GAMEL PROGRAM NO. 6

THURSDAY OCT. 17, 1955
9:00 to 9:30 PM

CUE: (COLUMBIA BROADCASTING SYSTEM)
( _____ 30 seconds _____ )

MUSIC: SMOKE RINGS

O'KEEFE: (OVER MUSIC) Gangway neighbor...here comes the Camel Caravan again through the courtesy of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, makers of Camel Cigarettes. This is Walter O'Keefe again, my dear parishioners...laying down the welcome mat on behalf of Deane Janis, the Orchidaceous Oriole, Glen Gray and his mustache and Ted Husing. By the way, the move for noise abatement in New York is gaining momentum. Pee Wee Hunt was arrested tonight. He was drinking a bowl of soup. Of course, the way he drinks soup he might as well be in it. Tonight in the middle of his fourth spoonful two couples who were listening got up and started to dance. Well, we've got big doings planned for tonight and Glen Gray's first contribution is "Singing in the Rain." "Singing in the Rain."

MUSIC: SINGING IN THE RAIN (ORCHESTRA)

O'KEEFE: And now, ladies and gentlemen, just to make it tough for Deane Janis, Pee Wee Hunt and Kenny Sargent, the singers on our program, we are going to have some real singing from the studio audience. Don't be too hard on them because they have had absolutely no rehearsal. Now will all of you women under the age of twenty sound your A?

BIZ: ALL THE WOMEN SING

O'KEEFE: Thank you... and now all you women over twenty years of age sound your A.

A PAUSE

Oh, surely there must be someone here over twenty.

FROST: SOUNDS A

O'KEEFE: Well... I'm glad there's one honest woman in the house. All right Lemuel...give me the pitchpipe...

MUSIC: (WALTER O'KEEFE)

O'KEEFE: Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen.. I think you sang beautifully, but some of our neighbors complained... I suggest you leave the studio by a side door and don't go down any dark alleys...And now, ladies and gentlemen, the chair recognizes Harry Von Zell, the man with a message.

VON ZELL: Consider the significance of the fact that such a large number of athletes say, "CAMELS don't get your wind." Almost without exception, the famous athletes who smoke cigarettes are CAMEL smokers. And in this group, opinion is overwhelming that CAMELS are so mild, they may be freely smoked without any effect on "wind" or nerves. Yes, personal experience of outstanding champions has made CAMEL the athlete's cigarette -- and that means, that CAMEL is the mild cigarette for everybody -- the mild cigarette for you. (Continued next page)

VON ZELL: Everytime you feel like smoking, enjoy a CAMEL. Your taste will be delighted with CAMEL'S rich, pleasing flavor. And because CAMELS are so mild, so TRULY mild, you can enjoy them all you want. (SLIGHT PAUSE) CAMELS ARE MADE FROM FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE TURKISH AND DOMESTIC TOBACCOOS than any other popular brand.

MUSIC: LOVE WILL FIND A WAY (ORCHESTRA AND SARGENT)

O'KEEFE: Ladies and gentlemen...that was Kenny Sargent singing "Love Will Find a Way" and now Pee Wee Hunt will sing "My Very Good Friend the Milkman"...that reminds me it's time for MY bottle... Go ahead Pee Wee..

MUSIC: MY VERY GOOD FRIEND THE MILKMAN (ORCHESTRA & HUNT)

VON ZELL: And now we present Ted Husing, CAMEL star reporter.

HUSING: Top eastern battle Saturday brings Navy's dreadnaughts to the Yale Bowl, with the Midshipmen twisting the Bulldog's tail. At West Point, Army meets Harvard's 15th invasion of the Plains. 14 victories in 14 tries for Harvard -- but the streak ends this weekend. Columbia's lions meet up with the Quakers in what should be another hot battle. I like Columbia, for I've often said a lion is the shortest distance between two points. Temple is my bid over Carnegie Tech, Michigan State over Boston College, Vanderbilt to top Fordham and Princeton over Rutgers.

In the Midwest, Minnesota will show Tulane some of its 1955 brawn and power, which means another victory for the Gophers. Michigan with just enough left of a pass, and a prayer will hand Wisconsin another lacing, Ohio State is rated to romp over Northwestern, but it'll be so close we'll wonder what happened.

HUSING:
(CONT'D)

Ohio State to win, by a whisker. Purdue and Nebraska will win their games against Chicago and Kansas State.

In the South, Alabama and Tennessee are going to try it again, and I like the Volunteers; while Georgia and North Carolina State will try to end each other's good record for this season. I got a feeling Joe-juh is gonna win. Kentucky will trip up the Auburn Tigers in a Schorcher, while Louisiana shouldn't have much trouble with the Razorbacks...and these four teams should win over their opponents: - Duke, North Carolina U, U. Mississippi and Mississippi State.

California meets with Santa Clara's Broncos in a game that should be close and well fought. Despite a feeling for an upset, I think California will find a gold mine for her fifth straight win. Oregon and Oregon State should both win handily from Idaho and Southern California. It's be just like the Trojans to start upsetting apple-carts. I pick Washington by a touchdown on Washington State.

In the Southwest, I find that Southern Methodist will upset Rice's Owls, that Texas will trample over Centenary's Gentlemen, Texas Christian will slide by Texas Aggies, and Baylor will top Oklahoma City.

No Pittsburgh-Notre Dame prediction this week, that being my game Saturday, but here's a hot one for you. I pick Albany of Oregon to lose its 28th straight game for a new world's record when Ashland wins out by 6 points.

Well, there are 29 predictions for you - watch Saturday's scores and see how I come out. And whatever games you attend over the week-end - school, college or professional - be sure

HUSING: that you take CAMEL cigarettes along. The athlete's cigarette (CONT'D) is popular with spectators too - for its mildness, flavor and pleasing "lift!" So when excitement runs high on the gridiron - just light a CAMEL and settle back! CAMELS never get on your nerves.

MUSIC: TAG

O'KEEFE: And here comes Miss Deane Janis...the dean of radio songbirds to sing "I've Got a Feeling You're Fooling." Go ahead, Deane... it's fun to be fooled...it's more fun to know..

MUSIC: I'VE GOT A FEELING YOU'RE FOOLING (DEANE JANIS)

O'KEEFE: Thank you, Deane...this is Walter O'Keefe again, ladies and gentlemen...about to present a playlet of the Gay Nineties.
It's the life story of that famous host and man about town,
Diamond Jim Brady...and it's entitled "Brother Can You Spare a Diamond?" The scene is outside Delmonico's Restaurant as Mr. Brady arrives.

BIZ: ORCHESTRA PLAYS "BICYCLE BUILT FOR TWO"

HOLLOW CLOP CLOP OF HORSES HOOPS

HUNT: Here we are, Mr. Brady...that will be twenty-five cents...

O'KEEFE: What!...Twenty-five cents from Philadelphia to New York?
It's highway robbery. I told you to come by way of the Holland Tunnel.

JACK: Sorry, Mr. Brady...but it hasn't been built yet.

O'KEEFE: That's right. Well, I haven't got any change. Here's a diamond...I'm going inside.

BIZ: DOOR OPENS...MUSIC COMES UP PLAYING "GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME"
VERY PIANISSIMO

HUSING: (IN GALLIC MANNER) Ah, Monsieur Le Brady...Bon Jour...Bon Soir. Comment ca va...Raymembair me... the headwaiter... Francois..

O'KEEFE: Oh yes...Francois. You look a lot like Ted Husing to me. Tell me...who's dining here tonight?

HUSING: Well...ovair thair in the cornair...

O'KEEFE: Never mind the accent Francois...who's here?

HUSING: (NATURAL VOICE) Well over there, Walter...I mean Diamond Jim... is Porros Borros Stanislaus Tuskaneenie Boleslawski. That's a big name in the theatre business..

O'KEEFE: That's a big name in any business.. Tuskaneenie Boleslawski. What was the name of that play I saw him in?

HUSING: Life is just a Boleslawski with a Hey Tuskaneenie and a Hot Cha Cha. Oh Mr. Brady...I want you to meet our guest of honor. Hey Steve...Mr. Brady...this is Steve Brody.

O'KEEFE: How are you Steve...

JACK: Uhhhhh...

O'KEEFE: Glad to know you too...Steve Brody. I've heard that name... What do you do...what's your business?

JACK: I jump off bridges.

O'KEEFE: Umhmmh...you jump off bridges, eh? Well, it's nice work if you can get it. You're a little eccentric. What bridge are you jumping off tomorrow?

JACK: The Brooklyn Bridge...

O'KEEFE: Well I've seen Brooklyn and I don't blame you for jumping.

JACK: Oh, I had lots of fun today...I jumped off a bridge and landed on a tugboat.

HUSING: But it was all right, Mr. Brady...he landed on his head.
He always lands on his head.

JACK: Yeah...it don't ever affect me... (LAUGHS)

O'KEEFE: No...anybody can see that. Well, glad I met you Steve.

BIZ: ROLL ON DRUMS...PATTER OF APPLAUSE

VON ZELL: (VERY SPIELERISH) And now gents, if you'll kindly remove your hats and put your coats on I will bring out that great singer...the toast of New York...Miss Lillian Bustle..
Miss Bustle will sing "Don't Turn My Picture to the Wall."

VOICE OFF

MIKE - TONY: She's rotten.

VON ZELL: Nevertheless, she will sing "Don't Turn My Picture to the Wall."

BIZ: CHORD IN G

FROST: (SINGS)

O'KEEFE: (AT BREAKS) Ah...what a voice...I must meet this nightingale...
Ah...what a voice...wonderful..

BIZ: BIG GONG RINGS

HUSING: Pardon me, Madam...

O'KEEFE: Ah, Francois...

HUSING: Yes, Mr. Brady...

O'KEEFE: Did you ever HEAR singing like that before?

HUSING: Yes...once...but the joint was raided.

O'KEEFE: Francois you're a fool...you're deaf to music and you're blind to beauty...look at that lovely creature...beautiful... distinguished...refined...a lady...I must call Miss Bustle over to my table...(WHISTLES) Hey Babe...come here.

HUSING: Miss Bustle...this is Diamond Jim Brady...

O'KEEFE: Ah Miss Bustle...you do me a great honor. Never have I seen a flower so blessed with talent, refinement and culture...

FROST: Tanks.. Youse is soitinly a high class gent.

O'KEEFE: Ah Miss Bustle...your singing voice is only equalled by your speaking voice..(LAUGH) Here...permit me to give you a few diamonds...

FROST: Okay...put them in my handbag.

BIZ: SOUND EFFECT .. TO RESEMBLE COAL ROLLING DOWN A CHUTE

O'KEEFE: Miss Bustle...It's my duty to give your voice to the world. It would be greedy of me to keep it to myself.

BIZ: CROWD CHEERS

O'KEEFE: Who's that they're cheering?

FROST: The new heavyweight champion of the world. I'll call him over. Hey John...John L..Uh? Mr. Brady, I want you to meet the champ...

SORIN: Dot's me...John L. Solomon...the Irish Strongboy. I'll fight anybody in the house, of course, of course.

BIZ: ORCHESTRA PLAYS "DARLING I AM GROWING OLDER"

VON ZELL: And so ends the first act of Walter O'Keefe's portrayal of Diamond Jim Brady and the curtain is lowered to denote the passage of fifty years. Diamond Jim is now seventy-five years old...(my how time flies)...and Jim is still going to his old hangouts. We pick him up as he is entering Delmonico's Restaurant.

BIZ: MURMUR OF VOICES AFTER MUSIC FADES

NOTE: THE FOLLOWING DIALOGUE IS ALL IN OLD VOICES

HUSING: (QUAKING OLD VOICE) Ah...Monsieur Le Brady...Bong Jour...Bong Soir...Comment ca va...You raymembair me...Francois...

51453 1584

O'KEEFE: Ah yes...Francois...You still look like Ted Husing to me.
Who's dining here tonight?

HUSING: Well over thair in the cormair...

O'KEEFE: If you can't learn French in fifty years you'd better drop it.

HUSING: Well, over there is Porros Borros Stanislaus Tuskaneeny Boleslawski Junior. And there's Steve Brody.

O'KEEFE: Hiya Steve...Still jumping off bridges...

JACK: (YOUNG VOICE) Yeah...Lookit this medal...Husing, old man...I got this little one for jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge.

O'KEEFE: What's the big medal for?

JACK: For jumping back up.

O'KEEFE: Well Steve, you're still eccentric, eh?

JACK: Don't kid me...I'm nuts.

BIZ: ROLL ON THE DRUMS

VON ZELL: And now, ladies and gentlemen, we offer the toast of New York...
Miss Lillian Bustle...Miss Bustle will sing "Looky Looky Looky Here Comes Cookie."

TONY: (OFF MIKE) She's STILL rotten.

VON ZELL: Nevertheless, she will still sing "Looky Looky Looky Here Comes Cookie."

BIZ: CHORD IN G

FROST: (SINGS)

BIZ: GONG RINGS

FROST: Aw shucks, Major...missed again.

HUSING: Say Mr. Brady...how about buying me a drink?

O'KEEFE: Eh?

HUSING: I said how about buying me a drink?

O'KEEFE: I can't hear you...

HUSING: (NATURAL) I said how about buying me a drink?

O'KEEFE: (NATURAL VOICE) I still can't hear you.

FROST: Evenin' Diamond Jim...

O'KEEFE: Evenin' Lillian...Listen, Lillian, stick with me and I'll make you a star yet...

FROST: Better hurry...I'll be playin' a harp pretty soon..

O'KEEFE: I'm buying some perfume for you Lil...Do you want it scented?

FROST: Hanh?

O'KEEFE: Do you want your perfume scented?

FROST: No...I'll come over and get it myself.

BIZ: CHEERING

FROST: Say J<sup>4</sup>m...it's the champion...

SORIN: Hullo hullo hullo Mr. Brady...

O'KEEFE: Well John L...who you been fightin' lately?

SORIN: Pincus Fitzsimmons...Moe Dempsey...and Julius Tunney..

O'KEEFE: Don't tell me you're still fighting at ninety-seven...

SORIN: Yes...I'm fighting next week...I can't lose...I'll beat him...

O'KEEFE: You'll beat who?

SORIN: Baer...I'm feeling top tip...I'll tear him to pieces...

MUSIC: ST. LOUIS BLUES (ORCHESTRA)

VON ZELL: This program, the CAMEL CARAVAN is presented for your amusement by R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, makers of CAMEL cigarettes and Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco down in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. If you want to make a friend of a pipe smoker, tell him about good old "P.A." It's mild and mellow and full of grand flavor, because it's made from choice top-grade tobacco. Prince Albert is made with the "no-bite process," for your tongue comfort, and there are two full ounces in every cheerful red tin.

MUSIC: SMOKE RINGS

O'KEEFE: Well, ladies and gentlemen...this brings to an end the sixth broadcast in our new series and reading from left to right those who contributed were Deane Janis, Glen Gray and his Casa Loma orchestra, Ted Husing and Miss Alice Frost who played the role of Lillian Bustle. Alice...you were swell... you acted that part beautifully.. No one would ever think you were acting...you were grand.

FROST: Tanks O'Keefe...you soitinly is a high class gent.

O'KEEFE: Ladies and gentlemen...this is Walter O'Keefe...saying good nate until this same time Tuesday.
