RADIO GUIDE'S ANNUAL STAR OF STARS POLL

THIS WEEK—THE STAR OF STARS!

WHO is radio's Star of Stars? That's the question of the moment! It is a question that will be answered by thousands upon thousands of listeners when the ballots in Radio Guide's annual Star of Stars poll have been counted and tabulated. Climaxing twelve weeks of popular voting in every division of radio entertainment, Radio Guide this week offers its readers the opportunity of naming the top-ranking star of 1938! Your vote is important!

In no phase of the vast and busy world of entertainment is the competition for stardom hotter or harder than it is in radio. Today's favorite may be forgotten by tomorrow, and the star of yesterday is only a name today. Never a week passes without the discovery, somewhere, of a new and brilliant talent. In this America, literally thousands of highly gifted men and women come to the microphone every day, fame and fortune hanging on their words. A newcomer is given a chance audition; an established but little-known performer gives an exceptionally moving performance—and a star is born! The pressure at the heels of the established greats of radio is fierce. They never know when public favor will recede, leave them stranded, perhaps temporarily, perhaps for good.

That's why it's important for the radio listeners of America—those of us who appreciate and enjoy the immensely varied entertainment that is ours for the flick of a dial—to support the stars we like. Their fortunes, their places in the hierarchy of radio—and our continued enjoyment of them—hang on one thing, and one thing only: the support we give them. That's why it's important for you to vote in this Star of Stars poll.

This year there are other reasons, too. For instance, there is every indication that the balloting of this week will see a closer fight for first place than has been the case for the last three years. In 1935, '36, '37, Jack Benny won the coveted Star of Stars honors. One of the world's great entertainers—he has already been named the best comedian of 1938 in that division of the Star of Stars poll—Benny may well repeat, make it four in a row. But this year he has new competition. Charlie McCarthy is on the scene now, and while he may be a mere dummy to some people, to most of the radio listeners of America he's one of the funniest things that ever happened! Will Charlie usurp Jack Benny's long-time rule as Star of Stars?

The standings of the runners-up, too, are almost certain to change. Last year, Nelson Eddy finished just behind the mighty Benny. Lanny Ross was third, Frances Langford and Lulu Belle of the National Barn Dance fourth and fifth respectively. Bing Crosby was in sixth place, just ahead of Rudy Vallee. Crosby fans, noting the rising popularity of Bing's deft and dexterous Music Hall program, expect a higher ranking this year. Joan Blaine was ninth in 1937, with Jessica Dragonette in tenth place, Fred Allen in eleventh and Don Ameche twelfth.

This week's official Star of Stars ballot is printed at the top of the page. Fill it out and mail it before midnight, Saturday, June 11. Remember—there is no better way of assuring your own continued entertainment than by enthusiastically supporting the star of your choice!

"In excess of forty million people have listened to the same program . . ."

"There are 26 million radio homes as well as five million auto radios."

"Lowell Thomas said, 'Send me a telegram.' When the night was over, 260,000 had been received."

"We know that the severest censor is the thumb and forefinger of the American public."

THE tranquillity of the period just before and after the turn of this century created a smug complacency about the stability of our institutions and the righteousness of our ways. To be sure, there were strikes and threats of anarchism, but most people knew little of the issues involved.

There was time for thoughtful research, and many discoveries emerged from the laboratory.

And then came 1914. The shock of the World War shook our foundations. Men found that their age-old formula of immigrating and opening new frontiers no longer was the solution for their problems. Seeking their way out of a chaos they did not understand, men grasped at the hope offered by new ideologies and followed new leaders, who promised: fuller life amid old surroundings. Through it all, science was on the march, each new discovery offering a means of making others. A child of this period was radio—at first a scientific gadget which, with uncanny magic, produced an almost intelligible sound from the air. Soon there came exquisite music as well as informative talks on a wide variety of subjects. The thing positively had entertainment value, and perhaps could even be used as an adjunct to education!

In 1926, when the National Broadcasting Company brought together the first network of broadcasting stations, interconnected by telephone wires, there came into being the greatest means of mass communication the world had ever known. Instantaneously and simultaneously, millions could hear and be swayed by a single voice. But, then as now, it was looked upon, and is, essentially a vehicle of diverse entertainment. Its outstanding programs of music, drama and education have induced a higher cultural appreciation over our vast country. But as it developed, there emerged another factor, transcendent in its importance—the power of radio broadcasting to influence thoughts, actions and well-being of all our people.

AS the National Broadcasting Company set up the first network organization, it sought the most enlightened guidance on formulation of operative policies to guide its future destinies. The original announcement of the formation of the National Broadcasting Company provided for the creation of an advisory council to be composed of distinguished citizens judgment, have rendered a great service to the American people."

Let it be said as an everlasting tribute to the pioneers of broadcasting that they formulated basic policies with the full realization that, if broadcasting was to remain in the hands of private enterprise, it must willingly sacrifice many opportunities for commercial profit, in order to render its full usefulness, and in order to remain non-partisan and free. Time has proved their fundamental soundness.

And so, today, in a world of unstable emotions, of bloodshed over forms of government, of great difference of opinion on matters of vital concern, in the midst of an active public mind, filled with many facts and much confusion, radio plays its major role. Gradually there has developed a knowledge of the power which radio can exert, and a stimulated interest among those who would use this force.

THAT governments are well aware of this, recent world events give irrefutable testimony. When the insurgent army first attacked the loyalist government of Spain, the Spanish broadcasting stations were seized before the guns roared. On the Japanese invasion of China, the RCA short-wave transmitter in Shanghai was destroyed in the first air raid—put back into commission—and immediately destroyed again. Last month, the building occupied by the Austrian Broadcasting Company was taken by the German authorities within a few hours after crossing the border.

The public, generally, is still willing to take the radio for granted. They are content to close their eyes and be lifted to new heights by the beautiful strains from Toscanini, or to skip their dessert to avoid missing the first line from Charlie McCarthy. But more and more the public is coming to appreciate radio's social and political significance.

The time is now propitious for a true evaluation of radio's place in our national structure. Radio is a show, and with its own technique has built illusions of reality for those in the seats before the proscenium of their loudspeakers. We must go backstage to understand many of the basic principles of broadcasting.

The four characteristics of broadcasting which account for its powerful influence are: The vastness of its coverage; its immediate effectiveness; its appeal to the emotions as well as to the intellect, and its power to motivate to action.

Let us consider these. Radio is invited into twenty-six million homes as well as five million automobiles, and surveys have shown that these sets are turned on an average of three hours a day, with between two and three people listening at each receiver. Thus, there is a potential circulation at any one time of some seventy-five million people, and these same surveys indicate that actually in excess of forty million people have listened to a single program. The influence of a statement is measured by the number of persons it reaches. The influence of a soap-box orator haranguing a small crowd may be almost nil, for so few people are within range of his voice. The same thought given over the radio might have a profound effect throughout the country.

How immediately effective is the radio message is illustrated by an incident in one of Lowell Thomas' news broadcasts, which he related to me. On the invitation of the president of a telegraph company he was giving his regular news broadcast from a telegraph office with the clicking of the keys and the bustle of the operators to furnish background. The president suggested to Thomas, "It might be interesting tonight if you would invite your friends to telegraph a message to you and they may do so at the expense of the company." Mr. Thomas assumed that a few of his personal friends might be listening in and would take advantage of such an offer. Remember that it was unpre-bloomed. One day the announcer asked: "How would you like to have just such a little garden? If you would, send us ten cents and she will send you some of her own petunia seeds."

It is interesting here to analyze the emotions of the hearers. To them, the characters in the story were as real and alive as their next-door neighbors. That the petunia seeds and the garden were but the fiction of a script-writer read by actors in a studio did not occur to them. They did not stop to consider that, even had there been such a garden, their well-loved character could not have fulfilled their wants, but their seeds, acquired from a wholesaler, would be sent by a staff of people assembled for that purpose. But so great was the emotional appeal that the listeners were motivated to the rather complicated action of writing a letter, enclosing a dime and mailing the envelope. And yet, from this offer, there came in over a million dimes and more than a hundred thousand dollars worth of petunia seeds were dispatched.

It was an acute realization of this particular power of radio that prompted the National Broadcasting Company to decline a series of dramatized political broadcasts during the last national campaign. Professional actors were to portray the alleged havoc wrought by the opposing party. With the moving power of the trained voice, his arguments, there might have been a campaign determined by that trained actor who could best play upon the heart-strings and fill the tear-ducts. We believed that the public should think and vote, rather than feel and vote, and we rejected the programs.

Our success as a commercial institution depends on giving the public continuous service of a high order, the best in entertainment, culture and information. We know that it is the loyal audience that constitutes the circulation which we sell to our clients for their advertising messages. These, in turn, provide the financial income, making possible the non-commercial entertainment and public-service programs which constitute seventy percent of NBC's broadcast day. We know that the severest censor is the thumb and forefinger of the public. We know that if we do not please our listeners, we lose them—and the loss is ours.

WE SEEK to keep abreast of reactions of our audience. Through millions of letters received from the four corners of the globe, through telephone calls, from the press and our daily contacts we receive impressions which must be sorted and analyzed. These give us a measure of the listeners' needs and desires. The balance is a delicate one, for we can't please all the people all the time. One of our most helpful aids are the telephone calls which frequently follow our important broadcasts, for they are instantaneous and give an insight into the reactions of the listeners.

We are called "Fascist" when Hitler or Mussolini speaks over our networks. We anticipate the label "Communist" or "Socialist" when Earl Browder or Norman Thomas comes before our microphones. We are "capitalists" when the representative of some corporation speaks; "pro-labor" when the American Federation of Labor or the Committee for Industrial Organization broadcasts. We are "radical" and "conservative" and "liberal" by turn, and in view of some may even appear "patriotic" and "subversive" at the same time. These conflicting views at least indicate we are keeping a fair balance.

It is routine to check scripts for violation of the laws of blasphemy, profanity, libel, and for compliance with the stipulation of the Federal Trade Commission against misleading or false statements about products. All testimonials are carefully scrutinized, likewise the overplay of insobriety and jokes playing upon physical and mental infirmities which might afford embarrassment and humiliation to afflicted listeners. We do not permit references to races or racial characteristics that border on indignity, or the delineations of suicides, or descriptions of unlawful practices, such as safe-cracking or counterfeiting.

Our form of government insists upon freedom of speech—the right of the individual to express a free and frank opinion upon any question without molestation from the authorities. It insists also upon freedom of the press—the right of a newspaper to print that which, in the opinion of the publisher, is best for his community and for his readers. Limitations of time and other space have led broadcasting to introduce a new freedom—freedom of the air—which we conceive to be the freedom of equal opportunity for discussion on controversial public issues. A controversial public issue is one on which a substantial group of people differs in its judgment or opinions from another substantial group and where the outcome will materially affect the destinies of other citizens.

The relations of the broadcasting industry to the Federal government are of paramount importance. Broadcast frequencies are limited, and unless there is proper regulation as to their use, there would be chaos on the air channels. It is proper that the government should regulate technical facilities. There is no other agency to do it, and it is something the industry is not fitted to do for itself. The Communications Act of 1934, under which radio now operates, imposes upon the Federal Communications Commission the responsibility of licensing stations and of determining the assignments of wave-lengths, the power of the stations, the hours of operation, and the regulation of certain technical facilities necessary to assure clear reception to the listening public. Licenses are issued for a six-month period. The law provides a license for a period up to three years, within the discretion of the Federal Communications Commission. The National Broadcasting Company would welcome, and has recommended to the Federal Communications Commission, the extension of the term of license to three years, because we believe that a longer period would materially aid stabilization within the industry, would stimulate investment in improved technical facilities, and would place broadcasting on a sound basis rather than that of a gamble.

The law provides that the Commission shall issue these licenses in accordance with public interest, convenience and necessity. There is discussion today on what this phrase means. The Federal Communications Commission has ordered an investigation of the broadcasting networks. This is an act of the Commission which the National Broadcasting Company welcomes. The mandates of the radio law require the Commission to see that the public receives the best that radio has to offer; the broadcaster desires the same results. Any action of the Commission which will contribute to this end will meet the hearty approval of the radio industry.

representing various shades of public opinion. The first report of the council, in 1927, carries this statement of its chairman:

"In this country we must learn by experiment the best way of handling this important agency. The National Broadcasting Company is making that experiment. It would like to demonstrate to the American people that this agency can be handled by a private organization effectively, economically and progressively. It would like to demonstrate that it could respond quickly to the public taste and the public needs. It would like to show that it could administer these facilities without unfair discrimination and with maximum service both in quality and quantity. It is quite apparent that broadcasting can only, in a small measure, be local. In substantial part, it must be national in scope in order to give the listeners the kind of service they should have. If the National Broadcasting Company can provide the highest quality of program which exists in the United States, no matter where the point of origin may be, and can disseminate it completely throughout the country so that everyone can hear no matter where he may be, and if it can do this without charge to the listener and without unfair discrimination between those fairly entitled to use the facilities, it will, in my

Miss Meisle lists an ingratiating number by Anton Rubinstein, who though best known as a nineteenth-century piano composer also wrote some excellent songs which are unjustly neglected these days.

The accomplished American contralto should be thanked, too, for singing the noble third act apostrophe from "Rienzi," the opera which marked the beginning of Wagner's transition from the Italian style to one of his own invention.

Hary Janos Suite (Kodaly)
Symphony in E Flat (Mozart)

HARY JANOS is the legendary liar of Hungary, as Baron Muenchausen was of Germany. Kodaly's tone fantasy depicts Hary's weird adventures as related by himself, including episodes romantic, martial and comical, as well as a meeting with Napoleon. An old Hungarian superstition has it that should a listener sneeze the story is true. A prodigious sneeze, realistically orchestrated, opens this fanciful and highly amusing suite. Kodaly lives in Budapest. His deeply serious "Psalmus Hungaricus" was broadcast a few weeks ago at one of the Sunday concerts of the Music Hall of the Air.

The March of Music

A Weekly Preview Edited By Leonard Lieblich

"... An ampler Ether, a diviner Air..."—Wordsworth

ON THE radio we have our theatrical drama seasoned with musical obligatos or interludes mooded to fit the scene, action and personages. Often the characterization in tone is so strikingly appropriate that it carries on the story almost as eloquently as the spoken words. One easily accepts the aptness with which the music expresses "horror," "calm after storm," "pursuit" and "mob scene," all rather obvious phenomena; but positive wonder is aroused when with equal skill the orchestra voices such subtle matter as "fate," "intrigue," "suspicion," and "revenge."

Occasionally the descriptive music is especially written for the radio production of a drama, but in the continuous rush of studio activities, little time can be allowed for a composer to wait for ideas. The task becomes one of quick selection rather than of creation, and the material is taken not freshly from the brain of a composer but out of the well-stocked library of the radio establishment.

Even so, time-saving remains imperative, for the production director looks at his script, sees "Theme" and "Music Up and Out," and at once he must have the measures necessary to build up in the imagination of the listener, the "set" or emotions intended by the author of the manuscript. "Mood music," such interpolations are called, and they perform precisely the same function that "cue music" did in the days of the silent films, except that in radio the effect is even more important, for the suggestions have to be aural instead of visual.

The "Mood Music" library at NBC is in charge of Thomas H. Belviso, manager of the music division, who has William Paisley, head of the music library, as his able assistant. They operate when the producer desires tone portraiture or suggestion of any kind, from popular music to symphonic or operatic. It is amusing to learn that in the files at NBC, Mozart's "Batti, Batti" lies near "The Curse of An Aching Heart."

RCA Victor has just recorded anew Mozart's Quintet for clarinet and strings, the Budapest Quartet doing the violin, viola and cello parts. In itself, such an announcement, even though welcome, would not be remarkable, but takes on striking significance when it is added that the clarinet player of the performance is Benny Goodman, the chief hero of the swing fans. They will be as astonished as the followers of serious music, for probably neither group knows that Goodman ranks as an outstanding virtuoso of the clarinet, and is thoroughly familiar with the classics of chamber music. RCA Victor has not put out this record merely for advertising value, but wishes it accepted as an art production. Jazz enthusiasts who might buy the recording out of curiosity will get the shock of their lives when they discover that it has no swing but is classically beautiful, with a particularly entrancing and famous slow movement.

LISTENERS of this streamlined performance of "Carmen" must not suppose that it is a completely new departure for spoken dialog to be interpolated into opera. The device has long been employed on the French lyric stage, where the so-called "operas comiques" ("Carmen," "Manon," "La Boheme," etc.) offer fairly frequent stretches of oral conversation, usually explanatory passages between the set arias and ensembles. "Grand operas" and "music dramas" are entirely sung, but might well follow the example of the "comique" kind and omit music during exposition of complicated moments in the plot.

La Oracion del Torero (Turina)

AN EXPERT transcriber of ancient music, Alfredo Casella, contemporary Italian composer, has done one of his best adaptations in Vivaldi's concerto. The arrangement leaves the spirit of the music intact, and enhances its effect through utilizing instrumental blends and sonorities with which Casella's seventeenth-eighteenth century predecessor had no acquaintance.

The title of Turina's Spanish composition, "The Prayer of the Bull-Fighter," gains in significance when we learn that every picador, banderillero and matador commends himself to the Almighty before he enters the ring, and that every arena in Spain has a little chapel for that holy purpose.

Or did have, at least, before civil war began to rage over the land of Belmonte, El Gallo, Joselito and the other immortals of the corrida. The art of the bull-fight, already decadent when Juan Belmonte retired in the '20's, has suffered greatly since the rebellion began, and many of the top-flight toreros have fled to South America and Mexico.

"THE BARBER OF SEVILLE," from which Grace Panvini, agile coloratura soprano, sings an aria on this program, had its first American production in Italian at New York in 1825. Memorable is that three of the Garcia family took part on that occasion; tenor Manuel (the elder), basso Manuel (the younger), and his sister Maria. The senior Garcia not only achieved fame as a singer but also as a composer. His son became a leading London vocal teacher (one of his pupils was Jenny Lind), invented the laryngoscope, and died early in this century, aged just over one hundred. Maria was the luminous Mme. Malibran of later years; and her sister, Pauline Viardot, gained golden reputation as an operatic mezzo-soprano, pedagogue and composer. All told, the Garcias stand as the most phenomenal clan in the history of singing.

The BBC Symphony Orchestra
(from Queen's Hall, London)

Arturo Toscanini, conductor

Overture to "La Scala di Seta"
(Rossini)

Symphony No. 2 (Sibelius)
Symphony No. 2 (Brahms)

LISTENERS everywhere welcome the opportunity to thrill to masterful music conducted by the great Toscanini when he takes over the conducting of the BBC Symphony Orchestra to be heard by short wave from Queen's Hall, London, this Friday afternoon.

A favorite of the great Italian maestro, the little Rossini overture ("The Ladder of Silk") seems to go with him wherever he takes up the baton. It is brief and pretty, and stands to the ensuing Sibelius opus as the butterfly to the eagle.

The juxtaposing of the Finnish composer with Brahms does not happen often on a program and perhaps it is Toscanini's purpose to give his hearers a chance for instructive comparisons. They no doubt will prove again that Sibelius' sense of form is not as orthodox as that of Brahms; that unlike the German, he frequently appears to be expressing thought rather than feeling; and that his symphonies have a much smaller stock of melody than Brahms. However, it is just such differences that give music its wide scope and varied appeal and teach us to take composers as they are and not as we would wish them to be.

When they write consciously and consistently to please, they are talented entertainers but not inspired creators. Brahms and Sibelius, despite their opposing style and tendency, belong indubitably to the anointed.

MBS Presents Streamlined Version of Bizet's Opera "Carmen"

Monday, June 6, at 10:30 p.m. EDT on MBS.

WITH the Metropolitan broadcasts at rest until next November, one has time to reflect upon opera as she is sung. In this country she is still sung in practically all the civilized languages except English. Every once in a while our vernacular tiptoes onto an American operatic stage, but as timidly slinks away again almost immediately, and everyone concerned is apologetic and somewhat ashamed. The critics write patronizingly and express the utmost astonishment when any singer (even an American) enunciates our home tongue so that it can be understood. The inference follows therefore that when grand opera is understood it isn't grand opera.

That fallacy ought to be disproved convincingly when MBS puts on its English version of Bizet's "Carmen." To bring it altogether close to modern ideas, the producers have streamlined the work, presenting only the outstanding musical numbers and connecting them by spoken dialog. Two casts are engaged, one to vocalize, the other to talk. The dramatic script, taken from the libretto of the opera, is by Charles Meltzer, former artistic secretary of the Metropolitan. A distinguished litterateur himself, it is to be hoped that he will have avoided the stilted phrases of the usual English libretto.

There is no good reason why English opera should suffer nearly a total boycott, and possibly this "Carmen" example might stir radio listeners into agitating for more performances of the same kind. Hitherto foreign artists who had originally learned their roles in European languages did not wish to be bothered training their tones to unaccustomed new vowels and consonants. Granted that the plea is logical for those who merely "guest" here through the winters, it is surely no excuse for the American section of the casts. Certainly, too, it shows no consideration for the vast majority of the auditors. Sometimes one wonders what our seat-buying compatriots—at $7.70 in the Metropolitan—think of listening to our own Tibbett, Moore, Ponselle, Crooks, Thomas, Jepson, Oelheim, Susanne Fisher, and not understanding a syllable of what they are singing; to say nothing of gaping glumly at the stage and finding nothing funny in the "Barber of Seville," which gets guffaws from the more fortunate folks who know Italian. The crowning irony comes when our own John Charles Thomas plays the role of the ebullient Barber.

In Europe, each country has opera almost exclusively in its own language. There would be riots over there—and in France certainly a Cabinet would fall—if the opera houses tried to give performances in English, that heinous tongue in which Shakespeare, Milton, Keats, Shelley and Wordsworth wrote some of the most poetical lyrics and flaming phrases of the world's literature.

Strangely enough, during the second half of the eighteenth century and part of the nineteenth, much opera was sung in English in this country. In fact, the first opera ever given here, the "Beggars' Opera," by Gay, in 1750.

Soon Italian and French opera vied with the English product, but did not drive it out until 1880 or so. A promising return came with the excellent touring company of Henry W. Savage, which regaled us until about 1920 with "Madam Butterfly," "The Girl of the Golden West" and even "Parsifal," all sung in English.

What's happened since then to make our opera-goers backslide? Are they indifferent to the dramatic action, and content to hear what to most of them must sound like gibberish, so long as it is sung by famous artists?

There ought to be a law. Anyway, propaganda. Many grand-opera librettos are great stuff, far too good for the foreigners to enjoy alone. Neither the spoken drama nor the films has ever given us more intense love romances than "Tristan and Isolde" or "Carmen," more kindling dramas than "Aida" or "Siegfried," more rare comedy than "Meistersinger," "The Bartered Bride" or "The Barber of Seville." Why can't we get them in English most of the time? Are we just plain dumb, or afraid to ask?

FUN AT FIBBER MCGEE'S

On the air! This jolly little group comprises Jim Goss, who was playing a gangster role on this particular broadcast; Silly Watson, played by Hugh Studebaker; and Fibber McGee himself, the star and king-pin of the program. Fibber, the favorite son of Peoria, Illinois, did his first acting when he was just ten!

Betty Winkler, versatile Chicago actress who is star of "Girl Alone," is a member of the world-famous "McGee Stock Co."

LIGHT-HEARTED gaiety is the key-note of the Fibber McGee broadcasts, and it is hard for most observers to tell whether the audience or the cast has the most fun during a Fibber McGee program. Some airwaves comedians are in dead earnest as they go about the business of making other people laugh. To them, comedy is a science, and should be treated as such. But to The Fibber, life is a pretty good joke in itself. And the members of the cast share his opinion—enthusiastically!

Music for the show is furnished by Billy Mills and orchestra, shown here in a moment of relaxation between numbers. Fibber—his real name is Jim Jordan—expects to welcome wife Molly—Marion Jordan—back to the program soon. Molly has been very ill

Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde talks over NBC this Wednesday

Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde Commentator

Wednesday, NBC, 7:30-7:45 p.m.

To the profession distinguished by the work of Kaltenborn, Hill, Thomas, Carter, Thompson, McBride, Heatter and a few others, comes a woman with such an imposing record of accomplishments that her advent in this field cannot be allowed to approach unannounced. These records do not boast principally of feats in the field of journalism but are the history of a woman who has actually taken an active part in national and international affairs in recent years. Her name is Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde.

Bringing to radio a career that has been literally peppered with "firsts," Mrs. Rohde, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, begins a new weekly series titled "It's News to Me." The talks will take the form of new and human commentaries on national and international affairs as viewed by a person with cultural background, world knowledge and experience.

Mrs. Rohde began as a public speaker making campaign appeals for her father when he was battling for the presidency of the United States. The record of her precedent-breaking career gives her the distinction of being the first congresswoman to represent the "Old South," the first woman ever to serve on a congressional foreign-affairs committee, and the first woman to represent the United States at the Inter-Parliamentary Union. Her appointment as minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary to Denmark in 1933 gave her the further distinction of being America's first woman diplomat.

In addition to the above-mentioned accomplishments, Mrs. Rohde is the author of numerous magazine articles and two books, "Elements of Public Speaking," and "Leaves From a Greenland Diary."

Almost-Extinct Bison New Horizons Subject

Monday, CBS, 5:45-6 p.m.

Dr. Harold E. Anthony, curator of mammology at the American Museum of Natural History, will discuss the almost-extinct bison when he is heard as speaker on the "New Horizons" program. Dr. Anthony, who has been a member of the Museum staff since 1911, recently came to public notice as leader of that organization's expedition, which explored Shiva Temple and Wotan's Throne, two of the Sky Island features in the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

"New Horizons" brings internationally famous scientists and explorers to the air each week at this time.

Norman H. Davis is Red Cross speaker over CBS—Monday

Norman H. Davis Addresses Red Cross Chapter Birthday

Monday, CBS, 2:30-3 p.m.

Norman H. Davis, noted economist whose enviable record of activity in national and international affairs takes us through the last three decades, will address a nation-wide audience on Monday in his new capacity as president of the American Red Cross. The duties of this office were placed upon his shoulders in May at the National Red Cross Convention in San Francisco. His talk will conclude a special half-hour program celebrating the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the Red Cross chapter in Nassau County, New York. Outstanding events in the history of this humanitarian organization's work in the last twenty-one years will be dramatized during the first portion of the broadcast.

To those who have been visited by a major disaster—whether it be flood, earthquake, pestilence or war—the Red Cross means assistance in time of dire need. Today, with half the world spoiling to bring disaster down upon innocents in the ranks of the other half and their own, a word from the leader of the American branch of this greatest of all humanitarian movements comes as a friendly hand.

In 1863, when a group of prominent citizens of Geneva, headed by Henri Dunant, founded the International Red Cross, they didn't dream that their movement would ever have such a helpful ally as radio has been in the comparatively few years since its beginning. In those days it was impossible to address more than a handful of people at one time. Today radio reaches a nation-wide audience in one half-hour's broadcast.

English Diplomacy Discussed At Chicago Round Table

Sunday, NBC, 10:30-11 p.m.

Discussing English diplomacy, a subject that is the occasion of much comment and concern both here and abroad, three well-versed speakers will face each other across the University of Chicago Round Table during the regular broadcast of this program on Sunday. Three varied viewpoints on this important question will be given by Walter Laves, director of the League of Nations Association, William Edward Arnold-Forster, British political writer, and Quincy Wright, professor of international law at the University of Chicago.

English diplomacy, often spoken of as the deciding force which has kept another world war from breaking out in Europe on several recent occasions, was never more sorely tried in the history of the world than it has been these past troubled months.

The discoveries were made while Power was aiding in research for Woodbury Playhouse's "Unto the Third Generation," which he played opposite Ida Lupino on May 29. The play was based on the life of Power the first, who, it seems, was a friend of Louis Napoleon. At the 20th Century-Fox lot currently, Power the third is cast in "Suez" as an engineer and friend of Louis Napoleon!

Irene Rich is full of ideas. Struck out six years ago by movie tycoons who said she'd never do for talkies, Miss Rich proved contrariwise by making her living solely via the talk route with her now four-year-old radio contract. Result, she soon begins a major picture role. Latest idea, since her recent buy of a tract of land in San Fernando Valley, was to determine the location of her proposed new home by a most unique method. It was to take a house-trailer to the ranch to park and live in it here and there to test out various spots and the views each commands.

Phil Rapp, current Brice scripter, worked with Dave—so now Fannie won't have anyone but Rapp do her baby-talk. Miss Brice is both wise—and loyal. Hanley (Papa Snooks) Stafford is another who has profited by an earlier association with Fannie. When "Good News" cast Fannie in the baby role, she hired and herself paid Stafford, who had played with her previously on the air. Result, M-G-M liked his work so well they gave him a $300-weekly contract.

Several people, among them a dignified gray-haired gent with a goatee, paused to listen. He asked, when Sablon had finished, who had been singing. Miss Aussey proudly answered. "Well," said the old gentleman, "he's fine, but couldn't you tune in some music by my favorite—Richard Wagner?"

AIRIALTO LOWDOWN

BY MARTIN LEWIS

FOR quite a time, most sponsors were skeptical about hiring a star that had been on the air for another sponsor. They felt that the star retained the identification of the former sponsor's product, which, of course, would do them no good. For instance, Ed Wynn is still receiving mail addressed to the "Fire Chief" despite the fact that it has been several years since he broadcast for the gasoline sponsor. However, a few advertisers seem to be having a change of heart. Amos 'n' Andy, switched from selling toothpaste to soup and beans; Eddie Cantor from coffee to toothpaste to gasoline and now to cigarettes; Ben Bernie from canned beer to rubber tires; Boake Carter from radios to breakfast cereal. Next fall we will have Burns and Allen plugging Chesterfield cigarettes instead of Grape-Nuts, with Al Pearce plugging this cereal instead of automobiles. The latest to announce a change in sponsor is Guy Lombardo, who will quit plugging bread and joins up with the current sponsor of the Wayne King music. Your reporter is the only person, other than those immediately concerned, to know that Parks Johnson and Wally Butterworth will not be plugging shaving-cream next fall. They're trying to decide which one of the several offers to accept, each one of them bringing a healthy increase in pay.

After seven years, Wayne King leaves his beauty-product sponsor in the fall . . . which recalls to mind the story about how the orchestra leader got started on this program. The sponsor was manufacturing his product in an old building on Chicago's west side. It was just a very small struggling business when a suggestion was made to its owner that he go on the air with a radio program to advertise his product. What kind of a program . . . who to get . . . and how to pay for it . . . were just a few of the problems. A friend suggested Wayne King to the owner. He had never heard of him, but put him on nevertheless. I was told that King was even offered stock in the company as part salary, but refused. Today the company is one of the leaders in its field and it cannot be denied that Wayne King's music did a good job.

Mentioning Wayne King brings to mind the many letters coming in from readers who miss Phil Stewart's voice on the air. Methinks a smart sponsor should grab Mr. Stewart while he is still available. He has a voice that sells merchandise. Franklyn MacCormack is another artist for whose return the listeners are clamoring.

When Tyrone Power vacations for the summer, the sponsor will substitute a new show, originating in Chicago, for thirteen weeks. The series starts July 3 under the title of "Win Your Lady," and will star Jim Ameche, star of "Attorney-at-Law," and Betty Lou Gerson. Two members of the Edgar Guest "It Can Be Done" company have been signed in supporting roles in the summer venture. They are Bret Morrison and Ethel Owen.

"Inside of Sports" will be a new Mutual Coast-to-Coaster starting June 14. Commentator is Sam Balter, who has been presenting this show on the West Coast . . . Dorothy Thompson returns to the air on August 30 . . . Although you don't hear or read much about Pick and Pat, they celebrated their fourth year on CBS last week. In case you have forgotten, they were "Molasses and January" on the "Show Boat" program . . . Kay Kyser's program, which is getting more popular each week, has been renewed for at least thirteen more weeks . . . Connie Boswell is being seriously considered for a regular spot on the new Al Pearce show which debuts in the fall. A better choice couldn't be made . . . Exclusive: Orson Welles, the popular young actor who portrayed the role of "The Shadow" last fall, has been offered several radio shows for next season, but the one that appeals to him most is the role of Sherlock Holmes, which is the character you no doubt will hear him play . . . Dave Elman and Harry Salter of "Hobby Lobby" have a new oddity show all worked out, somewhat on the lines of "Hobby Lobby," which, it is rumored, is sure fire. The program has already been recorded, with CBS Production Man Martin Gosch producing it, and they say several sponsors are already interested.

The latest report on the program popularity survey shows the Charlie McCarthy-Don Ameche program leading the full-hour shows. 2—Lux Radio Theater; 3—Bing Crosby; 4—Fred Allen; 5—Rudy Vallee; 6—Good News; 7—Major Bowes; 8—Hollywood Hotel; 9—Kate Smith; 10—National Barn Dance. Jack Benny still leads the half-hour programs, with Al Jolson in second place; 3—Burns and Allen; 4—Eddie Cantor; 5—One Man's Family; 6—Al Pearce; 7—First Nighter; 8—Edward G. Robinson; 9—Gang Busters; 10—Fibber McGee.

The "Songshop" program was scheduled to leave the air a few Friday nights ago. As a matter of fact, immediately after the program was over everyone on the show was saying good-by and wishing each other luck. Suddenly there was a call for silence, and the program's production man told the entire cast that they were going to throw a farewell party at the Warwick Hotel immediately, and everyone was instructed to go right over there. At the party, a tall, well-dressed man approached Songstress Alice Cornett and told her how much his wife enjoyed her singing. Although she didn't know the man, she thanked him and added that she thought it was a shame that such a lovely program had to leave the air, that it was just like one big, happy family, and last but not least, so many people mentioned it was a grand program. The man to whom Miss Cornett was speaking happened to be the big boss, and her few words were responsible for the show remaining on the air, giving everyone at the party real cause for celebration.

Speaking out loud in some cases may help, but in one particular case it did a great deal of harm. You may recall that a few weeks ago Fred Allen had as his "person you didn't expect to meet" a young man by the name of

This parrot—named, oddly enough, Polly—is the champion talking parrot of America. The honor came to the 18-year-old bird as a result of a contest conducted over an NBC network. There were 18 competitors in the race

Lowell "Colonel Jake" Thomas shows Colonel Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle where to put the "X" on the contract that will bind "Stoop" to the Thomas soft-ball team. The first game of the season will be played at Pawling, N. Y., June 19

Joseph Becker, who told of his thriving "minding babies" business. That broadcast, my friends, put Joseph out of business. It came to the attention of New York's license commissioner, who had the lad brought into his office and advised him that he was operating an employment agency without a license and he was too young to get one. Thus, four young boys and two girls who were on Becker's payroll were put on the unemployment list, and an ambitious boy is looking for a new career. The sad part about it is that immediately after his air appearance with Allen, the agency started to get many new customers and was all set to increase its staff when the ax fell.

On Monday, May 23, it was my pleasure to appear on the "Monday Night Show" to present Richard Humber with RADIO GUIDE's medal for coming out on top in the Star of Stars election. The last issue of RADIO GUIDE announced Ted Husing, who also appears on this show, as the most popular sports announcer. Thus arrangements were made for your reporter to return to the program the following week to make the presentation. This prompted Husing's gal friend, Betty Lawford, to remark that I was the only guest to appear on this show and be held over for a second week. Very funny, don't you think?—or don't you?

Short-wave programs of American stations are shown along with the regular listings beginning on page 25. These are indicated, for example, by (sw-11.87) in parentheses following a program listing. This means that on 11.87 megacycles the same program may also be heard over an American short-wave station. Please note that foreign stations do not always adhere precisely to their announced program schedules.

Times indicated on this page are for Eastern Daylight Saving Time. For EST and CDT subtract 1 hour; for CST, 2 hours; for MST, 3 hours; for PST, 4 hours

WITH Czechoslovakia now assuming the leading role in the Central European drama, "War—to Be, or Not to Be," the following up-to-date schedule of short-wave broadcasts from Prague should be of especial interest: Transmissions for North America on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 7:55 to 10:55 p.m. EDT (news in English at 9:50 and a talk in English at 10:20 p.m. EDT), over OLR5A (15.23) or OLR5B (15.32); transmissions for South America on Sundays from 6:55 to 9:55 p.m. EDT over OLR5A or OLR5B; transmissions for Europe daily from 2:55 to 5:40 p.m. EDT (news in English at 5:30 p.m. EDT) over OLR4A (11.84) or OLR4B (11.76).

VP2LO (6.384), owned by the Caribbean Broadcasting Service of St. Kitts, B. W. I., will within the next two years become the most powerful short-wave station in the West Indies, according to its operators, who state that with a power of 10,000 watts, this broadcaster will be in the enviable position of providing advertisers with a service covering the whole Caribbean area. VP2LO, with a present power of 500 watts, may be heard daily from 5 to 5:45 p.m. EDT.

DAVENTRY PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS: The most magnificent military display in the world, the Aldershot Tattoo, in which upwards of five thousand troops of the Aldershot and Eastern Commands turn Rushmoor Arena, Aldershot, into an animated pattern of blazing color as they reenact scenes from the past and display the resources of the army of today on an eleven-acre stage, will be heard in rehearsal on Tuesday, June 7, at 10:20 a.m. EDT, while the actual Tattoo, which will this year present the "Field of the Cloth of Gold" scene of the meeting between Henry VIII of England and Francois I of France, will be described on Wednesday, June 8, at 6:40 p.m. EDT. . . . The famous American film stars of a few years back, Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon, will co-star in a musical play, "The Silent Melody," which will be heard on Tuesday, June 7, at 3 p.m. EDT. . . . A commentary on Trooping the Color—by far the most spectacular of London's annual ceremonials—the army's own celebration of the King's birthday, will be heard on Thursday, June 9, at 5:45 a.m. EDT. . . . The first cricket test match between England and Australia, the greatest event on the cricket calendar, will be described in play-by-play commentaries on Friday, June 10, at 6:25, 7:30, 8:20, 9:15 a.m., 12:30, and 1:25 p.m. EDT, and on Saturday, June 11, at 7:30, 8:20, 9:15, 10:30 a.m., 12:25, and 1:25 p.m. EDT. In addition to the regular frequencies, two special frequencies, namely, GSP (15.31) and GSD (11.75) will be in constant use during the match. . . . The Wightman Cup tennis championships, in which women "aces" from the United States will again attempt to defeat their British opponents, will be short-waved direct from the center court at Wimbledon on Friday, June 10, at 10:15 a.m. EDT and on June 11 at 10:15 and 11:30 a.m. EDT.

EA8AB, the Radio Club de Tenerife, at Tenerife in the Canary Islands, is once more on the air, having been heard broadcasting on a frequency of 7.3 megs, on a recent Thursday at 10 p.m. EDT, by Roger Legge, of Philadelphia, Pa.

SHORT-WAVE SHORTS: TI4NRH (9.7), Heredia, Costa Rica, is now using the Costa Rican national anthem as a sign-on and sign-off signature. . . . COCH (11.73) of Havana, Cuba, will leave the air temporarily while a new 20,000-watt transmitter is being installed. . . . CJCX (6.01) of Sydney, Nova Scotia, Canada, with a power of 1,000 watts, transmits on Sundays only, from 11 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. EDT. . . . LZA, Sofia, Bulgaria, is being reported on dual frequencies of 14.96 and 15.18 megs, according to listeners in Arizona and California, who are hearing broadcasts from 10 to 11 a.m. and midnight to 1 a.m. EDT, almost daily.

Listeners to OLR recently heard the President of Czechoslovakia, Dr. Edward Benes, speaking in connection with the present European crisis

Solution to Puzzle Given Last Week

The Communications Act of 1934 defines "chain broadcasting." This was an unfortunate term, because a chain is associated in the public mind with a series of individual locations of the same enterprise, under one ownership and management.

A broadcasting network more closely parallels a wire service into the offices of independently owned newspapers. Of the 152 stations on the National Broadcasting Company networks, only ten are operated by us. The others are associated stations which have voluntarily entered into contracts with us by which specified hours of the broadcast day are set aside for network commercial programs. The remaining hours are reserved by the station for its own use, wherein it may schedule programs of local interest and, as an added service to the community, sell time to local merchants on a firm, long-time basis. This permits the station to build itself firmly into the good-will of its locality, securing preferential attention from loyal listeners.

IN 1926 the founders of American broadcasting built upon a foundation of service to the people. Today, less than twelve years later, we find that the American system of broadcasting stands almost alone upon that same foundation in a world in which radio is being used extensively for propaganda purposes by dictatorial governments. The mistakes that we have made serve only to emphasize the importance of this original trust and the loyalty of the industry to it. The stamp of final approval or disapproval is for the American public—and we are content to have it so.

It is hard to believe that Feminine Hygiene

can be so dainty, easy and Greaseless

BUT IT IS TRUE. Zonitors, snow-white, anti-septic, greaseless, are not only easy to use but are completely removable with water. For that reason alone thousands of women now prefer them to messy, greasy suppositories. Entirely ready for use, requiring no mixing or clumsy apparatus. Odorless—and ideal for deodorizing. You'll find them superior for this purpose, too!

• More and more women are ending the nuisance of greasy suppositories, thanks to the exclusive new greaseless Zonitors, for modern feminine hygiene.

There is nothing like Zonitors for daintiness, easy application and easy removal. They contain no harmful drugs—no greasy base to melt or run. Zonitors make use of the world-famous Zonite antiseptic principle favored because of its anti-septic power combined with its freedom from "burn" danger to delicate tissues.

Full instructions in package. $1 for box of 12—at all U. S. and Canadian druggists. Free booklet in plain envelope on request. Write Zonitors, 3612 Chrysler Bldg., New York City.

The Greatest Race Never Run

So they cancelled the race between Seabiscuit and War Admiral.

We heard the news and looked disconsolately at our RADIO GUIDE cover for June 4. War Admiral was in full flight. Seabiscuit's mouth was open, full of teeth. Was he giving us a horse-laugh?

An inner voice said: "Never put another sporting event on your cover. It rains. Something breaks. It is called off and you look silly." Another voice said, "But why was this race cancelled? Was it a slick trick to save some money or really in the public interest?"

We consulted radio's own experts. Clem McCarthy told RADIO GUIDE: "The public was served well by the decision. Seabiscuit has had bad knees for over a year." Bryan Field said: "Howard has demonstrated sportsmanship and courage by calling off the race. As for rumors about other reasons for stopping the race, that kind of information always springs from the ignorant." Bob Trout said: "I'm no racing expert but cancelling that race kept fans from losing money on what would have been a one-sided race." Paul White, head of the special-events division of CBS, which was to have broadcast the contest, told RADIO GUIDE: "I'm perfectly satisfied that cancellation of the race was honest and that reasons were that Seabiscuit had bad knees and couldn't work out properly. We broadcasters were working for an audience much larger than the crowd at the track. Thinking in terms of that audience, it would have been a crying shame to run the race when the outcome was obvious."

Thinking in terms of that audience, we of RADIO GUIDE hope that it was not too impatient when it read our story about the race of the decade and then attempted to tune in on Decoration Day. We hope that it will understand that the cancellation came after last week's issue of RADIO GUIDE had been printed and distributed.

Baby Ideas Can Turn into Winners

Big Time broadcasting and Small Time broadcasting are two brothers in the same big family, but one is undernourished and the other is dead from the neck up.

Big Time broadcasting is represented by the big commercial programs. Rich sponsors pour their millions into airfare, spend ridiculous sums of money for a single appearance of a broken-down Hollywood prima donna, or attempt to resurrect from the dead some nearly forgotten "Name" in order to draw an audience.

The Small Time is composed of those thousands of little sustaining programs which fill time, which few hear, and which, for the most part, are not worth hearing.

Between the two brothers, we get some amazingly satisfactory radio entertainment. We got it last night. We'll get it again tonight. But will we get it tomorrow?

We have listened to radio since that day in 1926 when NBC strung some wires together and told the world it was a network. We have enthused about the hear-them-for-nothing opera and concert stars who were our first parlor guests. We have cheered the parade of Broadway's greatest comedians. We even applauded last year's invasion of Hollywood because it brought us fresh voices and brand-new personalities.

But today, while broadcasting is still gay with Jack Benny's wit and the parroting of Charlie McCarthy, while the memory of Toscanini is still in us and the Pulitzer prize plays are just being offered, we pause to inquire of radio tomorrow.

For Big Time broadcasting is definitely setting itself up against new ideas. Because of the necessity of securing big audiences immediately, the Big Time requires sure-fire names and acts. It refuses to consider baby ideas that might turn into winners, but sticks to staple products. It taboos anything untried, new, or original.

So its undernourished little brother must produce the new ideas which the Big Time can gobble up. This summer the air will be full of sustaining shows. Any one of them may be the "Major Bowes" of 1938. Keep your ears open for the thrill of picking a winner ahead of the rest of the world.

But as you listen, ask yourself if it wouldn't be better if some of those millions now going into the Big Time could be used to build a laboratory program or series of programs which would give to the listener new names and sounds and thrills.

We love the old-timers and we shall remain faithful to them, but broadcasting cannot stand still. It must move ahead, and that is impossible unless somehow broadcasting develops a richly endowed idea-incubator.

VOICE OF THE LISTENER

THRILLED!

Dear RADIO GUIDE: "I am thrilled to have the honor of your award in your 1938 radio contest. The exquisite silver medal symbolizing your readers' vote of me as leading classical singer is my most prized treasure. That my song has lived in the hearts of my air-friends even while absent stirs me very deeply and I would like to include in this note to you my fervent thanks to every one who so kindly voted me their choice in your contest. The warm interest of my listeners throughout the country in my concert appearances has in no way modified my 'first love' of broadcasting. I most earnestly hope that through the magic of the air as well as personal concerts, I may continue to capture for my listeners the manifold beauties of the songs dearest to them. With every good wish to you and your readers."—JESSICA DRAGONETTE, New York City.

Although not on the air at the present time, Miss Dragonette's horde of radio fans remained faithful, voted her as radio's most popular female singer of classical songs in RADIO GUIDE'S 1938 Star of Stars Poll.—Ed.

"GIRL ALONE"

Voice of the Listener: " 'Girl Alone' was certainly a program worth listening to and certainly should be fought for. Let us who liked this vehicle by Fayette Krum fight for 'Girl Alone' and bombard NBC for its continuance—until the end of the story, anyhow."—A. G. V., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Last week NBC, largely due to letters from loyal fans, returned "Girl Alone" to the airwaves as a sustaining feature.—Ed.

CHUCKLING HOUSEWIVES

Voice of the Listener: "To me, the heartening thing about the results in RADIO GUIDE'S Dramatic Program Poll is the very evident fact that housewives are learning to chuckle while they work. It's most encouraging to note that while the mixed evening audiences prefer the introverted, mid-Victorian, stern-hand-of-the-father type of thing found in 'One Man's Family,' or the noisy, blood-and-thunder of 'Big Town' and 'Gang Busters,' there are enough women with a sense of humor to put such daytime gems as 'Girl Alone' and 'Vic and Sade' high on the most popular list. "There can't be very much wrong with a nation whose homemakers love to laugh, do you think? . . ."—Mrs. M. J. McCALL, Barberton, O.

"Girl alone" placed twelfth in the Drama Division of the Star of Stars Poll; "Vic and Sade," twentieth.—Ed.

"LIGHTS OUT"

VOL: ". . . Here is a second to the motion that 'Lights Out' be changed to Friday night . . . We could hear many more of them then."—Mrs. B. SMITH, Cary, Pa.

Mrs. Smith "seconds" for dozens of others who agreed that "Lights Out" is inconveniently scheduled at 12:30 a.m. Thursday morning (Wednesday night) on NBC. Now what will the schedule-makers say?—Ed.

THEY MEET: RADIO'S STORY-BOOK ROMANCE BEGINS

WRITERS and poets grow rapturous over lovers-to-be whose paths cross unnoticed before they discover each other. Such a story-book romance culminated recently in a wedding of radio personalities fit to make their followers starry-eyed.

In 1936 Fred Waring's announcer was young Andre Baruch, who had lived in France until he was eleven, studied music, became an announcer in 1930. Obscure in her first radio job was Beatrice Wain, in the Waring chorus. Baruch, popular and busy, did not even notice her working on the air with him! A year later Baruch was announcing Kate Smith's "Bandwagon" series; Beatrice Wain was in the show's Ted Straeter Chorus. This time they met.

THEY MARRY: ANDRE BARUCH WINS A BRIDE

THE STARS HAVE HEARTS

Children at the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind ask no pity, simply try to make their lives as much like others, as possible. Since there are no Braille newspapers, they get their news by radio—and much of their entertainment as well. The entertainers called them "our most appreciative audience"

PART of the cost of stardom is the time any celebrity must give others. Comedians who can make paid audiences laugh and singers whose concerts thrill cash customers find themselves called upon to perform the same service for unfortunates of all kinds who can't be members of their regular audiences. Interesting is the fact that most entertainers give unstintingly of their own lives to add some brightness to others. Among theatrical folk an adage expressed in many different forms presents the idea that "the bigger they are the bigger they are"—which is not as nonsensical as it sounds, for the biggest "names" in entertainment have always been the ones who were "big" about donating their efforts to those less fortunate than they.

Recently, the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind called on radio stars to entertain those in its charge. Twenty-three of them gathered in the New York offices of Radio Guide, loaded instruments and selves into a bus and went gladly to give their best to cheer the blind children. In these pictures Radio Guide shows what some of them did to make the children say to themselves, "The stars have hearts!"

Exclusive Radio Guide Photographs by Charles Seawood

Most accordion arrangements published in New York are by Anthony Galli-Rini. He gladly joined the air-artists in entertaining the blind children

Elmore Vincent (better known to radio listeners as "Senator Fishface," with his partner, "Prof. Figsbottle") acted as the master of ceremonies Amanda Snow, who sings lullabies daily on NBC, joined the entertainers. She doesn't mind being kidded about her 285 pounds!

Irene Beasley ("The Long Tall Gal From Dixie") has been guesting recently on the air, was Radio Guide's first Radio Queen, in 1934

Robert Simmons, tenor star of Friday night's Cities Service Concerts, knew the New York Institute's principal years ago, returned to sing for his pupils

Lovely Soprano Lucille Manners, Simmons' co-star, sang three numbers, said her blind accompanist was "the best I have ever worked with"

The Student Chorus of the Institute returned the compliment of the stars' entertainment by singing several numbers. Since its members cannot see to read music, they learn all numbers by memory, sing without a conductor.

Since school opened last September, this chorus has appeared several times on NBC, once on CBS, and on several local New York stations. It comprises thirty voices, male and female, of all creeds and nationalities

BIGGEST GUEST STARS: "SNOW WHITE'S DWARFS' DEBUT"

MOST sensationally successful motion picture this year has been Walt Disney's animated-cartoon feature, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Most sensational revelation concerning the well-loved film was news that its characters were not imaginary but were based on the facial and vocal impersonations of actors and actresses who gave voices to the characters and who modeled for the artists. Since Screen Guide, Radio Guide's sister publication, first revealed them, the real Snow White and her dwarfs have been making the most of their sudden fame. Thus recently four actors who played five of the dwarfs became sensational stars on the air, radio's biggest guests, on the program Al Jolson broadcasts at 8:30 p.m. EDT Tuesdays on CBS (8:30 p.m. PST for the West). These scoop pictures reveal the real dwarfs!

While "Snow White" was being made, all the actors were forced to remain anonymous; their identity became one of Hollywood's hottest mysteries. The actors not only gave their voices to the dwarfs, queen, witch and Snow White but modeled for cartoons as well. Above: Scott Mattraw ("Bashful") was one of the "dwarfs" who guested for Jolson a few weeks ago. They wore costumes similar to those used in "Snow White"

BASHFUL'S heart-warming mannerisms are Scott Mattraw's. He has been in movies 15 years, began his career as a boy soprano. Some actors wore false chins and noses while posing; Mattraw needed only a beard!

DOC was at home before the mike when the dwarfs visited Jolson, for he is Roy Atwell, once with Fred Allen, now on Joe Penner's series. On the air and in the movie his specialty is a much-garbled monolog

GRUMPY was Pinto Colvig, also the voice and model for "Sleepy." He was the only actor to do two dwarfs, although Lucille La Verne was both queen and witch. Adriana Caselotti, 21, was "Snow White's" voice SNEEZY'S violent contortions gave Billy Gilbert headaches, a sore nose during "Snow White's" filming. He has appeared in movies with his sneezes, but never sneezed as often as he had to for Disney's artists!

Three substitute dwarfs were on the air: Otis Harlan, original "Happy," was ill, so Actor Jack MacKenzie left the audience to take his part; "Red" Corcoran, Jolson script-writer, played "Sleepy," since Colvig, the original, was busy as "Grumpy," and Joe Marks broadcast as "Dopey" in the part created by Eddie Collins. Above: Martha Raye (who decided she loved "Dopey") shows Billy Gilbert, "Sneezy," how to block a wheeze

THE MAN BEHIND "VIC AND SADE"

TO LITERALLY millions of radio listeners, "Vic and Sade" is a sunny-dispositioned, true-to-life dramatization of the lives of an average man, his wife and their son, Rush. Among all the serialized dramatic programs on the air, "Vic and Sade" is outstanding for its refusal to become melodramatic, to employ sudden, climactic events end-on-end to maintain listeners' interest, or to deviate in any way from a sane presentation of the lives of three people who are noteworthy principally because they come very close to being "completely normal"!

Heard on some NBC stations at 11:15 a.m. EDT and on some CBS stations at 1:15 p.m. EDT, Monday through Friday, this program also comes to many listeners in the form of transcriptions. It became a network feature in the summer of 1932, has built a following of listeners who dearly love the characters portrayed by Art Van Harvey (Vic), Bernardine Flynn (Sade) and Billy Idelson (Rush).

Many of these listeners have never heard of Paul Rhymer—yet he is the one who creates the characters that have become almost personal friends of the public.

Not like prophets who are without glory in their own lands, though, "Vic and Sade" means Paul Rhymer in one city-full of the show's listeners. That city is Bloomington, Ill., his home town. Recently Bloomington decided to honor the thirty-two-year-old author who left there six years ago to put "Vic and Sade" on the air. Result: "Paul Rhymer Day" in Bloomington—a celebration that brought stars of the program, radio executives and old friends together to pay him homage. To others, these pictures introduce the author of one of the air's most popular shows.

Exclusive Radio Guide Photographs by Gene Lester

Arriving in Bloomington, Ill., for "Paul Rhymer Day"—Paul Rhymer, "Vic and Sade" author; Art Van Harvey (Vic); Bernardine Flynn (Sade); Billy Idelson (Rush)

"Vic and Sade" on the air reflects experiences Rhymer had in Bloomington. Billy Idelson, Bernardine Flynn and Art Van Harvey (left to right), as Rush, Sade and Vic, often use Bloomingtonians' names in the "little house half-way up in the next block" scripts!

Highspot of the banquet which climaxed "Paul Rhymer Day" was the presentation of a "key to the city" by Mayor Mark Hayes. It was a small key "because Bloomington's a small city!" (Its population is 30,991)

Seven hundred home-town celebrants paid $1.25 each to attend the banquet given by the local Young Men's Club. Huge drawings of Rhymer and the stars of the program, at a microphone, were central decorations Homecomings for stars themselves are common—Jack Benny's return to Waukegan, Ill., made headlines everywhere last year. Seldom do the behind-the-scenes men win receptions anywhere such as the one above!

"Vic and Sade" is free entertainment on the air, and the Paul Rhymer honorary banquet was free, too—for some! Even "outsiders" cheered when wires were read from Charlie McCarthy, Edgar Guest, many others

Fifteen years ago Rhymer was a senior at Bloomington High School; for his triumphal return, the high-school band played, led a parade. After his high-school graduation, Rhymer attended Illinois Wesleyan University, also in Bloomington. Later he was a filling-station attendant and taxi-driver before he became a staff writer for NBC and created "Vic and Sade." Often he plumbs Bloomington memories for material!

FRED WARING TURNS INVENTOR

UNUSUAL finesse in blending voices and instruments determined Fred Waring's status as a top-flight orchestra leader. How well he handles a large aggregation of musicians and choral groups! It was "proper mixing" that served as the foundation for all the accomplishments of Waring's Pennsylvanians.

Proper mixing of a different kind is credited with being the basic factor of the certain success of Fred's invention, the Waring Mixer.

The device is more than a mixer—it reduces fruits, vegetables and meats and sea foods to almost invisible particles. Thus it makes drinks of food, makes food of drinks.

Fred's invention is still a sideline, his orchestra remains his No. One breadwinner.

Inside the factory at Toledo, Ohio, where the mixer is made, men and women turn out 100 a day. Production of the $34.25 device began four months ago

Rudy Vallee tried the mixer just to be polite, found it great for making Banana Royales in a jiffy

Anxious to see how his friends like the invention, Fred sent one to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whiteman. Mrs. PW finds it helps to keep Paul's weight down

Mrs. Guy Lombardo makes celery cocktails for Bandleader Guy as pep-ups. She uses two cups of tomato juice, a cup and a half of diced celery, and the mixer does the rest

Mr. and Mrs. (Watch the Fun Go By) Pearce use their Waring Mixer for making rum cocktails. In the kitchen women experiment with new concoctions, while at the bar men have created new drinks. The mixer has revived the familiar household name of a few years ago

The ceremonies commemorating the first muster of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts in 1638 will be brought to a close with the field day banquet at the Copley Plaza at which the Massachusetts group will be host to the detachment of the Honorable Artillery Company of London, which is in the United States to join in the celebration. The banquet program will include toasts to the President of the United States, the King of England, the Massachusetts company and the armed forces of the United States.

NBC-The Planets' Poetic Allegory; WHO WSM KOA KSTP KFYR WDAF WMAQ

"The Planets," radio's first full-hour experiment in poetic drama, written especially for the microphone by Alfred Kreibitz, one of America's most distinguished modern poets, will be given its world premiere. The play concerns the history of the Earth since 1914. It is an indirect yet decisive plea for world peace. Inspired by Gustav Holst's symphonic suite in seven movements of the same title, "The Planets" is a beautiful and powerful allegory with pulsating word patterns that invoke the same stirring moods as the music which suggested it.

Each program in this series of dramatizations by Burr Cook will be complete in itself. Each story will deal with a peculiar historical situation in which actual events are definitely part of historical record up to a certain point, and then evidence and tradition begin to diverge and, in many cases, the searcher after truth has two or even more possible solutions for a historical problem. The stories are based on facts and it will be quite often impossible to determine where facts turn into fancy.

An original music score from the pen of Werner Jaussen will be conducted by Jaussen himself, with Screen Stars Madeleine Carroll and Henry Fonda aiding in narration as part of a special broadcast from Hollywood. The score is from the yet-to-be-released Walter Wan-ger film "Blockade," starring Miss Carroll and Fonda.

MBS-Wightman Cup from England: WGN
The famed Wightman Cup tennis competition—annual event between outstanding American and British women players—will be described, by short wave, direct from the Centre
Court, Wimbledon, London, by F. H. Grisewood, B.B.C. commentator. The matches are played in alternate years at Forest Hills, Long Island and Wimbledon. The cup was presented in 1923 by Mrs. George Wightman of Boston, who held the American lawn-tennis championship for four years.

OLD BOOKS WANTED

We pay big cash prices for thousands of different titles. We bought over 7,500 books in past twenty-one months, paying as high as $500 for a single book. For example, we will pay you cash for the following books as described in our price list:

Pilgrim's Progress	$4,000.00
Adventures of Tom Sawyer	200.00
Old Swimmin' Hole	75.00
Black Beauty	100.00
Treasure Island	50.00
Scarlet Letter	35.00
Venus and Adonis	5,000.00
Leaves of Grass	250.00
Snow-Bound	45.00
Uncle Tom's Cabin	100.00
Ben Hur	50.00
Last of the Mohicans	50.00
Moby Dick	100.00
Little Women	25.00
McGuffey Primer	100.00
Tamerlane & Other Poems	5,000.00

These are but a few of the many thousands of books we want. DON'T SEND BOOKS until you have checked our latest list giving full information. Don't delay—a single old school book, story book, bible, poetry, history travel, almanacs, newspapers, letters, etc., may bring you $25, $50, $100, $500 or even $5,000 cash for certain books. Better investigate NOW! Send 10c to the American Book Mart, 140 S. Dearborn St., Dept. 7301, Chicago, and we will send you latest list of old books we want to buy and cash prices we will pay.

"Surrealism" is a modern, highly experimental play, which in its essence, is a criticism of the machine age. A mechanical larynx that announces the movement of an elevator, and the robot hand which controls a manufacturing process are given life, speech and intelligence, and set in juxtaposition to a young playwright.

Boake Carter captured top place among all male air commentators

CARTER, THOMPSON, WIN IN STARS POLL

HIGH on the list of the molders—and makers—of public opinion today are the radio commentators. Essentially an American institution, they are very nearly as vital to the well-informed citizen of the United States as is the daily newspaper.

That the commentators are taken seriously, respected, admired is more than proved by the returns in RADIO GUIDE'S Star of Stars poll. Tabulation of the ballots in the commentators division of the fifth annual poll has just been completed, and the results prove that the hectic events of the past year have been reflected in an increased interest in interpretive news opinion.

Once again Boake Carter, winner of the 1937 poll, leads every other commentator in the field. Running almost three to one ahead of Lowell Thomas, his nearest competitor, Carter amply proves his right to supremacy. Edwin C. Hill finished in third place, with Jimmie Fidler and Walter Winchell, in that order, behind him.

Dorothy Thompson polled the most votes in the women's division. Her lead over Kathryn Cravens, in second place, was more than two to one. Kate Smith came third, Mary Margaret McBride fourth, Harriet Parsons fifth.

Dorothy Thompson was the nation's choice as best female commentator

SUMMER CONTESTS ON THE AIR

THE summer radio season surprised the editors of RADIO GUIDE by showing more life than it has for years. Therefore, because several rich prizes continue to be dangled before our eyes (and ears) we resume our contest department each week in this at-a-glance-column. These items will be kept up to date and complete only so far as national contests are concerned. When the bigger advertisers return to the field of contesting this autumn, we will introduce again our special department of helpful contest aids called "So You Like Contests?"

$50,000.00 CASH

PRIZES: (Weekly) 1st, $1,000 cash; ten prizes, each $50 cash; fifty prizes, each $10 cash.

THE RULES: Complete the sentence, "I like Royal Crown Cola because —" in twenty-five additional words or less. No limit on number of entries from each contestant, but each entry must include the top from a bottle of Royal Crown Cola ("RC" Cola). Mail entries to Royal Crown Cola, Columbus, Ga. There are twenty-five weekly contests; winners are announced each week on the air.

For more details listen to "Royal Crown Revue," NBC, Friday, 9 p.m. EDT. For the West, 8:30 p.m. PST.

40,183 PRIZES

PRIZES: (Qualifying monthly prizes) Five thousand prizes, each six cans of tuna fish. (Grand Prizes): 1st, $5,000; 182 lesser prizes totaling $5,000 more.

THE RULES: Fill in three words (no more) to complete the following sentence: "I like this quality tuna because it is — and —." Use the three words you consider most descriptive of Chicken of the Sea Tuna or White Star Tuna. Attach two labels from each brand to each entry and send to Contest Department, Van Camp Sea Food Co., Terminal Island, Cal. The qualifying prizes will be awarded for the 5,000 best entries each month, March through October. These winners will be eligible to enter the $10,000 cash contest, based on a statement titled, "It's the natural thing to say."

$15,000.00 CASH

PRIZES: (Grand) 1st, $10,000; 2nd, $2,500; 3rd, $1,000; 4th, $500; 5th, $100; 6th, $50; four prizes, each $25; fifty prizes, each $10; fifty prizes, each $5.

THE RULES: Write a letter of not more than 250 words on the subject, "What the word 'home' means to me, and the three things I learned from 'The Home Idea Book' that appealed to me most for my home." Each letter should have two parts. In the first, tell in 100 words or less what "home" means to you, and in the remaining 150 words, discuss the three points from "The Home Idea Book." The book may be obtained from the Johns-Manville Corp., Dept. AH-4, 22 East 40th St., New York City, or from Johns-Manville dealers. Mail entries to Johns-Manville Contest, 22 East 40th St., New York City. Contest closes July 20.

$9,500.00 FOR LIMERICKS

PRIZES: (Grand) 1st, $1,000; 2nd, $500; 3rd, $250; twenty-five prizes, each a 1938 Leonard electric refrigerator (price, $190); 60 prizes, each $50 cash.

THE RULES: Obtain a booklet of ten limericks, each pertaining to some Leonard Refrigerator feature, from your dealer. Each limerick lacks a last line. Write last lines for five of the ten limericks, fill these in in ink or with a typewriter on the Official Entry Blank on the back page of the booklet, and mail the entry blank only (not the whole booklet) to Leonard Refrigerator Limerick Contest, 14260 Plymouth Road, Detroit, Mich. Sign your name and address in ink in space provided on blank, as well as name and address of dealer from whom booklet was obtained. Mail entries before June 15.

SIX $25.00 PRIZES

PRIZES (Weekly) Six prizes, each $25 cash.

THE RULES: Submit six questions, suitable for use on the air, with complete correct answers, to "Professor Quiz," care of CBS, New York City.

For more details, listen to "Professor Quiz," CBS, Saturday, 9 p.m. EDT. For the West, 9 p.m. MST, 8 PST.

$30,000.00

PRIZES: (Grand) 1st, $10,000 a year for life, or $12,000 cash; 2nd, $2,000 cash; 10 prizes, each $100; fifty prizes, each $50; one hundred prizes, each a $25 merchandise certificate; one hundred prizes, each a $10 certificate; one thousand prizes, each a $5 certificate; two thousand prizes, each a $2 certificate.

THE RULES: Complete in thirty additional words or less the sentence, "My favorite Libby Food is Libby's —, because —." Enclose labels from three different Libby canned foods with each entry. Sign your full name and address and dealer's full name and address. Send entries to Libby Contest Judges, Howard-Clark Bldg., Chicago, Ill. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, July 9.

$1,000.00 CASH

PRIZES: (Grand) 1st, $200; 2nd, $100; 3rd, $75; 4th, $50; 5th, $25; twenty prizes, each $10; forty prizes, each $5; fifty prizes, each $3.

THE RULES: In the July, August and September issues of Click Magazine, pictures of famous persons are identified with "quotes" of their best-known expressions. Fill in the names of the six persons pictured in each issue, and send the three sets of identified pictures, together with a letter of not more than one hundred words describing "What I like best about the July, August and September issues of Click," in one envelope, to Click, P. O. Box 8245, Philadelphia, Pa. Do not send answers each month—they must be sent as a complete set for the three months. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, September 1.

50 STUDEBAKERS

PRIZES: (Weekly) Ten prizes, each a Commander Studebaker sedan equipped with Philco radio and with 1,000 gallons of gasoline; also $100 cash to each winner.

THE RULES: Finish the sentence, "I like Ivory Flakes because —" in twenty-five additional words or less. Attach a box-top from either size of Ivory Soap Flakes to each entry. There are five weekly contests, the first starting June 5, and the last closing at midnight July 9. Send entries to Ivory Flakes, Box 123, Cincinnati, Ohio.

For more details, listen to "Mary Marlin," Monday through Friday on NBC at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. EDT or to "The O'Neills," Monday through Friday on NBC at 12:15 p.m. EDT.

$5 FOR RHYMES

PRIZE: (Weekly) $5 cash.

THE RULES: Send a four-line rhyme about Alomite lubrication to Judges, Used Car Contest, Nash Motors Division, 14250 Plymouth Road, Detroit, Mich. Some of the rhymes are read on Horace Heidt's radio program, and the winner is selected then.

For more details, listen to Horace Heidt, Tuesday, NBC, 9 p.m. EDT.

$1,000.00 CASH

PRIZES: (Grand) $1,000 ($500 first prize).

THE RULES: Answer in ten words or less the question, "Why do you like Assort-O-Mint Life Savers?" Write answer on entry card, which may be obtained where Life Savers are sold. Mail the card, with the label from a package of Assort-O-Mint Life Savers, to Live Savers, Port Chester, N. Y. Contest closes July 30.

DISCARD YOUR OLD AERIAL

It Is Most Likely Corroded and Has Poor or Loose Noisy Connections

No MORE BUZZES, CLICKS and shorts from summer rains and winter snow and sleet when using an F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator. Anyone can connect it in a moment's time to the radio set—occupies only 1 1/2 inch by 4 inch space behind the set, yet enables your radio to operate without an aerial and tune in stations over the entire broadcast band frequencies and short wave channels.

ELIMINATE THE AERIAL FOR GOOD

Attach this unit to your radio—make your set complete in itself—forget aerial wires and troubles—move your set anywhere—no more roof climbing, unsightly lead-in or aerial wires.

NOT NEW—VALUE ALREADY PROVED

On the market five years, 100,000 customers in U.S. and foreign countries. In use from the Arctic Region of Norway to the Tropics of Africa. Each factory tested on actual long distance reception. Cannot harm set—Easily connected to any radio, including radios having no ground or radios for doublet aerial. Note: It will not operate on battery or automobile radios.

5 DAYS TRIAL Mail coupon at once. Pay postman $1.00 plus a few pennies postage on delivery. If not entirely satisfied, return within five days and your dollar will be refunded without question.

—JUST MAIL THIS COUPON—

F & H Radio Laboratories, Dept. 92, Fargo, N. Dak.

Send F & H Capacity Aerial. Will pay postman $1 plus few cents postage. If not pleased will return within 5 days for $1 refund. Check here if sending $1 with order—thus saving postage cost—same refund guaranteed. Check here if interested in dealer's proposition.
