OPENING COMMERCIAL

1 WILCOX: Fibber and Molly join us in a moment ---
2 Recent surveys disclose important news about Johnson's 3 Glo-Coat. They show that families with children are 4 among the biggest users of this self polishing floor
5 wax that is now positively water-repellent.
6 It's easy to see why. With children in the house,
7 mud and snow are bound to be tracked in ... water
8 and food are bound to be splashed or spilled. That's 9 when you thank your lucky stars for Glo-Coat. Just a 10 flick of a cloth whisks mud or moisture off that hard,
11 gleaming surface. Glo-Coat ~~stays~~ stays on ... stays
12 bright ^{EVEN} after repeated damp-mopping.
13 And here's something else that's big news! Because 14 it's positively water-repellent, Glo-Coat now lasts
15 up to four times longer. That means more for your 16 money in every drop of Glo-Coat you buy. Less work,
17 too -- because you have to do your floors so much 18 less often.
19 So tomorrow -- get Johnson's Glo-Coat. Whether you
20 have children or not you need this water-repellent
21 floor polish, for longer-lasting beauty and protection.
22 It's in the familiar Glo-Coat package.

1 WILCOX: THERE'S BEEN A GREAT DEAL OF DISCUSSION LATELY, PRO AND 2 CON, ABOUT FLYING SAUCERS. THE PRO PEOPLE SWEAR THEY'VE
3 SEEN THEM. - THE CON PEOPLE SAY THE PRO PEOPLE ARE
4 VICTIMS OF MASS HYPNOTISM. AND HERE IS ONE OF THE CON
5 MEN AND HIS WIFE --

FIBBER MCGEE AND MOLLY!!

7 APPLAUSE

8 FIB: ...and furthermore, you show me a guy that claims he 9 seen a flying saucer and I'll show you a guy that the 10 whole thing is just a pigmy of his imagination!
11 MOL: You don't mean pigmy, dearie. A pigmy is a tiny little 12 human being.
13 FIB: Yeah, they claim to of seen them, too! Men from Mars -
14 23 inches tall! The whole thing is ridiculous, Mass
15 hystoria!
16 MOL: Oh now, I wouldn't dismiss the subject as easily as 17 that, McGee. The paper said this morning that an Army 18 pilot chased one for 20 minutes, and -
19 FIB: YEAH, BUT DID HE CATCH IT? NO SIR! DID ANYBODY EVER 20 CATCH ONE? NO SIR! AND WHY NOT? BECAUSE THEY'RE AN 21 OPTICAL DERISION, THAT'S WHY!
22
23 MOL: Yes, it's a nice day for a walk. What are you going to do downtown?
24 FIB: Gotta lock up a good patent lawyer. About my new invention.

NM

1 MOL: Look, sweetheart...army pilots aren't usually hysterical 2 people. Transport flyers must have good eyesight or 3 they wouldn't be flying transports. I'm inclined to 4 think that where there's so much smoke, it can't always 5 be a false alarm.

6 FIB: (LAUGHS TOLERANTLY) Okay, tootsie..okay. You'll see.
7 When they finally catch up with one of them things,
8 you'll see that nobody ever will. This stuff is 9 nothin' new. Who was it, back in 19-ought-12 that 10 reported seein' a space ship from Jupiter, flyin'
11 low and slow over the brewery in Peoria? Me, that's 12 who!

13 MOL: You?

14 FIB: You betcha. And what did it turn out to be? A baby
15 caterpillar crawlin' across my sunglasses. FLYIN'
16 SAUCERS, PTAH!!!

17 MOL: All right. I won't argue, lover. But I'm still not 18 convinced.

19 FIB: I am. My personal opinion is that anybody that claims
20 he seen a flying saucer oughtta go to a good optimist
21 and get his peepers overhauled. Well, I gotta go
22 downtown. Wanna go with me?

23 MOL: Yes, it's a nice day for a walk. What are you going to
24 do downtown?

25 FIB: Gotta look up a good patent lawyer. About my new 26 invention.

1 MOL: Invention?, You mean the plastic crosspiece for 2 radio aerials, so the neighbors will think you have 3 a television set?

4 FIB: No - this is a new type of alarm clock. It's got a
5 sponge rubber bell, that you can't hear it when it
6 rings on Sunday morning.

7 MOL: You ought to make a small fortune with that. Very 8 small. I'll get my hat, dearie and -

9 SOUND: DOOR CHIME

10 MOL: COME IN.

11 SOUND: DOOR OPENS

12 FIB: Well, if it ain't the big pink doctor with the little 13 black bag!' Hiyah, doctor.

14 MOL: Hello, Doctor Gamble.

15 DOC: Hello, McGee. Hello, Molly. Going somewhere?

16 MOL: Yes, but I always wear my hat in the house anyway.
17 Then if somebody comes to the door that I don't want 18 to talk to, I can say I'm on my way out - and if it's 19 somebody I like, I can say I just came in.

20 FIB: In this case, we're just going out.

21 DOC: All right, I can take a hint. I'm not as 22 thick-skinned as somebody I know that I could reach 23 out and touch if I hadn't just washed my hands. Can 24 Can I drop you anyplace, McGee - like maybe on the 25 top of your head?

(REVISED)

-7-

1 MOL: Oh we were just going downtown, doctor, and you can
2 give us a lift if you like. By the way, you're an 3 educated man, doctor - what's your opinion of these 4 flying saucers?

5 FIB: Educated man, my clavicle! He's the type of 6 ignoramus that believes anything.

7 DOC: Children, I have been practicing medicine for thirty 8 years. I believe everything and nobody. If hundreds 9 of reputable citizens claim to see strange things in 10 the sky, I'd be the last one to prescribe scoff 11 medicine.

12 MOL: There, McGee! You see? Dr. Gamble is no skeptic.

13 FIB: Oh, he's open-minded, all right. Wind blows right 14 thru it. That's why he was on the Draft Board during 15 the war. Only guy in town with a built-in draft.
16 SO YOU BELIEVE IN THIS FLYING SAUCER MAHOOIA, EH, 17 CHILDISH?

18 DOC: I didn't say I believed in 'em. But I don't deny 19 there might be such things, I've never heard a 20 Republican play the Missouri Waltz on the piano
21 either, but that doesn't prove it couldn't happen.
22 Come on, I'll drive you downtown.

23 MOL: Thank you, doctor.

4 COP: (OFF) ALL RIGHT FOLKS...KEEP MOVIN'! KEEP MOVIN'!

5 FIB: I seen it was in trouble, see, and I says to my wife,
6 "LOOK!" I says, "A flyin' saucer"! "There's no such",

9 COP: ALL RIGHT FOLKS!! MOVE ALONG NOW..KEEP MOVIN'...AND YOU -
10 GABBY! - GET OFF THEM FRONT STEPS AND RUN ALONG!

11 MOL: He doesn't have to get off these steps..he lives here.
12 Don't you, Gabby...I mean, McGee!

13 FIB: You betcha! Don't start ordering me around, flatfoot. I'm 14 the fella that he first seen that flying saucer. Seen it 15 crash, too. It was comin' in low over the trees, see with 16 its rockets shootin' blue flames..I seen it was in trouble,

1 MOL: My, I haven't seen such excitement since the lion got loose
2 at the circus and you chased him back into his cage, McGee!

1 FIB: I wasn't chasin' him. He grabbed my hamburger and 2 I was trying to get it back. My gosh, I was..hey,
3 looka the boy scout..handsome kid in that uniform,
4 ain't he? HEY BUD WANNA HEAR ABOUT HOW I SEEN THAT 5 FLYING SAUCER CRASH?

6 BOY: Yes sir, I would.

7 MOL: That's fine, sonny. I think all you Boy Scouts
8 should be -

9 BOY: Oh, I'M not a boy scout, ma'am. I'm a Lieutenant 10 Colonel in the Air Force. Retired.

11 FIB: A LIEUTENANT COLONEL!

12 BOY: Yes sir. I'm not as young as I look. I'm 20. Can 13 you tell me sir, did this aircraft have a tapered 14 empennage and did it appear to be a guided missile
15 rather than a conventional pilot-controlled type?
16 Would you say it was dependent on rocket propulsion
17 or some hitherto unknown gravity-repellant magnetic-18 field type of turbo or ram-jet power?

19 FIB: Well...er...

20 MOL: Tell him dearie.

21 FIB: Okay. Well sir, bud, the first time I seen it, it
22 was comin' in low over them trees, with its rockets
23 shootin' out blue fla-...hey, wait a minute. How do
24 I know you ain't the agent for some foreign power,
25 Buster? Are them American decorations you're wearing?

1 BOY: Yes sir. Most of them I got since the war.
Spraying fruit trees. This Distinguished Fruit
Fly Award with the Six Twigs, was for 20 Combat Missions over an Apple Orchard in Walla Walla.

2 MOL: Heavenly days! And you got back safely from all of them!

3 BOY: Yes ma'am. My last mission was pretty tough, though.
My wing man crashed into a cider mill and came in at 12 o'clock high. Well, thanks for the information,
sir. Good day, ma'am.

4 MOL: Good day, sonny. I mean, Colonel.

5 FIB: So long, sir - -

6 SOUND: (OFF) HAMMERING ON METAL. CROWD REACTION

7 MOL: Heavenly days, what are they doing now?

8 FIB: Let's go over and see...but don't get too close,
Tootsie. That thing might be retroactive.

9 MOL: Radioactive. Retroactive means it goes back.

10 FIB: Well, that one won't go back. It looks like our kitchen stove after I make pancakes. All littered up. HEY FOLKS..LET US THRU PLEASE..LET US THRU..
WE'RE THE PEOPLE THAT SEEN IT CRASH...

11 CROWD UP

1 WOMAN: -- Look Joe, there's the pot-bellied little moron that's been ordering everybody around. He must think he owns this place.

2 MAN: He don't own nothin', the petty larceny little twerp.
He'll probably wanna charge us four bits a head for standing here.

3 FIB: ALL RIGHT, FOLKS..YOU'RE ALL TRESPASSING ON MY PROPERTY, YOU KNOW..EVERYBODY THAT WANTS TO STAY AND

7 MOL: Hello, Mr. Wilcox...LET HIM THRU PLEASE, FOLKS..

8 CROWD MURMUR:

9 WIL: Hello, Molly. Hello, Pal..Hear you got a flying saucer here. Is that it over there, that pile of junk metal?

1 FIB: That's it, Juney!! Me and Molly and Doc Gamble
2 seen it crash. I first seen it comin' over them
3 trees, flyin' low, with orange and green lights and 4 five little men stickin' their heads out of the 5 portholes. It circled the City Hall and they all
6 bailed out -

7 MOL: MCGEE..THEY DID NOT!

8 FIB: They must of...there was nobody in it when it hit!

9 WIL: Well, this is very interesting! This is the first 10 real proof we've had of inter-planetary travel. I'M 11 going to ask for a bigger sales territory for Johnson
12 Wax Products. Mars, Mercury, Jupiter..Venus...AHHH..
13 VENUS!!..THAT'S FOR ME!

14 MOL: Maybe they don't have any linoleum on Mars, Mr. Wilcox.

15 WIL: Well, they won't have any mars on their linoleum
16 either, when I sell them that wonderful Johnson's 17 Water Repellent Glocoat, the finest protection
18 against mars and scratches and spilled things that 19 money can buy and -

20 FIB: HEY, WAIT A MINUTE..FLASH GORDON! YOU SERIOUSLY
21 THINK YOU COULD TAKE A SPACE SHIP UP THRU THE MILKY
22 WAY TO SELL GLOCOAT?

23 WIL: THE MILKY WAY IS THE WAY ^{ALDT OF} LINOLEUM ~~LOOK~~ LOOK AFTER 24 DAMP MOPPING, PAL - BUT THE JOHNSON'S WATER REPELLENT
25 GLOCOAT WAY LEAVES NO MILKY LOOKING STREAKS, by 26 Jupiter!

(REVISED)

1 MOL: That's all very well to sell wax from a space

5 WIL: Lassie. AH, THIS IS A FASCINATING IDEA!! FLYING

10 ECONOMICALLY THEY CAN PROTECT THEIR WOOD AND LINOLEUM
11 FLOORS AGAINST COSMIC DUST AND TRACKED-IN MUD FROM 12 METEOR SHOWERS, WITH THE WAX PROTECTION THAT STAYS ON 13 AND STAYS BRIGHT AND -
14 FIB: Hey hey hey...WAXEY!
15 WIL: Yes, Pal!?
16 MOL: What do you seriously think of these flying saucers,
17 Mr. Wilcox?
18 WIL: Well, if they really develop them, they'll be great 19 for honeymoon trips. There's no place to spoon like
20 a saucer. See you later, folks..(FADE) LET ME THRU
21 PLEASE...
22 CROWD MURMUR

(2ND REVISION)

-16-

1 FIB: I dunno what we'd ever do without that boy, but it's a sweet thought to play around with.
2 MOL: Oh, now McGee, I think he's a very conscientious lad..
3 MAN: (RUSSIAN ACCENT) You are Comrade McGee?
4 MOL: Yes we are, sir. I mean he is. I'M Mrs. McGee.
His wife, by marriage.
5 MAN: Da.
6 FIB: Hiyah, Mr. Da.
7 MAN: No, no, no...Not Da. My name, it is Serge Petrovski.
I am tourist.
8 MOL: Petrovski. Isn't that a Russian name?
9 MAN: Nyet. Petrovski is good American name. You give me Loyalty oath. I sign. Then I take plenty pictures flying saucer. You care?
10 FIB: Nope.....just as long as you ain't a spy, bud. You want a story to go with it? Well sir, I first seen it comin' in low over trees at an attitude of ten thousand foot -
11 MOL: Where did you say you were from sir?
12 MAN: Brooklyngrad. Now I take pictures. (FADE) OUT OF WAY, CAPITALISTS....SPECIBA!! I AM TAKE PLANTY PICTURES....

1 FIB: Pleasant guy...and them mustaches looked so familiar.
2 GALE: (FADE IN) Well, McGee....this is quite an exhibit you
3 have here. As Mayor of the town in which a real flying
4 saucer was first seen, I would like to say - 5 MOL: The first time we saw it, Mr. Mayor, it was coming in 6 low over the trees there and -
7 FIB: I'll tell it, kiddo. I've had more practice. IT WAS 8 COMIN' IN OVER THEM TREES, LA TRIVIA, FLYIN' LOW, AND 9 KINDA WOBBLY....
10 GALE: Yes, yes, yes...I've heard all about it, McGee. You
11 haven't been exactly reticent about this, you know.
12 FIB: You bet I haven't! Orders, boy! The Army told me not 13 to talk. Security reasons. Top secret.
14 MOL: Big deal! Off the bottom of the deck.
15 GALE: Well, I've always said that if you want to keep flying-
16 saucers a secret, there's nothing like sending them
17 across the sky on a clear day to crash in some talkative
18 fellow's front yard, with a loud noise.
19 MOL: What do you think of this thing, Mr. Mayor?
20 GALE: First one I've seen, Molly. My nephew is an airline 21 pilot and he chased a flying saucer last week for 22 twenty minutes.
23 FIB: Migosh, did he catch it, La Triv?
24 GALE: No - but he would have if he'd been in his airplane.
25 As it was he tripped over a horse and fell flat on -- 26 Just a moment, what's this?
27 SOUND: MARCHING FEET....FADE IN OFF.

1 FIB: HEY LOOK!...SOLDIERS!...THE ARMY'S TAKIN' THE FLYING
2 SAUCER OVER.....LOOK, MOLLY.....
3 MOL: Heavenly days!...and look at the fancy uniforms....they 4 must all be generals....
5 SOUND: FEET IN, WITH DRUM.
6 VOICE: COMPANYYYYYYYYYYYYYY, HALT!
7 SOUND: MARCHING FEET OUT WITH ONE, TWO COUNT.
8 MAN: At ease!!! -- Are you his Honor, the Mayor?
9 GALE: Yes, I am my Honor. I mean I am his Mayor...his Honor -
10 I AM MAYOR LA TRIVIA! Is the army taking over, here?
11 MAN: Gee, I dunno, Mr. Mayor. We're the Shriners drill team
12 from Springfield, and we got lost. Did you see a parade
13 go past here?
14 GALE: No, the parade is on 14th Street. Three blocks west and 15 turn right.
16 MAN: Thanks very much. ATTEN---SHUN! ABOUT...FACE!
17 FORRRRRRRRRR'D....HIPE!
18 SOUND: MARCHING FEET WITH DRUM BEAT FADE OUT INTO BEAT OF:
19 ORCH: AND KING'S MEN "MUSIC, MUSIC, MUSIC".
APPLAUSE

1 SOUND: CROWD WALLA WALLA IN B.G.
2 FIB: ALL RIGHT, MOVE BACK THERE PLEASE, FOLKS! DON'T TOUCH
THE FLYING SAUCER!
3 MAN: Who's that smartaleck? I don't see no uniform on him.
4 WOMAN: He lives here - he's the one who saw it crash. His name is McSpee - Flabber McSpee, (FADING) and I was talking to him...
5 FIB: STAND BACK, BUD! DON'T TOUCH THE FLYING SAUCER!
SECURITY RULES, YOU KNOW!
6 SOUND: CROWD MURMUR

1 MOL: (SLIGHTLY OFF) Oh McGee - here's a lady wants to see
2 you. This is my husband, Miss Dendron.
3 GAL: (GUSHY) Oh, I'm so happy to know you, Mr. McGee.
4 FIB: Well, thanks sis - Whatcha say your name was?
5 GAL: Dendron, Mr. McGee. Rhoda Dendron, of the Wistful Vista 6 Peony and Petunia Club. The girls have asked me to 7 interview you for our Club paper - "The Petunia Planter".
8 MOL: Isn't that nice, McGee?
9 FIB: Yeah. The Petunia Planter, eh? Well, you can tell
10 your readers, sis, that I was well-known as a planter
11 myself at one time.
12 GAL: Really, Mr. McGee? Let me make some notes - this will 13 just THRILL the girls! What did you plant, Mr. McGee?
14 MOL: Corn, mostly.
15 FIB: No, I had charge at one time of my Aunt Rose's Raisin
16 Ranch, and we raised more real raisins than any raisin
17 ranch has raised in recent years!
18 MOL: Oh dear....
19 GAL: Raising raisins! Oh my, let me write this down - every 20 word of it. Our readers will just love -

1 FIB: Well sis - Aunt Rose's Raisin Ranch raised such good raisins that we started raising raisin prices - and the raise in prices of Rose's Ranch Raised Raisins raised holy heck with the other raisin ranchers! I watched the raisin market for recent raises in raisin rates - but by the time the rates for real ranch-raised raisins had rose right, all the raisins we raised had rotted right on Rose's Ranch. So between raising raisins, and raisin ranchers, and raising rates and rotten raisins, we plowed the whole thing up and planted tulips....
Didja get that sis - didja write it down?

2 GAL: I - uh - I broke the point on my pencil. Would you mind repeating that for -

3 FIB: Excuse me, sis - I gotta speak to a man over here.

4 MOL: Yes, pardon us, Miss Petunia.

5 FIB: HEY BUD, YOU IN THE UNIFORM WITH THE SCRAMBLED EGGS ON THE SHOULDER AND THE GRAVY ON YOUR SLEEVE! YOU
LOOKING FOR ME?

6 GEN: You McGee?

7 MOL: Yes he is, sir. I am Mrs McGee.

1 GEN: How do you do, Mrs. McGee. I'm General Bacon, Head of 2 Intelligence.

3 FIB: Glad to know you, Baconhead. Well, sir, we were standing -

4 MOL: OH NO, MCGEE! General Bacon. How do you do, I'm sure
5 General. If there's anything we can tell you about -

6 GEN: Thank you very much, Mrs. McGee - but I have a complete
7 report from the police and from my men here. We'll take 8 charge now and -

9 FIB: I better fill you in, General, in case they missed any 10 details. You'll want a eye-witness account to take back
11 to Eisenhower anyhow.

12 MOL: General Eisenhower has retired, McGee.

13 FIB: Well, wake him up! Migosh, this thing is important!
14 NOW - the first time I seen this flying saucer, General
15 it was comin' in low at high altitude with its rockets 16 shootin out blue flames -- where you goin', Molly?

17 MOL: In the house a minute, dearie. I've heard this, till I'm 18 sick and tired of it.

19 FIB: Me, too. But anyway - like I say, it was comin' in low 20 over the trees - HEY, GENERAL! (TO SELF) Where did he 21 go?.....Oh well, if nobody wants to hear about the flyin'
22 saucer I guess -

1 TEE: (FADING IN) All right, let me through, please! Coming through! I'm a personal friend of the family! LET ME
THROUGH, PLEASE! (ON) Hi, Mister. (GIGGLES)

2 FIB: Well, hi, Teeny. Better get up here on the porch, sis, before you get stepped on.

3 SOUND: (LITTLE CROWD NOISE)

4 TEE: Thanks, mister. Oboy, policemen - and soljers and - GEE!
What's all the crowd for, mister? Hm? Tell me.

5 FIB: They're here to see me, sis. You see, I have just become the first man to establish contact with another planet - I have just had a visit from Mars.

6 TEE: Mars? Gee, did he give you any candy bars, mister?
I love Mars Bars and --

1 FIB: No, No, No, sis! Look, you ever hear of flyin' saucers,
2 Teeny?

3 TEE: Oh, sure I have, I betcha. Me and Willie Toops made
4 one this morning, mister.

5 FIB: (TOLERANTLY) You did, eh? You and Willie Toops made
6 a flying saucer?

7 TEE: Sure - we had some big huge skyrockets left from last
8 year and we fastened 'em onto my mama's old roasting 9 pan and lit 'em and it sailed over our house and 10 disappeared and - THERE IT IS! THAT'S OUR FLYING
11 SAUCER!

12 FIB: WHAT?

13 TEE: HEY, WILLIE - HERE'S OUR FLYING SAUCER IN THE 14 DRIVEWAY! ONE SIDE, EVERYBODY! THAT'S MINE!

15 (FADING) (ORCH IN) HEY, WILLIE! HERE IT IS! HEY!

1 MOL: You know, McGee..I was surprised that Mayor La Trivia
2 was fooled by that flying saucer. He was a Chief
3 Gunner's Mate in the Coast Guard, you know.
4 FIB: Yeah.... done a lot of time in submarines, too. He 5 says they used to while away the time playin' contract
6 while they were submerged.
7 MOL: My my!! Think of that. Playing cards deep under 8 the ocean!
9 FIB: Yeah, but as La Trivia says, there's been a lot of 10 bridge under the water since then. Get it, kiddo?
11 Bridge under the water? Water under the bri-

TAG COMMERCIAL

1 ANNCR: If you want to give your furniture a shine that really
2 lasts, there's only one polish for you to use.
3 Here's why. Johnson's Cream Wax is a polish that gives
4 your furniture real wax protection ... and a real wax
5 shine. But recent tests show that the shine you get 6 from other leading cream furniture polishes comes from 7 oils. Now a wax shine lasts for weeks and weeks ... but 8 an oil shine fades out -- turns foggy and smeary almost 9 overnight. So -- when you choose a furniture polish,
10 be wise. Protect yourself from "fade-out shine".
11 Get the wax polish that shines for weeks and weeks, 12 instead of just a day. Get Johnson's Cream Wax ... at 13 your dealer's.
