Allah of the first rank and head-man around Berlin's, tells 'em off like this . . . "Don't shove, fellah . . . there's two people I know I can lick, you . . . and one of Singer's Midgets!"

Wayne King and Jules Herbuveaux, two of our better-known composers and baton-wavers, have been kicking up a lot of clouds lately, flying hither, thither and yon . . . Seems like the boys are stuck unless they have a stick in their hands . . . (Now don't tell me that one about a pun being the lowest form of humor, I've heard it' . . . The Weemsical Ted has a new number ready for publication and I'm going out and ask him all about it . . . I know something I can't tell (yet) about the Whiteman-Grofe parting-of-the ways and a squabble over that new "Grand Canyon Suite."

Done in Wax . . .

Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 3 in D minor.. Vladimir Horowitz and the London Symphony Orchestra.

The combined artistry of two great pianists wins recognition for this newly released album. Horowitz interprets the masterpiece of Rachmaninoff with a brilliance that flashes in and out of its orchestral background like sunlight glinting on a many-faceted jewel. The first movement, "Allegro," is spirited, capricious . . . the second, "Intermezzo," in more tranquil mood . . . a lovely lull before the storm of exultant, cascading beauty that marks the finale. You'll enjoy adding this to the Red Seal section of your record library. (Victor)

"Caprice Futuristic" and "Sea Buriel . . . Whiteman Concert Orchestra

The first is an effectively phrased instrumental novelty, reminiscent of "Chloe" and the famous "Rhapsody" . . . the second, an impressive melodic selection from "Eastern Seas," arranged by Ferde Grofe. Both are Whiteman at his incomparable best . . . worthwhile and not too highbrow. (Victor)

"Faded Summer Love" and "Old Playmate" . . . Paul Whiteman

Sorry, but I can't give Whiteman anything extra for these . . . Two good numbers, but too much orchestration breaks the rhythm in places, the rest is good enough but not outstanding. Jack Fulton, Jr. has a sweet voice yet somehow or other, he always makes me lonesome for Art Jarrett. (Victor)

Gems from "George White's Scandals" . . . Victor Young and Brunswick Orchestra

This platter is everything the title claims it to be . . . a dazzling collection of tuneful lyrics strung on a bright thread of melody by the Boswell Sisters, Bing Crosby, Frank Munn and the Mills Brothers. Play it 'till it grows thin, even then it won't lose its sparkle. (Brunswick)

"Baby, Won't You Please Come Home and "You Rascal You" . . . Mills Bros.

Baby won't want to go home while playing this disk. The Mills Brothers make one guitar behave like a whole orchestra . . . good entertainment . . . and suggests a new parlor game (guessing how they do it). (Brunswick)

"You Try Somebody Else" and "Cuban Love Song" . . . Guy Lombardo

A rhythmic foxtrot and a tropical waltz, both typically Lombardo . . . recommended for perfect dance tempo and for an ingratiating sweetness of instrumentation. (Columbia)

"Too Late" and "Home" . . . Mildred Bailey and Orchestra

Altho' Mildred Bailey is billed as a comedienne, she breaks me up when she sings soulful ballads like these two . . . recommended for the swellish piano backing up the voice . . . and for sentiment that's sweet but not sticky. (Victor)

"Save the Last Dance for Me" and "Too Late" . . . Wayne King

The Waltz King serves a sample of his artistry on this platter . . . you'll appreciate its velvety dance rhythm. (Victor)

"River Stay Way from My Door" and "Too Late" . . . Guy Lombardo

Mrs. Lombardo's talented sons get hot and it won't bother you a bit. Recommended for the vocalizing by Kate Smith . . . because it's the best recording so far, of the much recorded, "Too Late". (Columbia)

"She Didn't Say Yes" and "The Night Was Made for Love" . . . Leo Reisman

The first is a frothy bit, with amusing lyrics . . . the second, tender and melodious . . . Both are pleasing to the ear and aggravating to the feet. (Victor)

"The Blue of the Night" and "I'm Sorry Dear" . . . Bing Crosby

I'm prejudiced in this one's favor . . . check and double check if you're a Bing Crosby enthusiast. (Brunswick)

Conductor Eastman

Morgan L. Eastman, above, is the conductor of the newly organized orchestra heard on the Contented Program. Mr. Eastman in organizing the orchestra, has taken the pick of Mid-Western musicians, forming them into an orchestra of great worth, which will be heard every Monday night from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m., over an NBC network. Bob White Bob White, actor, announcer and continuity writer, came to radio from the theatre; in fact he left the "boards" right here in Chicago, where he was playing "Companionate Marriage" at the Cort Theatre, to join the staff of KYW. A year later he appeared in the memorable production of "Journey's End" only to return to radio, when the show closed, by way of dramatic programs from the NBC studios. Recently Bob joined the staff of WMAQ where his latest creation known as "Dress Rehearsals" is presented for the Household Finance Corporation every Tuesday over an NBC network.

MIKRITIC

Radio Guide will pay one dollar for any Mikritic accepted and printed in this column. Mikritics are remarks of any kind made on the air which will interest other people. They may be amusing, inspiring, funny, pathetic, or queer.

Here are the rules: The quotation should not exceed fifty words. It must be accompanied by the name of the person who made it, the exact time it was heard, and the station from which it was heard. The name and address of the sender must be attached. Any number of Mikritics may be sent by one person. In case two or more persons submit the same Mikritic, the first entry received will be printed. Address your letters to Mikritic, care of Radio Guide.

YES—HOW DO YOU?

A letter has been received addressed to "Messrs. Columbia Broadcasting System" sending Christmas greetings to the organization from a listener in Nishiku, province of Nagoya, Japan. The far-off Nipponese fan added the following post-script to his season's compliments: "I have been negligent in writing. How do you do?"

1932 NATIONAL Double Screen Grid 3-Tube Thrill Box—Type SW3 AC and 6-Volt DC Models

NOTE: The circuit employed in the NATIONAL Thrill Boxes will give less background noise and a lower noise level than any other type of shortwave circuit. There is less hum, and less interference with reception of broadcasts or signals.

R. F. transformer coil forms are molded of "R-39," the new low-loss material developed by the Radio Frequency Laboratories especially for the NATIONAL COMPANY.

ACW3 NATIONAL complete set of parts for 3-tube Short Wave Thrill Box—with band spread coils—less tubes—wired by the Jackson Research Laboratories.

Can be had in AC or DC models. Special net prices on request. When DC Battery model is desired, Specify Symbol as DCSW3.

HERE'S HOW TO GET THE TRAINING FOR A RADIO CAREER!

by study at

NO one can read this magazine without instantly realizing what a great future lies before radio... Besides broadcasting, there are many other highly interesting branches—aviation radio, the new television, talking pictures, servicing of home entertainment equipment, and others... Wouldn't you, too, like to enter radio? It's wise to study NOW, thus get ready for the future.

Study then, at RCA Institutes, America's oldest radio school, founded 22 years ago. We have four complete resident schools, in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago... and extension courses for home study. The instructors are experts... the equipment modern. In addition, we are associated with the largest research laboratory in the radio industry.

The Chicago school is located in spacious quarters in the Merchandise Mart. Visitors are welcome. Whether you have fully decided on a career in radio or not—come to the school. Inspect our equipment and facilities. Talk with a staff member. You will be

VOICE OF THE LISTENER

Note to DX'ers

Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

More words of praise and thanks to your wonderful radio paper, "The Radio Guide." It's getting better and better in every issue. I wish you would add a new feature in your future issues. I would like to have the "Radio Guide" dedicate a full page to DX fans by printing DX news and stories which the DXers send in and everything that would interest the DXer. There are many hundreds, probably thousands of DXers in Chicago and nearby cities that buy the Radio Guide. And I'm sure everybody would agree with me by having you put in a DX page in the Guide. The DXers themselves will keep the page running so that there will be insufficient space to print all the doings. How about it? Think it over and let us DXers know, in the Guide. Thanking you, I am

Sincerely Yours,
Fred Litwitz

EDITOR'S NOTE

We think this a splendid idea and we will be glad to include a DX feature in future issues of the Guide, so come on you DXers—let's have enough material to fill a whole page. Address DX Editor, Radio Guide.

Joliet, Ill.

Dear Sir:

I'm a constant reader of your "Radio Guide" and am very pleased with your work, as far as you've carried on. The best part of your weekly is the pictures. After looking through one of the issues, and seeing the various stars of radio; one can sit back and visualize them on their broadcast. Have more pictures! If you will, please have a picture of Billy White, one of the many good singers of Tweet Hogan's splendid orchestra. I think he is the best of the air, barring none, not even those chain program singers. Thank you.

Gentlemen:

Just to tell you that your Radio Guide is just fine. I get it every week and look forward to get the news of all our favorites, and I would like to have you print something of Marian and Jim Jordan, also Al and Pete are among my favorites. I read every word in it, and hope for even a larger magazine for 1932.

I also enjoy your page, "Voice of the Listener," and the "Mikritic."

Gentlemen:

I have been reading that Radio Guide for several weeks, and I think it a splendid magazine.

"Music in the Air" is my favorite column, and imagine my surprise and pleasure last week on discovering that Carleton Smith had a full-page article in the Guide. I want to compliment the magazine on giving the space to such a worthwhile article, and I sincerely hope that each issue hereafter will have a full page devoted to "Music in the Air."

Had it not been for last week's writeup, I should have missed hearing the Metropolitan broadcasts on Christmas Day and the day following of the operas "Hansel und Gretel" and "Norma"—two excellent programs.

Here's hoping that the New Year will bring much success and prosperity to the Radio Guide!

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to tell you how much I enjoy your wonderful little magazine. Radio Guide fills a long-needed want and I wish it every success.

May I add my name to the list of the many who would like to see a picture of lovely Grace Wilson on the front page.

Don't make us wait too long for a glimpse of our favorite radio artist.

WGN and the Guide

Davenport, Iowa

Gentlemen:

I bought my first copy of the "Radio Guide" a few weeks ago and was astonished at it's wonderful information and news. Also the gossip about different stars that are heard and enjoyed by most radio fans.

WGN is my favorite radio station in Chicago. Because of the great variety of programs.

The "Radio Guide" is a great help to select your own programs throughout the day.

Keep up the pictures of the famous artists. Good luck for the coming year. I thank you.

Radio Guide:

I am a regular reader of the "Radio Guide" and enjoy it very much.

I would like to see pictures of the characters in "Painted Dreams." Here's hoping I'll see them before long.

Dear Sir:

Your magazine is wonderful. I have bought my third copy and it's a real help to me. I think Russ Columbo is a wonderful singer and wish you would print a picture of him in the Radio Guide. Hoping you success with your paper in 1932.

Dear Sir:

May I offer my congratulations? Radio Guide is the best radio magazine published.

It was always hard for me to keep track of the call numbers, but now I have no trouble. I thank the Radio Guide a hundred times.

By seeing the artist's pictures we like the programs much more. My favorite artist is The Arkansas Wood Chopper from WLS. Would like to see a picture of him in the next week's Radio Guide.

Gentlemen:

I buy your paper every week and I like it very much. I wish to second the suggestion of O. F. Weissenburger, in this week's issue, that you devote a column to being put over the air. I am interested giving us the dope on contests, that are in these things, and, like Mr. W., would like to see them listed in your paper, giving the time of broadcast; whether they are daily, weekly or just one contest of a certain duration. Give the closing time and any information you should have. As it is now, they are listed in the daily programs under the name of some orchestra, band, or a noted singer and it's a game of chance to catch them. Hoping you will consider our suggestions favorably.

"Hot Rhythm" Fans

Dubuque, Iowa

Dear Editor of the "Radio Guide":

For the last few weeks we have been buying your magazine. We think it has been of a great convenience to the everyday radio fan. We sincerely hope that it will forever remain so because of its real value—a magazine which is of great interest to all radio fans for the information furnished.

Because of the great interest we take in the "hot rhythm" orchestra more popularly known as Cab Calloway's Cotton Club Orchestra. Every Monday, Thursday, and Friday night in each week we manage to dodge all other activities to take in his broadcast. On account of dazzled interest in him and his orchestra we would request to hear more of them in the near future.

In last week's issue we read about him to broadcast during the "Lucky Strike" Hour. Therefore our belief is that we will hear more than the 15 minutes a night of him, and also we would like to know whether you could possibly get us a photograph each of Cab and his Cotton Club Orchestra, and oblige, we remain true readers of the "Radio Guide."

Dear Sirs:

I have been a reader of your Radio Guide and like it very much. I want to ask one favor of you and that is to put a picture of "Harold Teen" and his bunch that come over WGN every night except Sunday at 6:15. I am very anxious to see this picture and would appreciate it very much if you would put their picture in. I listen to them every night.

World's Greatest

Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

I enjoy your paper very much and think it is just the thing a lot of people have been waiting for.

There has been a lot of comparing going on regarding Russ Columbo and Bing Crosby. My favorite is Russ Columbo, and how.

However, I don't care much for crooners. My favorite artists on the air are the first and only real ad lib artists, "The Three Doctors." Some have tried to copy them, but it can't be done. When they reach the high notes they reach them loud, and don't try to talk them or croon them. Their remarks are original, not copied.

How about a little news or "Studio Gossip" regarding "The World's Greatest Radio Entertainers?" especially about radio's best popular pianist, Joe Rudolph?

Marilyn Freyd

Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sirs:

I am a constant reader of your wonderful booklet.

I would like to make a request of you. In a copy about two weeks ago you put in a page called "At the Organ." What I wish you would do is put in a page of "At the Piano." Put in such photos as Jimmy Kozack of WAAF, Joe Rudolph of WMAQ, Allan Grant and Dele Owen of WGN, and Frank Westphal of WBBM.

I sure enjoy your page of "Voice of the Listener."

Here's hoping you put the page in about the pianos.

A few years ago we were hollering "What America needs is a good five cent cigar." Then we wanted a good radio book for a nickel, and here it is—"Radio Guide."

ETHER FEATURES

STRANGE AS IT MAY SEEM Lottice Howell, who is pictured above in the terpsichorean pose does not dance for the benefit of television fans, but is rather known as a lyric soprano who is presented over NBC networks. Miss Howell has long been popular with followers of the stage and screen and was formerly a member of Roxy's Original Gang.

"THIS IS THE COLUMBIA Broadcasting System," says an interesting but disembodied voice out of the ether. Well, here they are in person—the boys who are officially known as the announcing staff of the Columbia Broadcasting System. And a nice looking group they are, too. Left to right sitting: Harry Vonzell, David Ross and Don Ball; standing: George Beuchler, Frank Knight, Hugh Walton and Ted Husing.

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER, erstwhile German Naval Commander, and popularly known as "The Sea Devil," who is now being heard on a new series of programs known as "Adventuring with Count Von Luckner."

KATHRYN L. NELSON WREN—Kansas City

SIX OF THE LEADING CONTESTANTS in the Chicago Radio-Electrical show auditions which are being conducted to discover the most outstanding "personality" or "it" girl of the middle west, are pictured here. Women radio artists from half a dozen states are entered in this unique series. Deeming that physical beauty should play no part in a personality contest, the five judges will listen to the participants from behind a curtain and will judge their merits solely upon the way the young women project their personalities or radio "it" into their program offerings. The winner of the auditions will be accorded distinctive honors and will act as Queen of the Chicago Radio-Electrical show, which opens at the Coliseum January 18, for a week's run. Thus a new star will be added to the radio firmament.
