DOUBLES YOUR RADIO ENJOYMENT

731 PLYMOUTH COURT, CHICAGO, ILL.

Check Your Aerial

Our radio is a fine, big, office set. But our office is next to a street-car line, and just two flights below, huge motors drive our presses. So for months we have been attempting to hear programs through a barrage of machine-gun bursts and whirring, grinding noises.

Yesterday exasperation finally drove us to calling in a radio expert. We told him about the street-cars, about the motors, about the bad conditions. Then we told him to install whatever condensers or filters or gadgets were necessary and not spare the horses.

He departed nimbly for the roof while we sat back visualizing expensive alterations, installations, and still more exasperation. Twenty minutes later he was back. His fingers snapped on the radio. Sweet, unmarred music flooded our office. He spun the dial. Words as clear and distinct as if the speaker stood beside us amazed us.

"It was the aerial," he said.

"But the motors and the street-car . . ."

"Just the aerial," he repeated. "That'll be a couple of dollars."

That happened yesterday to us who are supposed to know our way around a radio set. It is a true story—and our face is still red. But more important than our embarrassment is the fact that millions of other listeners must also be suffering unnecessarily from the same sort of static caterwaulings that afflicted our set.

It just happens that the week of October 15 to 22 has been set aside by the radio industry as Antenna Check-Up Week. Let us go on record as enthusiastically endorsing the idea. Call your radio repairman and have him check your aerial. Ours was only six months old and you know what happened.

The best set in the world is no good unless it receives the signals sent out by broadcasting stations. A good aerial is a guarantee of good reception. Your own winter listening, from Toscanini to Tommy Dorsey and from the Lone Ranger to the Lux Radio Theater, will be much better if your antenna is in first-class shape.

Word-Magic

They are saying that peace has broken out in Europe. Two weeks ago it seemed improbable. We listeners sat enthralled listening to the word-magic of network representatives telling us the story of intrigue and counter-intrigue.

No more thrilling week ever gave listeners a shivery spine. Among the men we heard, two emerge as genuine Titans of broadcasting. The first was H. V. Kaltenborn of the Columbia Broadcasting System. From Coast to Coast, listeners have written that his was the most lucid, most depended-upon broadcast on the air. For the time, he became "required listening" for every citizen. H. V. Kaltenborn has been "required listening" for many of us for years. Talking with notes only, using the background of his vast intellectual attainments, he has helped us to an understanding of many things. It is gratifying that so many new listeners discovered him for themselves in this crisis.

The second Titan was the National Broadcasting Company's representative abroad, Dr. Max Jordan. While the whole world awaited the result of the Munich conference, he ferreted out the agreement that two dictators and two prime ministers had signed. Long before any other man told us that there would be peace, the stations of the National Broadcasting Company presented his tired but jubilant voice reading the terms of agreement. It was a world scoop and a world sensation.

It is gratifying that the networks which covered this emergency gave to us listeners the services of such competent gentlemen of broadcasting.

Congratulations

All networks and all stations should be congratulated on their swift and effective coverage of the European situation. Special program after special program has been piped from almost every capital in Europe. Leading statesmen, newsmen, and diplomats have spoken for American ears.

It may be safely said that many a farmer, from Missouri to Minnesota, is better informed today about all sides of the crisis abroad and about the demands and counter-demands of the various parties thereto than many of the officials of the countries involved.

RACKET BUSTER NO. 1

EDWARD G. ROBINSON
STARS IN "THE POUL-TRY RACKET" TUESDAY

IT'S early dawn in a great metropolitan food market. White-coated workers swarm around the busy stalls. Bright lights glare on hundreds of boxes, on shiny piles of fruits and vegetables; here is food, food by the ton, heaped and stacked mountain high. Refrigerator trains and fast trucks have brought potatoes from Maine and Iowa, corn from Illinois, peas from Wisconsin, apples from Oregon, dairy products from the great milkshed of central New York, oranges, lemons, grapefruit from California and Florida. All night long the trucks have been coming in, rolling horns of plenty. There's a ten-ton tractor-and-trailer now, braking to a stop in front of a poultry-dealer's stand. It's loaded to the roof with chickens—plump, milk-fed White Leghorn broilers. The driver and his helper jump down, start to unfasten ropes and latches. Suddenly the driver stops, stares, a rope hanging limply in his hand.

"Hey, Joe! What's the matter with these chickens? Look at 'em!"

One look is enough for Joe. He's seen dead chickens curled up in their crates before.

"Arsenic in the grain, last time they were fed," he says bitterly. "The boys are at it again."

"The boys?" What boys? Well, as a matter of honest fact, they aren't boys at all. Hardly. Joe is talking about the racketeers, prohibition-bred, who specialize in the poultry branch of the food racket. You didn't know there was any such thing as a food racket?

Indeed there is, and it's one of the most lucrative of all of them.

In New York City alone, 60,000,000 chickens, valued at about $100,000,000, are consumed annually. That's a lot of poultry, a lot of money—too much money to escape the attention of the racketeers whose fat bootleg-liquor incomes had been taken from them by repeal. The method? Simplicity itself: the formation of "Poultrymen's Protective Associations." Outwardly these "associations" are perfectly legal. They regulate and control prices, assess their members weekly or monthly dues, apparently work to "improve conditions in the industry." That's the surface story. The behind-the-scenes picture is a different one. It's a picture of sluggings, murders, graft; a picture of bombed food shops, poisoned poultry, hijackings and truck-wrecks. It's a picture that proves clearly that in the poultry racket, just as in every other racket, the consumers—you and I, the man in the street and his wife—are the people who pay. We pay in artificially boosted prices, in public monies diverted to grafting politicians, and in half a hundred other ways. And if the picture is a strange one to you—well, it needn't be. For on Tuesday, October 18, Edward G. Robinson and the rest of the star-studded "Big Town" cast will present a broadcast taking the top off the poultry racket, so that all America can see it for just what it is!

Typical of "Big Town" broadcasts, long noted for their painstaking authenticity, will be the October 18 show. The original script for this program was written over a year ago, has since been scrutinized inside and out, rewritten, revised, "straightened out" in every possible way. For Edward G. Robinson is a stickler for detail. His programs have to be right! But the night-and-day research, the endless writing and re-writing, the midnight conferences and last-minute changes that have gone into the "Big Town" program since it first went on the air last year have borne fruit, and today the program is rightfully recognized as one of the air's best. Robinson has made of his role—that of Steve Wilson, crusading editor of the Illustrated Press of Big Town—a model of smashing, dynamic action. He has shown what can be done to fight the menace of racketeers, gangsters, civic corruption, and every other kind of evil to be found in a big city of today.

AND putting a "Big Town" program on the air is almost as complicated as real, honest-to-goodness racket-busting itself! For there's a heavy responsibility involved: this program concerns matters of vital importance to American men and women. Those men and women have a right to know the facts—and the facts must be accurate to the last word.

Says Edward G. Robinson: "We feel the weight of our responsibility to the millions who listen to 'Big Town.' Inasmuch as we are cracking down on sinister influences which actually exist in large American cities, we dare not let a single script go on the air unless it has been subjected to diligent research and painstaking revisions. If one play exhibited any loopholes, the listeners would be inclined to discredit all of those that followed."

"Big Town" begins with the submission of script ideas by staff or freelance writers. If the idea is sound, if it's backed by facts that cannot be questioned, the writer will be given a go-ahead by Frederick N. Sard, script editor. Sard's background includes newspaper reporting and editing, magazine writing, years of intensive research in international relations, and study with James Huneker, famous critic. At least ten completed "Big Town" scripts are always on hand, so that a forced last-minute abandonment of a script won't cause serious trouble.

Once a script has been completed and accepted and the date set for its broadcast, Edward G. Robinson calls a conference at his home in Beverly Hills. He gathers around him the author, script-editor Sard, and Sard's assistant, Eddie Ettinger. Usually the little group works on the patio of Robinson's home. There's an ample supply of cigarettes, cigars—and coffee. Edward G. Robinson has always believed that "scripts are not written, but rewritten," and the process usually involves the consumption of several gallons of coffee. First off, Robinson himself reads the entire script, talking all the parts. Long trained in every form of dramatic expression, he is quick to spot any structural weaknesses in the radio play, just as quickly finds and discards any lines that might be difficult to speak the clumsy, tongue-twisting sort of lines that radio actors read in their nightmares. Speaking of nightmares, Robinson doesn't have 'em—but he does frequently wake up in the middle of the night with an

VETERAN —Tuesday, CBS

Jean Hersholt is Hollywood's No. 1 veteran. He's been in the film business—and in starring roles—for longer than anyone else who ever stood before a camera. Hersholt has just finished his 440th picture! He made his first one in 1906, in his native Denmark, and received exactly $1.25 for it. It wasn't long after that that he came to Hollywood, and his 25th year in films is now behind him. He's famous for his versatility in character roles, has played an endless variety of parts. Equally at home before the microphone, Hersholt's radio interpretations have brought him network fame, and on Tuesday, October 18, he will bring back to the air his characterization of the lovable country physician, Dr. Christian. The doctor's secretary, Judy Price, will again be played by Rosemary De Camp, and Arthur Gilmore will announce.

SHORT STORY Wednesday, CBS

Wilbur Daniel Steele, long famous in American literary circles for his delicately wrought short stories, will bring a radio dramatization of "A Drink of Water," universally acknowledged to be one of his finest pieces, to the Columbia Workshop program on Wednesday, October 19. It will be the first of three Steele stories to be presented by the Workshop, and their appearance marks the first time that stories by Wilbur Daniel Steele have been presented in dramatic form on the air. Steele became interested in preparing his own works for radio treatment when Max Wylie, of the Columbia program department, pointed out that his stories presented peculiar problems with reference to dramatization. Steele has had ample dramatic experience himself. His play "Post Road," written in collaboration with his wife, was highly successful in its Broadway presentation a few years ago. "A Drink of Water," incidentally, won the O. Henry Memorial Award when it was first published.

of universities, dramatic schools, high schools and libraries, will be launched by the National Broadcasting Company on Sunday, October 16, with the staging of "The Trojan Women," ancient Greek play by the master Euripides. "The Trojan Women" was first produced in Athens in the year 415 B. C., and it will form the first unit in a panorama of great plays reaching up to the Broadway productions of today. The first series of plays, offered last year as an NBC educational feature, created exceptionally widespread interest. As a result, educational and theatrical institutions everywhere have signified their eagerness to take part in this season's broadcasts.

HUMANITARIAN —Friday, NBC

It's a far cry from the old days when a man could be thrown into a filthy, overcrowded jail for a few dollars' debt, and kept there indefinitely to boot, to the present time, when penology is recognized, at least by some men, as a science. True enough, brutality and injustice are not infrequently found in American prisons—witness the recent alleged "scalding punishment" in Pennsylvania—but it cannot be denied that prison conditions in general are in a state of constant improvement. More than any other one man, Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing typifies the best of present-day prison administration. It is upon Lawes' capable shoulders that the burden first assumed by Thomas Mott Osborne, one of America's greatest reformers, has fallen, and it could not be more capably borne. On Friday, October 21, Warden Lawes returns to the air for another season of broadcasting for NBC. For honest exposition of one of this country's most pressing problems by a front-rank expert, the program will be one of the season's stand-outs.

BRIGHT BLONDE —Tuesday, CBS

Marie Wilson has the longest eyelashes in Hollywood, and those eyelashes frame what has frequently been nominated as the dumbest-looking baby-stare ever to face a camera. But it's a point open to a lot of questioning, this matter of Marie Wilson's brightness or lack of it. She's quoted by her own press-agents as saying that she would not expect to be able to make more than twelve dollars a week anywhere except in Hollywood, but that statement can well be eyed dubiously, coming as it does from a young lady heading rapidly for the $1,000-a-week brackets. Radio listeners will have a chance to judge for themselves on Tuesday, October 18, when Marie Wilson, fresh from her triumphant role in Warner Brothers' smash hit, "Boy Meets Girl," comes to the Al Jolson program as guest star.

Marie Wilson's comments on her earning-capacity in Hollywood contain some food for thought

CITY FARMERS —Sunday, CBS

The fact that there are 1,500 farmers in the vicinity of New York City, all of them registered to sell their produce in the Farmers' Square Market of New York, seems fantastic enough. But it's true. Several of these metropolitan farmers will be heard on the "Farmer Takes the Milk" program on Sunday, October 16. There'll be farmers from New Jersey and Long Island, and even one from Brooklyn! Leading the round-table discussion will be Deputy Commissioner of Markets Clark Kimball, and the talk will center around the topic of the advisability of farmers in the metropolitan area selling their produce direct or selling it through a pool and a commission agent. For, unlike those American soil-tillers who grow their crops hundreds of miles from big distribution areas, the New York City farmers gather their harvests in the shadow of the greatest food market in the world.

WEEK'S BETTER PROGRAMS

ENTER MR. POWELL —Friday, CBS

William Powell, suave screen star whose "Thin Man" characterizations have established him for all time among the screen's top-ranking players, was scheduled to take up the job of master of ceremonies on the Silver Theater program on October 2. But a serious operation intervened, and Fredric March was called in to pinch-hit. Then Herbert Marshall took over Powell's place on Hollywood Hotel, agreed to handle it until Powell's recovery should be complete. Now, at last, William Powell has been definitely scheduled to start as m.c. of the program, and his first "Hotel" appearance

NEWSCASTER —Wednesday, MBS

John Steele, able foreign correspondent for the Chicago Tribune and other newspapers, now London representative for the Mutual Broadcasting System, will begin a new series of commentaries over the Coast-to-Coast MBS network on Wednesday, October 19, talking direct from London via short wave. The new series comes at a particularly auspicious time, for with events in Europe snapping and crackling like a prairie fire, American radio listeners cannot be too well or too quickly informed on every new development. So acutely interested is the American public in European affairs today that one of the broadcasting networks put on the air a total of 443 programs dealing with the recent Czechoslovakian crisis alone. Today, and for some time to come, London will be the chief origination point for war news, and John Steele's up-to-the-minute interpretations will be welcome to U. S. dialers.

IF WAR COMES —Wednesday, CBS

The staggering bills that are now being presented to the British and French governments as a result of the mobilizations during the last European crisis demonstrate graphically the frightful cost of war. The British alone spent approximately $500,000,000 in one week! Included in this amount are such expenditures as the digging of trenches in London parks, the evacuation from London of crippled and sick schoolchildren, the distribution of gas-masks and the construction of bomb-proof shelters. To mobilize the British Home Fleet alone cost $50,000,000, and not a shot was fired! Staggering as these amounts are, they do not tell the whole story. Private industry in England will be paying for that week of mobilization for a long time, paying in time lost, employees assigned to war-protection work, and so forth. In the last analysis, it is private industry and the taxpayer who foot the bill. An explanation of just what American industry faces if war comes may be put on the air over CBS on Wednesday, October 19, when Colonel Louis Johnson, United States Assistant Secretary of War, speaks on "Industrial Mobilization" before a convention meeting of the Wire Association in Detroit, Michigan.

MINSTREL'S RETURN —Thursday, NBC

Bing Crosby, who turned a throbbing catch in his voice into one of the biggest fortunes in fabulous Hollywood, will be back on the air this Thursday, October 20, to pick up his duties as master of ceremonies on the Kraft Music Hall program. It will be Bing's 112th appearance on the show! Bing is fresh from a Bermuda vacation, and advance program scouts report that the master crooner is at his smoothest and bestest. He began a summer-long rest on July 15, the day after his last Music Hall appearance, by taking his family to Rancho Santa Fe, near San Diego. day, July 29, and Bing put in daily appearances there, of course, until it closed on September 5. On September 7 the Crosbys boarded a train for New York, sailed for Bermuda on September 10. It was Bing's second vacation out of the United States. Two summers ago he went to Honolulu. Last year he traveled around the country—to races at Saratoga, fights in New York, and so forth. There'll be no change in the Music Hall format this year. There'll continue to be three guests—two Hollywood names and one serious musician, with John Scott Trotter wielding the baton, Paul Taylor leading the chorus, Bob Burns on hand as always, and Ken Carpenter at the chimes. Incidentally, the genial Bing has signed a ten-year contract with his sponsors, and this is the first year of the brand-new agreement.

SECOND HONEYMOON —Tuesday, NBC

Eleven years in radio is a long time, but they say romance and adventure never grow old. They also say that "absence makes the heart grow fonder." Whether or not these platitudes are infallible, there will be many listeners who remember Mary and Bob when they first put their dramatized romantic adventures on the air eleven years ago, and who will welcome the erstwhile newlyweds back to radio after an absence of five years. Back in 1927 when Mary and Bob first entered radio they were introduced to the radio audience as newlyweds who were touring the country on their honeymoon in a second-hand car. They related their unusual experiences on the imaginary trip with human-interest coloring. In the current series, of which this week's is the second episode, Mary and Bob present true-life stories submitted by persons who have had unusual experiences or difficult problems. If—as they say—sentiment and adventure never lose their appeal for men and women, young and old, then Mary and Bob are surely bringing many listeners to their radio sets to share their living of life's thrills.

Colonel Louis Johnson's words, "Legionnaires, carry on!" fling a challenge to depression

THE RADIO PLAYBILL: THIS WEEK—"THE GOLDBERGS"

THE story of "The Goldbergs" is the story of the great "melting-pot" that is America, with all of the early scenes laid in New York City. Immigrants from Russia, Molly and Jake Goldberg first settled on the East Side in the famous Ghetto in order to be near others who spoke their language—friends who had preceded them to America. Molly was eighteen when she came. Her father, a learned man in his native Russia, found it difficult to support the family from his meager earnings as an unskilled worker in a clothing factory, so Molly went to work in a garment factory, too. Eager to become an American, to learn the language of her adopted country, Molly worked days and went to school at night. An understanding soul, young Molly made many friends as she became assimilated into American life and its customs. Open-minded, with a wisdom far beyond her years, she was always a favorite in her group, for each knew they could come to her with their problems and troubles, and that she would give sympathy as well as showing them a way out of their difficulties. Even after her father was doing well in a financial way and moved his family uptown to the Harlem section of the city, Molly continued to work until she was married to Jake. Her beautiful philosophy, developed in girlhood, has helped her through the years as she and Jake climbed from modern success to near-affluence, and later through the depression, which put them back to a point below where they had started life together. "The Goldbergs" are heard Mondays through Fridays over CBS, at 1 p.m. EST, 12 noon CST, 11 a.m. MST, 10 a.m. PST.

—Gene Lester

MOLLY GOLDBERG (Gertrude Berg), now in her forties, met her husband Jake when she first went to work in the garment factory and he was an ambitious young cloak-and-suitier trying to get ahead. They belonged to the same social group, and both were imbued with a tremendous love for their adopted country, America, where each had found happiness. Molly was twenty-four when Jake decided he was doing well enough to support a wife and asked for her hand in marriage. They were married when Molly was twenty-five. Their life together proved happy, and Jake was very proud when Molly bore him a son whom they named Sammy. When their daughter Rosie was born four years later, the little family was complete. Jake, in the meantime, has given up his job and struck out on his own. From a modest beginning, he has prospered steadily, aided by Molly's ever-ready encouragement and never-failing love.

Through the years, she hasn't changed except in appearance. She is still the pivot around which the family life of the Goldbergs revolves, and the guiding spirit of the community where she lives. People still come to her with their various problems. When Jake breaks with his partner, Molly accepts the idea of the family's going to Hollywood, where Jake is sure he can make a fortune designing unusual costumes for screen stars. Although the venture fails, Molly isn't dismayed when they return to New York almost without funds, for she hopes that her husband will be reunited with Mendall, his former partner. But the depression has changed everything and Mendall's wife is opposed to renewing the association. Molly takes this failure with the same cheerful philosophy, and doesn't complain when the family is obliged to move to a New England farm. Her big problem right now is Joyce, a girl she befriended, who has attracted Sammy

JAKE GOLDBERG is forty-seven, three years older than Molly. He was twenty when he landed in America, thrilled with the freedom and bigness of New York and the many opportunities for success it offered. Through hard work, Jake acquired a thorough knowledge of the clothing business, and developed a talent for designing. He is tremendously proud of his family, and wants to give them the best. Volatile and impetuous, he likes to feel that he's the real head of his household, but often relies on Molly's good judgment. James R. Waters plays the part of Jake

ROSIE GOLDBERG, now in her teens, is the baby of the family and is never permitted to forget the fact. Much like her mother, she loves her people devotedly. A good student herself, Rosie is proud of Sammy's progress, sympathizes with his love affairs that parallel her own. The biggest thrill of her life was the family's trip to Hollywood, where she saw real stars in glamorous Movietown. When the venture proved a failure, Rosie was sorry, but delighted to return to New York and old friends. The move to Lastonbury proves a heartbreak. Roslyn Silber plays the role

EVERETT SLOANE plays Sammy. Never a smart-aleck, Sammy takes good fortune and bad in his stride. When the depression hits family, he goes to work. Nearly twenty-one, he is in love with "Joyce," a girl Molly has befriended

MRS. GERTRUDE BERG, the Molly of the Goldberg family, also writes and produces the show. Real-life mother of a son and daughter, Mrs. Berg draws her characters and problems from actual situations. When she finds an especially good one either in character or problem, she puts the cart before the horse and writes the show to fit it. When the script is finished, Mrs. Berg tries it out on her family and the servants in her home as a test, watches their reactions. If it doesn't suit them, she rewrites it. Other characters that have appeared with the Goldbergs are: Mrs. Bloom, who shared honors with Molly as a good neighbor, even though she was never heard on the program; Mickey Bloom (Howard Merrill), her son, about Sammy's age, who's smitten with Rosie; Mrs. Melenka (Bertha Waldon), one of "the girls" and a member of Molly's "Mamataks Club," who's a well-meaning busybody; Mr. Schneider (Arthur Auerbach), a ne'er-do-well; Martha Wilberforce (Carrie Weller), hard-bitten "down East" woman, Molly's neighbor in Lastonbury; Mrs. Kelvin (Selena Royal), Joyce's real mother; Mr. Kelvin (William Thornton), her real father. The question of Joyce's marriage to Sammy (apparently settled between the pair themselves) is still a vital issue and a cause of worry to Molly and Jake. This problem is principal story-thread of the show at the present time. Art Millett is announcer.

ANNE TIEMAN plays Joyce, the girl who never got a break until she met big-hearted Molly Goldberg. A victim of sorry circumstances, because her parents are separated, Sammy's interest in her proves worry to parents

"La Traviata"

by Giuseppe Verdi

Violetta . . . Rosemarie Brancato
Alfredo . . . Jan Peerce
Germont . . . Robert Weede

Conductor—Erno Rapee

MUSIC HALL'S new season starts with productions of opera, "Traviata" leading off and "Die Walkure" ending the lyrical procession. Full casts, chorus and orchestra function under the musical supervision and conductorship of the ever resourceful Rapee.

In the one hour available, the presentation includes principal solo and ensemble numbers, and omitting lesser moments, but a narrator sustains plot continuity with short explanations.

As informed RADIO GUIDE readers know, the libretto of "La Traviata" bases on Dumas' play, famous under the title of "Camille." The romantic tale concerns the limitless devotion of a Parisian youth to a courtesan who becomes ennobled through love.

Rapee has issued a statement to the effect that this opera series comes to the air because radio has been making dialers more familiar with symphonic music than with the stage masterpieces of Italian, French and German composers.

Brancato's roulades and trills have triumphed at the Chicago Opera; suave Robert Weede is with the Metropolitan; and Peerce's smooth tenoring is a year-round attraction at Music Hall.

Howard Barlow, conductor

Five Tone Pictures (Carl Mathes)
"Through the Looking Glass" Suite
(Deems Taylor)

AMERICAN composers ought to issue a round robin of thanks to Barlow for his efforts in their behalf during the past summer and autumn. If he has not yet performed all their deserving works, he seems well on the way to doing so, although this is regrettably the last concert in this series.

Today Carl Mathes, of South Bend, Indiana, is the favored one to be aired, with his "Five Tone Pictures" for orchestra. Blind almost since birth, he has nevertheless made a striking career as a concert pianist, organist and composer both here and abroad.

Toscanini's Return?

AT THIS writing Toscanini is aboard the French liner Normandie enroute to America and his NBC orchestra, thus refuting the wide flare of publicity concerning his supposed detention and incarceration by Mussolini. The news had us all fearing for his safety, and just what really did happen is not yet known. In any case, the maestro is on his way to American admirers and that is the all-important thing. We are all prepped for his exciting concerts, and as we number millions, Il Duce, now an accredited man of peace, no doubt considered well before courting our belligerent displeasure, proving once again that art always triumphs over politics.

Toscanini, given to talking right out, ran afoul of the Fascists several times before by refusing to play their party anthem; signing a manifesto assailing Mussolini's side-kick, Hitler; giving up the conductorship of the Wagner series at Bayreuth; and resigning as chief of Salzburg Festival when it was anschlussed by the Germans.

Whatever our individual ideologies, we can all credit Toscanini with deep sincerity and warm humanitarianism, as well as unselfish courage for defending the freedom of art and artists, irrespective of nationality, creed, or political conditions.

Two Steps Forward

One seven-league advance was made by radio when it founded its own fine symphony orchestra. Why could not the next large step be an equally important opera company exclusively for the air? Radio surely is ready for such an epochal innovation, as it has the facilities, the audience, and the money, too! Perhaps CBS, ever in artistic rivalry with NBC, could put the idea into early effect; or again the growing MBS might like to gain a jump on its older competitors. Imagine a radio opera troupe headed by Flagstad, Gigli, Melchior, Lehmann, Pons, Rethberg, Crooks, Tibbett, Pinza, Thomas? Well, there's no harm in imagining!

Add Rochester

Eastman School and Rochester Civic Orchestra programs are here again with promise of programs as edifying as those presented in former years by the well-known institutions of Rochester, N. Y. The Eastman School opens its broadcasting season on Thursday, October 20. The Rochester Civic Orchestra, under the leadership of Guy Fraser Harrison, will be heard as usual on Monday afternoons, and in educational programs on Tuesdays.

Ford's Sunday evening guest will be Firestone's Richard Crooks. Above: With Vice-Admiral Adolphus Andrews during recent visit to California

Doris Doe, contralto in "Cavalleria Rusticana" — Monday

The five parts of the Mathes score (the only modern composition of symphonic scope by a blind man) represent the different emotions and vagaries of women. Mathes says that his idea was to give "a portrait of a woman in moods." The pictures are named variously, "Meeting," "Tears," "Whims," "Smiles" and "Sleep."

Deems Taylor is what the French call an "arrived" composer, one who has reached recognition and success. "Through the Looking Glass" has been described previously in these pages, even though the composer wrote of it: "The piece needs no extended analysis. It derives from Lewis Carroll's immortal nonsense fairy-tale, 'Through the Looking Glass and What Alice Found There.' The musical suggestions should be readily recognizable to lovers of the book." Written about twenty years ago, the composition has found its way to leading symphonic programs all over the world.

WHEN an American tenor sings Wagner, that is infrequent news, the more so in the case of one best known as an exponent of purely lyrical opera roles. Remembering Crooks' delicate and poetical vocalism in the "Dream" from Massenet's "Manon," hearers will follow expectantly his delivery of so dramatic an excerpt as the noble "Narrative," in which Lohengrin discloses his identity and exalted mission.

Little did Schubert think that his "Serenade" would enchant for all time when he penciled those inspired measures on the back of a menu in a noisy Vienna cafe. It has warmed as many hearts as the immortal first movement of his "Unfinished" Symphony.

Liszt's "Hungarian Fantasia," featuring folk-tunes, appears in unfamiliar aspects this evening, for its original form was that of a piano piece with orchestral accompaniment. The Liszt themes are used also in his "Rhapsody" No. 14 for piano solo.

Overture "Egmont" (Beethoven)
Symphony No. 4 in D Minor (Schumann) (Movements 1, 2 and 3)

BEETHOVEN'S overture and incidental music (1810) to Goethe's historical play about the ill-fated Count of Egmont (Flemish nobleman who fought with William of Orange for the liberty of the Netherlands) testifies to the composer's admiration for the illustrious German poet and dramatist.

The two geniuses first met at a Bohemian spa, but did not hit it off, because Goethe, the polished courtier, servile to royalty, resented the radical democracy of Beethoven and his curt speech and bad manners.

Goethe, however, recognized his great contemporary's talent more readily than that of Schubert, to whom he never even deigned an acknowledgement when the struggling young master set the poet's "Erkling" as a song, and sent it to Goethe with an affectingly humble letter asking him to accept the dedication.

Beethoven's overture is at first a mighty lamentation (the voices of an aroused and angry people) changing to final tumultuous rejoicing.

The overture form enjoyed a far advance in Beethoven's treatment. Previously it had been mostly a curtain-raiser for opera, but he made it into an independent composition, highly expressive, with eloquent characterization in the orchestra. To appreciate the Beethoven reforms, one has only to compare his "Egmont" with an overture by Mozart or Weber.

The United States Army Band

Capt. Thomas d'Arcy, Jr., conductor

The Military Maestro (Becker)
Romance (Svendsen)The Toy Trumpet (Scott)
Allegretto from Symphony No. 4 (Goldmark)Goblin Dance (for flute)
Amaryllis (Vecsey)

Americans, We (Fillmore)

WHILE military band concerts do not ordinarily come within the scope of this department, the foregoing one merits attention because Captain D'Arcy, Jr., evidently intends to free himself from the usual type of program followed by the brass and woodwind aggregations.

Seldom done by bands, the Karl Goldmark symphony excerpt and Svendsen's "Romance" were originally composed for full orchestra and violin solo with orchestral accompaniment. Raymond Scott's "Toy Trumpet" is a sprightly bit of musical fooling by a youthful American who is as ingenious in his popular music as in his titles, two examples being "Dinner Music for a Pack of Hungry Cannibals" and "Dance of the Wooden Indians." In "Toy Trumpet" the purposely sour note, repeated several times, furnishes a truly humorous touch.

It was John Philip Sousa who first put a U. S. government band firmly on the musical map, with his universally beloved marches and their novel instrumentation. Fittingly, it has been proposed recently to erect a $750,000 memorial in his honor, preferably a home for aged and infirm musicians. The public should respond generously with subscriptions.

San Francisco Civic Opera Does "Cavalleria Rusticana"

WITH its music retaining freshness and fire and its story unfaded in drama and passion, Pietro Mascagni's opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" (Rustic Chivalry) still is matter to charm the ear and stimulate the emotions. Two years short of fifty, the little operatic thriller holds a vital place in the repertoire and seems destined for brilliant permanence.

Except at the Metropolitan, "Cavalleria" has not been given in its entirety on the air, and therefore it is of interest to dialers who do not know the opera well to learn that it will be performed without cuts by the San Francisco Civic Opera on Monday, NBC at 11:05 p.m. EST, 10:05 p.m. CST, 9:05 p.m. MST, 8:05 p.m. PST.

Called a one-act work, it really has two, separated by the celebrated "Intermezzo," which the orchestra plays while the curtain remains up on an empty stage. For years the "Intermezzo" was one of the best-loved of compositions (even attaining the dignity of inclusion at most symphony concerts all over the world), and it grew to be an audience tradition to demand an immediate encore, always granted.

Mascagni, now seventy years old, was twenty-seven when he composed "Cavalleria," and although he has written many other operas since, none achieved its fame or profits. And how he needed both, just before his masterpiece gained premiere performance in 1890! He was a struggling conductor of small opera companies when he heard of a competition held by the Milan publisher, Sonzogno. In hot haste, Mascagni brought "Cavalleria" to paper and sent it to the judges. First prize followed and placed the young composer among the lyrical immortals, for the premiere resulted in a world-wide sensation.

The tale about the Sicilian peasant (Alfio) who avenges his wife's (Lola) faithlessness by duelling her philandering lover (Turiddu) to death (he had also betrayed and deserted the maid Santuzza) will be sung and acted by Ebe Stignani (Santuzza), Doris Doe (Lola), Alessandro Ziliani (Turiddu), Carlo Tagliabue (Alfio), and Thelma Votipka (Lucia, mother of Turiddu). Conducting is Gaetano Merola, who functions too as the artistic director of the San Francisco Opera, housed in its own new, beautiful home built by municipal funds and public subscriptions.

Generally paired with "Pagliacci" in a double bill, that work and "Cavalleria Rusticana" have been facetiously referred to as "ham and eggs of opera."

Symphony Concerts Resume At Radio City Music Hall

DURING the summer months, chamber music and vocalism have been regaling us in the Sunday matinee broadcasts of Radio City Music Hall of the Air, but starting on Sunday the regular symphonic courses will resume under the baton direction of Erno Rapee. However, they offer a new time schedule, with the concerts now set half an hour earlier, from 12 to 1 p.m. EST (NBC), 11 a.m. CST, 10 a.m. MST, 9 a.m. PST.

Oldest and longest sustained of its kind, the Rapee series has for over five years brought master music to its broadcasts from Coast to Coast, Canada, and by short wave to South America. The programs offered not only great orchestral works but also prominent soloists and operatic presentations. Special features conceived by Rapee were the Sibelius cycle last season, with the seven symphonies by the Finnish composer (a marathonic undertaking never attempted previously in radio), and single concerts devoted entirely to the music of present-day Russia, Richard Strauss, Ravel and the modern Hungarian composer, Kodaly. Also, during the more than three hundred broadcasts by Rapee, he has introduced for the first time on the air many works by leading creators of the moment.

Small of stature but dynamic in energy is slim, black-haired Erno Rapee, whose chief musical characteristics are versatility of style and interpretation, temperamental verve and rhythmic precision. His high qualities have won him guest appearances with General Motors, the Hollywood Bowl and other eminent symphony orchestras. Now in his late forties, Erno Rapee was born in Budapest, started his musical career as a pianist.

NEW YORK.—Al Jolson's broadcasts will originate in New York for six weeks, starting with the October 25 show. Because of picture work, Martha Raye will be the only one of the regular cast that will remain in California . . . "Information, Please" will have a sponsor starting sometime in November, which prompts this department to suggest they come down a few notches in the type of questions used. It's much too highbrow for the masses . . . Graham McNamee got the job of announcing the "Vox Pop" show on the recommendation of his friend, Wally Butterworth . . . Robert Ripley threw a party for his friends after his last broadcast on October 4 and announced that he will start on a trip touching Atlantic Coast ports of South America, rounding Cape Horn, and then across the Pacific, via the Galapagos Islands . . . Songstress Shirley Howard, last heard over NBC, is now heard twice-weekly over Mutual.

ALL ABOUT SINGERS: Jerry Cooper is commuting to Cincinnati by air each week for his twice-weekly "Vocal Varieties" program. He leaves New York on Monday and returns on Friday for weekends . . . Jack Fulton flew in from Chicago for one day and visited a number of band agencies in regard to his plans for organizing an orchestra . . . Tenor Felix Knight is making a movie short with Nat Shilkret and his orchestra. Knight's singing on the recordings of the George Gershwin tunes just released by Victor is really something to rave about . . . Del Casino is another to be dropped from the CBS schedules.

Fred Allen and Portland Hoffa spent a full working-day with NBC photographers last week taking pictures in about twenty different costumes. Fred sets aside one day a year for this job and you couldn't drag him down for more than that . . . Mary Margaret McBride threw a party celebrating her first anniversary on CBS, but could stay only long enough for the photographers to take pictures. She had to run off for another local program while her guests partook of the feast . . . Another new baby was named Edward MacHugh, after the popular "Gospel Singer." It's the second in two months and Mr. Mac sent a present to each baby . . . Myrt and Marge have finished playing theaters for a while and are trying to catch up on sleep. They averaged five hours of shut-eye a night during their theater work because of rehearsals and broadcasts, and they both were beginning to feel the strain.

Not so long ago Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra played at the Hotel New Yorker. Last Tuesday, brother Tommy and his crew moved into the same spot. Tommy, by the way, just completed an engagement at the Paramount Theater in New York. He had to rehearse for his radio programs after his last theater show, which meant from midnight until four a.m. His announcer is "Bud" Collyer, one of the better radio actor-announcers, who also plays the male lead in "Pretty Kitty Kelly," which, if you know your radio schedules, hits the air at 10 a.m. for listeners in the East and Midwest. So neighbor Collyer had to be content with three hours' sleep one night last week.

Dropped in at the Kate Smith rehearsal for a few minutes, and just as I walked into the studio Kate was asking the orchestra boys to stop playing. They continued on for a few seconds and Kate repeated the request the second time but in a louder tone, adding: "Are we going to start the season off that way? When I say stop, it means stop—please!"

At the program that evening a good part of the male audience was dressed in white-tie-and-tails, with their lovely ladies dressed in flowing evening gowns. While the orchestra played, Kate went to town, amusing the audience for a few seconds by "truckin' on down." In case you didn't know, dancing was part of her original musical-comedy routine and she does it well. Gueststar Cornelia Otis Skinner did a grand dramatic job, but it was quite obvious she had a slight case of mike fright, although it was hardly noticeable in her voice. Big Boy Costello, who, with Abbott, supplies the comedy, came on the stage wearing a Boy Scout uniform, which brought many chuckles from the audience. Couldn't help notice that Ted Straeter's choir has quite a few good-looking gals in it (I'm only fooling, dear). I might even say they're veddy charming. After the broadcast, a cake baked from the sponsor's flour is awarded to a lucky ticket-holder.

This idea of giving away samples of the sponsor's product is also done at "We, the People" broadcast and in the same manner as Kate Smith's program. Harry von Zell directs the selecting of the winning ticket from a glass bowl. On the first drawing, a seat in the balcony was called out and Harry was ready to award the prize, when someone rushed up to the stage and whispered in Harry's ear. Then Von Zell disclosed that the number called was held by one of their own gang and he was declared ineligible. Slim and Slam, writers of "Flat Foot Floogie," who appeared on the first show, had part of the audience join in with a rhythmic handclap, but it was not extemporaneous, as you may have believed. One of the directors of the program invited those so inclined to join in, but not many responded.

Behind the "seen" at the first Burns and Allen broadcast of their new series: Before the program goes on the air, announcer Paul Douglas rehearses the audience on how to applaud, stating that the theater seats only nine hundred and they must sound like 15,000. George Burns sits in the control-room listening to the hand-clapping and Paul asks him how it sounded. He replied, "I can't hear the lady in the last row."

AIRIALTO LOWDOWN

BY MARTIN LEWIS

They do it over again and this time everything is satisfactory. Three microphones are used—two for B & A, who face each other, and the third for either Douglas, Noble or Frank Parker. So when Parker entered the scene during the broadcast and Burns said, "Hello, Frank," Parker (who seems to have lost a few hairs since I last saw him) was looking at George's back. Ray Noble apparently wasn't told his new boss was a ciggie-maker. Someone handed him a cigar before the broadcast and he walked out on the stage with the stogie stuck in his mouth. After B & A finished their last line they ran off the stage, and from where your reporter sat he could see them go into a clinch and kiss each other—behind the scene.

After the B & A program, we attended a party for the comics, and from there journeyed across town to the Hotel Commodore to attend the opening of Sammy Kaye and his orchestra. The place was jammed to the door, and in looking around the room I noticed Fred Waring, George Olsen, Vincent Lopez, Buddy Clark, Doris Rhodes, Tommy Dorsey, Peg La Centra, Ray Noble, and a host of other radio entertainers. Waring came over to say that he is quite enthused the way his new program is taking shape. We talked about his new drink-mixer, and Fred said he has a lot of new recipes. I asked him if he could cook, and was almost floored when he said he could! Mrs. L. looked at me and I knew she was thinking: "And you can't even boil water."

Jan Garber and his band were featured at the Strand Theater in New York two weeks ago. Passing the theater, I noticed some telegrams that were sent to Garber by his friends, wishing him success, pasted on an easel board. So I stopped to read them. One wire was signed "Burns and Allen," and another "Bing Crosby." They were both sent from Los Angeles, Calif., on September 26. Just for the records, on that date Mr. Crosby happened to be in Bermuda and George and Gracie were in New York preparing their new radio show. But don't get me wrong (pardon, Mr. Skolsky), I really love Garber's music.

All I've spoken to regarding the networks' activities in bringing the listeners the latest information on the European crisis are unanimous in their praise of the grand job done by CBS' commentator H. V. Kaltenborn. He spent about sixteen to eighteen hours a day in the studios, took naps in snatches on a couch in his office. Mrs. K. brought him hot meals for the first few nights and then Prexy Paley's private kitchen was opened and hot meals were served to all those who had to work late.

HOLLYWOOD.—Don't tell a soul, but . . . Kenny Baker had a flock of funny lines to say in the opening Texaco Theater script, all of which were eliminated by demand of his other sponsor, Jell-O, whose contract reserves his comic character for the Jack Benny spasms . . . Wayne King, wife Mex and their two youngsters are in town for six weeks at the Ambassador Cocomat Grove with a band grown fat from summer vacationing. Last week Wayne concluded his perennial contract with that cosmetic company. The trouble began when King's announcer, Phil Stewart, was eased off the air . . . Sisters at a near-by convent were invited by Eddie Cantor to come and see his show. He told them he'd send a bus. The mother superior reported ALL the nuns wanted to see the program featuring Deanna Durbin and Bobby Breen—so Cantor sent busses enough to carry everyone . . . A friend, phoning woolly-wavy-haired Texaco producer Bill Bacher, was answered by Bill's young daughter who explained: "Daddy isn't here. He went out about four hours ago to get a haircut and he isn't back yet" . . . Mrs. Phil Harris, Marcia Ralston of the flickers, told how fussed she was on a recent Sunday morning when "Carole Lombard and Clark Gable unexpectedly dropped in to visit." Oh well, maybe I'd have been fussed, too . . . Remember that Hollywood Showdown tabbed "Two Sleepy People," Hoagy Carmichael's latest tune, for a sure hit. Bob Hope and Shirley Ross duet it in their coming film, entitled "Thanks for the Memory" . . . Gene Lester, RADIO GUIDE's roving candid-camera man, has a most unique collection—of photos of stars he can't and won't release. Fortunately, he's discreet; keeps his gems under lock and key . . . Chet (Lum) Lauck has sprouted a mustache. He started growing it after seeing how much sweeter your reporter looks than do his unadorned colleagues, Martin Lewis and Hal Tate!

HOLLYWOOD SHOWDOWN

Backstage at the Premieres: Silver Theater, October 2: A grand story dominated by that capable radactress Lurene Tuttle who ought to be in pictures. Heartbeat Joan Fontaine sat in the sponsor's booth watching the every move of boy friend Conrad Nagel, who resumed the narrator post with a brand-new bushy head of hair . . . Jell-O Show, October 2: Buck Benny smashes through again! Prior to the airing, Jack embarrassed his mother-in-law, in the audience, by asking her to take a bow. She didn't! Sat next to Babe Marks, Mary's sister, who exhibited a searchlight diamond on the proper finger of her left hand. Mary herself wore a dollar-sized gold pendant engraved: "I love you, Doll" and signed "Jack." Jack really broke himself up when doing the dialog with Rochester. Could hardly continue. At the premiere were the real Mrs. Don Wilson and Mrs. Kenny Baker—whose parts were read on the air by actresses . . . Woodbury Playhouse, October 2, with Charles Boyer: Story "Algiers" not up to film but well acted by Boyer and especially Joan Woodbury. Chic, pretty Gail Patrick not exactly a sexy Gaby, though. In studio, Boyer gestured as he would for screen. He's of average height, but tall Miss Patrick obligingly removed her high-heeled slippers when posing with him for pictures. Musical director Harry Sosnick sartorially perfect; exactly Bond Street.

BY EVANS PLUMMER

One heartbroken baseball fan was Joe E. Brown, whose October 8 starting program caused him to miss the World's Series for the first time in years. He was salvaged, however, by the receipt of an air-express package containing a baseball autographed by Gabby Hartnett, manager of the Chicago Cubs, and the message: "Sorry you can't be with us when we tackle those Yanks. Best from all of us.—Gabby."

Slightly anticipating was the announcement here last week of Martha Raye's marriage, October 2, to Dave Rose—but the nuptials look sure-fire for being past tense as you read these lines . . . The marriage bee has been buzzing. CBS mikerman Dick Joy on September 30 wed air songstress Lyn Carol, right name Jean Wessa. Bill Demling, co-writer and stooge of the new Post Toasties airing, is pressing his Sunday pants for a November wedding to Margaret Mallett, college sweetheart and non-professional, and Doris Weston, one Major Bowes amateur who made good—or at least broke into the movies—will wed screen director David Miller in December.

After marriage—babies. Jimmy Wallington expects to pass the cigars again about Armistice Day in celebration of a son to be named Junior, but if the Cantor influence continues, her name is to be Beverly Jane . . . Batoneer Anson Weeks is expecting to welcome the stork for Christmas, as is likewise Charlie (Andy) Correll.

And after babies—responsibility. Even a grandmother like Minetta Ellen, "Mother Barbour" of One Man's Family, cannot escape. For the past two weeks Minetta has been most concerned over the health of her ailing fourteen-year-old granddaughter in San Francisco. Constantly expecting a telegram calling her to the child's bedside, One Man's Family author Carleton Morse didn't know whether to write Mother Barbour into or out of the weekly performance. He solved it by preparing alternate scripts for use in either case. Everyone is happy now, for the youngster is recuperating nicely.

Frances Langford, of Hollywood Hotel, and her Tarzan, Jon Hall, are trying to be very thrifty new-laws. They're banking their wages in apartment-houses for future income and a roof to shed those rainy days. But just for fun, Jon and Frances are also building a sixty-foot deep-sea yawl, to be christened the Katapua, Tahitian for "white sailing bird," and in which they hope next summer to sail the South Seas.

Rougher sailing is the personal life of poor Fanny Brice who makes us all laugh despite the tragedy which dogs her. Although M-G-M is said to be continuing her contract only as long as they can use her on the "Good News" radio program, the movie lot has given her the comedienne role in the coming Hedy LaMarr-Spencer Tracy picture, "New York Cinderella," for which, hurrah. One thing I particularly like about Fanny is the praise she gives her radio writer, Phil Rapp, who puts those funny Baby Snooks lines in her mouth. Rapp, one of the younger gag-writers, also is responsible for Frank Morgan's comic scenes on the same airing.

Safety first! Radio folk, please drive more carefully! Last week saw Vivian Edwards, of the Cantor Camel chorus, badly hurt in an auto crash in Hollywood, while near Rawlins, Wyoming, Leone MacHarg, wife of Eddie, the Casa Loma orchestra manager, was seriously injured in another motor accident. Bandleaders Buddy Rogers, driving in Ohio, and Leo Reisman, in Texas, were likewise on the gasoline-casualty list. Luckily, all are expected to recover without complications.

Al Jolson, Parkyakarkus, Lud Gluskin and Tiny Ruffner are packing their trunks to broadcast starting October 25 for six weeks, from the New York CBS studios. The trek is occasioned by Jolson's engagement at the Casa Manana there, and Gluskin will make the most of it by appearing at the Paramount Theater. Another New York packer is writer-actor-comedian Robert Benchley, who'll begin his broadcasts from the same eastern studios November 20. In going over various trifles he feels he can dispose of before traveling, Mr. Benchley lists: Three frayed overcoats, left during a party May 15; one metal violin-ukelele with twenty-three strings; one patent-leather shoe, size 10½; two derby hats, and one photo of Heywood Brown autographed "Yours Truly, Herbert Marshall."

Flicker Flicks: In "Arkansas Traveler" (Paramount) you'll see Bob Burns star in his fittingest role to date. As a tramp printer, he lifts the mortgage from the widowed, small-town newspaper publisher Fay Bainter's head; inspires boy John Beal to win girl Jean Parker; speaks many homely philosophies and further clinches his position as the best person eligible to fill somewhat the void left by Will Rogers . . . Universal's "That Certain Age" boasts two radio names—Deanna Durbin (who knocks another home-run) and Irene Rich who returns to pictures after five years.

CHICAGO.—Didn't get a chance to see Irene Rich while she was in town, so I called her at the Blackstone, where she was staying. She sounded very nice over the phone. Miss Rich came to Chicago to make some midwestern personal appearances for her sponsor and was accompanied by her daughter, Frances. I called Miss Rich in the morning. She had to fly to Detroit for an appearance that very afternoon. Miss Rich is rightfully very proud of her daughter. Though Frances is also interested in dramatics, her first love is sculpture. I was really surprised to learn that a sculptured bit of work the younger Miss Rich made for the Army and Navy nurses will be dedicated in Arlington National Cemetery in November. I asked Miss Rich if she would make another picture following "That Certain Age," which stars Deanna Durbin. Miss Rich said that she would shortly start work on a new film. However, Deanna Durbin will not be in the next one, as a film company other than Universal, to whom Deanna is under contract, will produce Miss Rich's next picture.

Courtroom Broadcasts

Do radio broadcasts direct from a traffic courtroom help prevent accidents? That is the problem Chicago jurists are wrangling over at the present time. Judge Stephen Adamowski, who presides over a courtroom from which traffic violation cases are broadcast over WJJD, believes that the broadcasts are a deterrent to traffic violators. On the other hand, Judge Edward E. Casey of the Municipal Court contends that the broadcasts are unfair and that there is more of a tendency to convict before a microphone than otherwise. Judge Casey also believes that larger fines are imposed in cases that are broadcast in order to impress the listeners. What is your opinion? Do broadcasts from a courtroom aid or obstruct justice. It will be interesting to find the reaction of RADIO GUIDE readers to this problem.

Watching the Gooks

One of the most popular of the dramatic skits on the air today is "Vic and Sade." Let's take a look at the Gook family as they rehearse one of their programs. Tall, lanky, Art Van Harvey, who takes the part of Vic, sits on one side of a little table. Across from him sits comely Bernardine Flynn, who dons a pair of glasses when she gets ready to read her script. Wandering around the studio and pecking at a note or two on the piano is Billy Idelson, eighteen-year-old Chicago youngster, who has played the part of Rush for the past six years. They all read their lines easily and naturally, as if they were in the parlor of the Gook home and not talking in front of a microphone. In fact, so much a part of the character has Van Harvey become that studio associates call him "Vic" instead of by his real name. Miss Flynn, too, says she doesn't know where Sade Gook leaves off and Bernardine Flynn begins. The trio is showing no favorites between the two major networks these days. At 10:15 they broadcast from the Merchandise Mart over NBC. Then they all ride over to the Wrigley Building in Billy's new car. At 11:45 they start rehearsing at Columbia's studio number one and at 12:15 they go on the air over CBS for their second broadcast of the day. It's one of those rare instances where a sponsor has the same show on two different networks. In real life, Bernardine is married to a Chicago physician while Van Harvey is married to a childhood sweetheart. Billy is now eighteen years old and has just entered college at the Chicago campus of Northwestern University.

Seen Around Town

Francis X. Bushman, ex-star of movie thrillers and now a Chicago radio actor, seen walking down Michigan Avenue with a legal-looking briefcase tucked under his arm. No, Bushman doesn't have any legal aspirations. He says it's easier to carry his scripts in a briefcase . . . When Zasu Pitts was in town to appear on the Fibber McGee program, Chicago was holding a tag day. As Miss Pitts alighted from her car in front of the Merchandise Mart a woman rushed up to her to sell a tag. The woman looked at Miss Pitts a moment and then said: "Oh, I know you—you're Louise Fazenda." The movie comedienne took the whole incident good-naturedly.

Actors to Dance

Chicago radio actors and actresses will be dressed in their finest on November 11 when they hold a dance at some Chicago hotel as yet undetermined. Purpose of the dance is to raise funds so that the Chicago actors can send a contingent to St. Louis, the scene of the forthcoming national meeting of the American Federation of Radio Artists. (That is the organization to which most radio actors in this country belong.) Altogether, thirty-two Chicago radio artists—sixteen delegates and sixteen alternates—will attend the St. Louis conclave. During the course of the same meeting in Chicago at which it was decided to hold the dance, nominations were also made for new officers for the coming year. It seems the actors in "The Story of Mary Marlin" are the ones with the most executive ability. Retiring president of the Chicago chapter of AFRA is Carleton Brickert, who is David Post in "The Story of Mary Marlin." Slated to be his successor and who has been the vice-president is Anne Seymour, star of the same sketch.

Last year instead of a dance a masquerade was held. I attended last year's affair, which was held at the Medinah Club. Winning the prizes for the best costumes were Barbara Luddy, feminine lead of the "First Nighter," and Bret Morrison, who, in addition to taking the part of "the genial First Nighter," also acts on the same show. Bret and Barbara were dressed as Romeo and Juliet. Other prizes were given for meritorious acting, but off-hand I can think of only one winner. He was Hugh Studebaker, who takes the part of Dr. Graham in "Bachelor's Children," a very popular script-show which is unfortunately not heard in the West. Hugh, who received a radio trophy similar to the movies' little "Oscars," awarded for the best film acting, is also heard as Silly Watson on the Fibber McGee show.

THE RADIO TATTLER

BY HAL TATE

Musical Notes

Returning to Chicago for hotel engagements are Hal Kemp, Buddy Rogers and Guy Lombardo. I'll tell you about Hal's final "Time to Shine" broadcast (October 12) in next week's column. I understand that Hal Kemp's sponsor, a shoe-polish manufacturer, wants him to go back on the air next March. Hal hasn't made up his mind yet whether to accept or not, probably figuring that another sponsor may turn up before next spring. Mary Pickford will probably join her hubby, Buddy Rogers, in Chicago later this fall. After seven years with Lady Esther, Wayne King goes off, and to date I haven't heard of the Waltz King snaring a sponsor. Guy Lombardo will broadcast the Lady Esther show from Chicago while he plays at the Palmer House's swanky Empire Room.

The Tattler's Tidbits

Benny Goodman, during his broadcasts from Chicago the past few weeks, didn't allow any spectators at rehearsals except the producer and engineer . . . Latest Chicago actress that may be film-tested shortly is Patricia Dunlap, one of the twins in "Bachelor's Children." She's been interviewed by a movie-talent scout . . . Al Jolson came through town with his wife, Ruby Keeler, while bound for New York from Hollywood. It is reported that the Jolsons are planning to adopt a baby girl from Evanston's famous Cradle. The new youngster would be a playmate for their son, who also was a Cradle baby . . . When the new serial, "Madame Courageous," went on the air, Ray Johnstone, Chicago actor, sent orchids to all the feminine members of the cast. The lead in the new show is Ray's wife, Betty Caine . . . A dozen floodlights, two step-ladders and four platforms were dragged into the NBC studios recently. Reason: They were for candid-camera addicts who swarmed Ransom Sherman's "People I Have Known" broadcast after he had invited them to come and "shoot" to their heart's content . . . Sponsors of "Little Orphan Annie" are starting a new show. It goes on the air October 17. Unlike Orphan Annie, the new show will be heard in the morning and is directed at adults. Author of the new serial is Guila Adams, who managed to find time even while acting in "Those Happy Gilmans" and other serials to write the show.

LISTENING TO LEARN

Classroom Aids...

Mondays

American School of the Air. 2:30-3 p.m., CBS. Teachers' helper, not successor. Though fear is present in some quarters that radio as an educator might some day eliminate teachers' jobs, it has been conclusively proved by extensive research that this will not happen. (Read Margaret Harrison's Radio in the Classroom.) However, radio programs that are constructed to meet students' needs are a great aid to the teacher. This series boasts ten years' experience in the radio-education field. Monday programs explore, by commentary and vivid dramatization, the fundamental principles guiding our democracy and the ways in which they affect our every-day life.

Tuesdays

American School of the Air. 2:30-3 p.m., CBS. Music, besides serving as an excellent form of entertainment, has, in a more practical vein, affected the social, cultural and economic life of the communities in which it originated. Blending art with incident to illustrate this fact, the Tuesday sessions will be a study of music from Colonial days to the present. A symphony orchestra and commentator handle the assignment.

Wednesdays

Your Health. 2-2:30 p.m., NBC. Interesting and informative lessons in personal health are presented in this weekly series. Dramatization and brief commentary accentuate rules of health, their value and application to every-day life.

American School of the Air. 2:30-3 p.m., CBS. To point out that current events are something more tangible than the paper and ink that records them, the Wednesday programs illustrate that they are the accounts of actual experiences of flesh-and-blood people, the daily happenings in a living world. Favorite radio devices—dramatization, commentary, round-table discussion and broadcasts from foreign and domestic centers of news interest—are utilized in these programs.

Thursdays

American School of the Air. 2:30-3 p.m., CBS. The drama and excitement of scientific exploration are combined with its entertainment and educational possibilities on Thursday, when Roy Chapman Andrews takes the Columbia microphone direct to the exhibits in the American Museum of Natural History.

Fridays

Music Appreciation Hour. 2-3 p.m., NBC. Convinced that merely hearing the classics and semi-classics does not create an understanding of them, Dr. Damrosch in this series uses an easily understandable approach to the study of music. In this music workshop types of compositions are analyzed, functions and effects of instruments are described and illustrated, works of outstanding composers are reviewed and compared.

American School of the Air. 2:30-3 p.m., CBS. Blending dramatizations of American literature with the comments of contemporary writers, the Friday programs are designed to show how literature can be used to increase an understanding of other human beings.

Here are the additions to the list of educational programs presented on this page last week. Here is learning made easy. Listen and be both entertained and enlightened.

Times given are EST. For CST subtract 1 hour; MST, 2 hours; PST, 3 hours. Recommendations based on cultural values

SPECIALIST IN ADVENTURE

MAX JORDAN, WHO KNOWS THE WORLD THE WAY THE REST OF US KNOW MAIN STREET

THE world itself, and all of it, from Shanghai to London, from Mexico City to Moscow, has been the life-long stamping-ground for Max Jordan, today the National Broadcasting Company's No. 1 European newscaster and a man much in the news, much on the air during the recent Czechoslovak crisis.

Linguist, journalist, commentator, and split-second expert in the fiendishly difficult business of arranging round-the-world broadcasts by unwilling people in inaccessible places, Max Jordan lives a life as romance-packed as that of any E. Phillips Oppenheim hero.

A cosmopolite from birth—he was born in Italy of Austro-German-French ancestry—Max Jordan grew up in Italy, Germany and Switzerland, with occasional trips to France and other countries, and while still a high-school student he could speak fluent Italian, French and German. He was educated at the Universities of Frankfurt, Jena and Berlin, took a Ph. D. in philosophy at Jena with the idea of devoting his life to religious philosophy. He studied the ancient theologies of the Orient, learned Arabic, Hebrew and Persian at the same time. But in 1920—he was 25 then—he decided against a professional career and went to work for a newspaper syndicate in Berlin, specializing in international affairs. Two years later he joined the Hearst foreign service and became assistant to Karl H. von Wiegand, then as now one of the greatest foreign correspondents who ever filed a cable. Jordan's early experience and contact with Wiegand, incidentally, has borne much fruit since those post-war days. During the Czechoslovak crisis Jordan brought Karl von Wiegand's brilliant interpretations of passing events to American listeners while other foreign broadcasters were groping in the dark.

JORDAN'S radio history, as a matter of fact, is scoop-studded. For instance, when Hitler, Chamberlain, Daladier and Mussolini signed the now famous Munich agreement, Max Jordan had the full text on the air to America three-quarters of an hour before his nearest competitor, two hours and sixteen minutes before the next-earliest broadcaster!

Typical of Jordan's methods was a classic broadcast he brought out of Ethiopia during the Italo-Ethiopian war. He succeeded in taking equipment into war-torn Abyssinia a tremendous feat even under the most favorable conditions, and put on the air Emperor Haile Selassie, his wife, and Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's aide and son-in-law! He'd been told a dozen times it couldn't be done. First of all, skeptics informed him, he wouldn't be able to get his equipment into the barbaric country, and even if he did, he wouldn't be able to service it. But Max Jordan remembered reading, somewhere, sometime, about a Swedish radio engineer who lived in Ethiopia. He got a list of all the radio companies in Sweden, queried them about the matter, soon found his man. After that there was nothing to it—all he had to do was coordinate the available time of his network in America with the schedule of the Negus and Count Ciano, bring those two bitter enemies to agreement—and go on the air!

Generalissimo of the airlines during the recent war crisis

Journalists who are fond of arguing that radio can never seriously compete with newspapers in the business of handling eye-witness accounts on big stories should look into Max Jordan's record. He once broadcast a complete running story on a Paris riot—and when the Parisians riot, it is no pink tea—from the floor of a taxicab, under a barrage of stones, paving-bricks, bottles and every other kind of handy missile, broadcast it quietly, efficiently, objectively. And with only one eye open, incidentally. The other had been tightly closed by the blow of a stone that had crashed through the window.

Wherever there's danger there's news. It's legendary among European radiocasters that when most people are fleeing for their lives from some such little catastrophe as a volcanic eruption, there'll be a slight, bald, big-domed man battling his way in the other direction, a microphone wire running out behind him—Max Jordan, Parent Aids...

Wednesdays

Our American Schools. 6-6:15 p.m., NBC. A series directed at parents of school-age children that attempts to acquaint them with the changes that have taken place in the classroom since the era of the little red schoolhouse. The history of the American school system is traced from the establishment of the very first school in the new world to the present million-dollar educational plants, dramatizations showing, in chronological order, the changing ideas in teaching and the evolution of the present modern methods of education.

Saturdays

The Child Grows Up. 10:30-10:45 a.m., NBC. A woman who has been active in social work for more than twenty-five years gives practical hints and expert advice on the problems of child rearing.

Florence Hale Forum. 10:45-11 a.m., NBC. This is another series aimed principally at the parents of children of school age. The talks by Florence Hale, trustee of the NEA and editor of the Grade Teacher, explain the methods of classroom procedure in order that education may continue at home as well as in school.

Personal—Social Problems...

Sundays

The Master Builder. 5:45-6 p.m., NBC. The man who needs help to retain ownership of his home and the man who needs help to buy a home may find the questions in his mind about the functions and purpose of the Federal Housing Administration answered in this series. The benefits that may be derived from the FHA plan and the advantages of the new amendment to the recently passed National Housing Act are explained in full.

Tuesdays

Highways to Health. 4-4:15 p.m., CBS. Medical talks for laymen are arranged by the New York Academy of Medicine for this series. Speakers on such vital subjects as painless childbirth and dieting for health are chosen from the ranks of the best the profession has to offer.

Wednesdays

Your Health. 2-2:30 p.m., NBC. See listing in "Classroom Aids."

Corrections—Additions

Drama, Sunday

Shakespeare's England. 12-12:30 p.m., NBC. Series broadcast one hour earlier starting October 16.

Great Plays. 1-2 p.m., NBC. This "must" for the play-lover is a panorama of the theater from the days of early Greek tragedies to the newest hits on Broadway. Premieres Oct. 16.

Current Events, Friday

The Story Behind the Headlines. 10:30-10:45 p.m., NBC. A qualified reporter, after several months on the Continent and in the British Isles, returns to America and an NBC microphone with a wealth of first-hand observations on events "over there."

MR. FAIRFAX KNOWS FRIENDS OF YOURS

For personal replies enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope. Please state questions as briefly as possible.—Ed.

CHESTER (Lum) LAUCK was married on September 1, 1926, to an Arkansas girl. They have two daughters, Shirley May and Nancy.—W. L. Port Hope, Ontario, Canada.

BILL ROBINSON, famous Negro dancer, was born in Richmond, Virginia, on May 25, 1878. He never had a dancing lesson in his life. When he was eight years old, he ran away from home and was soon earning a living dancing for nickels. Joining a road-show, he traveled the country with it for ten years. It wasn't until 1908 that he started to receive acclaim for his talent, and from then on his climb to the top via vaudeville and musical revue was steady. Bill is married and lives in one of the swankiest apartments in Harlem, owns a Duesenberg and employs a chauffeur. Ice cream is his favorite dish, and he has been known to put away five quarts in one day. No account of him is complete without a mention of his extreme generosity.—C. V. P., Rock Island, Ill.

JOHNNY, the call boy, is only 43 inches tall, weighs 52 pounds. His name is John Roventini, and he was born in Brooklyn, New York, on August 15, 1910. His first full-time job was as a bellhop in Hotel Manger, New York City. After a year he switched to the Hotel New Yorker as "call boy." He has brown hair and brown eyes, keeps in condition by eating plenty of his mother's Italian spaghetti.—T. E. H., Claymont, Del.

FRAN ALLISON was born in La Porte, Indiana, on July 20, 1907. Her maternal grandmother, Bridget Haplin, sang in the Dublin Cathedral. ANNETTE KING, NBC contralto, was born in Kankakee, Illinois, on September 27, 1915. She is married to Frank R. Reid, Jr., assistant state's attorney in Aurora, Illinois. Her home is in Aurora, but Annette's radio work frequently keeps her in Chicago.—M. R., St. Paul, Minn.

RICHARD MAXWELL, tenor-philosopher, was born in Mansfield, Ohio, on September 12, 1898. His father, the late R. R. Maxwell, was a merchant and concert baritone; his mother, the former Hallie Williams, was an artist. He is five feet eleven inches tall, weighs 175 pounds, has brown hair and hazel eyes. Was married, now divorced, has one son and two daughters. His career began unofficially when he was an Episcopal choir-boy. He was educated at Georgetown University, Kenyon College and the Ohio State Aviation School. As a chorus boy in "Lady in Ermine," he made his professional debut; then became understudy to John Steele in the second and third editions of the "Music Box Revue." Maxwell made his radio debut over Station WJZ, New York City, in 1923, has had a very successful career in radio ever since. He writes his own continuity and composes most of the verses which he reads.—B. M., Belfast, Maine.

"Open House," starring Jeanette MacDonald, evidently will not be back on the air this season. The sponsor recently returned to the air with the "SETH PARKER" program on Sunday nights over NBC.—M. H., Bloomington, Ill.

"UNCLE JIM" McWILLIAMS now is on Wednesday nights in a newly sponsored series titled "Ask-It-Basket."—C. T., Frankfort, N. Y.

HAL KEMP does not sponsor SKIN-NAY ENNIS' orchestra; BENNY GOODMAN does not sponsor GENE KRUPA'S orchestra.—H. D., Baltimore, Md.

JEAN DICKENSON, "American Album of Familiar Music" soprano, was born in Montreal on December 10, 1913, while her family was enroute from Alaska to India. She was educated in India, Africa, San Francisco and Denver, this constant state of travel necessitated by her father's mining interests. While in Denver she discovered her singing ability and refused to travel further with family, beginning a period of vocal study when she was only twelve years old. Miss Dickenson is five feet six inches tall, weighs 108 pounds, has dark-brown hair, hazel eyes, camellia-white skin and a soft speaking voice. She speaks Hindustani and fluent French.—J. M., Harrisburg, Pa.

No plans have been announced for the return to the air of "Follow the Moon" starring ELSIE HITZ and NICK DAWSON.—Mrs. O. H. W., Haddon Heights, N. J.

The first actor to portray the part of "Scoop" Curtis in "Girl Alone" was Donald Briggs; he was followed in this role by Arthur Jacobson (who now uses the name Henry Hunter). They both gave up the part to go to Hollywood for picture making. The present "Scoop," PAT MURPHY, has had the role since December, 1935. Pat is 27 years old, is married. BETTY WINKLER, who is Patricia Rogers in the same serial, was born in Berwick, Pennsylvania, on April 19, 1914. She is not married. Betty showed an aptitude for acting when five years old, made her professional debut at 17 and entered radio a year later over Station WTAM. After several months at WTAM, she was signed by NBC in the summer of 1933. She is five feet three inches tall, weighs 107 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes.—Mrs. P. W. W., Long Beach, Long Island, N. Y.

The theme song of the "Myrt and Marge" serial is "Dream Waltz."—H. B., Lumberton, Miss.

Sy Oliver plays second trumpet in JIMMY LUNCEFORD'S orchestra, Thomas Stevenson and Edwin Tompkins play first and third trumpet, respectively.—A. E., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FRANK DANE portrays the role of Jimmy Kent in "Arnold Grimm's Daughter." He was born in Aalborg, Denmark, on July 13, 1905. Frank has brown hair, hazel eyes, fair complexion, is five feet eight and one-half inches tall, weighs 160 pounds. PEGGY ALLENBY is Susan in "David Harum."—N. N., Southbridge, Mass.

November 26 has been set as the starting date of METROPOLITAN OPERA broadcasts.—B. M., Danville, Ill.

GEORGE OLSEN has only one band, currently playing at the Waldorf Astoria Roof, New York City.—O. R., St. Louis, Mo.

TOMMY DORSEY'S orchestra opened at the Hotel New Yorker on October 12 for a thirteen-week engagement.—J. B., Tampa, Fla.

DUKE ELLINGTON'S new songstress, Jean Eldridge, is a native of Pittsburgh.—S. M., Newport, R. I.

CHARLES (Andy) CORRELL also takes the parts of Henry Van Porter and the Kingfish. FREEMAN (Amos) GOSDEN also takes the parts of Brother Crawford and Lightnin'. However, when a difficult script makes it necessary they switch parts readily.—E. E. R., Clarence, Ia.

EMERY DEUTSCH, not active in radio work at present, recently completed a theater engagement in New York.—C. P., Los Angeles, Calif.

Lovely brown-eyed Maxine (above) and her haunting contralto are heard with Phil Spitalny and his all-girl singing orchestra on the "Hour of Charm" from 9 to 9:30 p.m. EST over NBC. Dorothy Thompson comments

Judy Canova, hillbilly queen, banners her way over NBC network Sundays on "Chase and Sanborn"

Gay Seabrook, Joe Penner's stooge Susabella, over CBS Thursdays, 7:30 to 8 p.m. EST; 5:30 to 6 p.m. PST

RECORDS OF THE WEEK

A new department reviewing the recordings of your radio favorites

THE main event of the week doubtless is the Gershwin Memorial Album, made by Nat Shilkret, the Victor Salon Group, Jane Froman, Felix Knight, and Sonny Schuyler. The packet contains five twelve-inch records, two given over to a medley from Porgy and Bess, one a special vocal-orchestral arrangement of the famous middle strain from Rhapsody in Blue, one a super-production on The Man I Love, and the rest numerous medleys of Gershwin's most famous songs.

George Gershwin wrote great tunes, great melodies, and for a general cross-section of them, this album is valuable. Jane Froman is a good choice for the songs she sings—some of the orchestral arrangements fall down, and the scat-singing in "It Ain't Necessarily So" is really laughable. The fastidious record-buyer will no doubt prefer the Tibbett-Jepson album of Porgy and Bess music over this, should prefer the regular Rhapsody in Blue, and would prefer a solid swing band on the pop tunes over the Victor Salon Group. But for the easy-going guy who wants it all in a package, here is the works. (Victor Album C-29. $7.50.)

Victor unleashes three top-notch singers in its latest release—Flagstad, Castagna and Thomas. Any record by Kirsten Flagstad is an event and a sure-fire addition to the collection. This time she turns for a second time to Beethoven—not his strongest in vocal composition yet strong enough to give the magnificent Flagstad something to sing about. The aria is from Beethoven's only opera, "Fidelio," "Thou Monstrous Fiend" the title. The Philadelphia Orchestra under Ormandy accompanies. (Victor 14972. $2.)

Bruna Castagna turns to the candy for all contraltos, "Carmen," and does toothsome with the card song, but not quite strongly enough with the famous Seguidilla. These are arias most familiar yet always welcome. Wilfred Pelletier and orchestra back her up. (Victor 1936. $1.50.)

Personality and understanding and a great voice all make the John Charles Thomas record a notable one. Both songs he sings are from his concert repertoire, both in French—one dramatic, one with a touch of humor. They are "Au Pays" by Holmes, and

"Requiem du Coeur" by Pessard. Well worth a whirl. (Victor 15184. $2.)

Popular:

Larry Clinton's latest three aren't too terrific, alas. Zig-Zag and Dodgin' the Dean are routine swing patterns. Shadrach parallels too closely the Louis Armstrong record without topping it; Summer Souvenirs is pretty slender; Heart and Soul is a pleasant Hoagy Carmichael tune, and Old Folks is a tear-jerky saga of a lovable old guy that will be gone soon. (Victor.)

Slim and Slam are the Harlem screwballs that created Flat Foot Floogie. They tried to repeat on Tutti Frutti, and both Jan Savitt (Bluebird) and Gene Krupa (Brunswick) made acceptable records of it. The boys themselves did both tunes on Vocalion, and now have a couple more in the same vein—Jump Session and Vol Vist du Gaily Star. Both exhibit a display of swing originality. (Vocalion.)

Tommy Dorsey is not the first by far to put out a record called "Boogie Woogie," but the Dorsey band does well in this rolling Kansas City style of swing, which features the pianoforte at its best. Albeit studied, the boys essay the Pine Top Smith version of the style. With another trumpet battery, the band backs it with an old swinger, Weary Blues, jam-session fashion. (Victor.)

Leith Stevens and his very sharp studio band from CBS, New York, go the limit on putting the swing blasphemy on old sacred stuff with theirs on Love's Old Sweet Song. Tsk, tsk! Shudder, shudder! (Vocalion.)

Penny Wise, plaintive femme singer, does right well with two very likable tunes from the Paramount picture foundry. Silver on the Sage and Laugh and Call It Love are the tags. (Vocalion.)

Will Hudson, swing arranger who recently parted with co-bandleader Eddie DeLange, is now reported to be disbanding his present band. His latest, and presumably his last, is pattern-formula stuff—Break It Up on one side and Break It Down on the other. (Brunswick.)

—Joe Thompson.

idea, and forthwith calls a writer for a conference that will last until dawn!

When Robinson is satisfied with the script—he usually makes numerous changes—a final revision is made. This goes to a Hollywood law firm titled, by an ironical quirk of fate, "Gang & Kopp." The attorneys go over it carefully to see to it that anything in the story that has to do with legal procedure is correct, and to watch for libel. Typical of the precautions that are taken is this: Every name used on the "Big Town" program is that of a living person who has given written permission to use of it. Thus, no listener can say, "That show had a gangster in it with my name. I'll sue 'em!"

RHEARSALS begin the Saturday previous to the broadcast in the main studio of Hollywood's brand-new Columbia Broadcasting System Building. Special music, written and conducted by Fran Frey, is rehearsed in the morning, and the players go to work at noon, when Robinson arrives. When Robinson or co-star Claire Trevor are engaged in film production the first rehearsal is held on Sunday. Work is the order of the day during these rehearsals. A recent session began at 10 a.m. on Saturday and lasted until 2 a.m. on Sunday! Final rehearsal begins at 10 a.m. Tuesday, continues straight through until broadcast time at 5 p.m. PST.

That's the way "Big Town" is put together. When the "Poultry Racket" script goes on the air this Tuesday, and you meet Steve Wilson, Lorelei, Luigi and Tony Torelli, "Red," and "Muggsy" and the rest—you'll know you're listening to the real thing; you'll know you're finding out something new about this America of ours. And it's something you need to know.

Edward G. Robinson may be heard Tuesday on "Big Town" over a CBS network at:
EST 8:00 p.m. — CST 7:00 p.m.
For the West Coast at:
MST 9:30 p.m. — PST 8:30 p.m.

Solution to Puzzle Given Last Week

Remote Control

Last spring I attended a startling exhibition at a radio manufacturer's sales convention held at Chicago's famed Edgewater Beach Hotel. I saw an ordinary radio set, and standing about 50 feet away was a girl holding a little box about the size of a small, midget radio. This little contraption had a dial-like gadget on its face similar to those seen on dial telephones. Instead of numbers, the dials had names of stations. A certain Chicago station was on—the girl flicked the dial and a new station replaced the other one. And she could both increase and decrease volume or shut the radio off completely even though she was nowhere near the radio. This is called "remote control." No wires are used. It is simply a case of "synchronizing" the gadget with the radio set. You can be in another room 100 feet away and still operate this remarkable new invention. This remote-control apparatus was also on display at Marshall Field's exhibit. Should "remote control" become universal, long commercials may be a thing of the past. For any listener, weary of a long commercial, can get a new station even though not near the radio simply by a twist of the remote-control "dial." Edgar Guest's "It Can Be Done" show got a nice break at the radio show. A radio manufacturer exhibited a color film and a portion of the movie was devoted to a broadcast of the "It Can Be Done" show. Edgar Guest, Frankie Masters, Producer Harry Klein and numerous Chicago radio stars who are part of the "It Can Be Done" show—all appear on the film. Add-a-line: When Bob Crosby broadcast the "Fitch Bandwagon" from the Merchandise Mart nobody recognized a lovely young miss sitting in the audience. She is Bob's September bride.

RADIO GUIDE'S PROGRAM LOCATOR APPEARS IN THE ISSUE DATED THE SECOND SATURDAY OF EACH MONTH

on his way to put something on the air. Jordan actually did broadcast an authentic eruption of Mount Vesuvius on one occasion. One of his five microphones was snatched away by white-hot molten lava a moment after he'd placed it, and only asbestos wrappings saved the others from destruction.

Another spectacular Jordan coup was a Christmas broadcast aired three years ago. A full hour in length, it took listeners, via short wave, from Bethlehem to Egypt to Rome to Oslo to London to Paris to St. Augustine, Florida, and concluded at Washington.

TODAY, as Continental European representative of the National Broadcasting Company, Jordan watches the radio affairs of thirty nations from his London office. In constant communication with NBC officials in New York through a leased cable, he is ready, on ten minutes' notice or less, to leave for a broadcast from a London suburb or from Moscow, half-way round the world. And news-coverage, although the most spectacular part of his duties, is by no means all he does. He engages talent for NBC, places NBC transcription programs with European stations, handles programs coming from America as well as those going in the other direction. Because of his extensive European contacts and experience, he is well fitted to pick for Continental consumption those programs that will be of highest interest. It was Max Jordan who arranged for the rebroadcast of President Roosevelt's inaugural address from Washington to twelve different European countries.

A tough job? Not for Max Jordan, although it would be so difficult as to be impossible for even a well-trained newspaper correspondent. Because hard work, ingenuity, persistence—these things aren't enough. To cover the hodgepodge of conflicting nationalities and ideologies that is Europe today, a broadcaster needs the background that comes only with a lifetime of study and experience, and the friends in high places that only competence and fair treatment can win.

IT'S because Max Jordan has all these qualities in full measure that listeners to NBC foreign broadcasts know that they're getting fuller information, better interpretation than they could possibly have if they were themselves on the spot!

THE TRUTH ABOUT LIFE

BROUGHT TO YOU ON RADIO'S GREATEST HUMAN-INTEREST PROGRAM!

Real people—not actors—men, women and children from all walks of life bare the facts of their personal experiences! Some tragic, some weird, some hilarious, some pitiful... but all intensely interesting. Don't miss "WE, THE PEOPLE." Columbia coast-to-coast network. There's nothing like it on the air! Sponsored by Sanka Coffee.

"A Drink of Water," by the prize winning short story writer, Wilbur Daniel Steele, will be produced. This is the first of three stories which Steele is adapting himself for Workshop presentation, and this, inci-

NEW PROGRAMS

Al Pearce (Grape-Nuts), along with all of his gang, was heard starting a new series of programs Monday, October 10, at 7 p.m. CST (6 MST).

American School of the Air. This above-the-average educational program, which is used in schoolrooms as part of the grade-school curriculum, entered its tenth consecutive year of broadcasting last week. The program can be heard Mondays thru Fridays at 1:30 p.m. CST (12:30 MST).

Carson Robison's Buckaroos (Musterole), hillbillies deluxe, returned to the air Monday, October 10, at 7 p.m. CST (6 MST).

Court of Human Relations (Vad-sco Sales Corporation), one of radio's pioneer human-interest programs, which dramatizes stories that are authentically taken from real life, returned to the air Sunday, October 9, at 3:30 p.m. CST (2:30 MST).

Criminal Case Histories (Sloan's Liniment), with Warden Lewis E. Lawes as narrator, starts a new series of programs on Friday nights at 7 p.m. CST (6 MST).

Dog Heroes (Thrive Dog Food), a dramatization depicting the heroic deeds of man's greatest friend, his dog, can be heard on Sundays at 2 p.m. CST (1 MST).

Dr. Christian (Vaseline), a dramatization of a country doctor starring Jean Hersholt, who made the doctor characterization famous, returns to the air Tuesday, October 18, at 9 p.m. CST (8 MST).

Jack Haley (Wonder Bread and Hostess Cake), after a summer lay-off, returned to the air with Ted Fio-Rito's orchestra Friday, October 14, at 6:30 p.m. CST (5:30 MST).

Mary and Bob's True Stories (True Story Magazine) returns to the air Tuesday, October 18, at 8 p.m. CST (7 MST).

Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air (Sherwin-Williams Company), the program that gives lesser-known singers a chance to reach the goal that all singers strive for, the Metropolitan Opera Company, returned to the air Sunday, October 9, at 4 p.m. CST (3 MST).

Music Appreciation Hour, conducted by Dr. Walter Damrosch, a program of the heavier type of music that is sometimes used as a supplement in the classrooms in the study of music appreciation, can be heard on Fridays at 1 p.m. CST (12 noon MST).

The Peoples Rally (Mennen Company), an active participation program featuring John B. Kennedy and Bob Hawk, started a new series of programs Sunday, October 9, at 2:30 p.m. CST (1:30 MST).

CLOSINGS

Hal Kemp's orchestra (Griffin Shoe Polish) left the air after the last broadcast Tuesday, October 11.

March of Time (Time, Inc.) leaves the air after the last broadcast Friday, October 21.

PROGRAM CHANGES

Bing Crosby (Kraft) returns to the helm of the Music Hall program Thursday at 9 p.m. CST (8 MST).

Guy Lombardo's orchestra (Lady Esther) replaced Wayne King on the latter's Monday and Friday night spots. Guy Lombardo can be heard Mondays at 9 p.m. CST (8 MST) and Fridays at 9 p.m. CST (8 MST).

Tony Martin (Chesterfield) replaces Frank Parker on the Burns and Allen program. Tony can be heard on Friday nights at 7:30 p.m. CST (6:30 MST).

W. C. Fields (Lucky Strike) was added to the cast of "Your Hit Parade" and can be heard on Saturday nights at 9 p.m. CST (8 MST).

William Powell (Campbell's Soup) takes over Herbert Marshall's spot on Hollywood Hotel Friday, October 21. Bill Powell can be heard at 8 p.m. CST (7 MST).

Short-wave programs of American stations are shown along with the regular listings beginning on page 24. These are indicated, for example, by (sw-11.87) in parentheses following a program listing. This means that on 11.87 megacycles the same program may also be heard over an American short-wave station. Please note that foreign stations do not always adhere precisely to their announced program schedules.

On Short Waves

Edited by Chas. A. Morrison

President, International DX'ers Alliance

Times given are EST. For CST subtract 1 hour; MST, 2 hours; PST, 3 hours

ON TUESDAY, October 18, at 8 p.m. EST, listeners to Italian short-wave stations 2R04 (11.81), IRF (9.83) and IQY (11.676) will hear the famous Requiem Mass by Verdi. The EIAR Symphony Orchestra will be conducted by Maestro de Sabata, while featured soloists will include Beniamino Gigli, Maria Caniglia, Tancredi Pasero and Ebe Stignani . . . At 10:15 p.m. EST on the same evening, a special "Alaska Day" broadcast will be featured by German stations DJB (15.2), DJD (11.77) and DJO (11.795).

The IDA International Friendship Program to be broadcast over Guatemala stations TGWA (9.685) and TGWB (6.498), on Saturday, October 22, at 10 p.m. EST, will feature a concert by the famous Orquesta Progresista and selections by the State Marimba Band. Reports on reception of this broadcast, which do not need to include return postage, will be promptly verified by QSL cards.

King Zog of Albania plans to install a national short-wave station . . . A short-wave transmitter to relay the programs of broadcast station ZNS of Nassau in the Bahamas Islands is planned . . . The power of short-wave station KZRM of Manila, Philippines, now under the management of J. Amado Araneta, is soon to be raised to 10,000 watts.

The most comprehensive schedule of American broadcasts to Latin America ever attempted will be launched shortly by the National Broadcasting Company as a result of the assignment by the Federal Communications Commission to NBC of two additional short-wave frequencies, namely 9.67 and 21.63 meg. The former will be used to put a better signal into the lower half of South America during evening hours, while the latter will be used by NBC during the daytime to carry to Latin America the programs which are now beamed towards Europe on 17.78 meg.

Those who believe the short-wave spectrum offers little in the way of variety will be interested to learn that John DeMyer of Lansing, Mich., has not only heard but actually verified short-wave reception from more than 125 countries. Although this is an exceptional record it is entirely possible for the ordinary listener to record reception from fifty or more countries within a very few weeks.

SHORT-WAVE SHORTS: According to Ed Wulfe of Bloomington, Ill., PCJ (9.59) of Huizen, Holland, is now broadcasting Friday nights from 8 to 9 p.m. EST in addition to its regular schedule . . . News concerning latest developments in Argentina is being transmitted to the world over LRA (18.115 and 9.695) of Buenos Aires, on Fridays at 3 and 5 p.m. EST. The first period, directed towards Europe, includes news in Spanish, French, English and German, while the second period, directed towards the Western Hemisphere, features news in Spanish, French, Portuguese and English . . . COCM of Havana, Cuba, has shifted in frequency to approximately 9.79 meg . . . The Javanese transmitter on 6.04 meg, which relays the NIROM programs, has been identified as YDA of Batavia . . . After several months' absence from the ether lanes, FO8AA (7.1) of Papeete, Tahiti, is again being heard with weak signals on Tuesdays and Fridays near 11 p.m. EST . . . Alan Breen of Dunedin, New Zealand, writes that FK8AA (6.122), "Radio Noumea" of Noumea, New Caledonia, is operating on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2:30 to 3:30 a.m. EST . . . LZA of Sofia, Bulgaria, is again broadcasting on 14.97 meg. The schedule is Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 5 to 7 a.m. EST, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST; Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m. EST, and on Sundays from 12:30 to 8 a.m. EST and from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. EST. Reports should be sent to Radio Sofia, 19, Moskovska St., Sofia, Bulgaria . . . Prague, Czechoslovakia, has several frequencies available for its broadcasts to the U. S., but OLR4A (11.84) is being used most frequently at present.

For 21-Years Gets REAL RELIEF From ASTHMA ATTACKS

What Mrs. Bean said in 1916
"I have derived great benefit from Nacor after suffering for seventeen years from asthma paroxysms. I coughed most of the time and could not rest night or day."
"When I began taking Nacor I could hardly walk across the room, but before I had taken one bottle I could do most of my housework. I recommend it to all sufferers." Mrs. Mary Bean, Nashua, Iowa (December 8, 1916).

and in 1937
"I am not bothered with asthma paroxysms, thanks to Nacor." Mrs. Mary Bean, Nashua, Ia. (March 22, 1937).

A woman in a nautical outfit, including a white sailor's cap and a dark blue pinstriped jacket, stands on a grassy shore. She holds a large white flag with a red border that says "They Satisfy" in blue cursive. In the background, there is a tropical beach scene with palm trees, a blue ocean, and a white boat with a red cabin. In the foreground, a large white box of Chesterfield cigarettes is open, showing several packs of cigarettes. The box has "Chesterfield" written on it in green, along with "200" and "20's".

They Satisfy

Discovered
...a new pleasure
in smoking

You too will find more pleasure in Chesterfield's refreshing mildness and satisfying taste.

That's why smokers everywhere are now saying ...

"More pleasure than any cigarette I ever tried

They Satisfy"
