LISTENING-POST

One listener's thought: "I cannot see how radio could do anything else but promote good-will. It asks for nothing but has all to give! It was said: 'He that would be great among you, let him serve,' and this rule applies to radio."

It is nearly ten o'clock in the Portuguese colony of Angola, Southwest Africa. The December night is warm with the promise of spring, and the town folk are promenading or dining in gay cafes. But as the clocks strike ten, bands in the plaza stop playing. Clinking of forks and glasses is stilled. Card and chess players leave their games. The whole populace congregates on the sidewalk as waiters switch on loudspeakers. "Four p.m., New York time," announces a pleasant voice in perfect Portuguese. Following which a New York announcer 6,000 miles away gives members of this colony—and other Portuguese communities over the globe—the world news broadcast upon which they must depend even for news of their own Portugal motherland.

The most celebrated newspaper editorial ever written was the New York Sun's reply back in 1897 to a little girl's letter which read as follows: "I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in the Sun, it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?" Each year the Sun receives requests for reprints of the letter and editorial answer. They have been published in almost every language all over the world. Only recently the famous letter-editorial was set to music in the form of a Christmas cantata. Radio's Jessica Dragonette, a male quartet and a concert orchestra directed by Rosario Bourdon have recorded it for Victor. Here is an ingenious expression of the Christmas spirit featuring favorite radio stars.

"Ether dating" emerges as the latest wonder of radio. Students at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, have been making use of the college's short-wave station, W9BGX, for carrying on long-distance romances with students of Western State Teachers College, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

If you could understand all the languages of Europe, how would you like to tune in all of the short-wave reports—or blasts—which warring capitals hurl at each other daily? A Chicago newspaperman, B. E. Lucas, has been doing it for weeks. An accomplished linguist, Mr. Lucas listens twenty hours a day, takes notes, attempts to untangle the contradictory threats and claims which he hears. Then he writes a column of quotation, comparison and comment about the most interesting things he has heard, publishes it in the Chicago Times. Why does he do it? Says Mr. Lucas: "... Merely listening will not prevent the average listener from falling victim to foreign propaganda..." In other words, Mr. Lucas is wary of helter-skelter listening, thinks interpretation essential. Radio commentators in our own country do this important job daily as does Mr. Lucas for his paper.

NEXT WEEK: THE STORY OF SHIRLEY'S RADIO DEBUT

EVER since that day when Shirley Temple stepped before the movie cameras of Hollywood to score her first smashing success, radio has wooed her with offers running far above the million-dollar mark. To all of these offers, the answer had been an unequivocal "no." But suddenly the Temples made an about-face in policy and, on Christmas Eve, Shirley will make her radio debut, a debut that may mark an important milestone in this tiny star's life. Behind this sudden surrender lies a story you won't want to miss, and RADIO GUIDE brings you that story next week in "At Last—Shirley Surrenders to Radio."

Of course you've had at least one good idea for a radio program. Maybe you've even gone so far as to send it to some radio executive with a prayer and a hope. But do radio executives welcome ideas? Do they read suggestions, give them the consideration they deserve? "In New Ideas Wanted—Or Are

They?" RADIO GUIDE gives the inside picture of what program directors look for and what happens to your ideas.

Also in next week's issue is the most thrilling expression of faith in the American way of life we have ever come upon. We pass on to you—with the knowledge that you will know a deep, heart-warming surge of pride when you read them—the answers of your favorite radio stars to that all-important question, "What Does American Democracy Mean to Me?"

Ever since that recent program when Fayette Krum, author of "Girl Alone," permitted Patricia Rogers to marry John Knight, she has been deluged with the question, "Why did you do it?" For the millions of listeners who have wondered at this unprecedented radio event, Miss Krum tells, in next week's RADIO GUIDE, the inside, behind-the-scenes story of that marriage.

Don't miss the many thrilling features in next week's issue.

MR. FAIRFAX REPLIES

Mr. Fairfax will give personal answers to all readers who send self-addressed stamped envelopes. Remember that he must confine himself exclusively to network personalities and programs. Address Arthur Fairfax, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill.

Miss Clara Ontell, Los Angeles, Calif.—CLAYTON COLLYER (Mike Conway in "Pretty Kitty Kelly") was born in New York City, June 18, 1908, the brother of June Collyer, film star. Even as a child he desired a stage career but was persuaded by the family to study law. He attended Williams College, conducting an orchestra to help pay his tuition, then received an LL.B. degree from Fordham University School of Law in 1933. For two years he practised law, then gave it up for his first desire—acting. He began stage work in "The Fields Beyond," which played on Broadway, then he joined CBS to appear in its "Cavalcade" broadcasts. In 1936 Clayton met Miss Heloise Green on a "blind date." They were soon married. Collyer is exactly six feet tall, weighs 175 pounds, has dark-brown hair and hazel eyes. His hobby is raising tropical fish, he likes to ride horseback, play baseball, football and tennis.

Mrs. Samuel Lobel, Brooklyn, N. Y.—In "Adventures of Ellery Queen" the identification of Mr. Queen and his secretary are not released by the network or sponsor. The rest of the cast changes.

YOUR PRIDE IN YOUR POCKET

A 72-year-old vaudeville idol of yesteryear tells you how to succeed on the air. Past sixty, he came back—and to radio

BY JOE HOWARD

SOMETIMES I wonder why youngsters, trying to set their feet down in this radio business, ever bother to come to oldsters like me for advice. After all, show business is set up so differently today that principles which were true then and which helped me along the road aren't true at all today. In the early days, for example, a young man starting out in show business usually found himself a job with a vaudeville show, a stock company or a burlesque troupe. Many of the very fine actors and actresses of our stage today got their first schooling in one or the other of these three media.

Today vaudeville, burlesque, stock are nonexistent for all practical purposes, and the youngster starting out to make his way has to have plenty on the ball from the very start, for there are no practical schools in which he can get his grounding. The few summer theaters scattered across the country hardly fill the place left by the passing of vaudeville and stock.

But there are certain qualities—I number them at five—which anyone seeking success in the entertainment world must have today. And they needed them 'way back when I was a pup, too. As a matter of fact, I've tried to weave them into my way of living, and now, looking back, I cannot help but feel that they have played a vital part in whatever success I have achieved . . . and managed to hang onto.

I would rate will-power the most important quality a person must have to keep going. He must be able to say to himself: "I will go on—one day at a time, if necessary. I will do the next thing that has to be done whether it seems to be getting me anywhere or not."

The application of will-power must be made to the little things of life as well as to the crises. It takes will-power to get yourself up in the morning to face a seemingly continual barrage of no's from prospective employers. It takes will-power to keep on asking for that job no matter how much you've been turned down. I'll always remember November, 1929, when Keith-Orpheum stock dropped from thirty-five to two points in a space of seven hours. In that seven hours I'd lost my life's savings, $250,000. I still wasn't worried. I had an act, "Chin Toy," with a cast of twenty people, playing the Palace Theater and I was getting my $3,500 a week. But by the end of that week the Keith-Orpheum Circuit had passed away, and for a while it looked as if I had passed away with it. On one side of my desk was a huge pile of bills, on the other side, cancellations from all over the country.

I mulled over this critical state of affairs and suddenly I remembered what my father had pounded into me as a child, "You can't beat an Irishman!" Well, I'd been told that so much that I believed it, so I set out to make a new spot for myself. If I couldn't book my twenty-cast act in New York, I could book a three-person act into theaters along the whistle stops and eat. I moved out of my large apartment into dollar-a-day hotels. I ate in cafeterias. My act now consisted of myself and a trio (the Andrews Sisters, incidentally). I refused to let things get me down and went on doing each day's show as it came along.

I may seem to be talking a lot about myself, but after all Joe Howard is the fellow I know best and the second quality which I feel is responsible for my place in the entertainment world is belief in myself. If you stop believing in yourself for a minute you'll start thinking negative thoughts that will affect everything you do. And if you believe in yourself you'll refuse to worry, because you'll know everything is going to work out all right. If you lose that belief in yourself, worry will set in to paralyze the mind until it goes around like a treadmill . . . and gets nowhere.

The third quality essential for success in this business is more difficult to put into practice because it concerns

WHY IS A GUEST STAR?

A forthright attack on one of radio's most vexing problems

By Wilson Brown

SOME weeks ago I wrote a memo about "Unwelcome Guest Stars," which appeared in the November 3 issue of RADIO GUIDE. Scores of cards and letters came from readers who agreed with me that guest stars are misused, overused, and used at the expense of talented young people who are professionally good but suffer from the stigma of being unknown. Only one reader criticized my stand. She suggested that I be muzzled. Before I go muzzle-shopping, however, I'd like to get a few more thoughts off my chest.

These past few weeks I have made it a point to interview men who hire guest stars. Therefore I am positive that my observations are factual. I find all in agreement on the answer to the question: "Why use guest stars?" It's a one-word answer: "Publicity."

Here is the reasoning behind that answer. Newspapers have a habit of listing, for example, the "Kraft Music Hall" as "Bing Crosby" or as "Variety" or as "Crosby-Variety." If Johnny Jeter is going to be on the program that night, newspapers do not list him for the simple reason that the newspapers never heard of him, do not believe the name means news, and so politely or impolitely ignore him. The fact might be that Johnny Jeter is one of the finest actors in the United States. That doesn't matter. He's unknown.

But suppose Mae West is to be on that program. Radio editors see that name and without further thought recognize it as having news value. They'll list the name so everybody will know that Mae is to be on. Chances are they'll haul out Mae's picture and plaster it on the radio page. If the paper is at all sensational, it will dig down in its files and find that Mae nearly caused a nervous breakdown among members of the Federal Communications Commission when she was on the air with Charlie McCarthy and jazzed up a Biblical story. Can't you see the headlines? "Will Mae West Give the FCC the Jitters Again This Time?"

Result: Everyone from Hohokus to Podunkus knows that Mae will be on the air at a given time. All who like Mae will listen. Many who don't like Mae will listen, too—out of curiosity if for no other reason.

Thus widespread publicity results in increased listening. It is assumed that increased listening means that more people will hear about the sponsor's product and that more people will be apt to go out and buy that sponsor's product. Whether or not sales actually do increase, I do not know. Sales figures are confidential figures. But the theory must work, because the same sponsors do it over and over again.

Thus we have a situation wherein publicity is the deciding factor; increased listening is the resulting factor; increased sales is the hoped-for result.

Johnny Jeter knows this situation. And while Johnny is still the best actor in the land, he doesn't happen to have Mae's reputation, and so the attitude toward Johnny is, "Who cares? Actors come a dime a dozen."

Now, if this publicity reason were used wisely, I agree that it might be healthy. But here is what so often happens.

Walter Huston is an A-No. 1 actor. They don't come any better. So what happens? "Good News of 1940" hires him—not to act but to be a master of ceremonies and to sing. Apparently someone saw the light. Huston isn't on any more.

Elissa Landi is an actress. But every time I have heard her on the air she has been presented not as an actress but as a reader of poetry which she wrote.

Lucille Ball is also an actress. But on "Kraft Music Hall" she sings.

Artie Shaw is a swing bandleader. But his sponsor had him stooging and acting.

And so on through the whole list. In other words, publicity is the first factor. Talent is secondary. Which is the exact opposite of the young unknown professional. He has talent but no name.

But, some will argue, big names are big because they are good! But Huston didn't become big singing songs. Landi didn't become big writing poetry. Shaw didn't become big as a stooge. Hadn't we better twist that theory around and say, "Big names are big because they are good in a given field"?

The Lambs Club, a New York club composed mostly of men of the entertainment business, used to have an annual show. The legend among these veteran showmen was, "Here every man does the thing he can do best." That is an admirable slogan. It is one which radio could well adopt.

Just so I make my point simpler and clearer, look outside the entertainment field for a moment. I may be an excellent research man and capable of doing most any kind of a research job. But listen to me sing (and I admit that I once took lessons in voice) and you'll say I'm bad. Postmaster General James A. Farley may be an excellent politician. But I'll wager that as a jitterbug dancer he's a flop. But here is where Mr. Farley and I have it over the others. I admit my singing offends the ears and so I don't sing. Farley is satisfied with his executive position and isn't the least bit interested in displaying his jitterbug-dancing defects. But wave a $1,000 bill in front of an entertainer and he'll dance, or sing, or act, or stooge, or lead an orchestra, or stand on his head. Ability? Well, ability can be put aside for $1,000.

Our unknown Johnny Jeter would also be willing to do a jig, tell a bedtime story and play a one-man band all at the same time for a tenth part of $1,000. But the sponsor isn't interested. He wouldn't even let Johnny go on his show for nothing, which Johnny would be willing to do to get a chance, even though Johnny is an excellent actor and deserves a salary. Of course the sponsor doesn't know that Johnny is a good actor. The sponsor has never heard Johnny. Furthermore, he never will hear him unless it is after Johnny pops up by some other route.

Why Is a Guest Star, Indeed

When we published "Unwelcome Guest Stars" by Wilson Brown, Eastern Editor of Radio Guide, we suspected that many listeners shared his annoyance at the inept and fumbling performances of many program visitors. The immediate deluge of mail assured us that guest stars of the wrong sort comprise one of the major irritants of today's schedules. We asked Wilson Brown to write a second story which would answer the question, "Why Is a Guest Star?" He spent several weeks interviewing important executives of radio programs, he thought the question through, and he came to several very fruitful conclusions. We present them here as the interesting opinions of a man who is behind the scenes of broadcasting.

And when Johnny does pop up in a night-club and the sponsor happens to go to that club and hears Johnny, he'll probably yell: "Where have you been all my life? You're just what I'm looking for!" Of course Johnny can't tell him that for five years in a row he has tried to get an audition with this man's company and each time got no further than the third assistant secretary.

But back again to this business of the misuse of talent. A certain Sunday evening dramatic program hired Tyrone Power to be its leading man. Now Tyrone is, they tell me, a very fine young man—talented, willing, gentlemanly in every respect. And he's handsome. On the screen he meets with tremendous success. But on radio one can't tell whether a man is handsome or Mortimer Snerdish. We can't see those emotional eyebrows; the look in his eye as he takes his love into his arms. We get only a voice. Voice alone isn't enough.

Now, don't misunderstand, please! We of radio didn't criticize Power. The movie powers were the ones who realized that Power was not in the medium for which his talents were meant. So his movie bosses jerked him off radio.

Robert Taylor, Robert Young, Frank Morgan—all were on last year. All were taken off by their movie bosses.

I could go on for pages giving illustrations of the misuse of talent. I don't think it is necessary to say much about the overuse of guest stars, for any good listener knows who is used, how often, and on what programs.

Now let me tell you some startling facts about prices paid. Jascha Heifetz is one of the top-notch of all violinists. Up to about nine years ago he had never appeared on the air. Heifetz was brought up in concert-halls and in concert-halls he stayed. Along came a breakfast-food program which decided it wanted to be the first to put Heifetz on the air. That would mean tremendous publicity. Such an act would set this particular program out from the mob; make this program the talk of America. They had to pay Heifetz $25,000 for that appearance—the top price ever paid any guest star in the history of radio. I like violin music. I'm not one who says that it is nothing more than drawing a horse's tail over a cat's-gut. But I seriously doubt that even Heifetz is worth that sum for one program. I doubt it from a strictly "value received" standpoint, and I doubt it even more when I stop to consider that that sum would have given a break to at least 250 unknowns who are begging to be heard.

Maybe even Heifetz figured that sum to be a bit high, for about four years ago he appeared on the "Ford Sunday Evening Hour" for a figure which I understand to be $10,000.

Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, and his sister Hephzibah, pianist, are both accomplished musicians in their own right. But no program had presented them together as a team. The Ford program executives figured that to be first in such a presentation would be a valuable addition to their program. I understand the sum paid was around $9,000. Just by way of comparison, the union scale for an unknown fiddle-player in anybody's orchestra is $12 for an hour or any part thereof.

Harry Lauder, famed Scotch comedian, once got $15,000 for a single appearance on a shoe program. O. O. McIntyre, the late columnist, once turned down an offer of $25,000 because he had a tendency to stammer.

It may be interesting to some to consider how all this business of guest stars started. Again the first factor was publicity. The program that put a big name on the air thought it had set itself out from the mob. Then there was another curious factor. There were sponsors with plenty of money and no showmanship. So wise talent-agents, who get a commission of the salaries paid the artists they sell, went after that dough. They sold those sponsors all kinds of big names, for big money, thereby getting for themselves big commissions. And, I am told, in order to assure sales they had these big-name artists play up to the sponsor. Mr. J. C. Loosey, president of the United States Yardstick Company, got a big kick out of taking Joan Crawford (or substitute any name just for the point of this example) to his home for dinner so the socially minded neighbors would envy his chumming around with the glamour gals.

After this unshowmanship beginning, anything went in the guest-star business. Out of it have come, in my opinion, two very worth-while things. First there came the intellectual programs, such as the "Lux Radio Theater," where story and talent are picked to blend into an hour of entertainment of real value. Here the story is picked to fit the star or the star is picked to fit the story. In either case the result is a good evening's entertainment. Secondly there came the idea of presenting guests who had no name value but who had an interesting story to tell. Thanks to Phillips H. Lord for this. He proved with "We, the People" that Molly Ticklepitcher of the mountains with her story of backwoods legends was more interesting than a half-dozen glamour gals of the glittering golden gate. The success of these two programs has given us others that are similar and that are good.

Now, just a word to those unknowns. When Bob Burns hit New York he couldn't sell himself to a peanut-vendor (Continued on Page 45)

By Martin Lewis

—CBS Photo

NEW YORK.—Charlotte Manson, who plays Bryn Clark Barrington, "America's Glamour Girl Number One," on the CBS "Society Girl" drama, has a clause in her contract which prevents her from marrying as long as she is on the radio show. Charlotte bears a slight resemblance to socialite Brenda Frazier, which had quite a bit to do with her being chosen for the part . . . When Benny Goodman winds up his ciggie show and Bob Crosby takes over the Saturday night spot on NBC, Mildred Bailey will go with Crosby. Johnny Mercer and Helen Ward will not be with the revised show . . . A revision will be made on the Andre Kostelanetz-Tony Martin program. Kay Thompson and her choir, along with David Laughlin, tenor, depart from the show after the broadcast of December 25. An un-welcome Xmas present, I'd say.

Kilocycle Chatter

A sponsor is talking to Eddie Cantor about returning to the air. In the meantime letters continue to come in from listeners stating, "We Want Cantor" . . . "Life and Love of Dr. Susan" fades from the airplanes after the broadcast of December 29 . . . Paul Wing's "Spelling Bee" will be no more after the broadcast of January 14. It will be replaced with a quiz show called, "What Would You Have Done?" A quiz show, in case you haven't heard, is a NEW idea for radio where members of the audience and the man in the street participate in the program. Sounds like a novel idea and should catch on, don't you think? . . . "Snow Village Sketches," which in this scribbler's opinion slows up the Kate Smith airings considerably, may be replaced in a few weeks, according to some inside info . . . Jean Hersholt, who is broadcasting his "Dr. Christian" shows from New York for a few weeks, will be Kate's guest next Friday night

. . . The scripts for "Cavalcade of America," which returns to the NBC network on January 2, will be approved by a trio of advisors. I can think of quite a few other shows than can use an advisory board.

Harry McNaughton (Phil Baker's "Bottle") will guestar on Milton Berle's "Stop Me If You've Heard This One," on December 23 . . . Incidentally, I hear tell that Phil Baker has a sponsor very much interested in bringing him back to the air . . . Immediately after the first of the new year Paul Whiteman is closing his office and will take a month's vacation basking in the Florida sunshine . . . Lanny Ross will be in Miami, Florida, next Monday for his broadcast and the world premiere of "Gulliver's Travels," in which he is the singing voice of "Prince David." Jessica Dragonette, who sings the "Princess Glory" role in the picture, will be Lanny's guestar for his broadcast and will sing a solo and a duet with Lanny . . . Horace Heidt's "Pot o' Gold" show is causing theater-owners a headache because the public is staying home to listen to the program. Some theaters around the country have made an offer to give any one of their patrons the $1,000 prize if they were called and happened to be in the movie house.

NBC Television Should Be More Careful

I watched a television program over at NBC a couple of Sunday nights ago and was quite amazed at what I saw. One of the group of onlookers said it would be too bad if the Legion of Decency had a set, which is also my sentiment . . . Bob Welch, producer of the Fred Allen program, tells me that seven minutes are allowed in the scripts each week for Allen's ad-lib remarks and many a Wednesday night the show has to be cut because he runs over that time . . . The "Variety" portion of the CBS "Ask-It-Basket" program has caught on so well that it's being expanded some more. Genial Jim McWilliams and announcer Del Sharbutt are rehearsing several duets and they'll "duet" on the program very soon . . . Ed Byron, director of NBC's "Mr. District Attorney" thrillers, has a news-clipping service bureau send him clippings from all over the country on all local rackets. They follow through to get the complete stories, which are used for the Sunday night broadcasts.

Behind the Scene

Jay Jostyn, who plays the role of the D. A., found a cop waiting to hand him a ticket for parking his car too long near the NBC studios. Over the air he tells the cops what to do . . . Tony Martin, playing at the Paramount Theater, taxis from the stage door on Forty-Fourth Street to the Polo Grounds on 158th Street between shows to watch the New York Giants pro football team beat the Washington Redskins in one of the most exciting games ever played on any field. Tony had to leave before the game ended and thus missed the place-kick that was missed forty-five seconds before the game ended. Tony bet on the winner, which was some consolation . . . Johnny Green opened at the same theater the day he had his "Breezing Along" program to do. This was his schedule for opening day: Five shows at the theater, four hours of rehearsal for the broadcast in between shows, and then a couple of more hours for the broadcast and repeat program for the West Coast. I'd say the little man had a busy day, wouldn't you?

A contract to play Glamour Girl No. 1 on "Society Girl" (CBS) denies marriage to Charlotte Manson while on the show

Friday nights, tells us "How to Play Santa and Stuff" in three pages of pictures in the current issue of Click Magazine. His "stuff" is very amusing . . . Radio listeners apparently take their drama seriously. Elsie Hitz as Ellen Randolph has voiced her love for jelly beans during the program. Last week she received a total of six pounds from admiring fans. On "Hilltop House," Bess Johnson announced her engagement to Captain Barry, and a few days later she received a hand-made pair of pot-holders for her hope chest . . . All eyes were turned right when a beautiful blonde entered the "Information, Please" broadcast studio last Tuesday night. It was movie star Gloria Stuart, who has been invited to guest on the program soon and attended the broadcast to pick up a few pointers . . . It's a pleasure to attend a rehearsal of "By Kathleen Norris." They serve tea and crumpets every afternoon around four o'clock. You must come over sometime.

The Hal Kemps are rehearsing lullabies . . . Mrs. K. was busy knitting a sweater at the Victor recording studios while hubby was making records with the band . . . A little over a year ago Carl Frank and Barbara Weeks played a love-scene together on "Gang Busters." They were married a while later. Last Saturday their first anniversary was celebrated—playing together on "Gang Busters" again . . . Songstress Benay Venuta and her husband have agreed to disagree and the divorce has just been granted.

HOLLYWOOD SHOWDOWN

Lop Lamour & Ameche to chop "Chase and Sanborn Hour" in half

By Evans Plummer

Dorothy Lamour, seen with latest admirer, Bob Preston, will leave the Sunday coffee hour with Ameche come New Year

HOLLYWOOD.—While there have been no great shakes of earthquakes in these parts lately, the top-rating Chase & Sanborn Hour provided its own little temblor last week by failing to extend the contracts of Don Ameche and Dorothy Lamour beyond December 31 . . . Yep, Dorothy and Don are through with that program after its airings of December 17, 24 and 31 . . . With that shock digested, grab your chair for the next: Starting January 7, the program will be cut to a half-hour's duration!

What's left of the Chase & Sanborn effort (Bergen, McCarthy, Snerd, Donald Dickson and Bob Armbruster's music) will carry on for the coffee mill, while the second thirty minutes will in all likelihood be given over to the serial drama "Those We Love," which now follows (in the Midwest and East) "One Man's Family" on Thursdays.

The release of Nelson Eddy, whose next contract salary step-up would have raised him to $6,500 weekly, and the paring of Lamour and Ameche (said to have reached a $3,500 weekly paycheck) are purely economy moves. Listeners don't, won't or can't buy enough dated coffee to foot the big talent and radio time bill . . . And what percolates for one coffee hour is grounds for another. Don't be surprised if Maxwell House "Good News" chops its hour in half. Just remember that "Hollywood Showdown" told you so.

Bing Crosby Renewed

The cheese market still is strong, however. Bing Crosby and his crew have been renewed for another year . . . Rumor-mongers keep touting jealousy of Jack Benny for the screen and radio success of Eddie ("Rochester") Anderson. Yeah, Jack's so jealous he just handed Rochester a brand-new thirty-nine-week contract whereby the colored stooge is paid whether or not he broadcasts! . . . Funny: At Silver Theater's December 3 airing, Elliott Lewis played the role of a murderer opposite Ginger Rogers, and, during the second half of the next hour, Lewis was cast on the Jell-O Show as "Dynamite Dugan," who rapidly was murdered and became a corpse!

Radio and Universal Pictures brought fame to Deanna Durbin; on December 2 she brought disfavor upon herself by celebrating her eighteenth birthday with champagne at a big party at her home and barring news cameramen! . . . Most happy to be back in Hollywood is Roger Pryor, the "Screen Guild Theater" maestro, who has been worrying himself thin in New York over his wife, Ann Sothern, whose skittish appendix has been ice-packed between "takes" of the film she is now making . . . Not waiting for the ice-pack stage, Fibber McGee and Molly's seventeen-year-old daughter, Katherine, entered Good Samaritan Hospital December 6 to have her appendix yanked.

Musical Notes

Darryl Calker, ex-Kostelanetz and Gus Haenschen arranger and Sealtest conductor who came to California for his health, is arranging and supervising the recording of the winning RADIO GUIDE song-search winners. Now released and on sale are the D & S waxings of first-week victor, "Good Night, My Lovely Lady," and second winner, "I Want Just You" . . . First commercial recording made in five years by Eddie Cantor is Vic Knight's "The Only Thing I Want for Christmas," with the St. Brendan's Boys Choir accompanying Cantor. It's a Columbia disk . . . New tune from Lyle Tomerlin, of "South Sea Island Magic" fame, is "A Little Cooperation." Jan Garber's shoving it during his Topsy's pick-ups . . . Proud new daddy Glen Gray and his Casa Lomans showed local folk the way to pack the Paramount Theater during his appearance there. Gray wants to record RADIO GUIDE song-search winner "Love Me Sooner," for Decca.

Rom-Antics and Static-stics

Reggie Sharland, air alias "Honorable Archie," who with Watanabe provides that NBC series, was wed December 2 at Santa Barbara to actress Herta Lynd . . . Old loves renew flame: Judy Garland is having twice-weekly dates with Mickey Rooney between her Bob Hope show and sing-acting . . . WMCA's m.c., Zeke Manners, flew by Flagship here last week to toss a party for his sister, Vici Joyce, and her new bridegroom, Harold Heller . . . Frank Parker, the Burns and Allen "Butterfly Boy," wishes his employers would quit building him up as such, because now he's getting fifty or more mail proposals weekly—and his heart belongs to Edna Johnson . . . Stork forecast: Now looks like twins for mikeman Bill Goodwin's wife, so double your gifts.

Speaking of Babies—

Mike Gleason, five-month-old scion of the third generation of the performing Gleasons, made his air debut December 8 on the "It Happened in Hollywood" CBS musical serial. Which causes us to ponder. Who is the youngest baby ever to have broadcast and at what age? And was the airing on the networks? . . . Just as this issue is released, on December 14, the actual "Baby Dump-ling" of the "Dagwood and Blondie" films will appear likewise on "It Happened in Hollywood." Dumpling, played in films by Larry Simms, can't read script, so, in Blondie broadcasts, his voice is impersonated by an adult.

Pot o' Gold BRICKS!

This column, a few issues back, indiscreetly campaigned against "Pot o' Gold" telephone raffles, thereby unconsciously inferring that Horace Heidt was a "dirty-so-and-so" for allying himself with the venture. Shades of bags of brickbat letters! "Hollywood Showdown" takes it all back and hastens to explain that it STILL doesn't like anything on the air that listens like gambling (Yes. I know. It isn't. Of course not.), but that Horace makes nice music, that his band packed 'em in at his Cocomanut Grove opening December 12, and that his giant number selector, etc., are now operating from the Hollywood NBC studios . . . And I hope all you twenty million phone-users win!

Backstage on a Pass

At "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood" November 29: Hedda, ever poised, takes a deep breath before start of show, holding her specs before her at shoulder arms. She's easily the calmest member of the cast. And there is Johnny Marvin, who helped Gene Autry get his start and is now song-writing partner of the cowboy; today Marvin is doubling at the guitar for Gene . . . At "Texaco Star Theater" November 29: Ken Murray rehearsing a laugh routine based on an oil painting of himself. Well, in real life recently he had a painting made of himself dressed in a hula skirt, and said painting now decorates the fireplace of his new home, into which he moved December 4. Thus are born comic routines.

CHICAGO.—Aha! A serial plot thickens! A bridle path crosses the bridal path in the popular sketch "Midstream." Midge Conway, played by Mercedes McCambridge, and anthropologist Timothy Storey, played by Olan Soule, met and did some chummy horseback riding together recently in the story. But both in the story are happily married to somebody else. Will their common interest in riding lead to a dynamite romance situation? Will boy and girl change horses in "Midstream"? Tune in just about any day to NBC and find out for yourself.

Grand Hotel Returns

"Grand Hotel," hit dramatic show for a number of years, returns to the air January 7 after an absence of a year and a half. The show will originate in Chicago Sunday afternoons and will have the same hotel-switchboard formula as before. It will consist of two-act plays. The dramatic stars have not yet been chosen at this writing (December 5). Name roles formerly were taken by Don Ameche and Anne Seymour, later by Jim Ameche and Betty Lou Gerson. Far be it from me to throw out wild intimations. But I can't help noticing that Don Ameche goes off the "Chase and Sanborn Hour" effective January 7. Coincidence, of course, but I can dream, can't I?

"Janie" Webb Budding Author

Jane Webb, fourteen-year-old "veteran" radio actress, heard in "Adventures of Tom Mix," hopes for a double career in radio and journalism, which she is studying now in high school. Freshman Jane already has had several fairy-stories published . . . "I'm for bigger and better musical programs during the day, and no matter what company should sponsor the 'Breakfast Club,' I, like many others, would use the product, sight unseen." The foregoing is an excerpt from one of many similar letters I've been receiving . . . "Little Orphan Annie," still sunny side up in spite of many trials, will start her tenth year on the air Christmas . . . Horned-Frog Hughie they called him, podner! A major record company is bidding with Hugh Studebaker to record some of the western songs he warbled in his vaudeville days.

Just a bunch of little homebodies the glamour girls hereabout are turning into. Crocheting is the thing just now. Betty "Girl Alone" Winkler is plying the hook on a sweater coat for hubby; Jeanne Juvelier, of "Arnold Grimm's Daughter," is crocheting Christmas gifts for her friends; Ginger Jones, of "Romance of Helen Trent," is needling drapes for her living-room; and Joan Winters, of "Girl Alone," is making outfits for her two children. Thank goodness, no doughboys' mittens are needed . . . "First Nighter" star Les Tremayne and Forrest Lewis (of "Scattergood Baines") have cut records on a program with a western locale, for which prospective sponsors are reported dickering. Les, incidentally, narrowly escaped severe facial injuries recently when his horse threw him and grazed Les' forehead with a hoof.

A seventeen-year-old girl named Ann Fullerton sent a note to RADIO GUIDE praising the work of Alec Templeton. She enclosed a poem which Alec inspired her to write. I couldn't resist printing it, not just to give Ann a break, though I'm glad to do that, but because I think it's true poetry. It smacked me right over the heart. How about you? I'm sure Alec himself will appreciate the true sentiment expressed in these lines by young Miss Fullerton:

HARMONY

In the marts men tell me that this man is blind;
In the streets they say to me: "He sees not."
Can this be so? For what is sight?
Daily these men walk the streets, seeing squalor and misery;

And they pity not.
Neither grieve they that such things
may be.
And is this sight?

Here, too, they see triumphant beauty
rising from the muck;
And they know it not.
Neither rejoice they that such things
may be.
Surely this is not sight!

He knows naught but the beautiful,
And freely spreads his store of joy and mirth.

So say not thus that he is blind, but say:
"He sees with a more perfect sight."

Jack Brinkley Foiled Again

Here's a turkey hanger. Jack Brinkley, of "Caroline's Golden Store" and "Ma Perkins," waited nine years to celebrate his birthday and Thanksgiving on the same date. November 30 was the day. When November 23 was proclaimed Illinois' holiday, Jack wired a plea to the executive. The governor replied with an offer to pay for Jack's turkey, but the actor graciously declined . . . Since "Guiding Light" changed time complaints are coming from an automobile plant in Minneapolis. The employes can't listen to it now, and Gladys Heen, who plays Torchy and who used to work in the plant, is their favorite actress . . . Louise Fitch's daughter Dale is named for her mother's part on "Manhattan Mother" . . . A fast-selling toy on the counters now is the "Jitterboard," modeled after Hezzie Trietsch's washboard wonder in the Hoosier Hot Shot collection of imple-ments.

Annette King is happy hostess to the little female stranger she left the "Breakfast Club" to wait for . . . Jose Bethencourt, new Latin-American marimba player of the NBC staff orchestra, looks like Charlie Chan and is more at home with a pile of bones than insidious Fu Manchu. He plays those hot solos on an instrument of his own making . . . Don McNeill has published that "Blue Book" collection you "Breakfast Clubbers" have asked about . . . If Hiawatha could only see the warm brown buckskin outfit worn by Virginia Verrill, contraltor of "Uncle Walter's Dog House" and "Home Town, Unincorporated" . . . Byron Keath, who came to Chicago from the "Gang Busters" cast, plays the role of the Russian ambassador in "Mary Marlin" . . . Donna Reade, Jane of "Judy and Jane," designs her own hats and prides herself that she has beaten millinery designers to the punch on several style novelties, like snoods and stuff. What's next, Donna—shock-absorbers for "bangs"?

About the Bands

Wayne King's commercial show has been setting a terrific mail pace for those diamond give-aways. One week allegedly brought 27,000 letters, one day over 8,000 . . . Anita Boyer, songstress with Tommy Dorsey—still packing them into the Palmer House Empire Room—is a Carmi, Illinois, girl who got her first air job with WGN by dint of a relentless mail campaign . . . Don Gordon, a Chicago lad, is doing right well singing with Phil Levant, who has been doing right well at the Trianon.

★ 'CAUSE IT'S CHRISTMAS ★

—Metro News

Hear Father Young's famous poem on Farm & Home Hour Fri.

IN 1922 a young priest listened to the reading of his Christmas poem over a neighbor's crystal set. This Friday on the NBC "National Farm and Home Hour" the same Reverend Francis C. Young, curate of Chicago's St. Philomena Church, will present his own Christmas feature for the seventeenth season on the air and the twelfth year on the network. And officials estimate that more than ten million people will listen. Here is another story of the wonderful things the spirit of Christmas has wrought—the story of a zealous servant of God, a heartfelt verse and radio's place in the program of "peace on earth, good will to men."

Wonderful is a strong word, but the birth of Christ was wonderful, and if there is one day with which wonders can be associated, it's Christmas. So it is something of a wonder, too, that a man for 364 days of the year a humble curate of a modest city church stands at the microphone for a few minutes on one day of the year and delivers a simple program of talking, poetry reading and carol singing which ranks as one of the top radio features of the annual Christmas season.

Metropolitan dailies list it often with President Roosevelt's address and Barrymore's "Christmas Carol" as a broadcast highlight. After last year's worldwide broadcast Father Young received a radiogram of "thanks and blessings" from the late Pope Pius XI, sent through Cardinal Pacelli, now Pope Pius XII. Hundreds of Protestant clergymen and laymen have written the priest asking for copies of his broadcast. One Lutheran minister last year sent postcards to his congregation suggesting they listen to Father Young's program.

Father Young was twenty-nine years old and radio was a mere infant back in 1922. The Poet Priest had already written Yuletide verse which attracted notable attention, but he was surprised as well as thrilled when William J. Clark, pioneer radio editor and commentator, called him and asked permission to use his poem, "'Cause It's Christmas," on his Christmas program over KYW, one of the first big stations, then in Chicago.

Determined to listen to his poem, Father Young called on a neighbor who was always boasting about the programs he picked out of the air with his crystal set, and asked his permission to hear this particular program. "Of course, Father. That's easy on my set. I have two sets of earphones; we can listen together." The joy of a child with a new toy was Father Young's as he listened to his poem given greater power by this miraculous medium. And gradually the toy became in his hands a torch ablaze with the spirit of Christ's birth. The next year he himself appeared before the microphone.

*The clerks are busy as the bees
For folks want tinsel Christmas trees—
A choo-choo train for little Joe,
A mama dollie May wants so—
'Cause it's Christmas.*

*Today I met a half-starved boy
Who begged and hoped for Christmas joy.
His sad face pleaded charity,
He felt the pain of poverty—
'Cause it's Christmas.*

*His tiny sister shivered nigh;
I read their hearts, could not pass by
Until I gave, then asked the pair
To pray for others in despair—
'Cause it's Christmas.*

*I thought of merchants laden down
With gold and gold that makes them frown.
These, too, are craving for the joy
That comes to children with a toy—
'Cause it's Christmas.*

*Our Christmas hearths will be aglow,
But they will be an empty show
Unless we give until we feel
That joy that should within us steal—
'Cause it's Christmas.*

In 1928 Father Young was invited to present his feature as part of the "National Farm and Home Hour," and each year since then it has been included as a traditional Yuletide highlight of that immensely popular NBC program. Each year Father Young steps to the microphone and, with a Christmas-music background, reads the poem for which he is most widely known, "'Cause It's Christmas." Then he makes a simple, whole-hearted appeal for human charity and tolerance. The boys' choir from St. Philomena's Church sings carols. Perhaps a few more poems. That is all. But as oft-repeated simple, soulful things are likely to do, the program has touched a universal response.

In the course of the preparation for the broadcast of 1933, Frank E. Mullen, now vice-president of RCA, who was then director of the farm-service hour, suggested that Father Young offer to give copies of the broadcast to listeners who desired them. They both got a surprise. Such an avalanche of mail poured into the Merchandise Mart studios that NBC's mail department was tied up for several days. Dozens of friends read and sorted letters. Father Young kept his promise to the extent of three hundred dollars for printing, and NBC paid the postage. Now it would be almost impossible to fill such requests. "'Cause It's Christmas" is printed separately on this page for those who desire a copy of the famous poem.

Listen to "Father Young's Christmas Carols and Poems"—and carry his message into your own life "'Cause It's Christmas."
—Maury Aldon.

"Father Young's Christmas Carols and Poems" may be heard this Friday, December 22, on NBC's "National Farm and Home Hour" at:
EST 12:30 p.m. — CST 11:30 a.m.

FORECAST

THIS week brings a musical Christmas preview, featuring advance Christmas programs. Among the most outstanding are the Polish Carols concert Saturday and Handel's "Messiah" on Sunday.

An American tenor makes his radio opera debut in "Tannhaeuser" when Eyvind Laholm sings the title role Saturday. And don't miss Emanuel Feuermann, brilliant cellist with the New York Philharmonic Sunday.

Saturday, December 16

NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC,

Song from "Carmen" (Bizet), Siegfried Idyll (Wagner), Bassoon Concerto in B Flat, Opus 96, First Movement (Mozart), Le Soleil Et La Mer (Fourdrain), Gossips (Dubensky), Aubade from "Le Cid" (Massenet).

SALT LAKE CITY TABERNACLE CHOIR, CBS. "The Messiah" (Handel).

This best-known and best-beloved oratorio dates from 1741 when the incredible Handel wrote it in twenty-four days. The following year saw the world premiere at Dublin, Ireland, led by the composer. Wild enthusiasm resulted, repeated later at London productions. Since then, cities in many countries have given the work annu-

Mischa Levitzki, famed Russian-American pianist, will appear as guest soloist on the "New Friends of Music Concert" Sunday over NBC. On the same program the Budapest String Quartet will offer several selections

CBS. Conservatory Orchestra. Quincy Porter, conductor. "Coriolanus" Overture (Beethoven), Prelude and Fugue (Piston), Harpsichord Concerto in D Minor (Bach), Work No. 22 (Delaney).

EASTMAN SCHOOL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, NBC. Dr. Howard Hanson, conductor.

POLISH CHRISTMAS CAROLS, CBS. From the SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CHAMBER MUSIC CONCERT, CBS. Budapest String Quartet; William Primrose, violist. Quartet in A, Opus 55, No. 1 (Haydn), Viola Quintet, Opus 111 (Brahms).

RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL OF THE AIR, NBC. Erno Rapee, conductor. Jan Peerce, tenor; Elias Carmen, bassoonist. Sinfonietta program. Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 (Bach), Flower ally at Christmastide. London for a long time featured revivals at which the chorus numbered several thousand voices.

I cannot assume that readers of this department need any description of Handel's "Messiah" music and its Biblical text. The solos are as familiar as the choruses, especially the "Hallelujah," during whose public performances audiences invariably stand. The observance began at one of the early hearings, when the volume and might of the music caused listeners to jump to their feet. Nowadays they maintain the custom as an act of reverence.

(The "Messiah" will be repeated on Wednesday, December 20, at 9:30 p.m. EST by the Mendelssohn Choir and Toronto Symphony Orchestra on MBS.)

STRING SYMPHONY, NBC. Frank Black, conductor.

SO YOU THINK YOU KNOW MUSIC, CBS. Music quiz. Ted Cott, master of ceremonies. Leonard Liebbling, judge. Guests.

THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA, CBS. John Barbirolli, conductor; Emanuel Feuermann, cellist. Overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" (Nicolai), the Orchestra; Cello Concerto in D Major (Haydn), Emanuel Feuermann and Orchestra; Adagio from Symphony No. 5 (Mahler), First and Second "Daphnis and Chloe" Suites (Ravel), the Orchestra.

Not so much of Haydn's solo music is in use today, and he is lucky to have written also his symphonies, oratorios and chamber works.

The cello concerto in D major (one of six he did for that instrument) was composed for young Anton Kraft, first cellist from 1778 to 1790 in the private orchestra conducted by Haydn at Esterhazy Castle. The concerto abounds in broad themes felicitously embroidered and orchestrated. Feuermann, with his elevated style and complete mastery of tone, fingerboard and bow, is an ideal interpreter for the fine old concerto.

Gustave Mahler (1860-1911) hated to give any guiding explanations for his symphonies. "The speech of tones is far more expressive than words," he insisted, "and tells its own stories." Therefore the Adagio (fourth movement) from his fifth symphony bears only the direction, "Very slow." Mahler could well have added, "And very tender, very touching, very beautiful."

METROPOLITAN AUDITIONS OF THE AIR, NBC. Metropolitan Opera tryouts. Milton Cross, master of ceremonies.

NEW FRIENDS OF MUSIC CONCERT, NBC. The Budapest String Quartet. Mischa Levitzki, pianist. Members of the New Friends Orchestra. Trio, Opus 97, in B Flat (Beethoven), Divertimento for Winds (K. 439) (Mozart), Quintet in C Minor (K. 406) (Mozart).

Many years ago one of my music teachers always impressed upon his pupils to try to cultivate what he called "period sense." One must be able, he said, to take on something of the feeling and spirit of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries in order to understand better and enjoy more fully the music of Mozart and Beethoven.

The advice applies today more than ever, with our strenuous way of living, our titillated nerves and senses, and our rapid mental and physical tempos.

Concerts of the New Friends are especially welcome with their proffer of gentle and lovely relaxation. Today's program has Mozart and Beethoven in gracious moods, their music enriched with amiable melody, liveliness and humor. Try to be a periodist and their message will reach you the more engagingly.

BACH CANTATA SERIES, MBS. Alfred Wallenstein, conductor; Genevieve Rowe, soprano; Mary Hopple, contralto; William Hain, tenor; Raoul Nadeau, baritone. Cantata No. 141.

THE FORD SUNDAY EVENING HOUR, CBS. Fritz Reiner, conductor; Gladys Swarthout, mezzo-soprano. Prelude to "Carmen" (Bizet), the Orchestra; Habanera from "Carmen" (Bizet), Gladys Swarthout and Orchestra; Russian Sailor's Dance from "The Red Poppy" (Gliere), Humoresque (Dvorak), The Blue Danube (Strauss), the Orchestra; Land of the Sky Blue Water (Cadman), The Floods of Spring (Rachmaninoff), Gladys Swarthout and Orchestra; Dance of the Tumblers from "The Snow Maiden" (Rimsky-Korsakoff), the Orchestra; The Lord's Prayer (Malotte), Gladys Swarthout and Orchestra; Overture to "William Tell" (Rossini), the Orchestra; I Sing the Mighty Power of God (Herzog), Gladys Swarthout, Chorus, Orchestra and audience.

New Blood in Radio

By Leonard Liebling

POET POPE, seemingly wise about everything, once wrote:

Be ye not the first by whom the new are tried Nor yet the last to lay the old aside.

I thought of those lines after a recent Sunday of steady dialing, and I wondered to what extent they might be applied to radio. Should established favorites be on the air enduringly and budding talent only occasionally? Are name and fame more important than ability? How may they be acquired in a reasonable time by young performers denied the opportunities for public hearing? Do the radio corporations lack insight—not to say foresight? Don't they know that the embryo artist is the possible star of the future? Would the radio companies have more enterprise if all their programs were sustaining? Or do the advertising agencies and commercial sponsors really dictate policy and insist on luminous names (even if somewhat tarnished) in order to attract the largest number of listeners for the selling-blurbs? Some of us look upon the loudspeaker as more than a mere salesman, and regard it also as a medium for art, even while admitting that comedy and jazz have a legitimate claim for a place on the air.

Our country is plentifully stocked with unfamiliar gifted performers, vocal and instrumental, obscure groups that play chamber and symphonic music remarkably well, talented conductors and composers. Should not radio make their climb to the top more easy rather than impede it with heartbreaking obstacles?

Some of the outstanding solo musical "names" now on radio programs are just that and very little more. They may be artists but they work with worn voices or fingers, without real fire or feeling. They perform the same music incessantly, being too lazy or too afraid to risk new repertoire.

I do not imply that there is no silver lining at all in the cloud, but not nearly enough. We have heard some excellent new compositions, particularly those by American creators.

The one thing many of us would like to see, now that radio has its own major symphony orchestra, is a radio operatic organization of the same high quality. Feasible? Yes. Difficult? No. Hundreds of fine young and trained voices abound in this land. Scores of able conductors are available. Why not then a new, brilliant opera company, perhaps even employing some of the best-functioning "names" as guests from time to time? Why not? Information, please!

—Ray Lee Jackson

Guest soloist with the "N. Y. Philharmonic Orchestra" (Sun., CBS) is cellist Emanuel Feuermann

Speaking Up

By V. Vidal

IF AN American composer were to write an opera with Alcatraz as its locale, Capone as its hero, the Bobbed Hair Bandit as its heroine, and a cast of assorted gangsters, blackmailers and racketeers, it would throw the same light on the American scene as "The Beggar's Opera" did in England in 1728. A favorite topic of conversation in early eighteenth century England was the political corruption, the unbridled viciousness of criminals and the callous indifference of the police. In fact, conversation in those days wasn't so very different from what it is today.

The amazing thing about "The Beggar's Opera" was not so much that it attacked the times, but that its audience received it with such great delight. Accustomed as they were to elaborate Italian operas about princes and counts and ladies fayre, this piece all about pickpockets and their molls must have come as something of a shock. Nevertheless, it set a record of a sixty-three-day run. Subsequently it was played for three centuries all over Europe. It was one of the first operas to reach America, arriving here in 1750. It was revived again in England in 1920 and played nightly for two and a half years. And some years later, in Germany, the contemporary composer Kurt Weill wrote a clever modern score for it, which gave it another lease on life.

Now Josef Honti, musical director of NBC's Great Plays series, gives it its first radio performance on Sunday, December 17. As it is in English, there is no reason to go into the plot, for everyone who listens will be able to understand it.

The libretto was written by John Gay, who not only intended it as a dig at the rottenness of government and social conditions, but also as a parody of the flossily written Italian operas of the period. One of the best of the eighteenth century English humorists, Gay best expressed his own philosophy of life in this mocking couplet:

*Life is a jest, and all things show it,
I thought so once, and now I know it.*

Besides operas such as "Beggar's Opera" and comedies, Gay wrote much poetry, usually pastorals. His ludicrous pictures of English swains and their loves—written partly as satires—were abundantly entertaining in themselves.

A German musician, Dr. Pepusch, originally selected and arranged the opera's music, which consists mostly of English and Scottish folk-tunes, with a dash of Handel and Purcell. The opera's first producer was named Rich, which brought forth the famous quip that "The Beggar's Opera" had made Gay rich and Rich gay."

"Tannhaeuser"

This Week's Opera

Saturday, December 16, The Metropolitan Opera Company will present Richard Wagner's "Tannhaeuser" on NBC at 1:45 p.m. EST, 12:45 p.m. CST, 11:45 a.m. MST, 10:45 a.m. PST.

THE CAST:

Elizabeth ... Kirsten Flagstad (soprano)
Tannhaeuser ... Eyvind Laholm (tenor)
Venus Rose Pauly (soprano)
Wolfram ... Herbert Janssen (baritone)
Conductor: Erich Leinsdorf

DELVER into every kind of old German musico-historical lore, the composer always was strongly

The singing-tournament commences, and several of the contestants chant of virtuous love, drawing silent contempt from the experienced Tannhaeuser. His turn comes and he hot-headedly extolls the delights of his communion with Venus. Consternation results and he is saved from death at the hands of the knights only through the intercession of Elizabeth.

The repentant Tannhaeuser, joining a band of pilgrims, departs for Rome to gain forgiveness from the Pope, who informs him that his pardon is as remote as the chance that the staff he carries might bear blossoms again.

Here are Herbert Janssen (left), baritone, and Kirsten Flagstad, soprano, in costume for roles of Wolfram and Elizabeth in "Tannhaeuser." They will be heard on the Metropolitan's broadcast of the famous opera, Sat., NBC fascinated with the ancient Teutonic public contests of song. He used one in his "Meistersinger" (Master Singer) with the scene laid in Nuremberg. Another is that in "Tannhaeuser," the locality being the Wartburg (with thirteenth-century ruins still existing) topping the high hill outside Eisenach, the little Saxon town where Bach was born in 1685.

Wagner officially titled his opera "Tannhaeuser, or the Singers' Contest at the Wartburg." In German, "burg" means castle.

Condensed, the libretto story runs as follows: Tannhaeuser, a knightly minstrel, appears at the Wartburg after a long absence, and on the eve of the great vocal contest at which the participants perform their own songs and verses, accompanying themselves on the lyre. He loves Elizabeth, daughter of the Landgrave of Thuringia, and is beloved by her. She has missed the wanderer and rejoices at his return, as does his friend Wolfram, also enamored of Elizabeth. No one at the Wartburg knows that Tannhaeuser has been spending his time in sensual courtship of Venus, goddess of Love, of whom he finally tires.

The sinner reappears at the Wartburg and encounters the funeral procession of Elizabeth, victim of a broken heart. Grief-stricken, he kneels at her bier and dies as the blossoms sprout on his staff, her prayers having brought him salvation.

Wagner's music eloquently voices the two basic elements, sacred and profane love, of purity and sensuousness. The opening scene at the Court of Venus, with its bacchanalian orgies, is a wide departure from the churchly strains that close the opera.

The overture, long a favorite concert number, offers the solemn Pilgrims Chorus, the Venusberg revels and as a finale, the Pilgrim music climaxed into a triumphal march. Other outstanding numbers in the opera are the procession of the knights to the contest-chamber, Wolfram's reverential "Song to the Evening Star," Elizabeth's aria "Thou Dear Hall" and her final despairing prayer.

Flagstad, the incomparable, sings Elizabeth today. Rose Pauly, the striking Electra of last season, essays a new role when she impersonates the temptress, Venus.

Already engaged in one talent search on "Gateway to Hollywood" (CBS, Sun.), Jesse Lasky will also be honorary judge of Pop-Song Contest No. 13

Wilbur Hatch, who is musical director of the famous Hollywood producer's show, will aid him as honorary judge for this group of Song Search entries

National Song Search

AS THE thirteenth and final Pop-Song Contest of the National Song Search opens this week, more and more early winners are becoming favorites on the networks. Big orchestras and important variety shows like them and play them. For example, word has just been received at headquarters that Burns and Allen, radio's screwball comedians, presented "My Heart Took a Walk," Winner No. 7, on their Dec. 6 broadcast. Gracie and maestro Ray Noble were the honorary judges for the contest in which it was entered. Noble's band played it.

Canadians Are Winners

On Tuesday night Chuck Foster (heard over a Pacific NBC network at 10:30 p.m. PST), who currently presides at the swank Biltmore Bowl, Los Angeles, will usher in winner No. 8. The song is "Was It the Same Old Dream?" Three Canadians—the first of their countrymen to win a Pop-Song Contest—are the writers. They are Jim Crawford, Elmer Campbell and George Gunn of New Westminster, British Columbia. Incidentally, an explanation is due the winners and other Song Searchers. A last-minute change of honorary judges placed Kenny Baker and Dave Broekman, of "Texaco Star Theater," as judges, making Don Ameche and Robert Armbruster judges of Pop-Song Contest No. 9.

Bandleaders Attracted

Meanwhile, other bandleaders are being attracted to the Song Search winners and recordings are already hitting the networks. Watch Song Search hits rise to popularity within the next few weeks. And as they do, put a last great effort into Pop-Song Contest No. 13. It is a last chance to win the $200.00 prize and advantages for your song such as no previous song contest has offered. Note also that the Hymn and Semi-Classical Contests will soon close. Submit your entries now.

THREE BIG CONTESTS

A Hymn Contest

To find a great, new American hymn or sacred number. Example: "Rock of Ages," "The Old Rugged Cross." All entries must be mailed before midnight of December 30.

A Semi-Classical Number Contest

To find a great, new American semi-classical number for voice. Example: "Trees," "Indian Love Call," "Sylvia." All entries must be mailed before midnight of January 6.

A Pop-Song Contest, No. 13

To find a new, popular, singable, danceable song. All entries must be mailed before midnight, December 23.

Read These Rules Carefully

1. Contestants must live in the United States or Canada. Anyone may enter the National Song Search with the exception of employees or members of the families of employees of Radio Guide or the Davis-Schwegler Company.

2. Entries must be addressed as follows: National Song Search Headquarters, Radio Guide, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill. No manuscripts will be returned unless accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelopes.

3. An entry must be written in ink (not pencil) on regularly ruled music copying paper. It may be a full piano arrangement or a simple melody. Words will not be considered in judging.

4. No correspondence can be entered into by either Radio Guide or Davis-Schwegler Company regarding individual contributions.

5. Contestants may enter any or all contests. Winning any contest prize does not disqualify for other contest prizes. Contestants wishing to enter the same composition in different weekly popular-song contests may do so but must make separate submissions in each case.

6. The name and address of contestant must be written in ink or typed in the top margin of page one of each entry submitted. The name of the contest and the number (if entry is in Popular-Song Contest) must also be written in ink or typed on page one.

7. A contestant may submit as many entries for any single contest as he may wish—and may win more than one prize provided his entries merit such consideration.

8. Each entry shall be judged solely on its musical merit. Judges will be the editorial boards of Radio Guide and Davis-Schwegler Company. Contestants, by entering the contest, agree decisions of judges shall be final.

9. The prizes awarded winners of each contest are identical, namely, the song-writer whose song is selected by the judges as best in each contest will receive: (a) $200 in cash; (b) The standard song-writers' contract with Davis-Schwegler Company, music publishers, providing for standard royalties on sheet music and other sales; (c) His song will be published and distributed through Davis-Schwegler Company outlets; (d) His song will be recorded and phonograph records offered for sale through regular D-S outlets; (e) His song will be electrically transcribed and placed in the regular Davis-Schwegler Company library service to more than 200 radio stations. One dozen pieces of sheet music, two records, and one electrical transcription will be given free to the song-writer. The next five songs selected by the judges as being most worthy will win for their writers the sum of $10.00 each. The next six songs selected will be given Honorable Mention Certificates.

10. Hymn or sacred music contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 30.

Semi-classical number contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, January 6, 1940.

Popular-Song Contest No. 13 (this is the thirteenth of a series of 13 weekly contests) entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 23, 1939. Winners will be announced as soon as possible. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Announcement

Publication of all Song Search contestants' names has been discontinued. Hereafter, as already announced, contestants will be notified by mail upon the arrival of their entries at Song Search headquarters.

Joe Moran, the Contest Man

How a jobless actor stepped from winning radio contests to winning radio listeners

HORATIO ALGER would have had a mild apoplectic fit at the career of a certain Mr. Joseph Moran who took a dilemma by the horns and made beefsteak out of it.

The story is a narrative after O. Henry's own heart. And radio, which can do just about anything, was the ruling factor.

Mr. Moran, right at the present time, happens to be head of the commercial department at Young & Rubicam, one of the nation's largest advertising agencies, which charts the course for many of your favorite radio programs. He's the gentleman who passes on the phraseology of those subtle little announcements for the sponsor which preface, intersperse and conclude such microphone fiestas as the Jack Benny show, Fred Allen's "Town Hall," "We, the People," Kate Smith's hour, "Hobby Lobby" . . . and a bevy more.

Back in 1932, however, things were different. Joseph Moran was an actor. Rather a good one, too, by his own admission. But that was during the hectic hiatus when the talkies—a new enfant terrible of the amusement world—were emerging from the shell. Actors walked the streets, had tryouts, walked the streets some more. A dull, lusterless gloom curtained the future.

Joe Moran, however, was an inveterate listener to radio programs. He and his wife lived at Sunnyside, L. I.—near New York—endeavoring to make both ends meet without having the middle fall out. It was a tough winter. And then the fateful limerick came over the Moran loudspeaker . . . one of those radio contests where you dash off a last line, clip it to a box-top and mail them both in. The prize was a $50 watch and the limerick related something about how "a snake-charmer came from Bombay."

The next week an announcer read off Joe Moran's name as winner of the watch. This windfall set the jobless Thespian to thinking. He tried a second limerick and, lo, luck smiled again. Two watches. A third success seemed illogical, but with the optimism of his Irish blood Moran borrowed a friend's name and address for another whirl at this limerick business.

And business it was, indeed. Out of the dozen watches offered during the contest series, his entries were awarded eight of them. Most of these he sold for $30 each.

So Mr. Moran scratched his head at this juncture, rolled up his sleeves and really started to work. The ether was buzzing with contests in those days. It seemed a sure-shot way to make money. As a boy in Baltimore he had won several oratorical competitions and even a scholarship at Johns Hopkins.

The next step was to try his hand at such commercial challenges as "I like so'n'so because . . ." This proved to be delightfully easy. The incredible Mr. Moran whizzed through some forty of them before the year ended, and the larder was no longer in such a deplorable condition.

The booty included, aside from cold cash, a $250 fur coat, theater tickets, a year's supply of silk stockings for Mrs. Moran, sixty loaves of bread and a wide assortment of eminently edible groceries.

Things reached such a state of affairs that friends began to call up at all hours and shriek enthusiastically, "Joe, quick, tune in on station WJZ . . . contest! . . . call you later!!"

The first year's profits reached the phenomenal tally of $3,000. You may add to this the fact that Joe Moran, still an actor, was working intermittently in stock productions around the East. It was a living, brother—and not a bad one.

But hesitate a moment before you dash out to the nearest mail-box with your entry for the Rosebud Soap slogan contest. Joseph Moran had a formula. You can't go careening down the flowered path to easy riches without one.

First of all, whether you're finishing up limericks or explaining why you like somebody's breakfast food, the primary rule is to be sincere, Moran insists. Go out and get the product. Find out its merits—and if you don't think it has any, forget about entering the contest.

Read rules carefully—a high percentage of contestants always fall by the wayside on this simple step. Don't take the regular advertising arguments, rewrite them and then send the same stuff back at the sponsor. He's running the contest because he wants new ideas, new slants. Try to be constructive, genuine in your praise.

And above all, maintains Moran, don't get the idea in your head that radio contests are not on the level. Winners are picked on the basis of a thorough judging—not at random. If you haven't won yet, it means that perhaps you broke one of the primary rules or probably didn't have the new or distinctive angle to your entry which the judges wanted.

The paradoxical thing about it all is that the best bets for most radio contests are straightforward, obvious statements. Don't try to be smart. "Leave the fur off it," says Moran.

His second year of contest-questing was even more lucrative. And there were plenty of laughs in the work, too. Like, for example, the poem—in five stanzas—on "Why I Should Clean My Rugs Once a Year." This was something of a poser to the ingenious Moran, who, in addition to a typically masculine apathy toward such things, had nothing more than scatter-rugs in his house anyhow. His wife was away at the time, but the Fates sent a vacuum-cleaner salesman knocking at the door. "Won't you come in?" purred Joe.

The vacuum man, lured on by hope of a sale, gave out with all the carpet-cleaning lore he knew of. Moran took cautious notes. The resulting poem bowled the rug people over and snagged first prize with all the finality of a fast flyer picking off a mail-bag at a flag stop.

A trifle befuddled, the program's sponsor announced another contest. This time it was a poem on why rugs should be cleaned twice a year. Joe Moran switched over to a friend's name—he always gave the owner of the name he used a ten percent commission—and won again in a walk.

Eventually the vacuum-cleaner salesman came back. Mr. Moran knows an opportunity when he sees it. He sold the salesman one of the watches he had previously won.

Various radio contests have seen him in the assorted roles of a mother, bachelor, cook, housewife, artist, bride and a doctor.

Those sixty loaves of bread, mentioned before, constituted something of a problem for a while. The bakery concern sent the Morans a sheet of little green coupons which the local grocer was to honor with fresh staffs of life whenever called for.

BUT the grocer, smart man, found he made an extra cent on each loaf from the coupons as contrasted with regular bread sales. Consequently, in his eagerness to get them, he honored these coupons for all manner of groceries, reaching a utopian point where Joe Moran had merely to tear off—let us say—$1.60 worth in return for a tasty tenderloin steak.

So it went. Clothing, tickets to prize-fights, a trip to Chicago, a $200 raccoon coat, two cameras and a thirty-four-piece set of silverware all showered down on the Sunnyside home of the Morans, thanks to the magic of radio. Only an automobile and a washing-machine were missing.

About this point the fame of Joseph Moran as a contest-winner was beginning to waft abroad. The New Yorker magazine sent a man to his home. As a result there appeared a brief profile in the publication's widely read "Talk of the Town" column.

Among those who saw it was Chester J. LaRoche, president of the Young & Rubicam advertising agency. "See here," mused Mr. LaRoche, "if this fellow can write slogans and advertising copy as good as all that, he ought to be on our side." A telegram went swiftly to Sunnyside and a few days later Joe Moran began work for the famous agency.

Today, sticking to that same formula of straightforward sincerity which netted him hundreds of radio prizes, he's in charge of a whole department, busy making palatable (yet effective) those commercial announcements which are a necessity of the nation's biggest programs. Distinguished-looking, with a flurry of gray in his hair, Joe Moran is still an actor at heart, talking wistfully of days behind the footlights, of early screen-tests and adventures in stock when he played juvenile leads.

A dozen writers work under him now, and a glimpse of the shows for which they prepare announcements looks like a slice of radio's "Who's Who." There's Jack Benny and Fred Allen, Kate Smith, "Hobby Lobby" and "We, the People." Also the "Aldrich Family," Ben Bernie, "The Silver Theater," "Lum and Abner," "Joyce Jordan, Girl Interne" . . . and, O, a dozen more.

Those commercials are ticklish business. They must satisfy the sponsor—and sponsors are often irascible people—yet at the same time not antagonize the listener. It calls for a friendly, interesting style of writing which, while praising the product, at the same time has a keynote in showmanship, a foundation in sincerity.

The significant thing is that the Moran formula has worked both ways—as a listener and as a radio man. It's a formula of sincerity and ingenuity. Joe Moran once won contests with it. He won a job with it. And now he's winning listeners, as well as customers, for national sponsors by the same method. In other words, the idea works on both sides of the microphone.

There must be something to it!

—Dick Dorrance.

HOW TO HEAR VATICAN CITY

HVJ, "Radio Vaticano," the powerful 10,000-watt world voice of His Holiness, the Pope, is located at Vatican City, a tiny independent state near Rome, Italy, the capital of the Roman Catholic faith.

HVJ is not a war or a propaganda station. Its broadcasts are in the interest of world peace, order and Christianity. The Supreme Pontiff broadcasts to his followers throughout the world and papal bulls and encyclicals are proclaimed from this station.

"Radio Vaticano" broadcasts to North America, in English, on Sundays from 1 to 1:30 p.m. EST, on a frequency of 15.12 megs, at the low-frequency end of the 19-meter band. It is just a hair above DJL (15.11), Berlin, in frequency. The station can be easily identified by the tick-tocking sound of a clock which can be heard on its frequency for about five minutes before the beginning of the broadcast. At exactly 1 p.m. EST, the beautiful bells of St. Peter's Cathedral chime forth the hour. The opening words of the program, pronounced by the English announcer, a man with an excellent voice, having a slight Oxford accent, are

"Praise to Jesus Christ (Laudetur Jesus Christus)." The program consists of the reading of world news pertaining to the Catholic faith and often includes exquisite choral selections. The broadcast concludes with the words "Laudetur Jesus Christus," and the station leaves the air abruptly at 1:30 p.m. EST.

HVJ also broadcasts regularly in Italian, Dutch, German, Spanish, French and Polish, on various frequencies including 11.74, 9.66, 6.19 and 6.03 megs, but as these transmissions are beamed on continents other than North America and are at hours unfavorable for reception here, they are seldom heard in the United States. Pacific Coast listeners report occasional reception of HVJ (15.12) Tuesdays from 10 to 10:30 a.m. EST, at which time the broadcast is directed to the Far East.

Reception reports are eagerly welcomed by Vatican authorities and should be addressed to Stazione Radio HVJ, Citta del Vaticano, Vatican City State. Those sending in correct reports will receive a beautiful souvenir QSL card depicting in sepia tint the picturesque site of the station.

FROM THE EUROPEAN ARENA: The first official communication from the German short-wave station since the beginning of the war states transmissions for North America are now being made daily from 6:30 to 9 a.m. EST over DJB (15.20) and from 4:50 to 1 a.m. EST over DXB (9.61) and DJD (11.77). The extension of the evening program to 1 a.m. EST is to give better service to listeners on the Pacific coast. English news bulletins for North American listeners are being broadcast daily at 6:45 and 8:30 a.m. EST, and at 6, 8:15, 10:30 and 12 mid. EST. The news bulletin at 9:15 a.m. EST, over DJB (15.20), presumably for European listeners, includes several items not given in the 8:30 a.m. EST bulletin for North America. DJC (6.02) is being heard daily from 8 to 10:45 p.m. EST and irregularly to 1 a.m. EST. . . . The best reception of "Paris Mondial" is now afforded listeners in this country on the 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. EST transmission for North America, broadcast on a frequency of 12.845 megs. News in English is read at 1:20 p.m. EST. . . . 2R03 (9.635), Rome, has been transmitting special test programs to New Zealand from 1 to 2 a.m. EST. These are well received in California. . . . GSL (6.11), one of London's winter frequencies, has been heard testing recently, probably preparatory to placing this frequency in service on the evening transmissions to North America. . . . You're liable to hear broadcasts from Moscow almost anywhere on the dials. Transmissions are being made daily on 11.66 megs, at 7 a.m. EST and from 3 to 6 p.m. EST and on another new frequency of 9.69 megs, from 9 to 11 a.m. EST and from 9 to 10 p.m. EST. August Balbi of Los Angeles, Calif., reports that RNE (12.00), Moscow's main frequency, is now being heard daily from 9 to 11 a.m. EST, from 7 to 8:45 p.m. EST and from 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. EST.

MAKE A NOTE OF THESE: The evening concert from Rome, Italy, including outstanding classical and operatic selections, with all announcements in English, daily from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. EST, over 2R06 (15.30); a delightful program from not-so-happy Holland, enlivened by the ready wit of multi-lingual announcer Eddie Startz, Wednesdays from 8:40 to 10 a.m. EST, over PCJ (15.22); Hawaiian steel guitars, soft native chanting, the beat of the surf on the beach at Waikiki, direct from Honolulu, Saturdays and Sundays from 8:30 to 9 p.m. EST, over KQH (14.92) at Kahuku, Hawaii.

THE ORIENT CALLS SHORT-WAVE LISTENERS: VUD2 (9.59), Delhi, India, can now be heard from 9:30 to 11 p.m. EST. Reception is best on Sunday, Tuesday and Friday nights, when WCAB, Philadelphia, is off the channel. News in English is read at 10:20 p.m. EST.

The Voice of the Listener

$1.00 will be paid to the writer of every letter used in this department. Express your opinions, write V. O. L., 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill.

Songs in the Night

Dear V. O. L.:

This may be interesting to both radio fans and bird-lovers. One August evening while I was staying in the country where the song-birds were exceptionally numerous, I was sitting at the window in the dusk and quiet. When I turned on the radio, a voice announced that a demonstration from Switzerland would follow using the musical device by which the canaries are trained to sing. It was delightfully demonstrated. And then to my amazement there was a great chorus of song-birds singing outside the window in the trees, having aroused from their slumber. They sang lustily as they had the same evening at sunset. They continued for about five minutes in the darkness after the program closed. The experience gave me an unusual thrill.

Miss O. V. Loebig, New Haven, Conn.

"Speaking Up"

Dear V. O. L.:

In ten years of radio enjoyment this is the first letter I have written expressing my opinion of programs, but the article "Speaking Up," by V. Vidal, in the November 24 issue of RADIO GUIDE is so exactly the way I feel that I just had to write. The "Slumber Hour" was one of my favorite programs in the days when I was interested mainly in jazz. And now that I have learned to love more serious music, I have longed more than ever for a similar program to tune in to on my bedside radio just before going to sleep.

Florence Wilson, St. Petersburg, Fla.

● The article by V. Vidal was a plea for a bit of more soothing and restful music to break the overwhelming preponderance of dance orchestras—however much enjoyed—in the late hours.—V. O. L.

Boner-Conscious

Dear V. O. L.:

I haven't received any dollars for "Bulls and Boners," but I certainly agree that the feature pays dividends to sponsors. Until the department started I paid no attention to commercials except for noticing vaguely that they advertised this or that product. Now I pay strict attention to all announcements—and I was really surprised to learn they gave many helpful hints.

Mrs. John McClamroch, Crawfordsville, Ind.

● Mrs. McClamroch has received no dollar for "Bulls and Boners," but for her letter she gets a dollar, with which she'll buy some sponsor's product, and we'll all be happy.—V. O. L.

Shut-In Corner

Dear V. O. L.:

I have read all the shut-in letters you have published, but I have never noticed any from here—at the Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver. It is the largest tuberculosis hospital in America, and there are more shut-ins with radios here than any other one place I've ever heard of. There are twenty-six radios in this ward and there are seventeen wards now in use, and a new 600-bed unit under construction. I've been three years and four months in the hospital—and five years with RADIO GUIDE.

E. M. Bruce, Ward C-3,
Fitzsimons Gen. Hosp.
Denver, Colo.

● We're very happy to hear from this radio-conscious institution. We'd like to hear from others. Hospitals and sanitariums harbor some of the most appreciative and most intelligent radio listeners in America.—V. O. L.

Leak in Dope-Bucket

Dear V. O. L.:

On Fred Waring's "Pleasure Time," Friday, November 17, Paul Douglas was picking the teams to win in the Saturday games. We, his Arkansas audience, were astonished to hear him say he picked S. M. U. over Arkansas. The game had been played and was over for at least an hour, with the score, Arkansas-14, S. M. U.-0. Surely our news goes faster than that.

Mary Edna Boggs, Clarksville, Ark.

● Alert fan intercepts faux pas.—V. O. L.

In Touch

Dear V. O. L.:

I am past middle age and live alone on a small farm in the hill country. But through my radio I am in touch daily with the world, even the uttermost parts of the world, and with the forward march of youth. Sometimes I listen for relaxation with such programs as "Those We Love" and "Dr. Christian." Quite often, too, I listen to learn. I have found RADIO GUIDE invaluable as a means of increasing my ability to enjoy radio as well as to profit from it.

Mrs. Nola B. Bland, West Fork, Ark.

More Alec

Dear V. O. L.:

Why is it that on "Alec Templeton Time" we hear so little of Alec's own playing? Other musical numbers by orchestra, chorus and guests plus commercials seem to crowd Alec out. Why shouldn't we hear more of Alec on his own program? Pat O'Malley is good and we'd rather have him as a steady member of the program than to have guest stars. I'm sure many of Alec's fans feel the way my friends and I do.

● Templeton has been nominated to give us more of his music. What do you other readers say? Shall he be Alec-ted?—V. O. L.

Strength from Whiskers

Dear V. O. L.:

Who cares what kind of car Orson Welles drives or whether he wears a beard, so long as he delivers the goods, as he is superbly doing? It is understandable that there would be jealousy in Hollywood, for he has them all beaten a mile. If Welles gets any artistic strength from his whiskers, maybe some others should try to grow beards, even if it does offend Jimmie Fidler's esthetic sensibilities.

C. B. Fawler, Mobile, Ala.

Country Editor Speaks

Dear V. O. L.:

I happen to be the editor of one of the more than eleven thousand country newspapers in the United States. These papers are read by the fifty-two million people who live in country towns and on adjacent farm lands. If broadcasters think these people are not intelligent, I remind them that Iowa and Kansas have the lowest percentage of illiterates among the states—and there isn't a large city in either state. Most other rural and small-town sections rang high in the general level of their practical I. Q.

I have published country papers in most sections of the country, and I know that if you fail to live up to the promises made in a single advertisement, you are through there. And yet, night after night, I hear announcers glibly refer to "the most amazing bargains in history." I've purchased everything from flounders to corner lots, and I've never found an "amazing bargain" in my life.

"Use our toothpaste and you will be THRILLED by the brilliance of your smile." With half the world at war and a large portion of the remainder on relief, it takes something more than gleaming dental displays to THRILL one—and besides, it isn't good taste to be thrilled by one's own smile. "Your smile will make you irresistible," shrieks another toothpaste commercial. Webster's definition of "irresistible": "That cannot be successfully resisted or opposed." The appalling ignorance of Hitler! Instead of spending billions for armaments, why doesn't he use the right brand of toothpaste—and just smile?

Here's a million-dollar tip to the manufacturer of a cigarette, one who is smart enough to recognize the intelligence of American people: "Good tobacco goes into our cigarettes, and it is blended in the modern way. We do not say this is the best cigarette in the world, but we do say it is a good cigarette. We do not claim that, once you have tried it, you will prefer it to all other cigarettes. Frankly, since a cigarette is a matter of personal taste, you may not like our cigarette at all—but you will never know this unless you try it."

Although I've been smoking fodder in a corn-cob pipe since I graduated from smoking grapevine back of the barn in boyhood, if some cigarette sponsor will come through with announcements like this, I'll join millions of others in smoking his product—just to reward him for the novelty of honesty.

J. Harvey Burgess, Harrington, Del.

● The foregoing letter is much longer than we generally publish, but we feel it is not an ordinary fan letter. It is a significant document which resembles something of a radio listeners' Magna Charta. Its Will Rogers keenness slices the meat from the bone as it is rarely carved by editorialists. Hence we have printed Mr. Burgess' letter almost in full. And we find there is nothing to add.—V. O. L.

Killed by Tax

Dear V. O. L.:

We in Florida have been enjoying the transcriptions of our university station WRUF in Gainesville, and I for one consider it as good a program as there is on the air. Just now they announce that they must cut out the special programs which they have considered as educational, such as their "Hour with the Masters," because the manufacturers of the records are after them to pay some kind of tax. This tax mania that is sweeping over the United States should be stopped.

Lawrence Pierpont, Lakeland, Fla.

EVER since small-town boys have gone to big towns to make their fortunes there have been prodigal celebrations when they return home. No exception was the super-colossal welcome Rocky Mount, N. C., folk staged on the recent return of their prize local boy—Kay Kyser. Although Kay is most famous as the Professor-bandman of radio (NBC, Wed., 10 p.m. EST; 9 CST; 8 MST; 7 PST), this homecoming was for a world premiere of his uproarious new film "That's Right—You're Wrong." The biggest crowds ever gathered in one place in Carolina cheered their native son to the echo. Thousands greeted him as he paraded up the main drag in "Passion," the old Model T in which he once rattled about as a college lad. Here is a picture-story of the event.

LOCAL BOY NO. 1
COMES HOME

1 STEPPING FROM the special train which bore his party from New York on a bright Wednesday morning, into a milling crowd of Rocky Mount friends, Kay Kyser rushed up to bear-hug his mother, Mrs. P. B. Kyser (l.)

2 TRIUMPHAL MARCH through an aisle guarded by red-clad high-school bandmen brought Kay and mother to hotel where Kay made speech. This after songstress Ginny Simms and band members had taken bows

3 MAKING A SWIFT exit through hotel's back door, Kay mounted his famous Model T, chauffeured by old pal Mack Riggsbee. Parade which followed included this stop to greet North Carolina's Governor Hoey (l.)

5 ONLY ONE of Kay's old haunts is the drug store from which his late father made livelihood for Kyser brood. A few blocks away is his high-school alma mater

4 COMFORTABLE KYSER home on Sunset Avenue, where Mrs. Kyser still lives, is just next door to the church where Kay used to attend and entertain parishioners

6 DIGNITARIES of city and state flocked to a formal buffet dinner in Kay's honor at the New Ricks hotel. Among them was Gov. Hoey (pronounced hoey), who carved turkey (above). This followed matinee showings of the new Kyser film

7 & 8 GINNY SIMMS, who already knew many Rocky Mount folks, was the belle of the celebration, smiles prettily (l.), with Gov. Hoey. Later, crowds poured into the Center Theater (above) for final premiere, to be followed by Kay's Wed. broadcast

9 PROUDEST MOTHER in the world, Mrs. Kyser (r.) is escorted down the aisle by her son to see the premiere of "That's Right — You're Wrong," since given tremendous reception by movie-goers everywhere

10 & 11 CROWDS which policemen (l.) held back became almost unmanageable at homecoming dance in warehouse (r.), climaxing Rocky Mount's big day

GALLANT AMERICAN WOMEN

SUSAN B. ANTHONY (left), Quaker who felt that a better government would result from woman suffrage, crusaded for her belief, was stoned and pelted, but persevered to win

THE great part played by American women in the building of America is an amazing chapter in our history, not only because of the wide and varied fields into which they entered and achieved success but because all of their achievements have been made in the face of severe opposition on the part of men reared to the belief that woman's place was in the home. The ducking-stool and rough mob treatment by men have failed to halt their brilliant march. To those feminine pioneers pictured here, radio — on "Gallant American Women," NBC, Tuesdays — has and will pay tribute. See program details on opposite page.

LUCRETIA MOTT (right), in 1833, organized the first Woman's Anti-Slavery Society in Philadelphia in face of a scornful male opposition, gave a first impetus to woman's cause

ABIGAIL ADAMS, in Colonial America, set a precedent by acquiring an education when few women could read. She was the wife of one President, mother of another

LOUISA MAY ALCOTT became one of the first important women writers in America with the appearance of "Little Women." Its human quality made it an all-time favorite

CLARA BARTON ventured upon Civil War battlefields to tend wounded, later founded the American Chapter of the Red Cross. Was its president 1881 to 1904

FRANCES E. WILLARD was the first woman to hold post of Dean of Women in an American University (Northwestern), was a crusader for woman suffrage, founded W.C.T.U.

PRESENTING

CAN YOU SOLVE THIS BIOGRAPHICAL PUZZLER?

- DR. I. Q.:
Clew No. 1. ($50.00)
 He was born November 30, 1835. His father was a happy-go-lucky storekeeper and lawyer from Tennessee, popularly given the title of "Judge."
- Clew No. 2. ($45.00)
 When he was 12 years old, the death of his father left his family almost destitute. He had virtually no formal education, but his imagination was vivid with pictures and stories.
- Clew No. 3. ($40.00)
 He learned type-setting and became his brother's assistant and a journeyman printer. At the beginning of the Civil War in 1861, he went west with his brother, Orion, who had just been appointed Lieutenant Governor of Nevada.
- Clew No. 4. ($35.00)
 In Nevada, near Carson City, he had a most hilarious but equally un lucrative experience as a goldminer. He moved to San Francisco, where he became a member of the witty group including Artemus Ward and Bret Harte, among others.
- Clew No. 5. ($30.00)
 Soon afterward, he became famous. Received honorary degrees from Yale, went to England to receive degree of Doctor of Literature at Oxford.

YOU may be sitting in your local theater or you may be comfortably settled in a favorite lounge chair beside your radio when Dr. I. Q., the mental banker of radio, starts operations. You who are beside radios will hear these words: "We take you now to the Stanley Theater (photographs on these pages were taken in the Stanley Theater in Philadelphia) where . . . makers of Forever Yours candy bars present Dr. I. Q. . . ." There may be more sophisticated quiz shows—there are undoubtedly more informed quiz-

—William Hausster Photographs

—AND THEN, DR. I. Q.: "Twenty-five dollars goes up on clew No. 6: He was a gifted after-dinner speaker and typically American in his freedom from restraint. He is regarded as the most characteristic American writer of his time." Jack Paist, Lansdowne, Pa., shown receiving $25 from announcer (above) answered on the sixth clew, "Mark Twain"

THESE ARE PEOPLE

DR. I. Q.: ($7.00) "Measurement of a cat's whiskers from-tip to tip is usually the same as width of his body. What purpose does this serve?" Mrs. Mattie Brown (above) of Philadelphia answered, "I don't know." (In dark, cat can avoid passages too narrow for body to pass through, whiskers act as tactile organs.)

DR. I. Q.: ($18.00) "A word many of us have used all our lives is 'cater-cornered,' which means diagonal. $18.00 if you can spell cater-cornered correctly." Not too alert, Vincent McComille, seen above, of 1611 Race St., Philadelphia, spelled it "C-A-T-T-E-R-C-O-R-N-E-R." (The correct spelling as given by Dr. I. Q. was as follows: C-A-T-E-R-C-O-R-N-E-R-E-D.)

DR. I. Q.: ($35.00) "Again we come to that interesting little portion of our program, the Thought Twister. If you can repeat it exactly as I say it, I'll give you $35.00. Are you ready? Boxes can be opened when they're closed. Boxes when they're opened can be closed." Harry Shore's (above) answer was "All mixed" zees—but for sheer showmanship and variety none can beat "Dr. I. Q.," heard Mondays over NBC at 9 p.m. EST; 8 CST; 7 MST; 6 PST. The Doctor, whose real name is Lew Valentine, operates from the stage of motion-picture houses, quizzing members of the audience, giving them $700 weekly. A written "Right and Wrong" test draws the entire audience into the game. For Dr. I. Q.'s fans as well as the uninitiated, Radio Guide shows just how his brain-buster tournament is staged. Picture yourself in his audience.

Right and Wrong

"NOW WE COME to the right-or-wrong portion of our program . . ." A means of including the entire audience in the quiz game, Dr. I. Q.'s assistants provide each person with a tally card on which they mark Yes or No answers to questions which the Doctor reads. A Master Mind Award of $100 is divided evenly among all who mark cards correctly

JUST LIKE YOU

DR. I. Q.: ($16.00) "The United States Federal Bureau of Investigation keeps on file more than 8,000,000 individual finger-prints and footprints. Of the 8,000,000, how many people do you suppose have same pattern in their finger-prints as in their footprints: 12, none or 200?" M. Bellow (above) of Philadelphia, Pa., answered correctly, "None"

DR. I. Q.: ($19.00) "Samuel Francis Smith wrote the words to a very famous song which is dear to the hearts of all Americans. Nineteen dollars to you if you can tell me the name of that song by Mr. Smith." A. J. Herr of Swarthmore, Pa., is caught by cameraman (above) as he answered, "Sorry, I don't know," to Dr. I. Q.'s question. ("America" or "My Country 'Tis of Thee.")

DR. I. Q.: "I'll give you $8.00 if you can tell me the difference, if any, between jam and preserves." Elmer Lown of Paimyra, N. J., wise to culinary secrets, answered correctly. (Preserves consist of fruit that has been cooked to keep its shape, and jam is fruit cooked without preserving the shape.)

"THANK YOU, ladies and gentlemen. My assistants with portable microphones are scattered throughout the theater audience. Those in the Stanley Theater who volunteer to answer questions asked from the stage are handed a portable microphone and remain in their seats while answering my quiz questions." With these words, Dr. I. Q. ushers in another of his theater-radio quiz shows. Constantly on the move, broadcasting from theaters in different cities throughout the country, Lew Valentine, who goes under this impressive name, started in radio as a crooner-announcer over a Texas station, has variously been program director, advertising man and writer. Now he lives in Chicago, is married to the former Bernyce Poston of San Antonio, Texas, has a two-year-old son, Gary Lew. Commuting between Chicago and his broadcast sites, he spends much of his time with his family

"I'm not interested in how she SOUNDS!"

others as well as yourself. You must be able to put your pride in your pocket. This is important—so important I really don't see how anyone can succeed without it. You can readily imagine that, in 1929, it was quite a comedown for me to give up my big headline act, "Chin Toy," and take to the subway circuits with a small, unimportant act at less than a tenth of my former salary.

Perseverance is another essential for success today, as it was yesterday and probably will be tomorrow. When I was playing small theaters over in New Jersey, I never missed an opportunity to get back into New York and look for better jobs. But I kept on trying until finally I got a chance at Billy's Gay Nineties Club. It was there that Billy Rose saw me, gave me a job at his Casa Manana. From there I went to the Roxy and to radio in Columbia's "Gay Nineties Revue."

God may give you a perfect physique, but it's up to you to protect what God gives you. I know that you can point out example after example of people who have succeeded in the face of severe physical handicaps, but there's no use asking for it. Take care of your health.

Today's youngsters are much brighter than the crop that was growing up in my days. It's only natural that they should be, too. But please make no mistake, getting a break in the show business today is a much tougher job than formerly. The lad who starts out today must have ideas—good and different ideas—and the initiative to put them into effect.

If I seem somewhat hopeless with regard to chances for success today in the entertainment world, I do not mean to be. Radio—I feel this strongly—will prove to be a grand medium for today's ambitious youngsters. It's still a young, largely untried and undeveloped phase of show business which may become as great as the youth of America can and cares to make it.

Joe Howard may be heard Saturdays as master of ceremonies on "Gay Nineties Revue" over a CBS network at:

EST 10:15 p.m. — CST 9:15 p.m.
MST 8:15 p.m. — PST 7:15 p.m.

WHY IS A GUEST STAR?

because no one ever heard of Bob Burns and no one cared about listening to him. He went over to a talent booking-office and there sold himself to some astute showmen. They in turn, knowing the ropes, had the entree which Bob didn't have. They went over to the agency that then handled the Rudy Vallee program and sold Bob, with some difficulty, for $50. The second week they got Bob's price up to $100. There were times when it appeared Bob would be fitting with radio because his agents demanded a few more dollars for his services. The story from there on is well known. Bob did eight weeks on the Paul Whiteman show at a salary in the neighborhood of $600 a week. Kraft took him at an increase. Now Bob is holding forth on that same program at a figure in four digits. Fine, you say. But remember back to the day when Bob couldn't even get an audition and when he would have worked for room and board.

The same applies to Edgar Bergen. He kicked around for years before he got a break on the Vallee hour. Now look at him. Kenny Baker was little known until Jack Benny hired him. Bing Crosby was one voice in four on Paul Whiteman's program until someone took him in hand and gave him the push. And there are others, too, proving that, to borrow Ed Guest's phrase, "It can be done." And by the same examples, it is clear that it can be done only if and when the artist is given the opportunity to demonstrate his worth.

After my memo was published the other week, I got many letters from unknown artists who asked my advice about getting on the air. The best way I can answer that is to relate this true story. I have a close friend who is an excellent tenor. He has studied voice seriously and professionally for ten years. For the past year he has been studying with five prominent New York teachers, each a specialist in his particular field of voice. This young man has had experience. He has been on the air on local stations. He has made a few appearances as a guest, been in two Broadway shows, sung in Radio

City Music Hall. In short, he's good.

When word first got out that Kenny Baker would not return to the Jack Benny program, I thought I saw in that program an opening for my friend. Experienced, yet unknown, he fitted the bill. I telephoned a friend of mine at the agency and asked him to arrange an audition. To make a long story short, I had six different conversations with two different parties at the agency, and they refused him an audition.

I asked the head of the radio department of one agency just what procedure one should follow to be heard. His answer was typical of all others I talked with. He said, "We are in business to produce a program to sell a product—not to develop talent." Then he explained to me that if he wanted a tenor and he didn't like those he had heard, he'd call up talent booking-offices and ask for tenors. "These talent-offices are in business to discover and develop talent. I'd call such an office to hire an actor just as I would call a coal company to order coal, or a milk company to order milk, or a garage to buy a car."

So, to all the beginners, I must give this advice. If your talent is not of professional merit, forget about the whole thing. But if you are convinced that you are good, and if you have experience, and if you are willing and able to go through a period of hard knocks, then get yourself a business manager. Not just any business manager but one who is established in business in New York, Chicago or Hollywood as a talent-agent. If you can sell yourself to him, he has the "ins" that will make it possible for him to sell you to a sponsor. There is only one other route. That is to get yourself a job in a night-club, or on a local station, or on the stage, and be so darn good that if and when some sponsor or agent accidentally hears you he'll want you. You might be accidentally heard, whereas it's 100 to 1 you won't purposely be heard. This doesn't apply, of course, to an artist whose grandfather is chairman of the board, or whose uncle is head of the radio department, or whose mother knows a man who knows the vice-president in charge of something or other.

WHAT WAS 1939'S BEST BROADCAST?

ALL that your radio brought you during 1939, what was the one splendid broadcast which will remain in your memory when all others are forgotten? Was it a great opera or a Toscanini broadcast? Was it Kate Smith's broadcast from Hollywood? Or was it the Louis-Galento fight? RADIO GUIDE invites you to choose, and to write a letter of fifty words or less explaining why your first choice was, in your opinion, best of 1939 programs. Coupon must be mailed by midnight of January 1.

In my opinion the best broadcast of 1939 was:

WHAT REALLY GOES ON AT HOLLYWOOD PARTIES?

Do the stars carry on just as you or I do at our parties? Do they play the same silly games? Do they break up the furniture; drink each other under the table; molest other guys' wives? You'll be surprised when you read what they talk about most, all evening. And you probably won't guess who is Hollywood's most consistent "life of the party." He provides a thousand dollars worth of free entertainment at every gathering.

If you're giving a party during the holidays, or going to one, you'll certainly want to read this big picture-spread starting on page 12 in the January issue of SCREEN GUIDE. It will show you some new angles (you'll see some nice curves, too!)
